The Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1888.

Police Court.

A Large Docket this Morning—Given the Benefit of the Doubt.

THURSDAY, December 27.

Several witnesses were examined in the Harper Scott Act case, but a further adjournment of one week was made. Mr. E. B. Edwards conducted the prosecution.

John Wilson, charged with being drunk and disorderly on December 16th, was discharged after the evidence of several witnesses had been taken. The magistrate remarked to Wilson that he could thank his friends for not saying anything bad about him.

Chas. Butler, who was arrested last night while in a state of utter intoxication was allowed to go by the magistrate.

OBSTRUCTING THE STREET.

A charge of obstructing the street was preferred against Mr. M. T. Ostrom. Mr. Edwards conducted the prosecution and Mr. W. A. Stratton appeared for the defence. The alleged offence was committed on Dec. 20th, when it was claimed the defendant exposed for sale a quantity of fish on the sidewalk in front of his store, contrary to the by-law in that behalf. The defence contended that the fish had been merely left on the side walk because the store employes were so busy they had not time to take it inside. The delivery man said he opened the barrel (of Pacific salmon) to take out half a dozen to deliver to customers, and in sorting them over laid a number of the fish on a box, where they remained till someone had time to put them inside. Mr. Ostrom further said the fish were all sold to customers before exposed. Mr. Edwards held that the fish had been opened out to attract public attention and effect sales, and P. M. Dumble agreed that there had been a technical breach of the by-law. He considered the by-law too strict, and in order to give the council a chance to make it more moderate he had not made a conviction in the Craig case. It seemed to him the defendant had taken advantage of this fact, and while he commended Mr. Ostrom's enterprise in bringing in these fine fish from such a distance, and though he was inclined to give the defendant every indulgence, he could not but make a conviction. The town council had not seen fit to alter the by-law, and he took from that that they wanted it enforced as it stands. Therefore, simply as an expression that the by-law is in force and to show merchants that they must observe at least a reasonable compliance with its provisions, he fined the defendant $2. Toronto merchants, the magistrate said, had much more latitude in this line than was granted the merchants of Peterborough by this by-law.

THAT "EXPENSIVE ERROR."

Robt. H. Wood was arrested near Woodstock Christmas day, on a charge of having, in December 20th, feloniously taken some $6, the property of the Bank of Ontario. The particulars of this case were given in last Saturday's EXAMINER. He was brought back to town last night by Chief Ronsel.

The prisoner appeared to be greatly disturbed in mind, and suffering from the anxiety of suspense. Mr. A. P. Poussette was prisoner's counsel, and made a statement in his behalf. He said it had all been a mistake, and there was an entire absence of felonious intent. The prisoner told him (and his story seemed to be corroborated by the bank officials) that he went to the bank, and asked for the balance of his savings bank account. The teller placed four $10 bills in the book, and handed it back to him, and the prisoner, thinking them four $1 bills, thrust them in his pocket without looking at them. He was just leaving for his home in the west, and had not time to make the reparation, which he fully intended doing, before he was arrested. The prisoner was anxious and willing to restore the money, and as the bank officials did not wish to prosecute, he asked the court to withdraw the charge, upon the promise of complete cancellation of all crime against the prisoner.

Mr. R. E. Wood, C.C.A., at first declined to permit the prosecution to be dropped and the prisoner, pleading not guilty, elected to be tried summarily.

Afterwards, upon consideration, the charge was changed to read—"did unlawfully, with intent to defraud, appropriate the said $6," etc., and to this, upon advice from counsel, the prisoner pleaded guilty.

The Magistrate said that in this case it appeared that through an error of the bank over a sum of money was given the prisoner which did not belong to him, and his action in not returning it was liable to misconstruction. But in consideration of his previous good character and position the court would deal in a most merciful way. The law allowed a magistrate to dismiss a prisoner in case of this kind if he makes reparation; and as it appeared to have been a mistake on his (the prisoner's) part and no evidence had been given against him, he would give him the benefit of the doubt and dismiss him on payment of $26.50—the $20 due the bank and $6.50 for expenses incurred by constable, constables and court fees, telegraphing, etc.

The prisoner was discharged on payment of the amount.

THE ARREST.

A Woodstock despatch to the Sun says, relative to Wood's arrest at the village of Blandford:—Wood is well known and well connected in this county. He says he received the money in four bills and was not aware that it was four tens until he had left place. He intended returning the money when he went back to Peterborough. He was much surprised at his arrest, and threatens to take action against the bank for $10,000. He has been taken to Peterborough.

Belleghem's Fine Furniture.

There's no discount on the fact which is here practically asserted, that D. Belleghem the well known furniture King, leads by an unapproachable distance, the furniture trade of the Midland District. How does he do it? He does it in the simplest manner. His stock of all kinds of goods in the fur iture line, is the largest, most complete, most elegant, and for quality of goods, the cheapest in the Midland District. Little to equal it, and nothing to excel it in the warerooms of the large cities. His furniture is all of the best material and make. Every stick of lumber is thoroughly kiln-dried, and there is no possibility of shrinking, and consequently no disappointment and grumbling. A splendidly equipped factory, manned by a first class staff of mechanics, puts D. Belleghem into the position of giving special attention and special satisfaction to ordered work, and enables him to do repairing promptly and satisfactorily. Patronize D. Belleghem, and you will spend, so far as furniture goes, what he wishes you with all his heart.—A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Fashion and Business Failures.

Few persons connect the bustle with business, but since Mrs. Cleveland, after sitting on the bustle so long at last figuratively "sat on" it, it has gone out of use, and the result is a bustle factory in Connecticut has closed, and the style of hair dressing introduced by Mrs. Langtry has closed a false hair factory in New York. There is no fear, however, of any change in fashion doing away with boots and shoes, especially when they are to be bought at such low prices as at gough bros., the wonderful cheap men. Do you know how cheap they sell boots and shoes? If you don't it's time you did. Listen: prime tip-top boots and shoes of every kind at less than half wholesale cost. These prices can't be beaten in Canada, or even approached at any other place than gough bros'. Don't be deceived, go once to gough bros'. and they are your bootsellers for ever. Business is business, buy boots where you get the best and cheapest, and that is at gough bros'., 373 george street, peterborough.

For Gentlemen's and Ladies' Companions go to A. L. Davis & Co.'s cash clearing sale at Cost Prices.

The Great Evergreen Drama.

The Fredricton, N. B., Gleaner, says of Peck & Fursman's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company, which will appear in the Opera House on New Year's afternoon, (at 2 o'clock), and in the evening:—"Probably no drama of modern times has been so successful as Uncle Tom's Cabin, and when performed by a competent company the beautiful story is brought out with telling effect, and though old, the play is interesting to those who have seen it many times. Peck & Fursman's Company gave the best performance ever witnessed here, and will receive an overflowing house should they return at any time." Opera House New Year's afternoon and evening. Matinee (2 o'clock) prices, children 25c, adults 35c. Evening prices, 25c, 35c, and 50c. Reserved seats at Menzies bookstore.

Express Christmas Number.

The publisher of the Express is to be congratulated upon the splendid holiday number he has issued. His enterprise in a live town like Napanee, will, doubtless, meet with abundant reward.

Literary.

A very interesting book by Rev. J. Little, M. A., of Toronto, has just been published. It is entitled "Tercentary of England's Great Victory over Spain, and The Armada." It sketches the great events of that period of England's history in a most graphic way. It also sheds light upon some of the prominent characters of the time, who have not been much noticed by other writers. Mr. Little is well known in Peterborough, and his book ought to find its way into a great many of our homes. 2t

Sanderson's Holiday Goods.

Mr. W. A. Sanderson, the jeweler, has received the first importation in town of Waterbury watches for ladies. These beautiful time-pieces are stem-winders and stem-setters, and are sold at the low price of $4.50—a marvel of cheapness and excellent time-keeping qualities. They are fully warranted. Mr. Sanderson is also agent for Masonic aprons and other Masonic goods. He has a splendid stock of silver plate ware, and a full assortment of jewelery suitable for holiday gifts. Holiday buyers should not fail to inspect his stock. dw

Superior English Cutlery.

We were shown to-day by Mr. Stethem his last importation from John Clarke & Son, Sheffield, England, per steamer "Vancouver," of their elegant pocket, pen, sportsmen's and ladies' knives; carving knives and forks, table steels, and ivory handled table and dessert knives, and must say that we have never seen goods their equal. The makers are one of the oldest in England, making nothing but the finest goods. This lot, with his last importation of the celebrated B & A Any pocket and butcher knives, enables Mr. Stethem to show a line of cutlery that cannot be surpassed in the largest cities of the continent for quality and appearance, and being direct from the makers the goods are being sold as cheap as are goods of inferior quality and finish. Call and see them. Mr. Stethem will be pleased to exhibit them to each and every one. t th w

Personal.

Mr. E. R. Wood, of Toronto, is relieving clerk in the Central Canada Company's offices in the absence of Mr. D. Sim, who is nursing medical aid in Toronto.

The removal of Rev. Father O'Donohoe, of Carleton Place, to Barrie, a position rendered vacant by the elevation of Rev. Dean O'Connor to the Bishopric of Peterborough, is rumored.

The public, especially the congregation of St. John's church learn with regret that Rev. J. C. Davidson, curate-in-charge of Peterborough, has been compelled through indisposition to suspend active work. He is now home with his father, at Colborne. The EXAMINER has heard from the Rev. Mr. Davidson, who is greatly distressed, at being obliged to leave his congregation on Christmas Eve, that he is very much better. His medical adviser insists upon him taking a three weeks' rest, when it is confidently hoped that he will be able to resume active work.

A Christmas Episode.

A young butcher in town had a Christmas experience that he will not likely forget for a while. A certain buxom widow woman living in the west end owed him a pretty large meat bill which he had hitherto found impossible to collect, and thinking, no doubt, that his close-fisted creditor would yield to the genial and generous impulses incident to the season and perhaps relax her grip on the shekels sufficiently to pay his account, he called around on Christmas day. He first reconnoitred and reasonably assured himself that the unapproachable delinquent was within her stronghold. Then he determined upon a piece of strategy in order to draw her out. He ambled round to the back door, and his call was answered by the woman's daughter, who said her mother was out. This didn't satisfy the persistent debtor, who next executed a clever ruse that this time succeeded. The widow had a neighbor living in the same house, whose apartments were connected with her own by a doorway, and through this way the butcher secured entrance to the desired goal. He confronted the woman and her daughter, and demanded his pay; but his calculations upon the softening influences of the mild Christmas weather upon the flinty heart of the wily widow, were sadly at fault. He suffered for his temerity, for he received as severe a buffeting as this angry and able-bodied amazonian was capable of administering. His ears were boxed, his face scratched, his hair pulled and other similar feminine caresses showered upon him, until he presented an abject appearance. He escaped from the house, but the woman pursued and set the dog upon him. After an exciting duel with this fresh antagonist, which was finally terminated by his landing the brute in the cistern by a well directed vigorous kick, our bold knight of the meat axe beat a hasty retreat, without waiting to reply to any of the compliments and holiday greetings, which the woman hurled after him with her tongue as long as he was in sight. The sad fact that was uppermost in his mind, was, that he had been beaten by a woman, and the account still remains uncollected.

A Poetical Station Agent.

One would think there was little connection between railway lines and poetic lines, but it appears that the genial and popular station agent of the C.P.R. in Peterborough, Mr. J. P. Dunn, occasionally shunts himself on to the poetical siding. The following is taken from the "Observation" column of to-day's Globe:—

"The estimation in which 'the white-haired boy' of the C.P.R. is held by the employes of the company is indicated by the following

ACROSTIC:

Wherever one may chance to roam,
Remote the clime or near at home,
Callaway's name and Callaway's fame
All people shout with one acclaim.
Level headed and true of heart,
Long may he live to act his part
As king of the railway passenger men
Way head of the crowd he has always been;
And this man of good deeds and sterling worth
You'll find on the 'fastest line on earth.

Mantles and Mantle Cloths.
Our Ready-made Mantles and Mantle Cloths are going rapidly. The Prices and Styles sell them. In our Children's Mantles, we are sold out of some sizes which we are sorry for, as we don't like to miss sales, but as we have already sold all we expected to sell in the whole season, we cannot complain. But we have a lot of ends of good CLOTHS, which we will sell at a sacrifice to fill up the gap, and our mantle cutter will cut and fit these goods free of charge, and explain the best way to make them up. The sizes we have in stock to fit children from 6 to 12 years; we will clear out very cheap. MANTLE PLUSHES are now much in vogue in the larger cities, but are not much looked for here yet. We think it cannot be possible the ladies have not heard about them but they cannot know how beautiful they make up or there would be a greater demand. We have the Black and Seal Brown in stock.

Dress Goods.
We are showing Dress Goods a 10c. a yard, which would be good value at 20c. The way they are selling fairly astonishes us, which shows that the public appreciate genuine bargains. In Fine Goods everybody says we have the nicest stock in town, and what everybody says must be true. What we are going to tell you now is of great importance, and we want you to remember it. Our Dress Goods Remnants have been accumulating faster than we like them to, and we have made up our minds to clear them out. We will offer everything in the shape of a Dress Good, remnant, plain and fancy, good and bad together, at 15c. a yard. Most of these Goods ranged from 25 to 50c. a yard. They are all laid out on the counter, so come along; first come first served. And what can you buy more suitable for a Christmas present for your girls than a new Dress.

Canadian Tweeds.
Among a lot of Goods just opened out, we have a line of Canadian Tweeds, bought job. We have marked them 45c. a yard. They are extra heavy weight and made of good wool.

Our Hosiery.
Our Hosiery department is filled with the best Goods made in the Province. Many people tell us they find lines with us they cannot get elsewhere. See our heavy make with double knees and heels and another line called "Arcete," it handles as if felted. There is no need for hand knitting while these Goods are to be White Grey Cottons.

The rate our White and Grey Cottons, Sheetings, etc., keep coming in and going out must be a sure indication they are extra good value.

Those who have not bought some of the Goods should buy a trial parcel. We know we can save our customers money notwithstanding all the loud talk and flaring advertising which somebody has to pay for, and red flag business. Those wanting genuine bargains, will find the real article at

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1888.

Mr. Denne and the Institute.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—There has been very little stir about the mayoralty contest so far. We have the views of both candidates published, and every elector is familiar with their record as municipal representatives. Mr. Denne's address is devoted chiefly to denouncing his his opponent, and, when not so engaged, to denouncing our schools. Now, Mr. Denne has had several years on the School Board, and has had abundant chance to at least try to remedy the abuses he so loudly complains of. But he has let every opportunity pass, and it is only when he wants office, and thinks he can curry favour with a certain class of the electors, that he suddenly discovers something terribly wrong with the Collegiate Institute. His position shows him to be an unfaithful or untrustworthy trustee. If he knew, during his many years at the board, that the Collegiate Institute was such a wicked, wasteful, stick-poking, burdensome institution, why did he not raise his voice against it long ago, and move some resolution to show that he is alive to the public interests. If such a state of things exists now, as Mr. Denne would make us believe, and he has only just discovered it, he certainly is not sharp enough to be trusted. When a man acts the demagogue in the manner that Mr. Deane is doing, there is reason to conclude that in seeking the office, he is not seeking the public interest so much as personal advancement. We don't want a man to fill the high and responsible position of mayor, who is seeking after personal ends, and who, according to his own showing, has been a failure as a school trustee, who only discovers a gigantic evil, that has been as he claims, existing for years under his nose, on the eve of an election, when he thinks a good deal of braggart talk and bluster, will promote his chances in a contest for the mayoralty of the town. Mr. Deane talks very loudly, but he will hardly browbeat the public into the belief that he is seeking the position of chief magistrate of the town, from motives arising from an honest and loyal interest in its welfare. You may hear from me again.

A REAL WORKING MAN.
December 30th, 1888.

Mr. Denne's Record.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—Mr. Henry Deane is aspiring to the mayoralty as every citizen has a right to do. But a man must have other claims than his mere legal right. I should like to enquire what special fitness for the position of Mayor Mr. Deane developed in the course of his term as councillor, was he a wise, prudent, shrewd, energetic and vigilant enough to warrant the people in elevating him to the Mayor's chair. Did he develop any brilliant qualities of civic statesmanship that would suggest that he was worthy of promotion. In a word will the rejected councillor of No. 4 Ward make a better Mayor than the present capable incumbent.

Yours, etc.,

DOINGS IN THE DOMINION

A DAY OF CONVENTIONS AND COUNCILS IN TORONTO.

Horticulture, Live Stock Men, Agricultural and Arts Association Council, and Commercial Travellers in Session.

TORONTO, Dec. 28.—At the musical convention yesterday Mr. Arthur E. Fisher read an essay on "The Advantages of the Study of Harmony," which was followed by a discussion. Transition from tonic-sol-fa to staff notation was then taken up and was followed by the election of officers, as follows:

President—Edward Fisher, Toronto.
Vice-President—H. Green Collins.
Secretary—J. W. F. Harrison.
Assistant-Secretary—Mrs. N. G. Mgstow, Mgs. Bay.
Treasurer—Arthur Fisher.
Representatives—St. Thomas, J. H. Jones; London, G. E. Sippi; Chatham, A. M. Lloyd; Toronto, Theodore Martens; Hamilton, E. A. Ambrose; Belleville, Dr. Crozier; Brantford, Dr. Garratt; Kingston, W. Carey; Ottawa, Dingley Brown; Stratford, Mrs. R. Smith.
Executive Committee—Dr. Sippi, A. H. Read, Mrs. Dick, F. H. Torrington.

The Dominion Livestock Association held its annual meeting yesterday. The members present numbered fully 150, comprising all the prominent live stock shippers in the Dominion. The Treasurer's report showed a cash balance of $2765. The most of the morning session was devoted to the discussion of a heavy law suit in which the association had been involved with the Montreal steamship companies. Before adjournment the election of officers was proceeded with resulting as follows:

President—John Dean, Toronto.
Vice-Presidents—C. Flanagan, Toronto, T. O. Robson, St. Mary's.
Treasurer—A. J. Thom[illegible]s, Toronto.
Secretary—E. Bra[illegible], Montreal.
Executive Committee—Joseph Featherstone, Credit; D. O'Leary, Toronto; L. Price, Montreal; J. Gould, Oshawa; W. Mears, Toronto; Joshua Ingham, Toronto; G. Cresiock, Toronto; W. W. Craig, Montreal; A. Rawlings, Forest; H. Bracken, Toronto.

The Council of the Agricultural and Arts Association met yesterday. The statement of the Provincial Exhibition at Kingston showed a deficit of $2676 and a resolution was passed to raise the amount by a mortgage on the building. The usual formalities concerning the next Provincial Exhibition were disposed of. It will be at London. A committee was appointed to wait on Hon. John Carling to request the Dominion grant, and it was decided to ask the Legislature to provide $10,000. It was deemed inexpedient to have a fat stock show next year.

The annual meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Association of Canada was most enthusiastic. It was held in the Shaftesbury Hall yesterday and continued from 11 o'clock in the morning till 6 in the evening. Mr. J. C. Black in the chair. The financial report showed a balance of $16,126, which is carried to capital account. The surplus now on hand has reached $165,720, which is invested in stocks and debentures. The mortuary benefits paid during the year amounted to $80,824 and the accident bonuses to $1780. A. A. Allan was elected president, John Burns vice-president, C. C. Van Norman second vice-president. R. H. Gray, treasurer and James Sargant secretary.

William Cochrane, 146½ York-street, is a prisoner at Headquarters charged with a felonious assault on Thomas Ives. It is said that Cochrane failed to see the use of Mr. Ives' visits to Mrs. Cochrane, and yesterday afternoon, while he was making a short call, made the assault with an iron bar.

An alleged bucket shop was raided yesterday and three men arrested. Logan and McCoppin, who were arrested at Hamilton the other day, were committed for trial by the Police Magistrate yesterday.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

A St. Kitts Merchant in Trouble at Hamilton—Grimes' Narrow Escape.

HAMILTON, Dec. 27.—J. D. McDougald, the St. Catharines merchant who was arrested several days ago on a warrant charging him with obtaining $150 from Robert Thompson, lumber merchant, by false pretense, was arraigned for preliminary examination at the Police Court this morning. The Magistrate committed the defendant for trial. McDougald was released on bail, himself in $400 and two sureties in $200 each.

Mr. Joseph Grimes, aged 79 years, a well-known resident in the west end of this city, narrowly escaped being killed the other night. He was driving on Apple-street to his own house. In one hand he held a pail containing milk and with the other hand he endeavored to guide the horse. Unfortunately he pulled the wrong rein when going over the most dangerous portion of the road, and the horse, wagon and driver went over the precipice. Mr. Grimes says that he and the rig fell a distance of fully fifty feet. When they reached the bottom the wagon was on top of the horse and Mr. Grimes was sprawling in the wagon. In extricating himself the unfortunate old man sprained his right hip and shoulder.

Last March Mrs. Brass, who resides with her son, Mr. Benjamin Brass, printer, on Markland-street, received a fall, from the effects of which she is still suffering. During her illness the lamp has remained lighted in the dining-room. This morning Mr. Brass was awakened by the shrieks of his mother, and on jumping out of bed found the dining room full of smoke and a lot of oil aflame. The lamp had exploded. Mr. Brass threw up the windows to let the smoke out, and commenced battling the fire, which, after a lively tussle, he succeeded in extinguishing.

There were four cases of wife v. husband at the Police Court to-day, among them the charge against William Warnick, a blind man, for shooting at his wife. The quarrel took place last Wednesday evening, but after Mrs. Warnick had laid the charge she repented and refused to prosecute, keeping out of the way of the police. She attended court this morning and told the magistrate that she was as much to blame as her husband. They had a violent quarrel and Warnick shot a revolver off in order to frighten her. The bullet went through the window. The magistrate dismissed the case.

Chief McKinnon has received a letter from John Larney, alias Molly Matches, dated in Cleveland. Molly is very anxious to have it understood that he was not a party to an assault on the chief which occurred at the Falls several years ago.

Rev. Stephen Lovett, who once preached in the colored Baptist church in this city, passed here yesterday on his way from Toronto to Dakota, where he has fallen into a fortune in land and money. Mr. Lovett is the person who married Mollie Matches' wife. The woman deserted Lovett so soon as she discovered that Matches was out of prison.

Last evening H. W. Sewell and J. Parkyn were visiting J. Atkinson, 42 Jackson-street west, and had their overcoats stolen out of the hallway.

Owen Connell, of Walnut-street south, died very suddenly Wednesday morning. His death was caused by the rupture of a blood vessel, which occurred while he was splitting wood.

There was a rousing meeting in favor of the Free Library By-law last night.

A Toronto Family's Misfortunes.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 28.—J. D. Lowes arrived in St. Louis from Toronto last night to take charge of his insane wife and two children who reached here over a week ago from Texas. The mother had been sent to the Texas asylum and the children, a little girl of seven and a babe of four months, to the Relief Creek Home. The husband learned of the whereabouts of his wife and children through Texas relatives.

THE COUNT CONTRADICTED

MEMBERS OF THE GERMAN EAST AFRICAN CO. INDIGNANT.

Herbert Stanworth's Speech Denounced as a Tissue of Errors—Gladstone on Creeds—General Cable News.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The recent speech of Count Herbert Bismarck, together with the statements contained in the "white-book" that the German East African Company are the chief importers of arms and ammunition, has aroused intense indignation among the members of that organization. They assert that the speech, so far as it refers to them, is a tissue of errors, and declare that there has never been the slightest foundation for the statements made. In support of the general denial these put forward by the East African Company the question is made by its members that a Hamburg shipowner named Wormann is the principal importer of arms and munitions of war, and, moreover, is suspected of having instigated the opposition against the company.

The persons delegated to Lieut. Wissman are not clearly defined, but it is certain that his authority will be much greater than that of the head of an ordinary exploring expedition or relief party. An effort is being made in his behalf for the employment of German troops in connection with his expedition, involving their being placed entirely under his direction and control. It is doubtful, however, whether the Government will consent to this in the face of the outcry which is being made against it by the opponents of colonial conquests.

The military officials at Suakim are making desperate efforts to persuade the Government to advance into the desert, ostensibly for the purpose of pursuing the Arabs so far into the interior that they will not be likely to return, but Lord Salisbury is manifestly determined to recall the British troops and leave the Egyptians to work out their own salvation. The sudden collapse of what promised to be a protracted Soudan campaign has dashed the hopes of promotion, for valorous deeds on the field of battle, of a great many army officers, and there is much growling among them in consequence. It is noteworthy that in military circles the only opponents of a campaign extending to the recovery of Khartoum have been officers of so high a rank as to place them beyond the possibility of promotion.

The Stanley stories, both from Zanzibar and the west coast, are becoming doubtful. The only report that now appears certain of confirmation is that Stanley reached Emin, but it is feared that the particulars given at the meeting, etc., are not reliable. The special correspondents at Zanzibar are unable to confirm the alleged details.

Suakim Notes.

SUAKIM, Dec. 27.—The Scottish Borderers have sailed for Suez.

It is reported that Osman Digna is trying to collect forces at Suakim.

The Christmas Card Mania.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—It has been years since London has enjoyed so mild a Christmas. Owing partly to this fact, and also to the undoubted revival of trade, the streets have been free from the gangs of unemployed who paraded them last year. The pressure upon the letter carriers and postmen has been absolutely enormous. The post-office employed a whole army of extra workers, and strange looking men without uniforms, who staggered under the weight of sacks, overburdened with Christmas cards, have delivered letters until unearthly hours. The fashion of sending these cards is becoming quite a mania. The Prince of Wales this year sent out shoals, and almost everybody followed suit. St. Valentine's Day, on the other hand, is fast becoming neglected.

Gladstone on Creeds.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Samuel Laing is the publisher of the pamphlet, "A Friendly Correspondence with Mr. Gladstone About Creeds," which arises out of an article by Mr. Laing in The Agnostic Annual on the Gladstone-Ingersoll controversy. Mr. Gladstone requested Mr. Laing to furnish an authoritative summary of a negative creed, or the body of the negative proposition so far adopted on the negative side as to be what the Apostles' and other accepted creeds are on the positive. Mr. Laing has compiled and enunciated a series of propositions. For instance: "What the positive creeds profess to define are unknowable, and Darwinism affords all that can be known respecting the inscrutable first cause." Thereupon Mr. Gladstone wrote an ardent defense of orthodoxy.

France's Budget Adopted by the Senate.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—The Senate has adopted the Budget by a vote of 214 to 116.

The Temps denies the report that the Tunisian Government will shortly expel Italian employes unless they become French or Tunisian subjects.

Aimed at British Trade.

TEHERAN, Dec. 27.—The Persian Government has issued a decree restricting navigation on the Karun to below Ahwaz, limiting the stay of foreign vessels to 24 hours, prohibiting the sale or lease of land to foreigners and forbidding the construction of works with foreign capital. The decree is regarded as especially aimed at British trade.

Prof. Geffcken Examined.

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—Prof. Geffcken was examined in Berlin to-day in connection with the diary of the late Emperor Frederick and his whole career. His trial will begin at Leipsic about the middle of January.

Azob of Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 27.—Agob Pasha has been appointed Turkish Minister of Finance.

An Earthquake in Spain.

MADRID, Dec. 27.—Several shocks of earthquake were felt to-day in the eastern and southeastern parts of Spain.

Fatal Quarrel Between Two Blacksmiths Durbin Over a Game of Cards.

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 28.—Frank Hughes, a colored barber of this city, was stabbed yesterday at 7.30 and instantly killed by another negro named Lemuel Roseman. The two men had been engaged in a trifling dispute over twenty-five cents, which it was alleged Hughes had won from Roseman at cards. When a customer came in and Hughes was adjusting a towel on his neck, preparatory to shaving the man, telling Roseman to leave the shop, Roseman replied: "I will settle with you before I leave." He then quickly plunged a knife into the barber's heart. Hughes died instantly. Roseman ran to his house, a half mile away, but was pursued by Policeman Ritts, who arrested him, being assisted by a negro. Roseman was at once lodged in jail. Hughes was a negro of some prominence, and bore a good character. The murderer is a brakeman on the Natchez road.

WINNIPEG MUST PAY UP.

THAT IS THE OPINION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

With Reference to the Expense of Calling Out the Militia in Connection with the Railway Crossing Trouble.

OTTAWA, Dec. 27.—The Deputy Minister of Marine denies the story which has been circulated to the effect that the Government proposes subsidizing the seal fisheries in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Nothing whatever is known of the proposal in the Department.

The arbitrators in the case of the Canadian Pacific Railway's claim in connection with the British Columbia section of the road resumed its sittings to-day. Mr. Smellie, C.E., who has been over the road, was examined, and gave evidence in support of the Government's contention that the road was well built. It was decided that April 8 would be a convenient time for taking the evidence of Sir Charles Tupper.

The Militia Department has received an opinion from the Department of Justice that the Dominion Government is not responsible for the expense of calling out the militia in connection with the railway crossing trouble in Manitoba. A demand will, it is understood, be again made on the local authorities for payment, and if this is not made the amount will be sued for in the courts.

NEWFOUNDLAND AND CANADA.

The Question of Confederation Shelved for the Present.

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—The Gazette's St. John's (Nfld.) special correspondent says: I do not think that Confederation will become an issue at next elections, or that it would be wise to make it such. The subject, by the late action of the Canadian Government, has been fully presented to our people, and will now receive such an amount of consideration as it had not obtained of late years. The idea will spread; the leaven will ferment. But until the great body of the people are thoroughly persuaded that their interests lie in union with the Dominion, it would not, in my opinion, be desirable to force the question on them, and raise an embittered conflict. To carry it by a narrow majority would probably prove an injury to the cause, at least for years to come. The attitude of the Government will be to regard the question as set aside for the present. The refusal to send a deputation to negotiate terms virtually shelved it in the meantime, as it was a confession that there was not sufficient feeling in favor of the measure to warrant negotiations. The decision of the question is thus left to the future. At next elections individual members may avow their convictions for or against Confederation; but I do not expect that any party will hoist the Confederate flag.

WIFE MURDERER HAFFIELD.

In Custody at Winnipeg—Sudden Death of a Grocery Clerk.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 27.—Hadfield, the wife murderer from Southwestern Manitoba, was brought to Winnipeg this afternoon. Not only his ungovernable temper when in liquor but his intimacy with another woman created trouble in the family. His wife and little ones fled on his approach, drunk, on Christmas, and next day, as already wired, she was found with her face fearfully mutilated. A broken pitchfork handle was found close by with blood stains on it. When a neighbor taxed Hadfield with murdering his wife. He replied:

"Yes, I struck her with my hand."

He promised not to escape and the neighbor went for authority to arrest him.

Richard Johnson, a grocery clerk, dropped dead while kindling a fire at home this morning.

HELD FOR CONSPIRACY.

Squire Regis and Freemont McDonald Committed for Trial at London, Ont.

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 27.—Squire Regis, Constable John Rush and Freemont McDonald, all of New bury, were arraigned before the Police Magistrate to-day charged with conspiracy to defeat the ends of justice by allowing a prisoner to escape. The defendant McDonald made a voluntary statement implicating Regis and himself in the escape of the prisoner Hayes charged with larceny. Squire Regis gave a different version of the affair, but he and McDonald were committed for trial, the Squire to be admitted to bail, himself in $400 and two sureties in $200 each. Rush was discharged.

HALDIMAND REFORMERS.

Mr. G. W. Colter Again Selected as the Party Standard Bearer.

CAYUGA, Dec. 27.—At the Reform convention held here to-day to select a candidate to contest the County of Haldimand for the seat in the Dominion House made vacant by the unseating of Dr. Montague (Con.), Mr. C. W. Colter was chosen by a standing vote as the party's standard bearer.

Quebec Local Elections.

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—In the election in Megantic to-day for the Local House incomplete returns indicate the return of Col. Rhodes, the new Minister of Agriculture, by a fair majority.

In L'Assomption returns from all but two divisions give Marion (Opposition) a majority over Forest (Ministerialist). The full returns may change the result.

Alleged False Pretences.

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—A man named Jean Baptiste Hilaire, aged 38, shoemaker, has been arrested on charges of obtaining money under false pretences and peddling without a license. It is alleged that he sold a metal watch not worth $3 for $20 to a man named Taillefer, hailing from Vaudreuil, representing that the watch was solid silver.

Fire at Chesley.

CHESLEY, Dec. 27.—About 12 o'clock last night a fire broke out in Blair Bros.' planing mill factory in this place, resulting in a complete loss of both building and contents. Loss, about $1500; stock insured for $1000. How the fire originated is not known.

Received Stolen Coal.

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—Celina Larken, wife of Burnham, the absconding cashier of the Montreal Rolling Mills Company, has been committed to the Court of Queen's Bench on a charge of receiving coal, knowing it to have been stolen.

A Dakota Village Wiped Out by Fire.

GRAND FORKS, Dak., Dec. 27.—Early this morning the town of Auburn, north of this city, was almost wiped out by fire. Nearly the entire business portion of the place was destroyed. The scarcity of water and fire apparatus made the buildings an easy prey to the flames. Loss unknown.

Blown up by Dynamite.

HARRISONBURG, Va., Dec. 27.—Last night a house in the eastern part of this county in which a number of colored people were holding a party was blown up by dynamite and several of the inmates fatally wounded.

Gov. Beaver's Pet Scheme.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 27.—Governor Beaver announced to-day that the state debt has been reduced during the past year $1,118,559. One of the Governor's pet schemes is the local self-government of the state debt, and he is bending every energy to accomplish this before his term expires.

The Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1888.

Rev. Mr. Bell and the Bible.

His Charity Questioned and His Course Criticised.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—Your Christmas eve issue, while commanding, "Peace on earth to men of good will," contains also a column of news purporting to be a summary of the address in St. Andrew's church on Sunday night, by Rev. Alex. Bell, on "The Bible." Pity the reverend gentleman could not control his spirit of uncharitableness during this holy season, and take to heart the beautiful words of our divine Lord mentioned in the Bible. Evidently Rev. Mr. Bell heeds them not—they make no impression on him. Instead of observing the divine injunction—"Christ's teaching"—he straightway rushes into violent abuse of the Catholic church, denounces the "Papacy as the enemy of the Bible," and the rites and ceremonies of the church, of nineteen centuries, in which more than half the Christain world worships, as "superstitious" and "idolatrous." I would like to know by what authority or right Mr. Bell presumes to know Catholic doctrine better than we, whose great privilege it is to profess it; by what right he dares to tell me that I am "superstitious," that I am an "idolater?"

It is not likely that our Bishop, or any of his priests will waste time in noticing the tirades against our holy religion, of this would-be champion expounder of Protestantism; but I could wish that one of our Catholic school-boys, at some leisure moment during vacation time, would amuse himself by dressing off, just a little, this petulant parson. But the gentleman is awfully learned. And he is as modest as he is learned. "Lord give us plenty of self-conceit," prayed the Scotchwoman, for of all thy gifts that is the best." The reverened gentleman knows all about the Syriac and Latin translations. He knows all about every word of the Old Testament and solemnly tells us that "it came from the Jews and not from Rome," meaning of course, Papal, Christian Rome. He would actually take his catechism from Hades rather than from Rome. "The Old Testament came from the Jews." No doubt about it. How otherwise could it have come but from the Jews, for Christ was not yet born and consequently no Christian in the world at the time. But about the Bible, it is interesting to inquire when it became Protestant.

In proof that Protestantism was, in its origin political, and not religious, is the fact that it has taken its generic name from a political protest, made by the seceders from the Diet of Spires. That "protest," signed by six Imperial electors, near a hundred nobles and a large number of free cities, is as strictly a state paper as a Queen's speech, or a parliamentary protest against a new law. It embodies the principles of the Reformation, but does it logically; it asserts them as against the Diet and the Emperor—it asserts them in the political order, upon grounds strictly political. To prove that the signers so understood it, we have only to remember that they retired from Spires to Smalkalde, made the first Protestant League, drew up the "Plan of Campaign," dispersed to recruit their forces, and asserted their private judgment, sword in hand. But what has this boasted Protestantism done? Who divided Europe at the very hour the Turks were concentrating upon it? The Lutherans, who cried out with the Dutch democrats of the day, "The Turks rather than the Pope." Who has kept the Crescent and the Koran where they are these last two centuries and a half? Protestant England. Who has made the Christian name odious in India (the land of Lord Salisbury's "black man") and China? Protestant England, the opium-seller. Who tramples on the cross annually in Japan? The Dutch Protestants, who alone had an entry there for more than two hundred years. Who possions Juggernaut in India and makes the faithless Christian blush in the presence of honorable Turks? Protestant England. Who tramples upon and casts into prison and starves and tortures to death my own beloved countrymen and patriots in Ireland? Protestant England. Has any Protestant government, since the Reformation, made a solitary effort to rescue the holy places Palestine from pollution? Not one. With all their vaunted love for the Bible, have they not suffered the land of the Bible to remain a prey to the heathen, and the monuments of the Bible to be, in many cases, destroyed or defaced? Protestantism could arm for the city of Pericles and Demosthenes, but it had no care for the city over which "Jesus wept." The modern Pagan turns fondly to Athens as to his mother, but if he visits the City of David it is to carve his worthless name upon the trees that grow in the Garden of Gethsemane, or to take out his telescope and survey the country from Mount Calvary.

I respect the honest convictions of every man, and I expect respect for my own, but Mr. Bell, and his way of trotting out his Protestantism indeed! Why even now no great historical or human interest, can be safely discussed without the exposition of first principles—of Catholic principles. I believe that to hold and talk politics or polemics, which are unreasonable and irreligious, and uncharitable, is unworthy of a man who calls himself a christian, and most unworthy of all in an Irish Catholic. For we are of the soil that once produced the harvest of Saints every year; we have in our hearts a kindred blood, purified through their holy lives. Our fathers, in the days of Henry, of Elizabeth, of Anne, would disown us as their descendants, if they heard us parrot the wretched politics of revolutionary Protestantism. They would, I think, arise from their graves, if providence permitted, to point out to us the lost path of our inheritance—the path beside which the Holy Well gushes up to meet the thirsty travellers lips, and where the wayside cross beckons him to kneel down and pray. These fathers were sorely tried in their day, but they never flinched one hair's breadth. Theirs was no thistle-down faith that any puff might blow away, but a hardy laurel, that drank of the blood of the martyrs, and became as immortal as its food; which neither tropical summer's heat could parch, nor arctic winters could chill; it struck root in the rock, it blossomed in darkness, it waved like a triumphant banner above the ruined breach of Drogheda, and the battered walls of Limerick. Our fathers left us this divine faith for our sole inheritance—it is at once our history, our consolation, and our glory.

"They left us a treasure of pity and wrath,
A spur to our cold blood set,
And we'll tread their path
With a spirit that hath Assurance of victory yet."

J. W. FITZGERALD.

A Square Statement by a Carpenter.

"For years I have had a chest trouble amounting to nothing short of consumption. I saw how others in like condition had been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and resolved to test its merit in my own case. The results are so plane as hardly to require a bitstock or any auger-ment in favor of this grate remedy. It does saw it claims! It builds up the system, supports and strengthens where others fail." He adds: "My recovery, which is now on a sure foundation, hinges entirely on the compass of this wonderful restorative, having tried other remedies without a bit of relief." a

Rush Bros.' Store.

A Look Through Their Large and Complete Grocery Establishment.

Messrs. Rush Bros. especially invite the ladies to call at their store during the holiday week, and see the finest display of groceries ever shown in Peterborough. The firm are hard taxed to wait upon all their customers, but they nevertheless find time to decorate their store and set the goods out to best advantage. Mr. T. O. Rush manages the store, and is ably assisted by Messrs. George Miller and C. H. Stapleton who all thoroughly understand the business in every detail, and are able to give customers anything they ask for from the large and complete stock, which is the best the markets of the world can produce. There is on fine a selection of fowl as it is possible to get together, fresh oysters received from Baltimore three times a week, California canned and evaporated fruits, Malaga grapes, California oranges, and in fact seasonable fruits of all kinds; fresh fish of every variety, lobsters, the finest apples for all purposes, kippered herrings in boxes of nine dozen at 10c. a box and the choicest goods of all kinds. Anything you want in their line Rush Bros. can give you. They keep the purest and best cider, both cured and uncured, and in teas cannot be beaten, selling 6 lbs. of Japan, new season, for $1.00, and 5 lbs. of another kind, new season Japan, for $1.00. Their celebrated pineapple cheese, cured by themselves, is a luxury to be procured nowhere else. A superb lot of fresh sea salmon just received. In fact their stock is unsurpassed in the country and while everything is of the best, it is also cheap in price, because Messrs. Rush Bros. buy for cash and sell at a small margin. They are bound to lead the trade.

Their store just now is a beauty spot to visit. It is handsomely decorated for the holiday season and the remarkably fine stock of goods is displayed to good advantage. The windows are beautifully set out. In one of them is an elk head, the finest specimen in the country, belonging to Mr. Clarkin, and a moose head owned by Mayor Stevenson. There are nice pictures and other ornaments that makes the place attractive, and an Indian war club, picked up after a battle between two tribes in the Northwest. It is a formidable looking weapon, and from its appearance has no doubt killed many a red warrior.

At night Chinese lanterns shed their fantastic glow, and numerous small flags and other tasteful decorations, make the shop a scene of beauty. The decorations, in both design and execution are the work of Mr. Charley Stapleton, and they reflect great credit on his taste.

The little colored boy in a neat uniform is there to help customers, and patrons of the firm of Rush Bros. can rely upon getting the best service possible, as well as the finest goods in the market at the fairest prices. 1d150

A DEAD INFANT STARED AT HER.

She Put the Strange Package in the Stove and Afterwards Shrieked.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—The Camden authorities are investigating the maternity of a newly born infant which was found in the West Jersey Railroad depot and thrown into the fire by mistake. Mrs. Catharine Hanlon is the female attendant of the women's department at the depot. While cleaning the closets she discovered what appeared to be a bundle of soiled rags, wrapped in a piece of damp paper, stored away in the corner of one of the private apartments. She disliked handling the repulsive-looking package, and, as it was too large to be thrown down the closet, asked the advice of a ferry hand in an adjoining room as to what she should do with it.

The ferry hand inspected the bundle, and told Mrs. Hanlon, with a look of disgust, to "throw the bundle in the fire and shut the stove door to prevent the smell from coming into them." Mrs. Hanlon did as directed. Shortly after she opened the stove door that fresh coal had been put on the fire. A few minutes later, thinking the fire needed attention, she opened the stove door, and to her horror, saw on the half-ignited coals the form of a dead infant staring at her. A shriek brought several ferry hands, who succeeded in removing the body from the fire before it was incinerated. There is no clue to the maternity of the child.

THE EXPORT DUTY ON LUMBER.

Report of the U. S. Consul at Ottawa to Secretary Bayard.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—United States Consul Hotchkiss at Ottawa, in a report to the Department of State in regard to the export duty on lumber, says that there are grave doubts as to the constitutionality of the law, and that efforts are being made to secure its repeal. Its enforcement, he says, is very detrimental to the interests of those manufacturers in Northern Michigan who purchase Canada timber limits with the intention of having the logs across the lakes in preference to moving their mills to Canada.

INVESTIGATING AN INSPECTOR.

Hearing of Evidence on the Charges Against A. Thompson of Welland Co.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Dec. 27.—The investigation into the charges against License Inspector Archibald Thompson, Jr., of the county of Welland, preferred by the leaders of the Law and Order League of this place, of neglect of duty and of not being a fit person for the office, was begun here to-day before Provincial Inspector Thomas Betham and Chief Officer of the Canada Temperance Act J. W. Manning. Several witnesses were examined, but their evidence was mainly from hearsay, and the investigation was adjourned until 9 a.m. to-morrow.

A Battle With an Eagle.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 27.—Fred. B. Hubbard, a druggist, had a battle with an eagle last night and after a severe struggle captured it. He was walking at the West End when suddenly he was almost knocked down by the huge bird, which lighted on his shoulder and buried its talons in his flesh. He grabbed the bird, which then fastened its great beak in his hand, inflicting a severe wound. After a lively tussle the bird was made to break its hold and was thrown to the ground. In an instant it jumped up and fastened the beak in the fleshy part of Hubbard's leg just above the knee. Hubbard managed to get a firm grip on the wings of the bird and thus held it a prisoner. He has three wounds, but has the satisfaction of having captured a live eagle.

Uncle Sam After the Divs.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 27.—The United States authorities have ordered all the dives in the Vermillion iron range district closed. Some of the dive keepers have been arrested on a charge of selling liquor without a license, and worse charges are pending. The methods of the Wisconsin pineries were resorted to to obtain recruits for the dives.

The Vatican's Concessions to Russia.

LONDON, Dec 27.—A despatch from Rome to The Standard says the Russian mission to the Vatican has obtained various concessions from the Pope. His Holiness sanctions the deportation of the Bishop of Vilna to Siberia, accepts the Russian Government's candidates for the dioceses of Lublin and Plock, and consents to the introduction of the Russian language in all Catholic churches except in the Liturgy—an innovation that will completely destroy the Polish element. It is certain that French influence had much to do with the granting of these concessions.

THE MAYORALTY!

Address to the Electors:

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a large number of the electors, I have consented to become a candidate for the Mayor's chair for 1889. In accepting this candidature, I have been influenced by various reasons.

In the first place, Mr. Stevenson openly declared last year that he would not again be a candidate for the position. He not only stated so publicly, but has repeatedly assured me personally that he would, on no consideration, consent to become a candidate for another term, and that, as another member of the council was anxious for the position, he (Mr. Stevenson) preferred that I should be the candidate.

In the second place, I do not think that it is in the interests of the town that any one man, no matter how good a man he may be, should occupy the positions of Mayor of the town, Chairman of the School Board, Chairman of the Town Trust Commission, and President of the Gas Company,—all directly affecting the interests of the ratepayers.

These different concerns involve a large expenditure of the people's money, and it is desirable, and it is obviously proper, that the necessarily conflicting personal and corporation interests that are at least should be administered by an official, not personally concerned in getting the best end of a bargain at the expense of the town.

In the third place, I am opposed to the large expenditure in connection with the Collegiate Institute, of which my opponent is the foremost champion. I am not in favour of educating rich men's sons at the expense of the poor, but, on the other hand, believe that the most liberal expenditure of money is justifiable in maintaining and adding to the efficiency of our public schools. I am in favour of having the public schools brought to so high a standard that when a poor man's son is compelled to leave them, as he has to do at the age of 14 or 15, he may be thoroughly equipped with a practical education that will fit him for any business career he may see fit to enter upon. Those who wish to go higher in the educational scale have access to a provincial university maintained at the public expense.

I am opposed to the importation of outsiders to fill places of trust in town, when as good men, if not better men, are available at home. I could cite many flagrant instances of disregard of this fair principle, but have not space in this brief address to advert to them.

There are many other questions, such as the assessment of the homes of the middle class, to their highest dollar of value and placing a half assessment on the palatial homes of the wealthy, thus tending to the adoption of a policy for making the poor man poorer and the rich man richer; these are of interest to the ratepayers, upon which, if I receive the confidence of the public, I will always be found arrayed on the side of the people, as against cliques, corporations and monopolies of all kinds.

I need only to mention, in order to enforce the glaring impropriety of a parliamentary representative occupying the Mayor's chair. The interests of the representative, no matter how just and ex[illegible] the needs of the town may be, will be directed as we have had frequent examples of, to the promotion of personal and family interests, leaving those of the town to take their precarious chances on their own merits.

During my past record in the council I have endeavored to stand up fearlessly in defence of what I considered just and in the best interests of the town, irrespective of any person, and if honored with your confidence I will in the future pursue the same course.

Hoping, electors, that you will show on polling day that you are opposed to one man being placed year after year in a position in which an opportunity is presented of advancing personal and other interests at the expense of the town,

I remain, very faithfully,
HENRY DENNE.

Peterborough Dec. 17, 1888.

A Well Deserved Compliment.

The employes of the lock fitting department of the Peterborough Lock Works presented their foreman, Mr. M. Riley, on Saturday evening last with a silver tilting ice pitcher, suitably engraved, as a Christmas token of the high esteem in which he is held by them. The presentation was made in the secretary's office by Mr. James Cahill, one of the employes. Mr. Riley was taken completely by surprise, and the only reply he could frame in words was, "Well boys, I'm no talker, but I think a great deal," and then thanked them for their kindness. Mr. Riley closes up his year's labor on the best of terms with all his fellow workmen, with every man under him as his friend, and with the full confidence of his employers. Mr. Riley has been in the services of the Lock Company since its establishment.

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

On Saturday, Dec. 29th, Mr. E. A. McDowell's company supporting the eminent character actor, Mr. Percy Hunting, will present for the first time here a dramatization of Mr. Robert Louis Stevenson's strange story of a double life, called Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. The play retains all the weird fascination of Mr. Stevenson's wonderful book, which has been read by millions, and will be produced with elaborate special properties, scenic and calcium light effects, and with the following caste:—The eminent character actor, Mr. Percy Hunting, supported by E. A. McDowell's company in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." A strange story of a double life, dramatized from Robert Louis Stevenson's world-read book of the same name, produced with special properties, scenic and calcium light effects.

Sanderson's Holiday Goods.

Mr. W. A. Sanderson, the jeweler, has received the first importation in town of Waterbury watches for ladies. These beautiful time-pieces are stem-winders and stem-setters, and are sold at the low price of $4.50—a marvel of cheapness and excellent time-keeping qualities. They are fully warranted. Mr. Sanderson is also agent for Masonic aprons and other Masonic goods. He has a splendid stock of silver plate ware, and a full assortment of jewelery suitable for holiday gifts. Holiday buyers should not fail to inspect his stock. dw

A Visit to the Penitentiary.

Mr. J. O'Meara was in Kingston yesterday on official business, and called at the penitentiary to see Farley. The latter received him warmly and said he was quite contented with his present life. The reports that were circulated to the effect that Farley was ill are untrue; he was never in better health. He told Mr. O'Meara his Christmas in the penitentiary was the happiest he had spent in ten years. Mr. O'Meara also talked with the Warder about Greenfield, who it seems takes his imprisonment with bad grace. He is very sullen and morose. When the Warden first saw Greenfield he said: "Hello", Ferguson, is this you again? Greenfield angrily denied that he was Ferguson, or that he had ever been in penetentiary before, but the Warden recognised him.

A Beautiful Grocery Store.

Messrs. Rush Bros. have succeeded, by way of decoration and artistic display of goods, to make their grocery store so exceedingly beautiful that it not only becomes an attractive spot to the public, but it also attracts the critical eye of the artist. Mr. R. M. Roy has taken photographic views of the exterior, and will follow by taking inside views. The taste shown in the decoration of the windows was assisted by the splendid stock of first class goods being available for decorative purposes. Besides, Mr. T. O. Rush has an eye for beautiful and rare specimens of taxidermy, including rare birds and beasts, the latter embracing a pair of antelope heads, which have no counterpart in town. The front is studded with trophies of Christmas fowl of the finest, plumpest and tenderest kind. Among these is a grand young turkey cock, bred by Mrs. Heaslip, of Scott's Corners, which turns the scales at twenty five pounds, besides geese of similar size and lusciousness. The beauty of adornment and elaborate display of goods in the shop windows is only an index of the magnificent stock inside. Rush Bros.' grocery establishment is not only one of the best places in the district to go for the best of goods at reasonable prices, but it is all worth visiting as one of the sights of the town.

The Young Men's Social.

Tea and Entertainment in the Baptist Church—A Gratifying Success.

Sixty-five dollars is a good round sum to net from the proceeds of a church social, and a certain indication of its success. The young men of the Murray street Baptist church are to be congratulated upon the highly satisfactory termination of their indefatigable labors during the past few weeks. It is fortunate that the date of the entertainment was so near the close of the year. Had it occurred earlier, the young ladies' leap year chances would have been seriously imperilled by the evident independence of female assistance so ably manifested by the young men concerned in the social. It was a unique idea, that of holding a young men's social, and those who attended can vouch for the fact that it was most pleasantly and successfully carried out. Some half-dozen committees, comprising 44 young men, members of the church, had the preparations in hand. The committees were the finance, decorating, waiters, cloak room, reception, programme and cooking. In the schoolroom beneath the church the tables were laid, and it is estimated that over 400 people sat down to the superior spread. The cooking committee fairly excelled itself, and the wonderful cuisine productions of these bachelor handbuilders excited the envy and delighted surprise of all the ladies. There will be a great demand for recipes for the next few days. Sergt. Billings can claim a large share of the credit in connection with the supper. The committee of waiters, numbering eighteen dapper, white-aproned young men, were kept busy for two hours attending to the wants of their guests. The decorations of the room were very nice indeed. Brightened bunting in festoons, winding evergreens about the pillars, bunches of flowers in profusion, and handsome Christmas mottoes on the walls gave the room a gala appearance, the result of the dilligent labors of the Messrs. Dicton and Samuel Mann. The material portion of the entertainment was a splendid success and a credit to all concerned.

At eight o'clock a literary and musical programme was rendered in the church, which was well filled with an appreciative audience. Mr. W. A. Stratton occupied the chair, and after an opening selection by the Y.M.C.A. orchestra and prayer by Rev. P. C. Parker, the chairman delivered a brief and appropriate address. The different numbers on the programme merited the applause and encores they received. Mr. A. Hoover was accompanist, and all the male performers acquitted themselves creditably. Following is the programme:—

Chairman's address ..... Mr. W. A. Stratton
Chorus—"A Home on the Rushing Sea." Messrs. (Graham, Scott, Kemp, F. Matthews, Mann.
Recitation ..... Mr. Hendry
Solo—"The Song for Me." ..... Dr. Scott
Selection ..... Y.M.C.A. Orchestra
Reading ..... Mr. V. Eastwood
Trio—"Ye Sheppards Tell Me". ..... Messrs. (Graham, Scott and Mann

INTERMISSION.

Chorus—"Hearts and Homes," ..... Messrs. Graham, Scott, Kemp, F. Matthews, Mann.
Reading ..... Mr. H. Grundy.
Duet—"Hope Beyond," ..... Messrs. Kemp (and Mann.
Solo—Pianoforte ..... Mr. Hoover
Solo ..... Mr Geo. Matthews
Solo and Chorus—"A Home on the Sea," Messrs (Kemp, Graham, Scott and Mann.
Impromptu Address ..... Mr. Ullsour
Instrumental ..... Y.M.C.A. Orchestra.
Solo ..... Mr. Duff
Our National Anthem ..... "The Maple Leaf."

Individual mention of those who took part in the programme is unecessary—suffice it to say, all did well. The young mens' social as a whole was a novel success from beginning to end.

A Pastor's "At Home."

House-warming at the New Charlotte Street Methodist Parsonage.

On Thursday night, the beautiful and new parsonage of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, on Reid Street, was thrown open to the congregation and other friends of the church, and its highly esteemed and popular pastor, Rev. S. J. Shorey, the latter, and Mrs. Shorey entertaining the guests with a welcome-assuring geniality and urbanity and the Ladies' Aid Society, providing abundant and delicious refreshments for the guests.

The people were made free of the house and many were the admiring exclamations expressive of the elegance and comfort, that characterized every part of it. The church officials have thoroughly remodelled the house, and performed their work in the most thorough manner. The whole dwelling is heated with hot water, and the finish is altogether of a superior kind. The pastor's workshop—the study, is a fine, large, and well lighted chamber in a wing adjoining, but practically separated, so far as seclusion is concerned, from the more domestic apartments. Rev. Mr. Shorey is delighted with the parsonage, and in the brief address he made welcoming the people, he expressed his gratitude, and stated that he had never occupied so elegant a parsonage. This is high commendation, considering that Rev. Mr. Shorey has held pastorates in the metropolitan city of Ontario. There was a large attendance of guests, other denominations, as well as the George street church, being well represented. During the evening, at the intervals in the delightful social intercourse which was one of the chief charms of the evening, entertainment was provided, consisting of a piano solo by Mr. Schneider, organist of the church, a recitation by Mr. O. C. Rowse, a song by Mr. Harry Stevens; humourous readings by Sergt. Major Randle, a song by Mrs. Logan and a duet by Mrs. Logan and Miss Fawcett, all of whom acquitted themselves with credit. During the evening Mrs. Shorey sang with great sweetness and taste "The Meeting of the Waters." The intellectual and æsthetic part of the evening's enjoyment, had its complement in the splendid refection provided by the ladies. On a table in the hall was placed a receptacle for voluntary contributions by guests as they entered the house and the fact that about $75 was added to the parsonage furnishing fund, is very gratifying to the ladies of the society who have assumed all responsibility in connection with the furnishing and equipment of the beautiful parsonage, of which both pastor and people may be justifiably proud.

The Far Northwest.

The Ground gone over by Charles Gladman, with the Ogilvie Expedition.

The following despatch from Winnipeg giving a brief account of the journeyings in the far Northwest of the Ogilvie expedition, which Mr. Charles Gladman, son of Mr. Thomas Gladman, accompanied, will have an associated local as well as absolute general interest:—

WINNIPEG, Dec. 27:—William Ogilvie, D.L.S., who has been engaged since 1887 in exploring in extreme northwestern Canada, arrived at Calgary to-day via Lac la Biche and Victoria. The route pursued by the party was from the Pacific coast up Chilkat Inlet by steamer, over the Taiya Pass to Lake Lyndeman on Lewis River, a large branch of the Yukon, and down the Lewis River by canoes to the international boundary line. It had always been supposed that the Lewis was the main stream of the Yukon, but the Hootalequa, which joins the Lewis from the east, about 200 hundred miles from the coast, is the main stream proper. The party went into winter camp on the Yukon, near the international boundary, in the latter part of September. The greatest cold was in February, when the thermometer registered

57° BELOW ZERO.

Camp was struck on March 4th, when the party descended the Yukon 35 miles, to where a small creek runs in. They ascended this to the head through a pass in the Nehaanie range of mountains to the headwaters of the Porcupine River, another of the principal branches of the Yukon. This pass is 3,200 feet above sea level. The Porcupine was descended twenty miles, when on April 10th camp was made until the ice broke in the spring; which was on May 18th. The average depth of snow during the winter was about three feet. The Porcupine was descended to its confluence with Bells River, coming in from the east. This was ascended to the pass in the Rockies about eight and a half miles long, with nothing to prevent a first-class railway being built through it. From the east end of the pass a small mountain stream was followed to its junction with the Peel River, flowing into the Mackenzie. On this stream and an abundant outcrop of asbestos were seen. The distance from the foot of the Rockies to where they entered the Peel was seventeen miles in a straight line. The total distance travelled from the Yukon at the boundary to the Peel River was 318 miles, crossing two mountain ranges, one in winter and one in summer. McConnell's geological survey party were met at the Peel. The ascent of the Mackenzie was begun on January 27th, and the survey continued until it combined at Chipperwayan with the survey of the Peace and Athabasca Rivers, made by Mr. Ogilvie in 1886. A distance of 1,417 miles was covered. The only real obstacle to navigation in this distance was the rapids at Fort Smith. Wheat and barley are grown every summer at Fort Providence, in north latitude 61. A sample of wheat grown there was brought out and makes good flour. Mining is carried on on the Yukon and its tributaries and pays during three months of the year. Forty-mile Creek, the scene of the gold excitement of 1887, unites with the Yukon about forty-one miles from the boundary. Twenty-three miles of this creek is in Canada. Mr. Ogilvie and his party left Edmonton for Calgary by team on Christmas Day.

COAL OF GOOD QUALITY

Young's Point.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The annual entertainment in connection with the Young's Point school took place on Monday evening. A lengthy and attractive programme was carried out, including recitations, songs, choruses, dialogues and exhibition drill. Between the first and second parts Mr. Andrew Millar read the following address, the presentation being made by Mr. R. White:—

THOMAS N. LEE, ESQ.—On behalf of the ratepayers of school section No. 8, Smith, we beg leave to present you with the accompanying purse; and although regretting the necessity of your leaving us hope that you will be successful in your new situation. Yours sincerely, on behalf of the ratepayers,

Andrew Millar,
Richard White } Trustees.
W. J. Young

Mr. Lee, who was completely taken by surprise, replied in suitable terms.

The members of the Young's Point baseball club intend entertaining their captain, Mr. Thos. N. Lee, with an oyster supper on Wednesday evening, on the eve of his departure for Penetanguishene.

The annual meeting of school section No. 8, Smith, takes place on Wednesday.

From Another Correspondent.

Mr. T. E. Bell, candidate for the Deputy Reeveship of Smith, has been canvassing in this vicinity, and his friends claim that he will make a practically clean sweep of Young's Point, and poll a big vote in the rest of No. 5 division.

Bridgenorth.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

ENTERTAINMENT AND PRESENTATION.—The fifth annual Christmas tree and entertainment of the Bridgenorth Methodist Sabbath school was held on Friday evening, Dec. 21st, with the usual success. The programme of the entertainment was well rendered, and the tree was well loaded with handsome presents. After the presents were distributed, Rev. Chas. Coon came forward and presented the superintendent, Mr. Joseph Sucee, with an envelope bearing the following address:

To MR. JOS. SUCEE, — From the school and friends, as a small token of the esteem in which he is held, and as a recognition of his valuable services as superintendent.

The envelope contained somewhere between $30 and $40—no small present.

Rev. Mr. Coon also received a well-filled purse off the tree. He said it was not filled with useless paper, either.

CHURCH OPENING.—The adherents and friends of the Anglican church assembled on Wednesday evening, 19th inst., in the lately completed parish room as a formal opening of the room for the public purposes for which it has been built. After a repast, rich in quality and sumptuous in quantity but which was not enjoyed by as many as its excellence deserved owing to the icy condition of the roads, a musical and literary programme was rendered by local talent. The instrumental solos by Miss Gallon and Dr. Grant are especially worthy of mention for the expressiveness of their rendition. The Rev. Mr Harding, incumbent, in his address gave an outline of the origin of the building and the purposes it is intended to serve.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.—On Thursday evening the Sunday school children of St. Stephen's and St. George's churches were entertained in the room by games, readings, and music, an 'Xmas tree well laden being the centre of attraction, the children were in their glory, and parents and friends highly delighted.

THE WRIT FOR JOLIETTE

NOMINATION ON JAN. 9, ELECTION ON JAN. 16.

The Atlantic Mail Service—Mr. Chapleau's Health Greatly Improved—A Rumour That Was True.

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—It is understood that John Dewe, chief postoffice inspector, has applied for superannuation. Mr. Dewe has been a great number of years in the service and is a most efficient official.

Colonel MacGregor, ex-M.P., is here with reference to the Atlantic mail service. He represents the Fairchild Shipping Company of Glasgow, the builders of the Umbria, Etruria and other fast vessels. He says there would be no difficulty in building steamers to make the trip between Halifax and Liverpool in five days. The question of Atlantic mail service is understood to be still under the consideration of Council.

The writ for Joliette, rendered vacant by the unseating of Mr. Coutlombe (Con.), was issued to-day. Nominations will occur Jan. 9 and polling on Jan. 16.

The Department of Marine will shortly issue a chart of the mouth of Fraser River, B.C.

Private advices from Paris state that Hon. J. A. Chapleau's health is greatly improved.

H. W. Foster, Grand Trunk solicitor, arranged with the Minister of Railways to-day to have the Montreal and Champlain Junction and Montreal and Southeastern Junction Railways inspected by the Government engineer next week.

A strange case is attracting a great deal of attention in the Inland Revenue Department just now. A short time ago a prominent officer in an Ontario town was found to be short in his accounts. He is a gentleman of high standing in his community and his friends repudiated as indignantly as he did any wrong doing. Still his stamp accounts would not balance. There was a considerable amount charged to him for which he could produce neither money nor stamps. Another officer was temporarily put in his place and an investigation held but nothing discovered. The office was systematically searched but no stamps could be found. At last the investigation was closed and the officer who made it prepared to report to the department. That night the suspected man had a dream, in which he found all the missing stamps in an old corner of the office, where they had evidently been pushed by some one unintentionally, and where they might have been undiscovered for years. The first thing next morning he boiled for his office and there were enough, in the place where he had seen them in his dream, were found the missing stamps, which make his accounts correct. Of course he was quickly reinstated and will no doubt be henceforth a strong believer in dreams.

Work on the water power canal will be commenced within ten days, and the company propose to develop to the extent of 3000 horse-power by July 1 next. Several large manufacturing concerns are negotiating with the company for the establishment of their works at this point, and great benefits are anticipated by the citizens as the results of this day's voting.

ST. ANDREWS, Dec. 28.—The bylaw submitted to the ratepayers by the Parish of St. Andrews granting a bonus of $10,000 to connect St. Andrews with the C. P. R. at Lachute was carried without a dissentient vote to-day.

A License Inspector on the Warpath.

WHITBY, Dec. 28.—Inspector Ferguson is on the warpath again. Yesterday one of his minions seized two 60-gallon barrels of beer on tap at the Bennet House in Cedardale village, south of Oshawa, while Police Magistrate Grierson fined Hobbs and Finnegan, hotelkeepers there, $60 each and costs. Police Magistrate Horne the day before found Ohlan, a Brooklin hotelkeeper, guilty of a second offence and mulcted him in $60 fine and costs.

Oshawa Municipal Politics.

OSHAWA, Dec. 28.—The School Trustees were elected by acclamation, but it is feared that candidates for the Town Council can hardly be had in consequence of the large amount of business to be transacted.

HAMILTON, Dec. 28.—A serious accident occurred near Dundas yesterday afternoon, by which Mr. W. J. Borer, a young man aged about 22, was fatally injured. He was engaged in his father's saw mill at Rock Chapel, and while grinding a shaft on an emery wheel the belting caught in the frame and pulled it out of place, causing young Borer to slip. He fell right across a large circular saw, and his body was cut more than half in two. He was assisted into the house and Dr. Ross quickly summoned, but nothing could be done for the unfortunate man, who lingered until this morning and died at 5 o'clock, retaining consciousness until his death.

A CROFTERS' COMMISSION

APPOINTED TO SELECT COLONISTS FOR CANADA.

The Story of the Trade Keeps Booming—Premier Pierard on the Incompetency of Schools.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The appointment of the Crofters' Canadian Commission is announced. The members are the Marquis of Lothian, Sir Charles Tupper, Mr. King and Mr. Thomas Skinner. They are empowered to select Highland families for colonization in Canada.

The New European Ration.

BERLIN, Dec. 28.—As already announced the factories at Spandau, Danzig, and Erfurt are turning out 30,000 repeaters of the new pattern every month. The new pattern was made necessary by the discovery that France possessed a far more efficient weapon than the one which had at first been considered sufficiently good for the German Army. Austria meanwhile is turning out monthly from 25,000 to 40,000 of her Mannlicher repeaters, the works at Steyr running night and day to supply the demand. Italy has a new repeating arm, and is expecting also to procure very soon a... and comparatively noiseless powder to use in... France has been manufacturing her famous Lebel rifles throughout the past year, and must have hundreds of thousands of them ready; indeed, the despatches say that she is willing to supply Russia with similar weapons. Even England, although slower than her neighbors to take up magazine guns, has at length cotched upon the Lee, and is to manufacture them at Birmingham, Bow, and Enfield with the greatest speed. The next great European war, therefore, will doubtless be made memorable by the general use of repeating arms on one side or both, as the Austro-Prussian war of 1866 was made memorable by the needle gun.

Killed While Hunting.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—Hon. Cornelio Prettie, sister of Lord Dunalley, was killed to-day while hunting near Nenagh, County Tipperary. The horse stumbled and she fell from the saddle. Her foot becoming entangled in the stirrups she was dragged for some distance head downwards.

The Secularization of Schools.

PARIS, Dec. 28.—The Chamber of Deputies to-day discussed the Senate's amendments to the Budget. In the course of the debate M. Bouvenier of the Right attacked the Government for going to extremes in secularizing schools. Premier Floquet in reply declared his warmest approval of everything that had been done to secularize the schools. The republic, he said, desired to free education from all religious influences. M. Floquet's speech was received with enthusiastic applause, and a motion to print and placard it throughout France was carried by a vote of 276 to 166.

The Invention of an Italian.

PARIS, Dec. 28.—A semi-official note is published denying the story that the Bey of Tunis had issued a decree ordering all foreign employes of the Tunis Government to become naturalized Frenchmen if they desire to retain their offices. The story was the invention of an Italian.

Disposed to Become Reconciled.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—It is rumored in Vienna and Frankfort that through the intercession of Princess Elizabeth of Hesse the Czar is disposed to become reconciled to Prince Alexander of Battenberg.

Sympathy for the "Black Man."

LONDON, Dec. 28.—"Lord Salisbury has had no opportunity," says Mr. Smalley, "of knowing precisely how many expressions of private sympathy his black man has received. The number on the testimony of Naoroji Dodabhai himself is 2000 letters and telegrams, including cable messages—number not stated—from America. Others came from South America, Australia, New Zealand, and, of course, India. Several telegraph companies are expected to declare increased dividends."

Illness of Sir Wm. Jenner.

Jack the Ripper at Brussels.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—Brussels has been thrown into a ferment of excitement by the reception by prominent people of cards and telegrams announcing the advent in that quaint old city of the famous "Jack the Ripper" of Whitechapel notoriety. King Leopold, the prefect of police and the court ministers are among the recipients of this mysterious being's delicate attention.

DISASTROUS FIRES.

The Flames Find a Victim at Sherbrooke Lake—Other Conflagrations.

SHARBOT LAKE, Dec. 29.—The Ferry House was burned to the ground yesterday morning, and in it perished Rev. Joshua Fraser, a graduate of Queen's University, a bright scholar and an able writer. He was the son of Rev. Thomas Fraser of Lanark, in which place he was born. After having taught in the high schools at Whitby, Gananoque and other places he entered church work and was pastor of a Presbyterian church at Whitby and of St. Matthew's Church, Point St. Charles, Montreal. While in the latter place he was chaplain of the 78th Highlanders. He also officiated temporarily at Glenyvale and Harrowsmith but during the past ten years was not engaged in the active work of the ministry. He was recently engaged as a mining expert, and was pursuing that business in the vicinity of Sharbot Lake. He was about 48 years of age and was unmarried.

Six Stores Burnt at Galt.

GALT, Ont., Dec. 28.—About 4 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the rear of Dr. Redford's office, situated in the frame block on North Water-street. The buildings being old and inflammable the flames spread rapidly through the entire block, and by 7 o'clock the whole six stores were in ruins, including the offices of the Dominion Express Company and the Canadian Pacific Railway Telegraph Company. The losses are: Mrs. Kay on buildings $1200, insured for $700 in the Gore Mutual; Strickland Bros. on building $1800, insured for $1000 in the Gore Mutual; on stock $2000, insured for $1000 in the Waterloo Mutual; W. P. Clay on stock $4000, insured for $1200 in the Royal and $950 in the Hartford, Dr. Redford on books and in statements $300, insured for $700 in the Phœnix. H. Raitray's stock was all removed, no loss.

The origin of the fire is at present a mystery, but it is believed to be incendiary, as on one or two occasions recently fires have been discovered in outhouses in rear of these buildings.

SIXTEEN PER THOUSAND

A Very Low Death Rate in Peterborough.

Report of Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer—An Interesting Document for Public Perusal—A Genuine Sewer Epic, Canine Sentiment—The General Health And Sanitary Condition of the Town.

A meeting of the Board of Health was called for last night, but as usual there was no quorum. Following is a copy of the annual report of Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer, which he prepared for presentation to the Board. It is an interesting paper, and well worthy of careful consideration:—

To the Chairman and members of the Peterborough Board of Health:—

GENTLEMEN,—The present year has been the most eventful of all the years since the passing of the Public Health Act. No outside epidemic has visited the town; there has been a much less proportion of typhoid fever, diphtheria and scarlet fever, not so large a number of complaints as in previous years, and a better compliance with the Statutes than heretofore. No better evidence of this could be given than the STEADILY DECREASING DEATH RATE.

In 1885 this was 18½ in the thousand; in 1886, 18; in 1887, 17; and during the present year only a shade above 16. These are striking figures. To give another view, a difference of 2 per thousand in the death rate of a town the size of Peterborough means a saving in ten years of nearly 200 lives. High sanitary authorities have given 17 per thousand as a standard to be aimed at. Peterborough has gone beyond this and may therefore be pronounced one of the healthiest towns in the world. No better recommendation to manufacturers looking for a place to locate, or private parties looking for a town to settle in could be given them to say that the death rate here is only 16 per thousand.

SLAUGHTER HOUSES.

Regular inspections have been made, and notices served when necessary. More rain having fallen this summer than last, it was found that greater care was needed in cleaning up. The butchers now render their tallow every day or two, instead of keeping it two or three weeks. This lessens the disagreeable odor of that process. I may here correct a popular error as to the unhealthy nature of these fumes. They are certainly highly unpleasant, but not dangerous from a sanitary point of view.

REMOVAL OF GARBAGE AND EXCRETA.

This has become a regular business, and quite a number of men are engaged in it. As in other years the greatest difficulty has been found in the rear of certain stores on George street, where the constant presence of a sanitary inspector would hardly keep things right. We have also had difficulty in deputed lanes where garbage is deposited, it is difficult to tell by whom. I think a couple of men from the street force, should be detailed at stated times to clean them up. These are the places that attract attention, and if ill-kept, give a bad name to our town. Manure heaps are sometimes allowed to attain larger proportions than the law permits. It should be remembered that not more than a wagon load in one place, may accumulate without being removed. In many yards heaps of rubbish, such as ashes, scrap, metal, chips, etc., not dangerous to the public health, may be found. The health statute does not cover such cases, except in the spring of the year, when refuse of all kinds must be removed before the 15th of May. I will again call the attention of the public to this matter at the proper time. Some try to evade the section relating to the cleaning of water closets, but on the whole there is much more work done each year. Earth closets make rather slow progress. If well kept they are a great boon, but if faulty in construction, and not emptied regularly, they are worse than the old privy-vault.

A WORD AS TO SEWERAGE.

It seems to me this is a matter for the Dominion or Provincial authorities to take up. It affects not only our town but scores of similar towns springing up all over the country. For a place even to ascertain the best method of sewerage is not only an expensive matter but a difficult question in the face of conflicting systems. Sewage farms seem to be making headway at present. Let the matter be investigated thoroughly and decided once for all by the central authority and towns can adopt the system it recommends modified only to suit the particular necessities. Agricultural legislation is being constantly made by both governments for the benefit of the farmers, and I don't see why sewerage investigations should not be carried on for the benefit of those living in town and cities. At any rate the question might be looked into by our parliamentary representatives.

Regarding the drainage of the Nicholls Hospital the directors are making arrangements by which there will be no contamination of the river with dangerous matter.

WELL WATER.

I have analysed about seventy samples of well water and, as in previous years, have found a large portion very impure. I would again point to filtration as the only remedy for this. In the case of a waterworks supply cheap filters can be attached to the tap. Children attacked by diphtheria are generally said by their mothers to be great water drinkers, and typhoid fever seems to occur more frequently among the water drinking class than among those who resort to more potent beverages.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES.

Twelve deaths from diphtheria and two from typhoid fever have occurred throughout the year. No scarlet fever has been reported, but an epidemic of that disease is evidently not far off, in which case an important question not yet brought before the Board will have to be considered. I refer to the exclusion of Mechanics' Institute books from families attacked with that disease. It is powerfully infectious and every precaution must be taken to prevent its spread. What more natural than to amuse a child recovering from scarlet fever with illustrated books, and what more likely than that the next family into whose hands the book falls will, if liable, take the disease without dreaming where it comes from.

Placarding of houses has been carefully attended to. Most families are anxious to have the cards removed at the earliest possible moment. This cannot be done until the house, clothing, bedding, etc., have been thoroughly disinfected.

MILK SUPPLY.

There have been no complaints and hence it was not deemed necessary to put in force the clauses relating to supply of milk. However, vendors were notified that their places would be subject to inspection.

The bakeries have been, on the whole, well kept, and their water supply is rather better than the average.

NICHOLLS HOSPITAL.

Following are the statistics of infectious diseases in the Nicholls Hospital during the past year, as kindly furnished by the Lady Superintendent:

	Cases.	Deaths.
Typhoid fever	15	1
Diphtheria	11	1
Scarlet fever	2	0
Measles	1	0

SANITARY WORK.

Appended is a synopsis of sanitary work done during the year. The chief and members of the police force have done their best as sanitary inspectors, but this year their more important duties have frequently interrupted the work. On the whole the town compares most favorably in sanitary standing with the other towns of the province, as the best possible evidence of this is the low death rate, which it is hoped may be maintained and even reduced in future years.

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. CLARKE, M.D.,
Medical Health Officer.

What is up now! Why, I see E. S Mitchell is selling the New High Arm No. 9 and 12, Wheeler & Wilson, a Sewing Machine that makes a lock-stitch without a shuttle and one that has no equal, for it is the easiest lightest and smoothest running sewing machine in town to-day, as it has rotary motion, when running. SORE FROM KNEE TO ANKLE.

Skin entirely Gone. Flesh a Mass of Sores. Leg Bandaged and Tied in Skin. Gentleman Reporter. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg. Many know I for my entire years of agony. Doctor after doctor, and the limb was one mass of sores, [illegible] day [illegible] one side of the other, and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars, from which I got no relief whatever, I was persuaded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES, and the result was wonderful. After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely restored. My flesh was purified, and the long, [illegible] had been entirely free from a sore for a year and a half. The limb began to grow, and to-day, and for nearly two years past, my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.

TORONTO, Dec. 29.—At a meeting of Mr. Mowat's Cabinet yesterday these appointments were made: James Smith, Chippewa, Sheriff of the County of Welland; James H. Coyne, St. Thomas, Registrar of the County of Elgin; Dr. A. F. Mallory, Warkworth, Registrar of Northumberland.

The Ontario Gazette to-day contains these appointments: Robert E. Miller, Bruce Mines, clerk second division court of Algoma East; J. J. A. Weir, Galt, notary public.

At the Police Court yesterday Thomas Broomhall, proprietor of an electrical and homeopathic institute, was fined $40 for illegally practising medicine.

Charles H. Wright, Edward A. Driscoll and Robert A. Barton, charged with a breach of the Bucket-shop Act were yesterday committed for trial. The "tickers" were detained by the court as "instruments of gambling."

The annual meeting of the Clydesdale Horse Association, held at the Albion Hotel yesterday, was attended by a large number of horse breeders. Mr. David McCrae, Guelph, president, occupied the chair. The financial statements for the year showed the receipts to be $1081 and the expenditure was $903. The association has on its roll 350 members. The entries in the stud-book up to Dec. 15 numbered 344 stallions, 180 of which were imported, and 326 mares, of which 98 were imported, making a total of 670. During the year the trade in horses has been good. There were exported to the United States 120 stallions and 80 mares and to the Northwest, 25 stallions and 8 mares. The spring show will be held on March 14. It was decided to give testimonials to worthy horses in the imported classes, in addition to the five prizes, making seven awards in all. It was also agreed to grant prizes in three classes—one, two and three years old—for Canada bred horses, and "Canadian bred horse" shall be defined as one not tracing on the side of the dam an imported mare. These officers were elected:

President—Wm. Smith, M.P.

Vice-Presidents—George Moore, Waterloo; Robert Ness, Howick; Nora Bowie, Markham; Hon. Alex. Sutherland, Prince Edward Island; C. C. Gardiner, Manitoba; J. E. Smith, Brandon; New Brunswick, Dr. McMonagal, Sussex.

The Lilly Charlton inquest was resumed last night. Nurse Johnston, who took care of the unfortunate girl until her death, testified that at Lilly's request she telephoned for Druggist Wood to come to the Charlton home. Other witnesses also testified as to the telephone messages for Wood. Mrs. Libby McGuire, a personal friend of the dead girl, testified that Lilly told her she was going to sell her piano but did not state for what purpose she wanted the money. The inquest was adjourned until Thursday night.

"Danny" Thomson, 12 years of age, was yesterday convicted of stealing an overcoat from the John-street School. His record being bad the Police Magistrate committed him to the Penetang Reformatory for 4 years. Danny cried bitterly, and as the constable led him below he shouted back defiantly that he would shoot one of them if he ever got out. Wm. Churchill, his accomplice, was also found guilty. Sentence will be pronounced on Monday. Wm. Smith, a third pal, turned Queen's evidence and was acquitted.

Mrs. Adams, widow of P. C. Adams, has been appointed police matron. Her duties are to commence next Wednesday. This is a new appointment and one that is hailed with much satisfaction at police headquarters, where station duty officers have often had awkward experiences with female prisoners.

The lumber dealers of the province yesterday appointed this committee to act with Hon. Oliver Mowat to wait upon Mr. Hickson and Mr. VanHorne with a statement of the grievances of the trade against the railway companies, and failing a remedy from this source such steps may be taken under the advice of Mr. Mowat as may be necessary to secure the proper rights of the trade: The Rathbun Company, Georgian Bay Lumber Company, Mr. Brennan & Sons, R. Thompson & Co., Wilmott & McIntosh, Christie, Kerr & Co., Donogh & Oliver, Ferguson Bros., McCraney, McCool & Wilson.

Mr. George Beamish, foreman for Bryce Bros., met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon. He was going through the firm's lumber yard in the East End, when a pile of planks fell on him, breaking both his legs. He was taken to his home on St. David-street.

James Smith, a salvation army captain, caused the arrest yesterday afternoon of Fred. R. Fenton and his wife, on a charge of stealing $30 from him.

Death Is His Jailer Now.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—James Barrett and John Heffner, prisoners in the workhouse, Blackwell's Island, attempted to escape on a drifting log Christmas night. A tugboat struck the log and Heffner was drowned. Barrett, who was rescued by a boat from the Island, was so seriously chilled by the icy water that he is confined to the hospital. Heffner's attempt was peculiarly foolish, as his term had expired and he was merely nominally a prisoner, having been re-committed at his own request.

THE MAYORALTY!

Address to the Electors:

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a large number of the electors, I have consented to become a candidate for the Mayor's chair for 1889. In accepting this candidature, I have been influenced by various reasons.

In the first place, Mr. Stevenson openly declared last year that he would not again be a candidate for the position. He not only stated so publicly, but has repeatedly assured me personally that he would, on no consideration, consent to become a candidate for another term, and that, as another member of the council was anxious for the position, he (Mr. Stevenson) preferred that I should be the candidate.

In the second place, I do not think that it is in the interests of the town that any one man, no matter how good a man he may be, should occupy the positions of Mayor of the town, Chairman of the School Board, Chairman of the Town Trust Commission, and President of the Gas Company,—all directly affecting the interests of the ratepayers.

These different concerns involve a large expenditure of the people's money, and it is desirable, and it is obviously proper, that the necessarily conflicting personal and corporation interests that are at issue should be administered by an official, not personally concerned in getting the best end of a bargain at the expense of the town.

In the third place, I am opposed to the large expenditure in connection with the Collegiate Institute, of which my opponent is the foremost champion. I am not in favour of educating rich man's sons at the expense of the poor, but, on the other hand, believe that the most liberal expenditure of money is justifiable in maintaining and adding to the efficiency of our public schools. I am in favour of having the public schools brought to so high a standard that when a poor man's son is compelled to leave them, as he has to do at the age of 14 or 15, he may be thoroughly equipped with a practical education that will fit him for any business career he may see fit to enter upon. Those who wish to go higher in the educational scale have access to a provincial university maintained at the public expense.

I am opposed to the importation of outsiders to fill places of trust in town, when as good men, if not better men, are available at home. I could cite many flagrant instances of disregard of this fair principle, but have not space in this brief address to advert to them.

There are many other questions, such as the assessment of the homes of the middle class, to their highest dollar of value and placing a half assessment on the palatial homes of the wealthy, thus tending to the adoption of a policy for making the poor man poorer and the rich man richer; these are of interest to the ratepayers, upon which, if I receive the confidence of the public, I will always be found arrayed on the side of the people, as against cliques, corporations and monopolies of all kinds.

I need only to mention, in order to enforce the glaring impropriety of a parliamentary representative occupying the Mayor's chair. The interests of the representative, no matter how just and ordinary the needs of the town may be, will be directed as we have had frequent examples of, to the promotion of personal and family interests, leaving those of the town to take their precarious chances on their own merits.

During my past record in the council I have endeavored to stand up fearlessly in defence of what I considered just and in the best interests of the town, irrespective of any person, and if honored with your confidence I will in the future pursue the same course.

Hoping, electors, that you will show on polling day that you are opposed to one man being placed year after year in a position in which an opportunity is presented of advancing personal and other interests at the expense of the town,

I remain, very faithfully,

HENRY DENNE.

Promotion Examination.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—I beg space of you in your paper for a few words. When I saw the promotion list in the central school, I did not see a laborer's child in the large list of names that changed places, but left behind as if they were all an inferior class of children. They cannot all be blockheads, but I can plainly see that the teachers do not consider that our laborers pay them for teaching our children as well as others. But I do not wonder at this, for they are hired at a fair good price for the year, and they do not work more than 8 months in the year. Its no wonder that this class does not get along; they do not want one of this class to fill the office of any high rank; they do not consider that they might just as well put their hand in our pockets, and take so much money out. This should be considered at the coming election, in favor of Mr. Deane.

Yours truly,
W. J. STAPLEY.

Peterborough, Dec. 25.

After Many Years.

Mr. Andrew Finnie's Second Visit Home in Twenty Years.

Mr. Andrew Finnie, formerly of Otonabee, but now of Wright's Station, Middle California, is in this vicinity on a visit to his mother, who resides in Lakefield, and other friends. He favored the EXAMINER, which has made welcome weekly visits to his far western home for ten years, with a call on Friday. Mr. Finnie has been absent from Peterborough in California for 19 years, during which time he made one visit to his old home. He is at present engaged in fruit-growing in California, and is well pleased with that business and with the country, and has no desire to return to Canada. He has a farm of 24 acres, devoted exclusively to fruit raising, besides other land for grazing, etc. His orchards contain all the common fruits of the country, and include peaches, prunes, nectarines, apricots, etc. Mr. Finnie tells of Crawford peaches that measure from nine to fifteen inches in circumference. The principal market for fruit is the East and Chicago. Mr. Finnie "left on the editor's table" some splendid samples of sun-dried fruits of his own growth — pealed peaches and several varieties of prunes. He referred to the severe strictures passed by Mr. Dixon Best, in a recent letter to the EXAMINER, on San Francisco and Californian fruit. He thinks that if Mr. Best had tasted his (Mr. Finnie's) fruit, he would have had a different story to tell, unless, as he thinks he was laboring under a fit of the blues, brought on by home sickness. Mr. Finnie has good reasons to be pleased with the country and his business. He says the average net yield per acre of his orchard is about $300. Mr. Finnie will make a brief stay, his present intention being to start on his return home about January 10th.

An Epidemic Imminent.

The Medical Health Officer Says There is Danger of a Scarlet Fever Outbreak.

In another column is printed an exhaustive report upon the sanitary condition of the town by Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer. In it is a statement, "it is evident," an epidemic of scarlet fever is not far off." The Doctor was seen by the EXAMINER this morning with reference to the matter, and was asked his reasons for so stating.

"Well," he replied, "it's about time for another epidemic to come around. Infectious diseases like the scarlet fever and measles, I notice, have periodical outbreaks, and as Peterborough has not been visited for some time, it may soon be expected—next year (1889) or the following year at the latest."

"Are there any direct evidences of an imminent outbreak at present?"

"No, not exactly; still there have been a few cases reported at the Nicholls Hospital. As yet there are no cases reported about town."

"What are the cause of these periodical epidemics?"

"Well, every five or six years there is a new batch of children ready to take the disease, and it breaks out among them from various causes. After an epidemic parents are careful for a while but gradually grow neglectful till in the stated cycle of time the unsanitary conditions that brought on the previous attack are repeated with the same results."

This is an important matter for parents to consider. In Dr. Clarke's report he gives some valuable advice as to the best means to avoid the disease.

A Serious Accident.

Mr. Jos. McKee, a Belmont farmer, came up to Peterborough last night for the purpose of attending the sick-bed of his father, Mr. Andrew McKee, of Smith. At the railway diamond in Ashburnham, the brakesman announced "Peterborough," and the train slowed up but did not stop. Mr. McKee saw the houses in the village and thought he must be at the station, and asked a fellow-passenger if the train did not intend stopping at Peterborough. The other replied that "it didn't look like it," and Mr. McKee hastily left the car and jumped off the train, which by this time was under way again and going at a rapid rate. Mr. McKee fell on his face and hands on the frozen gravel and suffered ugly injuries. His face and head were gashed in several places, necessitating the use of several stitches by the surgeon, while the flesh of the palm of one of his hands was torn from the bone and laid back on his wrist. He was not stunned by the fall, and with blood streaming down his face Mr. McKee walked the remainder of the distance across the bridge to the station, where he got a cab and was driven to Dr. Clarke's surgery. Mr. McKee is about again to-day, but he may consider himself fortunate that he was not more seriously hurt. Complaints are frequently heard from C.P.R. passengers that the brakesmen announce the station before the stoppage at the Ashburnham diamond, with the result that many are mialed. The railway authorities should attend to this matter and thereby perhaps prevent further accidents from this cause.

A Verdict for Matrimony.

An interesting debate was held at the Otonabee Canoe Club rooms last night on the subject, resolved, that married life is preferable to single. Mr. John Miller, B. A., occupied the chair and rendered judgment. The leaders for the affirmative were Messrs. Jas. Little, and W. H. Hill; for the negative, Messrs. A. E. Dixon and T. Barrie. Some fine addresses were made. The speakers numbered seven on each side, among them being Mr. J. J. Wright, B. A., of Queen's, and Dr. Emerson, of Toronto University. Several new members put in their first appearance at this meeting, and future debates promise to be of unusual interest. A decision in favor of the affirmative by two points was given. A week from next Thursday night, Jan. 10th, another debate will be held upon the question. Resolved, that the Collegiate Institute should not be supported by general taxation. Messrs. A. E. Scott and A. J. Lindsay will uphold the affirmative; Messrs. T. Barrie and W. A. Dixon the negative.

Narrow Escape From Drowning

Mr. E. A. Pearson and his friend Mr. Ferguson, of Toronto, were skating on Little Lake yesterday afternoon, in the bay near the cemetery, when the latter in passing over a soft spot in the ice broke through and was nearly drowned. There was a strong current in the water and it is a wonder Mr. Ferguson was not drawn under, as he was skating rapidly and went through the ice like a shot. However, he managed to draw himself out and suffers no worse effects than a slight cold and several cuts about the face made by the sharp edges of the ice. Mr. Pearson was skating just far enough behind Mr. Ferguson to stop himself from plunging into the water.

This morning Chief Rossel in making his rounds of the market observed a most uninviting looking carcass of beef shown by a farmer. It appeared either to be diseased or the animal had died of starvation. The Medical Health Officer also examined the meat, and though it could not be pronounced absolutely unfit for use, the farmer was ordered to take it away. He expostulated at first but had to yield.

Put to bed to be Shod.

The Norwich Bulletin says: There is a horse in the town of Sprague, belonging to Allan Williams, that has to be put to bed to be shod. As blacksmiths do not have beds for such eccentric animals, Mr. Williams has to carry a mattress and pillows to the shop where his horse is shod. The horse does not like to go to bed, as it takes good management to throw him down on to a mattress, and get him into a mood and position to have the shoes put on his hoofs, few blacksmiths like to undertake the job. A Norwich man man has done the job repeatedly, and almost always the horse is driven to this city to have new shoes put upon him. The horse is thrown down and held on the mattress by straps across the body, and his owner insists on having the horse's head bolstered up in a comfortable position with two pillows while the work is being done. There is not, probably, another horse in New England that requires a mattress and pillows to be shod upon.

Gems of Thought.

Occasional praise is wholesome as well as agreeable.

The most certain sign of wisdom is a perpetual cheerfulness.

Happiness consists, not in having much, but in being content with little.

To correct an evil which already exists is not as wise as to forsee and prevent it.

They that laugh at everything, and they that fret at everything are fools alike.

Too many believe that "the world owes every man a living" and that it requires no personal effort to make the collection.

Reproof to be efficient must be sparingly administered; perpetual rebuking is like constant whipping of a lazy horse; he soon disregards it.

No motive that centres in and ends in self, whether it be one of hope or fear, can be the highest possible motive; nor can it lead to the purest and finest order of virtue.

A large majority of the unfulfilled duties of the world are caused by the practice of delay. Good intentions are abundant—the ability and the will to carry them out are not wanting; but the habit of prompt action has never been acquired. Persons with this deficiency are wrecked in an emergency.

Speak kindly in the morning; it lightens the cares of the day, and makes the household and all its affairs move along more smoothly. Speak kindly at night; for it may be that, before the dawn, some loved one may finish his or her space of life for the world, and it will be too late to ask forgiveness.

The root of the commonwealth is in the homes of the people. The social and civil life springs from the domestic life of mankind. The official life of a nation is ordinarily the reflex of the moral sense of the people. The morality of public administration is to be gauged bo the moral standard of the family. The river does not rise above its source.

MARRIED.

GRAHAM—FORTUNE.—On the 19th Dec., 1888, by the Rev. Wm. Bennett, of Springville, Mr. Arthur W. Graham to Miss Elizabeth Fortune, both of South Monaghan.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

LIFE ASSURANCE COMPY OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have more over $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,340 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain to assur ance.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,482 69	$1,149,743 69
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 87	195,188 29	1,167,398 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 31	2,902,934 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,807 24	4,029,373 05
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

IT HAS WORKED WELL.

A PROOF OF THE MODUS VIVENDI'S SATISFACTORY NATURE.

No Change To Be Made at Present in the Matter of Granting Fishery Licenses—Favorable Immigration Indications.

Ottawa, Dec. 31.—As the question has been raised amongst the United States fishermen whether the Dominion Government would renew the fishery licenses issued under the modus vivendi, some of which expire to-day, your [illegible] enquiries at the Fisheries Department and finds that there is no intention at present of changing the regulation regulating the granting of licenses and that no new instructions in the direction have been issued. The modus [illegible] over two years and there is no present reason to suppose that the period will be curtailed. When licenses were first issued last spring they were made for a year from date, but later in the season this matter was changed and the Newfoundland system of issuing for the calendar year adopted. These latter licenses of course expire to-day, but it is understood that no objections will be raised to their renewal. The fees collected for licenses amount to between $6000 and $6000 and the best proof that the modus vivendi has worked satisfactorily is that no infraction of the fishery laws occurred last season and not a single seizure was made.

The application of Consul-General Phelan of Halifax for permission to tranship fish from one vessel to another has been refused and the consul informed that the action of the Collector of Customs in permitting one such transhipment has been disapproved.

Information received at the Department of Agriculture indicates that immigration next year will probably exceed that of the year just closing and that there will be an exceptionally large influx of Scandinavians and Germans.

Mr. J. Davis, chief postoffice inspector, will be granted six months' leave of absence from Jan. 1 and be superannuated from July 1. He will leave shortly for Europe and spend the winter in the south of France. It is understood that the office of chief inspector will be abolished and the position therefore not filled.

The impression in the Militia Department is that this year's meeting of the National Rifle Association will be held at Wimbledon as the new range at Brookwood will not be completed in time.

Sir Adolphe Caron, Minister of Militia, opened the campaign in Joliette Saturday. It is understood that Sir Hector Langevin will speak at Guilbault's nomination on Jan. 9.

The statement which appeared in several papers recently that a settlement had been made of the difficulty between the Chaudiere lumbermen and the Government, by which the former were to pay up arrears and receive new leases for twenty one years, is incorrect. No settlement has been made.

The Superintendant of Insurance has been applied to by several insurance associations in the United States professing to do business on the benevolent plan, similar to the Oddfellows, Freemasons and similar organizations for permission to do business in Canada without taking out licenses, but it is doubtful whether any distinction can be made between these associations and ordinary insurance companies, and the question has been referred to the department of Justice.

There are at present about a dozen vacancies in each permanent battery of artillery which will be gradually filled as eligible men offer.

Percy Wood, the sculptor who designed the sharpshooters' monument in this city, writes to a friend here that he has received an order from the City of Rochester, N. Y., for a soldiers' monument to be erected there which will cost $30,000.

PEACE TO ALL THE WORLD

WILL PROBABLY BE THE KAISER'S NEW YEAR MESSAGE.

Diverse Opinions as to the Meaning of William's Public Utterances—The Important Tenets Seem to be Discovered.

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—The New Year reception at the court is awaited with anxiety, the impression prevailing that the Emperor will seize the occasion to give utterances to some words pregnant with indications of the coming year's policy. Nothing like a speech can be expected, the court precedent being against anything beyond a formal reception to diplomats, officials and the Hohenzollern generally, but some few words conveying a message of peace to the world are certainly [illegible] and fair.

Semi-official newspapers comment in the announcement that whatever war plans are in preparation in France and Russia, Germany remains on the defensive, in the meanwhile perfecting her armaments.

The National Gazette, summing up the situation, ascribes the existing quiet to the fact that a period has about been reached when the arming on every side will be terminated and the fever of preparation be replaced by a collected calm arising from a conscious readiness to do battle.

On the other hand, in the opinion of The Militar Zeitung and The Kreuze Zeitung, the suggestions of the Emperor are possible because the army is in a state of transition, the new infantry drill regulations and radical changes in defences, necessary to meet recent explosive inventions, and the reform in cavalry weapons combining to render advisable another year of preparatory activity.

The uncertainty concerning Prince Bismarck's health has become a disturbing factor in the situation. The Chancellor was better at the beginning of the week, but authentic advices from Friedrichsruhe report that since Wednesday he has suffered a recurrence of gout in a severe form.

The question of making additional state provision for the Imperial family will come up in the Reichstag in February. Apart from his ample allowance as King of Prussia, the allowance of the Emperor from the Imperial funds is only $780,000 yearly. It is reported that the Chancellor will inform the Reichstag that an additional $360,000 is required owing to the expenditure involved in the increased duties of the head of the Empire. The consensus of opinion is that some such provision is necessary, and that the sum mentioned is reasonable.

The coming court season promises to be the dullest ever known, owing to the fact that the period of mourning for the late Emperor has not expired. The seriousness of the Emperor's character is fast impressing the minds of all classes of the people. The decision of the Union Club, the leading sporting organization, not to hold races on Sunday, in conformity with the desire of the Emperor, meets with universal approval throughout Germany, though it has excited the anger of racing circles in Austria, between which and the Union Club there has been some association.

Early in February the Imperial tours will be resumed. The program has not yet been decided upon, but preparations now being made indicate that the Emperor will visit Alsace-Lorraine. Court Marshal Liebenau has been to Strasburg to arrange for a reception there. A committee has been formed to erect a memorial of the late Emperor Frederick on the field of Woerth. It is expected that the Emperor will be present at the foundation ceremony and that he will thence go to Belgium and afterward to England.

The British acquisition of new territory in the Kingdom of Mereni, on Lake Nyanji, rich in minerals, is regarded here as a breach of the Berlin convention. This view is held on the ground that there was no virtual possession of the territory before the protectorate was proclaimed. German explorers were prospecting the lands and negotiating for mineral rights, when the territory was seized by British agents.

The renewed growth of Socialist activities is certain to evoke early action by the Reichstag to settle the Socialist laws. The Austro-German Socialist Congress, which meets to-day, will prepare a manifesto to the Socialists of the world. The police have been ordered not to interfere so long as the debates are not seditious.

The defenders of Sir R. D. Morier, the British ambassador at St. Petersburg, assert that a letter and bearing Marshal Ramine's signature, in which he absolutely denies holding any communication with Morier. The Cologne Gazette challenges the production of the letter and says that even against the letter it can place a statement freely made by Ramine in the presence of German officers to the effect that he first heard of the movement of German troops through advices emanating from Morier at Darmstadt.

Secret experiments with the new explosive proceed successfully near Thera. Experts are convinced that the explosive can destroy forts like the French forts d'arret on the frontier within a few hours. The power of the explosive will revolutionize the whole fortress system, making useless great closed forts works and necessitating movable defensive works scattered in ironclad bulwarks. Recent fort work changes in France and Russia indicate that both those nations have obtained knowledge of the explosive. Warsaw despatches state that the system of General Talebon will be completely abandoned and that orders have already been issued to stop the works at Kowal and to form instead a triangular system, including Kowal, Litzenski and Bialystock, connected by strategic railways.

Proposed Rival to the "Soo" Road.

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Marcus Poliasky of this city left here Saturday for Michigan, where in connection with Gov. McDonald, Mr. Royce and others, he purposes to incorporate a new company for the purpose of constructing a railroad from Minneapolis and St. Paul to Escanaba. The new road will be known as the Escanaba, Twin City and Western Road, and will be an opposition road to the Minnesota, Sault Ste. Marie and Atlantic Road. It will be 360 miles long.

Mr. Bradlaugh, the well-known English Radical, visited the Chamber of Deputies yesterday and conversed for some time with M. Clemenceau and other members.

Spanish Cabinet Changes.

ROME, Dec. 31.—King Humbert has accepted the resignation of Signor Magliani as Minister of Finance and of the Treasure. Signor Grimaldi has been appointed Minister of Finance, Signor Miolty Minister of Agriculture and Signor Perazzi Minister of the Treasury. These changes indicate Premier Crispi's desire for a coalition of the parties that accepted his program.

Secretary at Chesley.

CHESLEY, Dec. 31.—Late Saturday night or early Sunday morning M. A. Halliday's store in this place was broken into and about $600 worth of goods, consisting of furs, overcoats, velveteens and silk handkerchiefs, were stolen. Entrance into the building was made by prying up a window in the storehouse and then removing the lock of the door leading into the store.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Two Fatal Accidents—A Missing Jeweler Mourned by His Creditors.

TORONTO, Dec. 31.—At 2.40 Saturday afternoon an Englishman named Joseph Wadsworth, employed as a laborer on the Don extension, near Doncaster, was blown to pieces by the explosion of dynamite. While thawing out the explosive one of the boxes ignited. He saw what had happened and ran forward in an attempt to save it. He had scarcely got his hand on the box when it exploded, killing him instantly. He had a hole blown through his head, both his legs were broken and his arms were shattered. He was an unmarried man and recently came from Hamilton.

About 5 o'clock Saturday evening Alfred W. Seeger, aged 13, was playing with some other boys around a building which is being erected opposite his father's residence on Bank-street, Brockton. Young Seeger was on a ladder, up a considerable distance, when he lost his hold and fell to the ground, breaking his neck and dying in a few moments.

Miss Minnie L. Phelps, daughter of Mr. Noah L. Phelps of St. Catharines, delivered an eloquent address at the Pavilion yesterday on the question of "The Canadian Home or the Canadian Saloon."

Another watchmaker and dealer in jewelry has folded his tents and silently stolen away. John Clark, who for three years past has kept a store at 452 Queen-street west, went out of the city last Monday night to eat his Christmas dinner with his father, who is a retired farmer of means living at Silver Creek, near Georgetown. Clark has not since been heard of, and his disappearance is mourned with about $8000 worth of sorrow by a dozen or more wholesale jewelers. Clark came to the city four years ago when he was about 22 years of age and worked a year with A. Kleiser, King-street east. His father then gave him money to start in business for himself. He didn't do a rushing trade but was apparently living a careful quiet life and credit was extended him. He was a meek and modest youth in the city, but all "un beknown" to his creditors a gay Lothario when he left its restraining precincts. He frequently went to Georgetown where lived a dressmaker named Miss Aiken to whom he paid court with all the devotion represented by an unpaid livery bill of $35. This affair resulted in the girl's coming to the city a couple of weeks ago to have an operation performed on her, but it was found to be too late, and she is now in the city waiting until she may return home.

Brave Men Rewarded.

BOSTON, Dec. 31.—The Chamber of Commerce was crowded Saturday on the occasion of the presentation to Captain James and his life-saving crew, who did such noble work on this coast during the recent storm, of the fund of $47.0, contributed as a testimonial to their bravery. In addition the humane Society's medals were presented and the sum of $470 was added. Appropriate adresses were made.

The Gyfle's Seamliers Sentenced.

GLASGOW, Dec. 31.—Louise and Joseph Labourdais, respectively captain and mate of the bark Gyfle of Quebec, were Saturday sentenced to ten years' penal servitude each for trying to scuttle their vessel and defraud the insurers. The attempt was made while the Gyfle was on a voyage from Quebec for Greenock.

The postmaster of New York says that if the rates paid by the government for carrying the mails on the railroads of the United States were reduced in the same proportion as the companies have reduced freight rates to private parties, a 1-cent rate for letters could be immediately inaugurated without increasing the present postoffice deficit.

ALL AROUND THE WORLD.

Commandant Booth's Review of Salvation Army work.

Big Meetings at the Salvation Army Barracks—The Progress of the Army the World Over—Commandant Booth in the Lead.

General Booth's third son, Commander Herbert H. Booth, of London, Eng., visited Peterborough Sunday, and conducted immense meetings at the barracks. He is on his way home, after a five months trip around the world, for the benefit of his health, and in his addresses gave some interesting particulars concerning his observations. He has, however, been working too hard on his trip, and his health is not as much improved as might be wished. He was quite ill at the barracks Sunday forenoon. He looks something like his illustrious father, and is apparently about 30 or 35 years of age. He has a personal power that makes itself felt upon an audience, and is evidently a heart-whole salvationist. He left Peterborough to-day for Montreal and New York, and starts for home on Saturday next.

THE HOUSEHOLD TROOPS BAND

again visited the town, and as before, delighted all with their music. Commandant Booth and party, which included Commissioner T. B. Coombs, Col. Bailey, and Staff-Capt. Allen, arrived from Toronto on the 7.50 C. P. R. train Saturday evening, and were met at the station by the band and a large force of soldiers, who escorted the visitors up town to the barracks. The march was enlivened by band selections, and occasional flashes of red light, which attracted each large crowds of people that the streets were fairly blockaded.

A great reception meeting was held at the barracks at eight o'clock, which partook of the well known free-and-easy, hallelujah character, peculiar to the Salvation Army. The proceedings were very interesting. The band boys took a prominent part in it, each giving their names and trades, and telling the story of their connection with the army.

Sunday morning at 7 o'clock there was "sword exercise," in which all the officers and soldiers took part. There were a number present from surrounding districts.

There were big parades during the day—at 11, 2 30 and 7 o'clock, and at 11 o'clock a holiness convention was held, at which the tenets and beliefs of the Army were explained.

THE PRINCIPAL MEETING was at three o'clock in the afternoon, when Commandant Booth gave an interesting address upon his trip around the world. The barracks was crowded to overflowing. Fully 1,000 people got inside, and two or three hundred more were unable to gain admittance. Commandant Booth and Commissioner Coombs led the meeting, Capt. Ada Hines offered up prayer, Capt. Grant sang a solo, and after other musical and praise services Commandant Booth began his address, of which the following is a condensed report.

He left London 5 months ago to travel for the benefit of his health, and since that had travelled some 30,000 miles and visited the Salvation Army in all lands. He could bring back a good report of the Army's accomplishments in the past as well as their great opportunities for the future. After leaving England he first stopped at South Africa, and was surprised at the extent of the work there. Only five years before that he had himself sailed down the Thomas with a man and his wife and only child, who were leaving for the Cape to plant the Army among the people of South Africa. Only five years, and yet through these three simple souls God had already raised up an Army comprising 64 stations and 180 officers, whose territory covered 2,000 miles inland from the shore, and whose War Cry had a weekly circulation of 11,000 copies. They had taken hold of the rough and unlettered, in the diamond fields and brought numbers of them to a knowledge of God. They carried on the work in South Africa under five different governments, and were receiving general support and sympathy. The Army could claim that it was the largest and most far-reaching missionary organization in the world. They had been established only five years in India but had already more officers than any other society there; and they had besides one-hundred native officers gathered from the ranks of the idolatrous Buddhists, Parsees and Hindoos. Look at the work among the Zulus. The poor Zulus were used to being shot with powder and bullet, but the Army shot them with the Gospel gun. One good man went out among them without knowing a single word of their language, but he at once adapted himself to their way of living—cut off his hair, lived in a hut which he built with his own hands and dressed like the natives—just like Paul when he sojourned on earth. He was a Zulu among the Zulus; then he learned a passage of Scripture in the Zulu tongue and keep repeating it over and over again until he converted the chief of the district, and the very next night fifty followers knelt at the bench asking for mercy. Since that the work had gone on prospering.

DRINKING AND SWEARING MINERS

LEAVING SOUTH AFRICA

he sailed to Tasmania, and just touching there passed on to New Zealand and spent six weeks there inspecting the Army's operations. Though only started six years ago by two devoted men, it had sixty or seventy self-supporting stations and over 200 officers, and some of the grandest buildings in the country as barracks. The Army people there were full of love and unity. Then he sailed for America, passing the Samoa and Sandwich Islands, where he got a sight of the natives, and his heart bled for them. In the States he had visited San Francisco and New York. He was pleased with the work in the States, where the Army numbers 260 corps and 800 officers. Now he was making the tour of Canada on his way home, and he was pleased with all he saw in this "beautiful, luxurious goose-and-turkey country," as he styled it.

Commandant Booth said there had been one or two things impressed on his mind as the result of his travels, and one of these was that the Army's success had been largely achieved by the straightforward preaching of the gospel, that had been served up without any worldly sauce. The officers' and soldiers' simple testimonies and simple but earnest delivery of the message of Jesus were what did it. Another thing was that the Army was of the people. There are thousands of people who never would have heard the Gospel but for the Army.

Commissioner Coombs here interrupted to give an instance. He said there was one man in Toronto who never knew the Lord's Prayer till a couple of years ago. And further, there was a man living only a few miles from Peterborough who never heard a prayer until the Salvation Army Captain prayed with him a few months ago.

The Commandant was surprised to hear of this in Canada, and told of a couple of notable conversions. At a small town in Switzerland a Russian princess had been brought to Christ, who every night kept the door of the barracks while a poor peasant preached. Then a London detective had been saved through the instrumentality of the Army, and he had been put at the head of the detective force of the Army, which the Commandant explained was organized for the purpose of saving up young men and women who leave home and are

DRAGGED INTO WICKEDNESS.

The Army had representatives in 23 nations of the globe, so that information for cautious parents was easily procured from all over the world. One of the secrets of the Army's success was that its people were drilled and self-sacrificing—for instance, a year or two ago, when they were asked to deny themselves for one week and save all the money they could, they raised some $75,000 by their self-denial. Then the band boys left good positions in the old country to help along the work, for which they only got their bread and butter, shoe leather and clothing. The Commandant hoped and believed the work would continue to increase to God's glory.

NIGHT MEETING.

At night there was another big meeting, when Commissioner Coombs, Col. Bailey and several band boys gave brief testimonies, and Commandant Booth gave a gospel address.

The Commissioner announced that this (Monday) evening, the Staff Captain would lead a watch night meeting, to usher in the New Year, and on New Year's Day, and on Saturday there would be big demonstrations.

SLAIN BY HER HUSBAND

AN ILLICIT LOVE THAT ENDED IN DEATH.

John Benson of Montreal Grade a Knife Through His Wife's Heart—Her Paramour Shot Twice.

MONTREAL, Dec. 31.—John Benson, coppersmith in the employ of Robert Mitchell & Co., was married some years ago to an Irish girl named Bridget Doyle. He also keeps an apple and oyster shop at 1208 St. James-street and has had several quarrels with his wife as he has suspected her of being unfaithful to him. Yesterday morning his little son ran into the shop and said: "Pa, ma is in bed with a man."

He at once took a 38-calibre revolver and rushing into the room before his wife had time to ask for mercy he put a bullet through her heart.

Frank Singer, the man whom he found in bed with her, clasped his hands around his knees to protect himself. The first shot struck his hand, the second shot penetrated both hands and knees rendering him insensible.

The husband then raised his dead wife and kissed her as well as the children and proceeding to Seigneur-street police station gave himself into custody.

Benson says his wife has been drinking very heavily and abusing him. She has also continually been keeping company with other men. On Saturday Frank Singer and three companions came into the shop and his wife seemed to appreciate Singer's company more than she did his. He tried to make friends with her and did his best to win her affections but his wife said she loved Singer better than him and would do more for him. She said she wanted some hot water and whisky with which to get drunk, but he told her she could not have any, when Singer gave her a drink. Singer afterwards made indecent proposals to her and she accepted them.

Singer has been taken to Notre Dame Hospital where he is progressing favorably. He says he is an old friend of the family and called there Saturday, and that he stopped to have some oysters when he fell asleep and was only awakened by a shot through his hands and knees. He at once went into the yard and found himself covered with blood. He claims never to have had any intimate relations with Mrs. Benson.

An inquest will be held to-day.

THE CROFTER COMMISSION.

Further Operation Await the Advance of £10,000—Radical Opposition.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—The Official Gazette formally announces the appointment of the commission to administer the crofter colonization movement to the Canadian Northwest, the personnel of which was telegraphed last week. Lord Lothian represents the Imperial Government, Sir Charles Tupper represents Canada, the Lord Provost of Glasgow represents the private subscribers, and Mr. Thomas Skinner, director, represents the Canada Northwest Land Company, the last named replacing Mr. Peacock.

Mr. Edwards who formerly nominated the commission, has at present no funds, as the imperial advance of £5000 and the private subscriptions of £700 were practically consumed by last season's emigration to Manitoba. Further operations must await the sanction of Parliament next session to the full imperial advance of £10,000.

Forty selected crofter families intend to emigrate in the spring if funds can be obtained. The Radical papers oppose the scheme.

THE BRADFORD BUTCHERY.

Bartlett, the Supposed Murderer, Remanded for Trial.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—Bartlett, the milkman accused of the murder of John Gill, the 8-year-old boy whose body was found horribly mutilated in an outhouse at Bradford Saturday, was taken before a magistrate and charged with being the last person who saw the boy alive. The boy, when last seen, was in the prisoner's company and when he was missed the milkman was asked if he knew anything about his whereabouts. He denied any knowledge of him. A bloody sack and a knife, fitting the wounds in the boy's chest, have been found in the prisoner's lodgings. He has been remanded for trial.

THE MAYORALTY!

Address to the Electors:

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a large number of the electors, I have consented to become a candidate for the Mayor's chair for 1889. In accepting this candidature, I have been influenced by various reasons.

In the first place, Mr. Stevenson openly declared last year that he would not again be a candidate for the position. He not only stated so publicly, but has repeatedly assured me personally that he would, on no consideration, consent to become a candidate for another term, and that, as another member of the council was anxious for the position, he (Mr. Stevenson) preferred that I should be the candidate.

In the second place, I do not think that it is in the interests of the town that any one man, no matter how good a man he may be, should occupy the positions of Mayor of the town, Chairman of the School Board, Chairman of the Town Trust Commission, and President of the Gas Company,—all directly affecting the interests of the ratepayers.

These different concerns involve a large expenditure of the people's money, and it is desirable, and it is obviously proper, that the necessarily conflicting personal and corporation interests that are at issue should be administered by an official, not personally concerned in getting the best end of a bargain at the expense of the town.

In the third place, I am opposed to the large expenditure in connection with the Collegiate Institute, of which my opponent is the foremost champion. I am not in favour of educating rich man's sons at the expense of the poor, but, on the other hand, believe that the most liberal expenditure of money is justifiable in maintaining and adding to the efficiency of our public schools. I am in favour of having the public schools brought to so high a standard that when a poor man's son is compelled to leave them, as he has to do at the age of 14 or 15, he may be thoroughly equipped with a practical education that will fit him for any business career he may see fit to enter upon. Those who wish to go higher in the educational scale have access to a provincial university maintained at the public expense.

I am opposed to the importation of outsiders to fill places of trust in town, when as good men, if not better men, are available at home. I could cite many flagrant instances of disregard of this fair principle, but have not space in this brief address to advert to them.

There are many other questions, such as the assessment of the homes of the middle class, to their highest dollar of value and placing a half assessment on the palatial homes of the wealthy, thus tending to the adoption of a policy for making the poor man poorer and the rich man richer; these are of interest to the ratepayers, upon which, if I receive the confidence of the public, I will always be found arrayed on the side of the people, as against cliques, corporations and monopolies of all kinds.

I need only to mention, in order to enforce the glaring impropriety of a parliamentary representative occupying the Mayor's chair. The interests of the representative, no matter how just and ex[illegible] needs of the town may be, will be directed as we have had frequent examples of, to the promotion of personal and family interests, leaving those of the town to take their precarious chances on their own merits.

During my past record in the council I have endeavored to stand up fearlessly in defence of what I considered just and in the best interests of the town, irrespective of any person, and if honored with your confidence I will in the future pursue the same course.

Hoping, electors, that you will show on polling day that you are opposed to one man being placed year after year in a position in which an opportunity is presented of advancing personal and other interests at the expense of the town,

I remain, very faithfully,

HENRY DENNE.

ONDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1888.

NICIPAL NOMINATIONS.

dresses by the Candidates for Election.

e Stevenson and Mr. Deane Expound their Views—The Nominations in the Wards—A Lively Interest Being Taken by the Electors.

e municipal nominations were held to- and considerable interest was evinced by electors, of whom there was a good ttendance.

he Mayoralty nominations took place at old music hall at ten o'clock, Mr. J. G. Hall, town clerk, in the chair. The owing nominations were made :—

AMES STEVENSON, nominated by Mr. J.J. ley, seconded by Mr. T. Kelly.

ENRY DEANE, nominated by Mr. Walter rson, seconded by Mr. Adam Dawson.

MR. DEANE'S SPEECH.

r. DEANE was the first speaker. On ing forward he was greeted with ap- se, and said he would not speak at length e had no record to bolster up with expla- ons. He would never have come out st Mr. Stevenson had he known the lat- intended to run, but a large number of ayers had ask him, and Mr. Stevenson told him he had not time to attend to his r duties, and would not be a candidate . It was only after he had entered his canvass, that he had heard Mr. venson was going to oppose him. Mr. e said he held a high esteem for Mr. venson, but he could not look with favor a man holding the position of Mayor, were mixed up with the town trust com- nies, and other public affairs. We were human ; and he thought when one man upied the position for three years, it was ible stepped out to let someone else have it. ferring to municipal matters, he said he ored there should be a system of sewerage ained for the town, and he hoped there ld be no half-way jobbery in connection h it.

r. HARTLEY enquired what he meant by , and Mr. Deane replied that he meant thing but that he hoped when it was done ewer engineer would be appointed who ld do it properly.

r. HARTLEY said he thought it was an nuation that there had been some jobbery the past.

A VOICE.—The town pump. (Laughter.)

r. DEANE said he had no in- tion of insinuating anything of the kind. ing on to the school question, he an- nced that he was in favor of good common ols so that the workingmen's children y be fitted for any position in life. With rd to the Collegiate Institute, that was different matter. It must, he said, be de more self supporting. There were over ,000 debentures issued in the town for Institute, some of them 30 years ago, how was it that only about $7,000 of se were paid ? He considered that if they ed another $40,000 debentures now for itable purpose without receiving any ort from the surrounding municipalities, town would be a long time getting out of debt. He would like to see, and had al- ys endeavored to get the rural districts ; ibernham and the townships to pay their re for the support of the schools.(applause) the assistance they got from the outside icts was the paltry $1.50 fee from each ay pupil, while every town boy in at- dance had to pay 50 cents and the town tains the Institute as well. Ashburnham s year only gave $100, while its population almost a quarter that of Peterborough. Deane said he would if elected be glad do his utmost to secure legislation to ral municipalities adjoining towns to pay equal share for the support of titution. Mr. Deane said he was opposed getting outsiders to fill the important tions, when capable men could be found our midst, (applause); but if it had to be e, of course it could not be helped, in a e where there was no one fitted for the ition. He was not in favor of bonusing ufactories, nor exempting from taxes y such concerns so employ an unusually ge number of hands. Manufactories ld not need much encouragement in a n that offered such facilities as Peterbor- h ; he would give exemption only in cases en it was necessary, where the game was th the powder. He would, if elected, e upon a course of economy, and endeav- to keep expenses within the limits of the n's requirements, and see that work was e more by tender than it had been. After ring to his past 8 years consecutive ar in the council, which he had no need be ashamed of, he expressed the hope and belief that the electors would return him to the Mayor's chair next Monday, and retired amidst applause.

MAYOR STEVENSON'S ADDRESS.

MAYOR STEVENSON was also heartily ap- plauded on coming forward. He had cer- tainly not intended to be a candidate again this year, but he had complied when the large- ly signed requisition was handed him. With regard to statements made about his candid- acy, he could not see where it was inconsist- ent for him to occupy a position on the school board also. Mr. Deane, when in the council, had been a member of the board. Mr. Stevenson said he had occupied the position 20 years and it was strange that not until now anyone had found fault with it.

He announced himself in favor of good education, and pointed, as a proof of this, to the fact that last year he paid $60 to the Collegiate Institute alone, but had not been sending anyone there for the past six years. As regarded the building, he had agreed with Mr. Deane that it was quite good enough, and had always taken that stand at board meetings. He did not think a new building was necessary. As to making the Institute self supporting, he pointed to Lindsay, where they were erecting a $27,000 building and proposed to make all town pupils pay $1.00 each. That could be done here, but it would not be in the interests of the workingmen, many of whom grumbled about paying even the 50c. The very men who would oppose such a thing would say, "I am the working- man's friend and I don't want to see him pay that or that." He noticed it was not the large taxpayers who were grumbling about the Institute, but those who paid very little towards its support. Referring to the debenture question, he said that in 1857 some $20,000 debentures were issued and sold at 87c. on the dollar, so anxious was the Board to have the Institute, and it took until 1874 for the one per cent. sinking fund to make up the loss on their sale. They cost the town 11 per cent., while the debentures sold just recently cost only 4½ per cent. This showed the good financial position of the town and the care- ful management of the present council. It had been said it was inconsistent for him to be Mayor while he was President of the Gas Company and the other concerns. Mr. Stevenson stated positively he was not President of the Gas Company nor never was; he was simply a stock-holder, and not the largest one by any means. Further, he was not a shareholder in the Waterworks Com- pany, as had been stated. And all the councillors well knew that he always refrain- ed from speaking or voting in the council in any way that might be construed into an action to benefit his own pocket. Next Mr. Stevenson spoke of his efforts in bringing manufactories to Peterborough. The Lock Works, Bridge Works and Stove Works had been brought here through his own exertions and largely with his own money, and last spring he had tried to get a saw and file works here but was not backed up by the citizens. Only himself and Mr. Lundy and another gentleman would subscribe any stock in it, and as a result it went to Port Hope, where they got a big bonus and free land and buildings for a term of years.

Mr. CAHILL here stated the terms upon which the Ontario Saw and File Works went to Port Hope, and said he didn't agree with either Mr. Deane or Mr. Stevenson on this question. If the people wanted factories, they had to put their hands in their pockets and bring them here.

Mr. STEVENSON said that was just what he thought, and had always been doing. Port Hope was besides bonussing the twine fac- tory, and the Williams Piano Works, and while other towns were doing this, it was difficult to bring them to Peterborough. Mr. Stevenson contended it was not inconsistent for members of Parliament to occupy the Mayor's chair, and pointed to the late Sheriff Hall and Charles Perry as instances. Be- sides, as long as he attended to his duties what mattered it? In the past three years he has missed only two council meetings, and had attended all the committee meetings he possibly could. He had always done his best in the interests of the town, and no one could fairly deny it. He opposed the ap- pointment of outside parties, but Mr. Deane had agreed with him in the appointment of a school inspector.

Mr. DEANE.—It was spoken of at the Board that there was no other man but one, in the county, who was qualified for the position.

Mr. KENDRY.—Excuse me, Mr. Deane, I wish to correct you. Mr. Brown's name was never brought before the board.

Mr. DEANE.—You are mistaken. I spoke of him before the rest, I remember positively.

MAYOR STEVENSON, continuing, touched upon the Scott Act, and pointed out that through his own action, assisted by Mr. Moore, in going to Ottawa and having an order-in-council passed giving to towns sep- arated from counties the same privileges as cities, thereby giving to the town the fines that rightly belonged to it, a great saving was effected, whereas formerly every dollar of the fines went to the county. In '86 some $1,950 was collected in Scott Act fines, in 1887, $3131 and in 1888 $7500, in all $17,581 cash in the treasury that the town would not have had one dollar if had he not looked after the town's interests—a matter of 2 mills on the dollar to every ratepayer. Be- sides it more than paid the whole high school indebtedness. No one could say he had not done his duty in this respect. He pointed also to the Court House Park as being directly due to his exertions. A large sum of money had been spent in cribbing Crescent Street, and he had himself gained from the government a promise to bear one half the expense of dredging Little Lake and filling in Spalding's Bay with the refuse.

The hour of eleven having struck, the clerk closed the nominations and retired, Mr. T. Cahill was voted to the chair and the speeches continued.

Another important matter, to the workingman Mayor Stevenson brought up. He considered the present As- sessment Act unjust to the poor man As it is now, the poor man who borrows money at a high rate of interest to start up business and gives mortgages on all he has, is com- pelled to pay taxes for the full assessed value of his property, while the capitalist who really hold the substance does not pay one cent. This was unfair, and he hoped it would soon be remedied. The Mayor next touched upon the debenture debt of the town. They owed some $185,000, and there was besides a $72,000 municipal loan fund debt, and against that they had $15,000 cash in the Ontario Bank and $42,000 debentures that can at any moment be turned into cash. The interest on this and the Grand Trunk debt will meet this $72,000 when it comes due. There was a debt of $57,000 coming from the Grand Trunk on which they were paying 8 per cent, and as soon as this was paid it meant $3,000 every year for the town. Mayor Stevenson advocated a sewerage sys- tem for the town, and said if this security was turned into cash it would bring a large premium. He didn't favor borrowing any more money ; the taxes were high enough, and he hoped and trusted they would be kept at 12½ mills. He claimed credit for the council for the low rate of taxation. By careful management it could. It might become necessary for the town council to submit a by-lay to the people to build a new Institute, but it was for them to say whether it should be built or not. For his own part he didn't believe in building another Collegi- ate Institute. A new school was to be built in the north ward and an effort was being made to increase the accommodation of the south ward school at small expense. The council could claim credit because the deben- tures due in 20 years will be paid off by the one per cent sinking fund. Mayor Stevenson also pointed to his efforts in behalf of the town in its arbitration with the county. The town paid $2,000 a year towards the administration of justice. In looking over the items he saw that the town assessment on personal property alone was $700,000, while the whole county's was only $7,000 He had the assessment struck out, and thereby effected a large saving to the townspeople. Mr. Stevenson referred to the labors of himself and the council, saying he believed they all acted conscientiously and well. He specially commended the chair- man of the Finance Committee for his untir- ing and faithful labors. Mr. Stevenson pointed out his own charitable doings, and said he had last year given $410 in personal charities to indigent persons. He also mentioned the requisition, and said it con- tained the names of many workingmen, though the statements had been made that these were none on it. If elected to the position he would always strive to do his duty as he had in the past.

Mr. JOHN MCNAUGHTON made a brief speech, dealing with water works topics, and made some suggestions.

Mr. DENNIS said there was very few things he and Mr. Stevenson did not agree upon. He had said he would not have come out had not Mr. Stevenson urged it upon him, and he considered Mr. Stevenson should have been content to rest this time. Speaking of assessment reforms, Mr. Deane pointed out that not long ago the assessment on bank stock had been wiped out, was that right, he asked? It should be assessed as well as the poor man's property. In conclusion, he said he would, if elected to the Mayor's chair, en- deavor to do his duty, and faithfully look after the interest of the town, and, said he, "I am confident I am going to be put there," (applause).

Mr. JAMES BOYER enquired of Mr. Steven- son if there was any truth in the report that an account sent in to the council from King- an & Co. for $230.66, was not really their ac- count, but the account of a town councillor for plumbing, sent in through their name ?

Mr. Stevenson knew nothing about it and the chairman pressed Mr. Bogue to give the name of the councillor,

Mr. Bogue saw the report was general that it was Mr. Adam Hall's account.

Mr. DAVIDSON, chairman of the Finance Committee, stated that as the town had ex tensive dealings with Kingan & Co., they had been given the contract for fixing the town building drains, and Kingan & Co., not being plumbers, had engaged Mr. Hall to do it for them. That was all there was about it.

The meeting then dispersed.

THEIR HAPPY NEW YEAR.

A SATURNALIA OF CRIME IN NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN.

A Man Shot Dead While Skating in His Own Doorway—Many Victims of a Reckless Fire-de-joie—Murder by Stealth.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Cornelius O'Connor, a young laborer, while walking on Elizabeth-street soon after midnight this morning was struck on the head and had his skull fractured with a brick thrown by some unknown member of the "Elizabeth-street" gang of toughs, who were skylarking and fighting in the neighborhood. O'Connor is dying at the hospital. The gang scattered before the police arrived.
The officers found another young man, John Sweeney, suffering from bruises and cuts sustained in a similar manner. Sweeney was taken to a hospital. Three arrests have been made on suspicion.
John Neary, a laborer aged 22 years, while standing before the basement, 341 Tenth-avenue, where he lived with his family, was shot through the heart and killed half an hour after midnight by some unknown person. A number of people in the neighborhood were firing pistols in the air to add to the din made by horns and whistles. It is supposed that through accident or carelessness one of the shooters pointed his weapon toward the street, but it is not probable that the guilty person will ever be detected. Neary's elder brother William had been nearly dead of consumption and the shock of John's death will probably hasten his own. The brothers were standing side by side when the shot was fired. John was the only support of the family, as William is unable to work.
Half a block away a shot fired in the same manner struck and wounded Alex. Christie of 313 Eleventh-avenue, but the wound is not serious.
There was a remarkably large number of drunken brawls between midnight and daylight and the police in all parts of the city were kept busy making arrests and attending to people who were shot, cut, or bruised.
Benjamin Galtship, aged 17, was shot in the leg while standing at Second-avenue and Eighth-street.
F. W. Kerzig, aged 29, was shot in the shoulder while looking out of a window at 231 East Eighth-street.
Michael Larken, aged 12 years, was shot in the leg near Eleventh-avenue and 54th-street.
Patrick Fitzgerald of 161 Grand-street had his ankle broken in a fight between rival gangs of toughs at South Fifth-avenue and Prince-street.
James Sullivan, a tramp, had his clothes torn off and was bitten by two bull dogs which were set upon him by some humorous residents of Avenue A.
There was an unusual number of small fires.

Over the Big Bridge.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 1.—The celebration of the advent of the new year was unusually boisterous last night. Miss Ellen Killduff, aged 23, of 118 Navy-street was shot in the leg while standing in her doorway. James Ryan, who was firing a revolver in the vicinity, was arrested.
William Dunlap shot and probably fatally wounded John Henry at 57 Nelson-street during a quarrel caused by the fact that Henry was celebrating the occasion too noisily to suit Dunlop, who resides in and owns the building in which Henry rented apartments.
There was a large number of minor shooting and stabbing affrays as well as an unusual number of burglaries, fires and other unpleasant incidents during the night.

MURDERED BY A BURGLAR.

Wealthy Mr. Stillwell Struck Dead With an Axe.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Jan. 1.—The announcement this morning that Mr. A. J. Stillwell, one of the oldest and wealthiest residents of this city, had been murdered during the night in his bed sent a thrill of horror throughout the city. Mr. and Mrs. Stillwell attended a social party at the residence of a neighbor last night, leaving their three children in the care of two colored servant girls. They returned from the party about 10½ o'clock, dismissed the servants for the night, and immediately retired, Mr. Stillwell occupying a bed with his little son, and Mrs. Stillwell occupying another bed in the same room with the other two children. Two or three hours later Mrs. Stillwell was awakened by some disturbance, and heard her husband say:
"Fannie, is that you? Fannie, is that you?"
Startled by her husband's strange question, Mrs. Stillwell partly arose and just at that moment saw a man standing with his back to her, and at or near the foot of Mr. Stillwell's bed. A moment later she heard a whirring sound as of something thrown violently through the air, followed by the noise of some one running down the stairway. She then ran to Mr. Stillwell's bed and found that he had been murdered.
Mrs. League, who lives just across the street, says that a little after 2 a.m. some one rang her door bell twice, and, upon looking out of the window, she saw Mrs. Stillwell in her night dress and barefooted. "Oh!" she exclaimed, "tell Will to come over to the house quick, some one has murdered Mr. Stillwell."
Mr. William League, accompanied by a young man in his employ, ran across the street and found Mr. Stillwell in a half kneeling position. The body was almost immersed in blood. Across the left ear and left side of the head there was a horrible gash, deep enough to penetrate the brain, and which had evidently been inflicted by some sharp instrument.
The police were soon on the ground, and made a thorough search of the premises. It was evident that the murderer had made his escape through the back door, and running through the yard found his way into an alley. The first trace of him in the alley was a $5 bill, and about twenty feet further on four $5 bills, and a little distance beyond that the murdered man's pocketbook, which the murderer had thrown away in his flight. The pocketbook was of peculiar make, and the fellow had evidently opened it wrong side up, thus causing the money to drop out. The trousers, from the pockets of which the pocketbook had been taken, were found on the floor at the foot of the bed. When Mr. Stillwell awoke the burglar hit him with the axe, which was found in the alley through which the fugitive ran.
The police are leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to apprehend the murderer. Several arrests have been made, but at the request of the authorities the names are not given.
Amos J. Stillwell has long been engaged in pork-packing business in this city, and has accumulated a fortune estimated at $500,000. He was well and favorably known throughout the entire west and south. He was about 60 years of age. Great excitement prevails here, and should the murderer be discovered it is feared that the civil authorities will be unable to save him from the wrath of the people.

The Crofter Commission.

OTTAWA, Jan. 1.—The fact that Sir Charles Tupper has been appointed on the royal commission to administer the Crofter immigration fund does not indicate that the Dominion Government will contribute anything towards such emigration. The fund has been raised by private subscription and by grant of the Imperial Parliament, and the commission is only appointed with a view to its proper administration.

A HUSBAND'S MAD JEALOUSY.

He Chases His Wife to the Street, Shoots Her Twice and Kills Himself.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Joseph Solomon, a dealer in lasts and linens, fatally wounded his wife Dora and killed himself at 10.15 o'clock last evening in front of No. 111 East Ninetieth-street. He has lived with his wife and four children in a flat on the second floor of No. 107 East Ninetieth-street for several years. They have been married about nine years, and have not lived happily. He was about seventeen years older than his wife, and they were of entirely different dispositions. He preferred remaining at home and rarely went out, while Mrs. Solomon was fond of society and frequently went to social entertainments without her husband. Mr. Solomon disliked to have his wife receive any attention from other men and frequently scolded her without reason. She was, according to the testimony of her neighbors, a good wife and never gave her husband any real occasion for jealousy. After the children were born Mr. Solomon even became jealous of the attention that his wife gave to them, and he frequently wished that they were dead.
Mr. Solomon's business has not been good of late, and he returned from trips to the suburban towns without making more than enough to pay his expenses. He tried to drown his disappointment in drink, and for a week past has been drunk most of the time. Last evening he was in a nervous condition and could not sleep. He went to bed and got up about 9 o'clock and spent about an hour in taking a warm bath. He started back to the bed room and met his wife, who was reading by the dining-room table. Without speaking to her, he seized her by the ears and pulled her to her feet. He ordered her to take a bath, and upon her refusal, he said that he would throw her into the tub and drown her. He became mad with passion and accused his wife of infidelity.
She burst into tears and begged him not to talk that way to her. He tried to choke her, and she broke away and ran down to the front door. He called after her and told her that he would forgive her if she returned. She replied that she would never enter his home again after what he had said to her. "Then I will kill you," he shouted.
He put on a pair of trousers, seized a pistol which was lying on a bureau and ran after his wife. The eldest boy shouted a warning to his mother, and Annie Strobel, a servant, seized Mr. Solomon and tried to hold him. He snapped the revolver in her face and she fell in a faint. Mrs. Solomon heard her boy's cry and ran toward Lexington-avenue. Mr. Solomon was in his bare feet, and quickly caught her by the hair. He swung her around, put the pistol to her breast and fired. She fell to the pavement, and he fired two more shots at her, one of which passed through her right hand. Being satisfied that his wife was dead he knelt beside her, placed the revolver to his forehead and sent a ball into his brain. He fell dead over his wife's body.
Policeman Egan heard the shots and ran to where the shooting had taken place. Some firemen from Insurance Patrol No. 4 had already taken the dead man off his wife and carried her into their house. She was unconscious, but speedily revived. She asked for her children and said she wanted to die. The death of her husband was kept from her. She said that the cause of the shooting was jealousy and that her husband had threatened on several occasions to kill her before. She was taken in an ambulance to the Presbyterian Hospital, and the house surgeon said that her wounds were mortal.

A BIG HOAX.

The Story Sent out From Mexico on All Innocents' Day.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 1.—Newspapers published in Chihuahua, Mex., on Dec. 28 and received here yesterday contain thrilling accounts of an alleged Popish uprising in the City of Mexico. The story in brief is that the priests in the City of Mexico, angered at the alleged unfavorable attitude and policy of the Diaz government toward the Church, headed an insurrection for the purpose of overthrowing the government, and won over to their side 18,000 government troops; that President Diaz led the loyal troops against the insurgents, and after a bloody battle completely routed them; that 237 priests were immediately shot and that about as many more had been condemned to death. This narrative purported to have been received by the Chihuahua papers by wire from the City of Mexico. Upon investigation the terrible tale turns out to be a huge hoax perpetrated by the Chihuahua newspapers upon their readers. Dec. 28 is All Innocents Day, and is celebrated in Mexico as April 1 has been elsewhere.
It is hinted that the perpetrator of the canard will be called to account.

Samoa's Reign of Terror.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Matters are rapidly assuming a more acute stage in Samoa and may lead to an open conflict between the German colonists on the one hand and those of the United States and of England on the other. Sanguinary engagements have taken place between the army of the rebel chief, who is openly supported by Germany, and the troops of the rightfully elected King, who is equally openly supported by the Americans and English. No quarter is shown on either side. The rebels are supplied with ammunition and provisions by the Germans, while the King's soldiers are cared for in the same manner by the English and Americans.

The Year in Europe.

BERLIN, Jan. 1.—The year closes with militarism still rampant in Europe, Germany, Austria-Hungary and France having greatly increased their armaments. Two Hohenzollerns have been followed to the grave. Leo XIII has celebrated his golden jubilee and the Emperor of Austria the 40th anniversary of his coronation. While Mr. Gladstone has been struggling almost single-handed in behalf of Home Rule for Ireland, the Salisbury Government has held its ground and enacted two great legislative measures. In France Boulangism has become a formidable political force, menacing the existence of the Republic. Russia's credit has improved in Paris, but its prestige in Southeastern Europe is steadily declining. Italy, drawn into a powerful alliance with Germany and Austria-Hungary, has steadily increased its military and naval armaments and assumed an attitude of provocation toward France. A spirit of unrest prevails in the Balkans.

DESPERATE BURGLARS.

Three Prisoners Make a Successful Break For Liberty at St. Johns, Que.

ST. JOHNS, Que., Jan. 1.—The safes in A. H. Derrick's store and postoffice at Clarenceville and that of L. Derrick, merchant of Noyan, were entered during last night, some notes and money being extracted. Three suspicious looking parties having boarded the train at Stanbridge this morning an officer in pursuit of the burglars telegraphed to Captain P. Smith, customs officer on the train, who arrested the parties on arrival of the train at St. Alexander and placed a party in charge of them.
On arrival at Iberville they attempted to get off the train, but being prevented one of them drew a revolver and threatened the man in charge. Captain Smith rushed back to the assistance of the guardian when one of the prisoners drew a revolver and fired three shots, one grazing the captain's cheek, another passing through the edge of his cap and the third breaking the window of the car.
In the excitement the prisoners escaped from the train at St. Johns. Captain Smith and a Clarenceville officer are in pursuit.

ARRESTED ON A CAPIAS.

A MORRISBURG DEBTOR IN JAIL AT MONTREAL.

Big Sum and Fuss Secured the Lachine Rapids for a New Boat on New Year's Day.—An Interesting Insurance Case.

MONTREAL, Jan. 1.—Abraham Lalonde of Morrisburg, Ont., [illegible] on a capias at the instance of R. K. Greene & Co., wholesale furriers of this city. The amount involved is about $2000. Lalonde is now in jail here, and will be brought before the court to-morrow. It is understood that he owes some $60,000 in the city besides.
Big John Canadien-cross-the-river, Joe Reed and Landre Smoky of Caughnawaga with two newspaper reporters descended the Lachine Rapids in a row boat to-day.
Judge Tait has rendered judgment in the case of the Glasgow and London Insurance Company v. the Canadian Pacific Railway. On Aug. 21, 1887, a barn and its contents belonging to Jane and Wm. Gardner and insured in the plaintiff company for $1200 was destroyed by fire. The plaintiff paid the insurance in full, and claiming to be subrogated to the insured's rights seeks to recover the amount from the company upon the ground that the fire was caused by sparks from one of defendant's engines. The action, however, was dismissed.

Attempted Suicide.

MONTREAL, Jan. 1.—A romantic case of attempted suicide took place this afternoon in a house of ill-fame on St. Constant-street. A young girl named Jeannie Hemsath, daughter of wealthy parents of Brooklyn, eloped with a dry goods clerk to this city two weeks ago. She stole a quantity of her mother's jewelry, which was pawned en route. After spending her ill-gotten money in Montreal the young man deserted her. She was left friendless and took to a life of dissipation. Word reached her to-day that her mother had died of a broken heart. She did not say much, but went out and procured a quantity of paris green, and then returning to her bedroom took it done. Her screams alarmed the house and a doctor being sent for relieved her with a stomach pump. She is now convalescent.

A Chicago Embezzler Arrested.

MONTREAL, Jan. 1.—A man about 30 years of age, accompanied by a woman, arrived at the Windsor Hotel yesterday and registered as "Hoffman and wife, New York." To-day Detective Kellert received a telegram from the Chicago Chief of Police asking him to detain Lewis Hemer, charged with embezzling $19,000. He spotted Hoffman as the man and arrested him. Hoffman at first denied being Hemer, but finally admitted his identity and stated that he could explain the embezzlement. The Chicago authorities will arrive to-morrow. Kellert has Hemer in custody at his residence.

OLD WORLD NEWS.

Mr. Gladstone Denies The Tablet's Story—A Peasants' War.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—Great anxiety is felt concerning the safety of the new steamer Gulf of Guayaquil, which sailed from Liverpool, Dec. 24, for Valparaiso. Two life boats, life buoys and a quantity of wreckage belonging to her have been washed ashore on Pisk Guard, Wales.
The court has found J. D. Sheehan, M. P. for East Kerry, guilty of conspiracy. Mr. Sheehan has been liberated on condition that he appears for trial when called upon, a physician certifying that imprisonment at the present time would endanger his life.
Mr. Gladstone telegraphs from Naples as follows: "The Tablet's version of my letter to the Marquis De Rise, touching the position of the Pope, is untrustworthy. The statement that I recommend international arbitration upon the Roman question is incorrect under the present circumstances."

A Peasants' War.

DUBLIN, Jan. 1.—Peasants in the vicinity of Dunfanaghy and Falcurragh in County Donegal have armed themselves and fortified their houses, destroyed bridges and blocked roads in readiness to resist evictions which will be attempted to-morrow. The troops of police on duty in the region march with difficulty and the appearance of the district is that of a country where war was going on. A commissary wagon was lost to-day while crossing a temporary bridge.
Summons have been served on Mr. Thos. Joseph Condon, M. P. for Tipperary, on a charge under the Crimes Act.

Sentenced for Intimidation.

DUBLIN, Jan. 1.—Mr. John Finucane, M. P. for Limerick, was to-day sentenced to four months' imprisonment for intimidating intending occupants of farms from which the tenants had been evicted.

Carried Off by the Rebels.

SUAKIM, Jan. 1.—Several Arab women who were engaged in gathering firewood outside of Suakim have been captured and carried off by the rebels.
The cavalry patrolling the ground back of Suakim captured several Arab prisoners to-day.

Osman Digna's Career.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—Osman Digna is a figure attracting considerable attention just now. It is said that he is George Nisbet, who was born at Rouen in 1836, and attended a school in Paris till he was 13. The Nisbet family then removed to Alexandria, and shortly thereafter the father, Joseph Nisbet, died. Madame Nisbet (one is tempted to say Mrs. Nisbet, the name looks so English) having made the acquaintance of a Mussulman merchant from up-country, married him, and she and her boy George went first to Cairo with him and then to Suakim. George attended the military school at Cairo. His step-father was much attached to the youth, who was henceforth brought up a Mussulman. He took his step-father's name, Osman Digna, and joined him in business as a slave-dealer at Suakim. The young Osman Digna had the whole business to himself when the step-father died in 1865. He became the Mahdi's friend and general, and the enemy of the Egyptian Government. Such is the tale that is being told.
Osman Digna is described as a tall man of an imposing figure. He has a piercing dark eye, and his jet black beard reaches to the pit of his stomach. He has adopted the calm and dignified attitude of a chief since he became recognized among the desert tribesmen as a leader. He is a man of temperate habits, having only three wives, who, being connected with some of the best families of the Soudan tribes, bring him much influence. All the other women about Osman Digna are concubines and slaves. Osman Digna has only one arm, the other having been lost in battle. He was a fellow student of Arabi Pasha, and the latter's insurrection paved the way for his present career. Such is the description that is being given.

Berlin Socialists Arrested.

BERLIN, Jan. 1.—Quite a large number of Socialists were arrested here to-day for circulating inflammatory and seditious pamphlets.

New Gedersh Celebrated.

GOEDERICH, Jan. 1.—The lighting of the town of Gederich by electricity is now a positive fact, and the new year was ushered in with a blaze of fifty electric lights, amidst the ringing of bells and the firing of guns. The county town of Huron to-night is a blaze of light illuminating the town and surrounding country for miles.

Mr. Fitzgerald and the Bible.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—In your issue of the 20th inst., I noticed a communication signed J. W. Fitzgerald. That gentleman has taken high umbrage at a lecture delivered by the Rev. Alex Bell, of St. Andrews church, on "The Bible."

The occasion of that lecture was as follows, viz:—Bishop Dowling, after weeks of advertising, delivered a lecture in his church, wherein by twisting and misapplying the facts of history, his grace attempted to prove that Rome had always been the friend of the Bible. A short time afterwards Rev. Mr. Bell made a reply, with the hope of noising the Bishop right on many important points in Biblical literature. If anything in the Rev. Mr. Bell's reply causes pain to the Catholic people, they have simply their own Bishop to blame for the unpleasantness, and when Mr. Fitzgerald attacks the Rev. Mr. Bell, he is evidently wasting his power by striking at the wrong man, and I must say that it is not good taste in Mr. Fitzgerald to make such a flourish of trumpets, for the purpose of removing the odium from the Bishop to the parson. But the public can see through the dodge, and will estimate it at its proper value. Your readers will perceive that Mr. Fitzgerald's zeal for the Catholic religion, causes him to forget the only point at issue, and leads him to pour out all his vials of wrath against brave old England. In all other respects the letter is as feeble as could be desired, [illegible] any school boy, even in the Separate school. It simply reveals the violent anti-British feelings of its author, and the letter might very properly be entitled, "J. W. Fitzgerald unmasked." Now I am quite sure that Mr. Fitzgerald would not like to be called a Fenian, sesquipedalian the venomous hate which he hurls against "Protestant England" would be hailed with delight by the most blood-thirsty Fenian that ever graced the cells of Kilmainham jail. Mr. Fitzgerald has a good deal to say in his letter about "holy wells and holy places." He should have put in "Lough Derg." He must have forgotten that "holy place," where crowds of his gallant countrymen and women journey every year in quest of food and to do penance for their sins. Now all this silly nonsense about "holy wells and holy places" might have done wonders in a mediæval convent, where the mummeries of Rome had full sway; but we are now in the nineteenth century, and intelligent men of every creed will reject such rubbish.

But the most striking fact of all is one to which I would respectfully invite the attention of every intelligent Roman Catholic. Let him ask himself the following questions: How is it that, in every country in the world, the intensor the Romanism, the blight is the deeper; and, in every country, the purer the Protestantism is, the prosperity is the greater? In Scotland, the most intelligent and virtuous of all countries, the priests of Rome scarcely exist; in Spain, the most debased, they are literally swarming. Rome, their headquarters, is a sink of iniquity. Compare Germany, Holland and Britain, with Spain, Italy and Portugal, and the same thing is seen. Compare the Protestant north of Ireland, its industry, its wealth, its intelligence, with the Catholic south, squalor, ignorance, poverty and crime. The same thing is true when we compare the Empire of Brazil and the Republic of Mexico with the United States of America or the re[illegible]les of the sea. Now I know Mr. Fitzgerald, although a little fiery, is a very intelligent gentleman, and if he, and other intelligent Catholics, will examine this subject for themselves, they will, I think, arrive at the same conclusion with Protestants. My Roman Catholic fellow-citizens will please remember that in anything I have said no offence is intended to them. Happily we live in times when any one may express his opinion freely, without causing an [illegible] I have only to add that if the gallant Crusader should return to the charge, I may have an opportunity of critically examining all the doctrines of his church, and he may say what he likes about mine; it can give no offence.

Promotion Examinations.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—We see in to-night's EXAMINER a letter from a Mr. W. J. Stapley, making a very serious charge against the public school teachers of this town, viz., partiality. Mr. Stapley's statements about the absence from the promotion list of the names of laborer's children has no foundation in the least, as may be seen by reference to that list. We alone are responsible for the marking of all the promotion papers, the result of which appeared in Friday's EXAMINER, and if Mr. Stapley or any other parent considers himself aggrieved by the failure of his child, he is at perfect liberty to see the answers and inspect the marks obtained.

Yours, etc.,

Superior English Cutlery.

We were shown to-day by Mr. Stothem his last importation from John Clarke & Son, Sheffield, England, per steamer "Vancouver," of their elegant pocket, pen, sportsmen's and ladies' knives; carving knives and forks, table steels, and ivory handled table and dessert knives, and must say that we have never seen goods their equal. The makers are one of the oldest in England, making nothing but the finest goods. This lot, with his last importation of the celebrated 1/4 Anv pocket and butcher knives, enables Mr. Stothem to show a line of cutlery that cannot be surpassed in the largest cities of the continent for quality and appearance, and being direct from the makers the goods are being sold as cheap as are goods of inferior quality and finish. Call and see them. Mr. Stothem will be pleased to exhibit them to each and every one. 4 th-w

JANUARY'S FIRST FIRES.

A SIX-STORY DRUG WAREHOUSE AT ST. LOUIS BURNT.

Four Companies Send Contributions to the Burned City—Losses at Montreal and Midwest.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 1.—The mammoth six-story brick building of the Richardson Drug Company at the north-west corner of Fourth-street and Clark-avenue burned this morning. The loss is about $750,000 on stock and $150,000 on building. There was considerable excitement during the fire caused by heavy [illegible] explosions of [illegible] etc. The building stood one block south of the Southern Hotel and there was almost a panic among the guests of that hostelry until it was found that there was no danger of a spread of the flames. The insurance on buildings and stock is $650,000, mostly placed by H. M. Bloesem's agency in this city.

Fatality Barred.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 1.—The three-story saloon and tenement on the southwest corner of Sixth and Morgan-streets burned at 6 o'clock this morning. Half-a-dozen or more persons were taken to the dispensary more or less seriously injured. Mary Bydeldiker, waitress, was instantly killed in jumping from a window of the burning building. A waiter girl named Lizzie (last name not learned), Mary Davis and Mary Westland were removed to the dispensary in a dying condition, burned and suffocated. Patrolman McFarland was nearly suffocated while rescuing lodgers, but was rescued by a brother officer in time to save his life. John Daly, a trapeze performer, saved himself and wife by sliding down a rope from a third story window with his wife in his arms. Several other lodgers were severely burned, but none fatally. The two upper floors of the building were used as a lodging house attached to Hugh Sellers' restaurant and saloon, which occupied the first floor. The building was old, with wooden floors and partitions, and burned rapidly. The loss on building and contents was about $20000, no insurance.

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Until the Skin was Raw. Body Covered with Sores. Has Been an Object of Horror. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary cures your CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed a little red pimple coming out all over my body, but I paid no attention to it, as I thought it would go away in time. It began to [illegible] every night and which spread all over my body, causing me to scratch myself until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without avail. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist. CUTICURA relief almost immediate, and, I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually disappeared off and disappeared one by one, and I have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was pronounced parasitic. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and in each case the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have [illegible] with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express myself too thankfully to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.00, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,000.00 insured under 1,640 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,909 for $14,081,377.00.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $132,831.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $4[illegible]. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this is believed will not be a maximum, but to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

BLOODTHIRSTY MR. BLAIR.

The New Hampshire Solon Favors the Deadly Annexation of Canada.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—Senator Blair of New Hampshire is out for war. He believes we ought to have Canada, peaceably if Canada will, but forcibly if she does not want to be annexed. The New Hampshire Senator is more Bob Acres than Bombastes Furioso, for he would like to have Canada believe that we are "a devil of a fellow," preferring an easy surrender to resistance with inevitable gore. He plainly does not believe, with Senator Morrill, that the United States is better off without Canada on any terms, and evidently has not read the Vermont Senator's recent article on the subject of annexation, in which all the objections to political union are carefully enumerated.

"Bob Acres" Blair draws a fearful picture of the dangers to be apprehended when Canada has 100,000,000 population and the United States has 200,000,000. He would have war as a cure for the lingering feeling of sectionalism between the North and the South, and he evidently longs to be in the van of an army that is "to march on Hudson's Bay and cut Canada in two." There is no cure for the fisheries troubles or the transportation entanglements, in his opinion, but political union. Commercial union gives everything and gains nothing. Two geographical situation, the growth of the two countries, demand union. This is the way it looks to Mr. Blair:

"At the present time Canada's population is small, but the time must surely come when the Dominion must have a population of 100,000,000 and we a population of 200,000,000. That means two colossal nations, great in numbers and great in resources, and for our own safety we can no more allow Canada to grow up foreign to us in every thought and our great commercial rival than we could England or France to acquire control of Central America. The greater the development of Canada the more the United States will suffer commercially. Canada now has magnificent ports and harbors, and while some of them are inaccessible for portions of the year, owing to the ice, with the expansion of trade great warehouses and elevators will be built there, in which grain and merchandise can be stored during the winter and sent across the ocean with the opening of navigation. With the building up of the country will follow climatic changes, and the Canadian Pacific will then be as accessible as the Northern and Central Pacific now are. Moreover, Canada would always serve as the base of supplies for any foreign power with which we might become involved.

"All these considerations point to one irresistible conclusion in my mind. Canada must become part of the American Union, peacefully if she will; if not, war will be the inevitable result. That this must happen is illustrated by all history. Two aggressive, warlike people, living on either side of an imaginary line, cannot exist forever without at some time coming into conflict with each other. It is foolish to think otherwise. Nations go to war as much as they ever did. Wars now are shorter than they used to be, but they are fiercer and the results are more terrible. If we should have a war it would forever make sectionalism a thing of the past. The South would be as loyal and hearty in its support as the North. We were hunkered out by the rebellion, but if at the close of hostilities a joint Northern and Southern army, under the command of Sherman or Sheridan, and one of the prominent Southern generals, had marched into Canada, while another army established a protectorate over Mexico, we should have escaped all the horrors of reconstruction. France and England might not have liked it, but Germany wouldn't have minded it, and Russia would have thanked God."

Mr. Blair has his head set for war, and he will hear of nothing less. When it was suggested that the United States and Canada might grow up side by side as friends and neighbors, yet politically separate, he declared: "That cannot be. It is our manifest destiny," he says, "to acquire Canada peacefully, of course, if it can be; by force if necessary. If the two countries grow up as one the great union will be inhabited by a homogeneous people; if the two nations continue apart there are bound to be disagreements between the two Governments, and should there ever be at any time any little sectional difference in the United States Canada would take one side or the other and do her best to dismember the existing union." He vows that he does not speak lightly of war, but he is frank to admit that the calamity of war is preferable to peace without union. He has long foreseen war. He does not believe in letting Canada make war upon us. He says:

"From the beginning of the fisheries complications I insisted in the conferences of the Republican Senators that the fisheries dispute was of no consequence as compared with other questions, and that we had better not try and settle the fishery matter until we could settle everything, as any arrangement we could reach in regard to when and where our sailors should catch fish would be only a makeshift and meant no permanent settlement. I have always insisted upon political union as the true solution, and as we are the stronger party we can take the first step without subjecting Canada to any humiliation, while it she took the initiative, being the weaker, it would look as if she was requesting a favor."

The warlike Senator would assume no disguise or indulge in unnecessary delay. "Canada," he says "of course, will not come peacefully until she is ready, but in the meantime she should be cordially and earnestly invited to come; she should be invited to consider matters relating to the peace and prosperity of both countries, and they should be discussed in an amicable way and conciliatory spirit. There is no use of either side putting on airs. The people of both countries are naturally one. What God has naturally joined together let no foolish man on either side of the line keep asunder."

The doughty warrior from New Hampshire believes that political union will send up all values in Canada to the level of those in the United States. Every Canadian acre would double in value in a year, and all other property would have the same appreciation. He foresees imperial federation and the transfer of the centre of the British Empire to Canada. Whenever that is seriously proposed by Great Britain, he says, "it will be taken as a signal of war by the United States. Then will an American army cut Canada in two forthwith by marching on Hudson's Bay, and every point of importance on the Canadian frontier will be seized at once and the entire width northerly penetrated and held by American armies, while the Canadian Pacific Railway would simply be the means of transporting and connecting the operations of those armies on their way to the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. Great Britain can form no federation which includes Canada without war with the United

THE MAYORALTY!

Address to the Electors:

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a large number of the electors, I have consented to become a candidate for the Mayor's chair for 1888. In accepting this candidature, I have been influenced by various reasons.

In the first place, Mr. Stevenson openly declared last year that he would not again be a candidate for the position. He not only stated so publicly, but has repeatedly assured me personally that he would, on no consideration, consent to become a candidate for another term, and that, as another member of the council was anxious for the position, he (Mr. Stevenson) preferred that I should be the candidate.

In the second place, I do not think that it is in the interests of the town that any one man, no matter how good a man he may be, should occupy the positions of Mayor of the town, Chairman of the School Board, Chairman of the Town Trust Commission, and President of the Gas Company,—all directly affecting the interests of the ratepayers.

These different concerns involve a large expenditure of the people's money, and it is desirable, and it is obviously proper, that the necessarily conflicting personal and corporation interests that are at issue should be administered by an official, not personally concerned in getting the best end of a bargain at the expense of the town.

In the third place, I am opposed to the large expenditure in connection with the Collegiate Institute, of which my opponent is the foremost champion. I am not in favour of educating rich man's sons at the expense of the poor, but, on the other hand, believe that the most liberal expenditure of money is justifiable in maintaining and adding to the efficiency of our public schools. I am in favour of having the public schools brought to so high a standard that when a poor man's son is compelled to leave them, as he has to do at the age of 14 or 15, he may be thoroughly equipped with a practical education that will fit him for any business career he may see fit to enter upon. Those who wish to go higher in the educational scale have access to a provincial university maintained at the public expense.

I am opposed to the importation of outsiders to fill places of trust in town, when as good men, if not better men, are available at home. I could cite many flagrant instances of disregard of this fair principle, but have not space in this brief address to advert to them.

There are many other questions, such as the assessment of the homes of the middle class, to their highest dollar of value and placing a half assessment on the palatial homes of the wealthy, thus tending to the adoption of a policy for making the poor man poorer and the rich man richer; these are of interest to the ratepayers, upon which, if I receive the confidence of the public, I will always be found arrayed on the side of the people, as against cliques, corporations and monopolies of all kinds.

I need only to mention, in order to enforce the glaring impropriety of a parliamentary representative occupying the Mayor's chair. The interests of the two [illegible]tatives, no matter how just and [illegible] the needs of the town may be, will be directed as we have had frequent examples of, to the promotion of personal and family interests, leaving those of the town to take their precarious chances on their own merits.

During my past record in the council I have endeavored to stand up fearlessly in defence of what I considered just and in the best interests of the town, irrespective of any person, and if honored with your confidence I will in the future pursue the same course.

Hoping, electors, that you will show on polling day that you are opposed to one man being placed year after year in a position in which an opportunity is presented of advancing personal and other interests at the expense of the town,

I remain, very faithfully,

HENRY DENNE.

New Year's Day.

How the Advent of the New Year was Observed in Peterborough.

Happy New Year!

The average reader will no doubt be thoroughly tired of hearing the familiar salutation by this time, and may be inclined to cry out "chestnuts," but the EXAMINER wishes to convey to all its readers the season's compliments and greetings, and then have done with it.

Old '88 has vanished silently behind the veil of the past, and become to us of to day a mere skeleton record by which events that occurred within the twelve months are noted. Mild, autumnal weather characterized the first day of the year 1888, and so unlike was it to the typical Canadian New Year's day, with its frosty air and merry jingle of sleigh bells, that the established customs were in a great measure upset, and new enjoyments had to be sought out.

Very little calling was done, and scarcely any pleasure driving at all. At the skating and curling rink immense numbers of people enjoyed themselves. The fire brigade band serenaded a number of prominent citizens in town, and paid a similar compliment to Mr. Geo A. Cox and family, in Toronto, by telephone. The band played in front of the telephone office, and the windows being opened the music travelled through the transmitter and over the wires to Toronto, where it was distinctly heard. Several private houses in town were also switched on and received a serenade by telephone. The band boys were warmly received. Some people took in the play at opera house, others attended the New Year's receptions and "At Homes," while the great majority wandered about aimlessly or remained at home sleeping, eating and whiling away the time.

The new year was ushered in by well attended watch services in the George and Charlotte street Methodist churches, St. Luke's Church, the Baptist church and at the Salvation Army barracks.

In St. Paul's church on Sunday night the old year was grandly ushered out by the excellent rendition of Handil's Hallelujah Chorus by full choir which through the whole musical services of the day exhibited signs of marked improvement.

Y. M. C. A. RECEPTION.

All day long the Young Men's Christian Association rooms were open to callers, who were well received and entertained by the committee. Nearly 200 visitors registered during the day. Coffee and cake was provided by a number of ladies from the different churches, and each visitor regaled therewith. The rooms were furnished like a house, drawingroom furniture, pictures, books, and flowers making it very attractive. The committee desire to thank Messrs. A. Clegg and Craig & Mooney for furniture and Messrs. T. Menzies and A. L. Davis & Co. for books, etc; also the "Y" for the use of their piano.

In the evening an "At Home" was held, at which there was a large attendance, the rooms being crowded. Mr. G. M. Roger, President, occupied the chair, but was succeeded later on by Mr. G. J. Early. The following programme was rendered :

Selection ..... Y.M.C.A. Orchestra
Solo ..... Mr. K. G. Loch
Recitation ..... Miss Saunders
Instrumental Duet (Guitar and Mouth Organ) Messrs. Waite and Norton
Vocal Duet—You'll soon Forget Kathleen..... Misses Elliott and Cochrane

REFRESHMENTS.

Selection ..... Y.M.C.A. Orchestra
Solo—The Pearls of the Deep ..... Miss Elliott
Instrumental ..... Miss Wrighton
Reading—Courting under Difficulties ..... Miss Gray
Instrumental Duet (Piano and Bones) ..... Mrs Lumsden and Master Brooks
Selection ..... Y.M.C.A. Orchestra

The numbers were all well received and deservedly applauded. Special mention might be made of Miss Saunders' recitation, Miss Gray's reading, Messrs Walkie and Norton's duet, and the duet by Miss Lumsden and Master Brooks. These were particularly good and were encored. During intermission refreshments were served.

The New Year's Day reception and "At Home" by the Y.M.C.A. was a success throughout. Before the last number on the programme was rendered Mr Thos. Tebb moved, seconded by Mr. J. W. Bennett, a vote of thanks to the ladies who took part in the programme and those who had so kindly undertaken to provide the refreshments.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH "AT HOME."

An entertainment under the auspices of the Ladies Aid, was held in the George street Methodist Church New Year's night. The basement of the church was filled. The decorations were extremely handsome, the spacious school room being fitted out like a drawing room. Oysters, coffee, cake, and other refreshments, were served in excellent style by a competent committee of ladies. The literary and musical part of the entertainment was of a very high order, and thoroughly enjoyed by all, reflecting great credit on the ladies of the church. The Pastor, Rev. M. L. Pearson, occupied the chair. The programme was as follows :—

PART I.

Instrumental Duet ..... Messrs. Dingle and Schneider

St. Peter's Cathedral.

Special Thanksgiving Services.

On New Year's eve a solemn thanksgiving service, in accordance with the request of His Holiness Pope Leo XIII, was held in the Cathedral. The exposition of the Blessed Sacrament was followed by an address by Bishop Dowling to the congregation, and the reading of the act of consecrating the Sacred Heart. He next repeated the Rosary, followed by the Te Deum, rendered by the full choir. After the prescribed hymns and prayers, the services closed with the benediction of the blessed sacrament. Yesterday morning, New Year's, his Lordship, at High Mass, preached the sermon, in the course of which he wished his people a happy New Year, and complimented them upon their generous Christmas offertory for the parochial clergy, which was the largest offering of the kind ever made in Peterborough, being the handsome sum of $900. There were immense congregations on both occasions.

OTONABEE MILLS,
ASHBURNHAM.

THE OLD MILLS AGAIN MADE NEW.

The above Mills were shut down last April, and all the old machinery, from the water wheels to the top of the Mill, removed and replaced by an entirely new plant. The machinery put in is the most modern, and the capacity has been increased 200 barrels daily. The Roller Plant is W. F. Cockburn's New invention,' connected and running in two straight lines and driven by one belt. We have also erected adjoining the Mill a NEW ELEVATOR for wheat, with a capacity of 20,000 bushels. For grinding coarse grain into chop, we have put in A New Roller Mill which is a great improvement over the old stones. The firm has spared no expense in making this mill one of the best of its capacity in Canada, and that they have succeeded in so doing is evident from the excellent quality of flour it is now turning out.

We thank all our old customers, and others who have not favored us in the past, and all the farmers from north, south, east and west of Peterborough, to call and see us; assuring satisfaction in prices and quality of flour, price for wheat, quality and quantity of flour exchanged for wheat, and last but not least, the reduction of coarse grain into chop by our NEW ROLLER CHOP MILL. Mr. Stevenson's Reply.

GENTLEMEN,—

Although I had almost definitely decided to retire from active and official participation in municipal matters, yet the desire, as expressed in the foregoing requisition, seems to be of so general and representative a character, that I feel that I would be doing less than my duty as a citizen if I failed to respond to it, therefore, though I do so with personal reluctance, in compliance with the formal demand for my services, I hereby consent to become a candidate for the mayoralty of Peterborough for the year 1889. In so doing I think I have a right to feel that my past services have been employed in the best interests of the town, which could hardly be otherwise, when it is borne in mind that I have no small share of material interests to be affected by the administration of the municipal affairs of the town, It is, therefore, my own interest to see my best efforts to secure economical and prudent management of civic matters, and I think my past course is a sufficient guarantee that the public interest will not meet with neglect at my hands. I might suggest that my efforts in promoting manufacturing industries shows that my interest in labouring men is not of a merely sentimental character. I am a comparatively large employer of labor, and endeavor to put my interest in the laboring classes into practical effect, and shall, if again honored with the confidence of the citizens, use my best efforts to maintain the rights and promote the interests of all classes of the community. I do not seek the office of mayor, but if I am chosen I shall not fail to do my best in the future as I have done in the past, to discharge its duties faithfully. I, therefore, place myself in your hands and allow you to put my name in nomination for the position of mayor, assured that I can count upon your assistance in securing my return.

I have the honor to remain, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
JAMES STEVENSON.

A GAIN IN CANADIAN SECURITIES IN LONDON.

An Accurate Translation of Mr. Gladstone's Letter in Regard to the Pope—Lively Eviction Scenes in Donegal.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Mr. Gladstone's telegram disclaiming the accuracy of the translation of his letter suggesting that the position of the Pope be made the subject of international arbitration, has led to correspondence on the subject, which appears in The Tablet to-day. Mr. Cox, editor of The Tablet, says that the letter of Mr. Gladstone clearly refers to the present position of the Pope, and he places side by side Mr. Gladstone's letter in Italian and the translation in English, proving the accuracy of the translation which Mr. Gladstone declares untrustworthy. Mr. Gladstone's words in writing to the Marquis DeRoss are as follows:

"I consider the question of the Pope's position of such importance as to merit the intervention of an international arbitration. I boast that I was the promoter of the international arbitration in connection with the Alabama question. By such a method it would be possible to unlock the difficulty relating to the Vatican.

The Pall Mall Gazette upholds the accuracy of the translation and asks Mr. Gladstone to explain what he means if he does not mean international arbitration on the Pope's position.

The Bradford Murder.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Chief Constable Withers of Bradford asserts that the evidence against Barrett, the milkman, as the murderer of the boy John Gill, is of the most serious character. He has decided to withhold the details of the evidence for the present, but states that Barrett laughs, sings and occasionally by a wild look in his eyes and in other ways indicates his insanity. Sufficient testimony was taken yesterday to warrant the interment of the boy and the inquest was adjourned until Jan. 11 pending the investigation of clues disclosed by yesterday's proceedings.

Eviction Scenes in Donegal.

DONEGAL, Jan. 3.—The evictions on the Otpbert estate in Donegal yesterday were attended with a series of exciting scenes. The house of Blacksmith O'Donnell was strongly barricaded. The bailiffs were repulsed, and then the police attempted to capture the place. Sergt. McCombe was disabled by being wounded with a pitchfork in the cheek and leg and struck on the head with a stone. Ringing cheers greeted each successful repulse. Finally the soldiers having been ordered to fire the besieged, on the advice of Father Stephens, surrendered. Ten persons were arrested. The defenders were cheered by a large crowd. Father McFadden was among the spectators, and joined in the cheering.

THE NEW YEAR'S HONORS.

The List Included Only Three Canadians—The New Knights.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Some surprise is expressed here at the omission of expected honors to certain prominent Canadians from the New Year's list which includes only three Canadians: Chief Justice Allen of New Brunswick is knighted; Mr. Trutch, late Canadian resident agent of British Columbia, has been appointed a K.C.M.G., and Major-General Oliver, late commandant of the Royal Military College at Kingston, is made a C.M.G.

Canadian Securities in London.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Canadian stocks and shares are all partaking of the general upward movement of the markets. Dominion, provincial and municipal gained materially during the week on the investment by British investors of moneys received on account of interest accrued. Canadian Pacifics advanced, the working statement with a lower rate of expenses producing a good impression. Grand Trunks are steady. Land shares generally have risen, though Canada Company shares are 2½ down on the week.

The Commercial Colonization Co.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The directors of the Commercial Colonization Company of Manitoba propose to re-construct the company with a view to restrict its business to pure finance, taking money on credit at one rate in this country and lending it on approved security in the Northwest.

ST. THOMAS' GUEST.

Arrival of Jack the Ripper—Arrested for a Serious Crime.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 3.—From the following communication, which has been received through the mail by Chief of Police Fewings, it would appear that the notorious Whitechapel murderer is in this city and proposes to commence operations here:

"To Chief of Police Fewings.

"DEAR SIR—As London, England, is getting too hot for me I have decided to commence operations here January 1st, 1889.

"JACK THE RIPPER.

"St. Thomas, Dec. 28, 1888.

The note is thought to have been written by some smart young man, and no attention will be paid to it.

Detective Heenan on Tuesday arrested Henry Watson, aged 21, and James Vogan, aged 18, residing south of Bismark, on a charge of firing a revolver at Conductor Bennett's train on the morning of Dec. 20. The prisoners were arraigned before Squire McKillop at West Lorne, and committed to Eight jail for trial. They were arraigned before Police Magistrate Leonard yesterday morning, and Watson pleaded guilty to firing the shots and was remanded till Saturday for sentence. Vogan was found guilty of being drunk and acting disorderly, and was sent to jail for twenty days in default of $16 fine. Both men were intoxicated at the time, and were returning home from Dutton.

LONDON THE LESS.

G. P. R. Extension—Salvation Army—Another Bank of London Dividend.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Engineer Jennings of the Canadian Pacific Railway was in the city yesterday and inspected the work on the western extension. He declares that had he known that the season would be so open as it is he would have had 1000 men at work between here and Hyde Park. He will shortly increase the gangs considerably.

The presence of Major Coombs in this city during the past few days has had the effect of rousing the local Salvationists, and big meetings have been the result. Last night a torchlight procession through the streets, headed by a brass band, was a feature of the proceedings.

Yesterday the shareholders of the defunct Bank of London received a dividend of 20 cents on the dollar, making in all 95 cents on the dollar that has been paid. It is expected that another dividend will follow before long.

At last night's meeting of the city council it was decided to inaugurate at once the ballasting on the local market of prices in surrounding markets. The appointment of W. D. Buckle and S. Grant as assessors for 1889 was confirmed.

The Scott Act at Port Perry.

WHITBY, Jan. 2.—Port Perry people held a mass meeting last night about the Scott Act. One of the hotel keepers goes to jail for a couple of months if apprehended, and they want the warrants recalled. Inspector Ferguson was there but adopted a policy of masterly inactivity.

Hrenock, the Chicago dynamite conspirator, was sentenced yesterday to 12 years' imprisonment.

WAR TO BE MADE ON THE Q

IF A SETTLEMENT WITH THE BROTHERHOOD IS NOT REACHED.

An Important Meeting To Be Held To-day—If the Strike Comes It Will Be the Greatest in Railroad History.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—The Daily News says: Whether the country will experience the greatest railroad strike in the history of modern industrial struggles between labor and capital will depend upon a meeting to be held at the general offices of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Thursday morning. Chairman Coverner of the Grievance Committee of nine Wednesday morning gave the first hint—a very decided one—of the disastrous consequences of the refusal of the Burlington officials to accept the proposition of the Brotherhood. "We have consulted the best legal authority," said Mr. Coverner, "and know just what we can do and obey the laws, and we are not afraid of any State prisons, county jails or conspiracy laws. I say it in all seriousness that if the Burlington road does not agree to our reasonable propositions the Brotherhood will at once commence the struggle and it will never surrender. We know just what our resources are and the country far and wide will hear from us in a very decided way if the meeting does not result in harmony."

The Journal says on the same subject: If the statement of the company that it is operating its lines in a manner satisfactory to itself and its patrons is correct, it has seemingly nothing to gain or lose by such action. The governing officials certainly express but little anxiety on the subject. The brotherhood, however, is exceedingly desirous for the day to end in order that the enormous drain upon its treasury may cease and many of the strikers find employment.

IT IS ALL GAMBLING.

Hamilton's Police Magistrate on Church Lotteries—The Whitticks of Justice.

HAMILTON, Jan. 3.—For the past two weeks a bazaar has been in operation here under the auspices of the Ladies Mission Aid Society of the Reformed Episcopal Church. The drawing for special prizes took place Tuesday morning and a number of the ticket holders who had understood that the drawing would be in the afternoon, were amazed and indignant, went to the Police Magistrate's office and wanted to have summonses issued against the persons who had managed the affair. They said it was gambling at the best, and some of them said they had been robbed and swindled. At the Police Court yesterday Magistrate Cahill said: "It is illegal to issue tickets which represent a chance of drawing a prize. It is all gambling and will have to be stopped in this city." Sergeant Prentice called the Magistrate's attention to prize drawings which had been carried on at dry goods and other stores. "These are illegal, too," said His Worship, "and unless they are stopped at once there will have to be some prosecutions." An investigation is to be made by the Crown authorities.

Abraham Efner, a well-dressed and respectable-looking man, was a prisoner at the Police Court yesterday. He was charged with stealing $12 from John Kerrigan, who became intoxicated and fell into the hands of the police. Efner, however, was discharged and Kerrigan fined $1 for being intoxicated.

Yesterday about 40 employes of the Grand Trunk Railway left this city to take up their residence in Stratford.

The poultry exhibition continues to attract good crowds.

The receipts of the art exposition will be about $3500.

Two overcoats and a Parkerhouse cap were stolen from the Y. M. C. A. rooms yesterday.

Exports from the consular district of Hamilton to the United States during the last month were $61,655.

Receipts at the Inland Revenue office for December were $34,334, an increase over December, 1887, of $8000.

ONTARIO COUNTY POLITICS.

Resignation of All Three Mayoralty Candidates at Oshawa.

OSHAWA, Jan. 3.—Oshawa is in a muddle just now. The three candidates who were nominated for Mayor on Monday resigned yesterday, and it is said that a requisition will be presented to ex-Mayor McGee in a day or two asking him to fill the civic chair for another year.

The matter of Reeve, deputies and councillors for the Northwest and Northeast Wards was amicably settled yesterday by electing J. S. Larke Reeve, Walter Coulthard First Deputy, J. F. Tamblin Second Deputy, F. L. Fowke, Samuel Trewin and Wm. Allan councillors for the Northwest Ward, while Alex. Henderson, sr., J. W. Borsberry and John Currie were elected for the Northeast Ward.

Mr. John Ross was elected Deputy Reeve by acclamation for East Whitby, but there is to be a vigorous fight between G. E. Mowbray and J. T. Hancock for the Reeveship.

Whitby Elections.

WHITBY, Jan. 3.—Mayor Long, Councillors F. H. Annes and Wm. Barnes were elected by acclamation to the Council of '89 yesterday by the withdrawal of other candidates in Centre Ward. The South Ward is the only one in which an election will occur.

THE HAFFIELD MURDER.

Prisoner's Counsel Puts Another Phase on the Terrible Affair.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 3.—Council for Haffield, the Holland wife murderer, tells a different story about the horrible affair from that already published. He says the story of the victim's face being pounded beyond recognition is absurd, and not one blow was struck hard enough even to cause an abrasion of the skin, let alone death. With regard to the victim being pounded over the head with a fork handle the story was utterly false. The handle had been broken some time before. The cause of death, he said, was the result of strangulation, superinduced by the woman's physical condition. She had some disease of the neck which caused a swelling the size of a bladder, which had the effect of reducing the breathing tube to one-eighth of an inch in diameter instead of three-fourths, which is the normal size. A brief run or great excitement would likely close the space up and cause strangulation. The doctors made an examination and found the blood quite black, which evidenced that strangulation was the direct cause of death. There is evidence, he said, that no blow received was sufficient to cause death.

A telegram from Medicine Hat says Constable Harris, of the Northwest Mounted Police, shot at Corporal Bourgoine, the bullet passing through his right arm. He was about to fire a second time when Sergeant Tucker seized him and saved Bourgoine from instant death.

The weather is still magnificent.

The Portuguese Cortes was opened by the king in person yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Mr. Springer (Dem., Ill.) introduced in the House yesterday a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment relative to the election of president and vice-president and representatives in Congress. It extend the presidential term to six years and makes the president ineligible for re-election; it abolishes the electoral college and provides for a direct vote of the people. The term of representatives in Congress is extended to three years.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Vice-Regal Reception—Charged with Cruelty—A Would-be Suicide Fined.

TORONTO, Jan. 3.—His Excellency the Governor-General, Lady Stanley, Captain and Mrs. Colville and Captain McMahon arrived yesterday morning from Ottawa. A public reception was given in the Legislative Chamber at the Parliament Buildings from 4 to 6.30 yesterday afternoon which was largely attended.

The Separate School Board elections yesterday resulted in a victory for the Irish National League element. Practically there were but two contests: in St. Patrick's Ward where Michael Walsh led Wm. Burns by 37 majority, and in St. Thomas' where John O'Connor defeated John J. Cosgrove by 61 majority. In St. Andrew's Hon. T. W. Anglin had a walk-over.

Burglars Tuesday night attempted to force open a safe at Kormann's Brewery, and had bored two holes and were engaged on a third when they were disturbed and escaped.

Miss Majorie Campbell is out of danger, but she was too ill on New Year's Day to permit of the usual reception at Government House.

Thomas McInerney, who just escaped committing suicide at Police Headquarters on Tuesday night by the timely arrival of Sergeant Somerville, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness in the Police Court yesterday. Magistrate Denison fined him $20 and costs for his fun and the kindly offices of the police sergeant in saving his life.

In the Police Court yesterday Staff Inspector Archibald charged Mrs. A. Parsons and her two sons, Rowlett and Wellington, with cruelty to Kate Woodhouse, a little girl whom the family had taken from the Girls' Home. The parties live at No. 26 Division-street. It is said that the girl was severely whipped by Mrs. Parsons for refractory conduct. The case has given considerable anxiety to the Board of Management and matron of the Girls' Home. The Parsons will get a hearing to-day.

WAYLAID BY A FIEND.

Brutal Assault upon a Little Girl by an Unknown Assailant.

SUMMIT, Pa., Jan. 3.—Little Mamie Carran was waylaid and brutally assaulted just outside the town on the highway shortly after 8 o'clock last night. She now lies in a dying condition at her home near this place. She has been able to answer questions but says she does not know who her assailant was.

Mamie volunteered to deliver for her elder sister Lizzie a note addressed to Miss Laura Flanigan and started off on her journey but did not return. The family began to be alarmed about 10 o'clock and an hour later Lizzie, accompanied by her father, started off to Flanigan's to see what was wrong and were told upon reaching the house that Mamie had not been there. An alarm was given and half a dozen friends and neighbors accompanied them back, making a close search with lanterns as they went along.

About midway, Lizzie found the letter she had only a few hours before passed and committed to the care of her missing sister. The broken bushes to the left of the road gave evidence of a struggle. Mamie's cap was soon picked up, and then a moaning sound soon led where the child lay. Nearly all her clothing was torn from her body. Her general appearance, as she lay in the bush, showed that she had been beaten into submission, and that every violence had been used by the fiend to accomplish his inhuman work. The bleeding and almost frozen girl was carried home. Dr. Henry Errick was sent for, and after examination said the girl was subjected to the most inhuman treatment, and could scarcely recover. She was delirious, and frequently appealed to her father to take that man away.

Mamie is a very bright and quite interesting little girl. After being taken home, a large party was organized and went in different directions seeking the assailant, but returned this morning with no success. The search was renewed to-day.

Executions By Electricity.

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 3.—The law providing for the execution of murderers by electricity went into effect at midnight, Dec. 31. Any person committing murder after 12 o'clock that night will on conviction be sent to the State Prison of the judicial district in which he is convicted and will there, if no appellate court reverses the conviction, be put to death under the direction of the warden of the State Prison. The law does not change the method of executing the death penalty in the cases of murderers whose crimes are committed before New Year's Day but who are convicted after that date. The judge before whom a person is convicted of murder in the first degree will fix the week within which the sentence is to be executed, but the exact day is to be determined by the warden. The prisoner will be kept in close confinement until the day of the execution arrives. No one except certain privileged persons will be permitted to see him without an order of the court.

The death-penalty will be inflicted in the presence of a justice of the Supreme Court, the District-Attorney, the Sheriff, certain other officials and a jury of twelve citizens, or of as many of them as desire to be present. No account of the execution of the sentence may be published, according to the law, except the statement that the sentence of death was carried out on a certain day. The body of the murderer must be buried within the prison walls, and a sufficient quantity of quicklime must be placed within the coffin to secure the quick dissolution of the body.

How to Use Gas.

From the Govan (Scotland) Press is taken the following remarks on economising gas, made in an address before the Maryhill Philosophical Society by Mr. David Terrace, nephew of Mr. Jas. R. Brown, 267 Reid street. Mr. Terrace said:—

It is one of the most difficult problems how to get consumers to use the gas supplied to them properly, this being at the root of most of the complaints they make about the light obtained. It should be more generally known that the amount of light emitted depends as much (if not more) on the means of consumption as on the inherent quality of the gas. I trust some of the papers to be read to-day will touch on this subject. So much has already been said and written on the great waste of gas, and still so much has been left undone, that the field for improvement in this respect is nearly as wide as ever. Until it is in the power of the companies and corporations to take charge of the gas supply from the meter to the point of consumption, nothing of any benefit is likely to accrue to the consumer. In testing several of the devices intended to improve the ordinary gas burner I found no increase in luminosity per cubic foot of gas consumed from that given by the union jet burner consuming 5 feet per hour at 5/16 in. pressure. The inventors of most of these devices start on a wrong basis by first using small burners, thus forcing the gas through minute apertures at high pressure, and then baffling the flame at the point of ignition. Instead of regulating the pressure and using the gas through a large burner. Although apparently a very little matter it seems a very difficult one to be understood, or acted on, by the average consumer, that any ordinary burner (union jet or batwing) provided it be the size suitable for the space to be lighted is as good as any other (open flame) if need at the proper pressure for the quality of the gas. When consumers cannot adjust the burners and pressure, they should—in order to get a good and economical light—use gas governors (where the fittings are suitable) or burners containing within them the means of regulating the supply." After mentioning and accounting for, some of the difficulties in the way of a satisfactory supply of gas (the chief of which was the unequal fittings in houses) and the ready means whereby these can be overcome, he showed by experiment that gas is often used wastefully by small burners and high pressure. By a simple arrangement of different sized burners using equal quantities of gas it was clearly demonstrated that 2½ times the light can be obtained by using comparatively large burners at low pressure, as against the methods commonly in use, viz., small burners and high pressure. Having explained the purpose gas globes serve he condemned those having the usual small bottom openings, also those having the glass much obscured, and said that the new form should be adopted, viz., those having bottom openings of not less than 4 inches diameter and the body made of clear glass. Reference was made to the latest development of the most economical use of gas by the regenerative and incandescent system.

Keene.

From Our Own Correspondent. (Ocndensed.)

The I.O.G.T. is progressing very rapidly. There have been quite a number of initiations lately.

Mr. Jas. Kerr, formerly of Keene, has been here this last week visiting friends.

The review of the Sabbath school lessons for the past quarter was conducted by the Rev. F. Andrews, the pastor of the Presbyterian church, in his usual able manner.

The Keene curling and skating rink is now in a prosperous condition, and promises to be a better paying concern than it has been in former years. Mr. R. McIntyre certainly deserves credit for the great care he takes to provide good ice.

On December 21st Mr. W. J. Campbell, teacher of the school at Mather's Corners, was presented by the pupils with a highly complimentary address and a handsome dressing case. Mr. Campbell leaves this school to take the position of Principal of the Lakefield school. He is a good teacher and has the ability to impart knowlege to his pupils in a way that advances them rapidly in their studies. He will be succeeded at No, 7 by Mr. L. W. Allingham.

Bridgenorth.

(From a Correspondent.)

At the nominations for Smith township on Monday there was a large attendance of ratepayers. Mr. M. Sanderson was re-elected Reeve by acclamation. Messrs. T. E. Bell and J. Middleton are the candidates for the Deputy Reeveship. The candidates addressed the assembled electors in the town hall, the old councillors giving an account of their stewardship, and the new candidates expressing their views.

Mr. John Duff got in a carload of corn the other day, and is selling it out to the farmers for 65 cents per bushel. When chopped it makes the best and cheapest feed for fattening cattle or hogs.

Ennismore.

A correspondent writes:—Mr. Michael O'Reilly is the hero of the hour in Ennismore. He won the wagon at the prize drawing on Saturday Dec. 29th last. Everybody is shaking hands with our old friend. We too shake hands with him in spirit. He had better not go to town soon; as a great many people are lying in wait to catch him by the hand on sight.

THE MONTREAL TRAGEDY.

SINGER IMPROVING RAPIDLY AT THE HOSPITAL.

A Suit Against the C. P. R. for $1,250,000.—The Captured Murderer Remanded —Death of Dr. Alexander Crevier.

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—An action has been taken by the Montreal, Portland and Boston Railway Company against the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to recover $1,850,000 for the use of plaintiff's railway since 1882. An action has also been taken by the Montreal, Portland and Boston Railway Company against the Passumpsic Railway Company to recover the value of railway stock to the amount of $175,000, which plaintiffs claim defendants appropriated at the time of the transfer of the road.

Abraham Lalonde of Morrisburg, Ont., who was arrested on a capias for $6000, was brought before the court yesterday and remanded.

There are no new developments in the St. James-street tragedy of Sunday last. Singer, the man who was shot by Benson, is still at the hospital and is improving rapidly.

Dr. Alexander Crevier has died at the age of 65 years. The notoriety which his name obtained in the case of the late Mrs. Ward in October, 1886, his arrest on the charge of criminal malpractice and his release are still fresh in the minds of all.

Lewis Horner, charged with embezzling $19,000 from his employers in Chicago, has voluntarily consented to go back, and left for Chicago last night, accompanied by Isaac Horton, a relative and member of the firm alleged to be defrauded.

H. P. Dwight, General Manager in the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, had a conference yesterday with D. Girouard, Q.C., solicitor for the company in connection with the payment to the Montreal Telegraph Company of the 6 per cent. dividend. Mr. Girouard recommended payment under protest, and a notarial protest has been served. Should the courts decide that the company need only pay 6 per cent. in future the extra 2 per cent. can be obtained back. Mr. Dwight returned to Toronto last night.

DECEMBER'S CUSTOMS RULINGS.

The Bill of Costs in the Ayer Case—The C. P. R. Arbitration.

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—These customs rulings were given during last month:

Acorns 3 cents per pound.

Berdan loaf clusters 6 cents per pound and 20 per cent.

Raw hide rope 25 per cent.

Steel file blanks 20 per cent.

Silk pulpit hangings for churches 30 per cent.

Silk altar frontals for churches 30 per cent.

Steel cut to shape for manufacture of shovels and spades, to be entered as blanks and charged $1 per dozen and 25 per cent.

Soap, silver soap and pumice soap, being the same or similar material as soap powder, 3 cents per pound.

Mr. Audette, registrar of the Exchequer Court, has finished taxing the bill of costs in the Ayer case. The total amount of costs which the Government has to pay is $4930, of which $1300 are for counsel fees.

The C. P. R. arbitration was continued yesterday, the whole session being taken up with the cross-examination of Collingwood Schreiber by Mr. Blake.

NOTES FROM KINGSTON.

An Excursion to the Thousand Islands—Exception to Principal Grant.

KINGSTON, Jan. 3.—Owing to the fine weather an excursion was run down among the Thousand Islands yesterday. The trip was enjoyed thoroughly. It is not often that the weather permits of an excursion at this time of the year.

At a meeting of the students, graduates and professors of Queen's College, it was decided to give Principal Grant a reception on Friday of next week. There will be a torchlight procession through the streets, followed by addresses and music.

Peter Beaupre, Patrick Kennedy and Henry Burk have been elected Separate school trustees at Portsmouth.

The value of imports and exports, with collections, during the month of December, was: Imports, $73,806; exports, $63,224; collections, $11,236.50.

There were 46 more drukns here during 1888 than in 1887.

On Friday the farmers in this county will meet in the Court House and discuss means of keeping farmers' sons on the farms, and prevent them from going to cities, where starvation wages are paid.

The mayoralty election is waxing warm, and unusual interest is being taken in it.

SOUTH OXFORD'S FARMERS.

A Number of Interesting Papers, Essays and Addresses Given Yesterday.

NORWICH, Jan. 3.—The South Oxford Farmers' Institute held a successful meeting here yesterday afternoon. President R. Wallace delivered a stirring address on the objects aimed at and benefits to be derived from Farmers' Institute meetings. Mr. James Batchert read a thoughtful and practical paper on "Cooperative Dairying." An interesting discussion followed. Mr J. N. Chambers gave an address on "Silo and Ensilage." Mr. G. H. Cook introduced the question of "Municipal Reform." Mr. McMillan, M. P. for Huron, followed with an exhaustive essay on "The Breeding and Raising of Heavy Draught Horses." Prof. Panton then gave an eloquent address on the work being accomplished at the Agricultural College, Guelph.

Abearn's Dismal Outlook.

WATERFORD, Jan. 3.—Geo. N. Ahearn was brought before Police Magistrate Long yesterday on three charges—assaulting Constable Grace, escaping from the lockup and robbery at Woodstock, Ont. Assistant Superintendent of Police Cusack and Detective Quinn of Buffalo presented extradition documents to the police magistrate. Ahearn is wanted in Buffalo on a charge of assaulting a Chinese laundryman with a hatchet. The prisoner was committed for trial and the Buffalo officers will have to wait for him until he has settled with the Canadian authorities.

A Blaze at the Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 3.—Fire started early Tuesday morning in the Cataract Manufacturing Company's pulp mill at Niagara Falls, spread to the old mill near by and to the Cataract Milling Company mill. The two former were gutted and the latter damaged $200. Loss on the pulp mill about $2000 and on the old mill about $1,800. Several firemen were hurt by falling into pits about the mill.

THE MAYORALTY!

Address to the Electors:

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN:—At the request of a large number of the electors, I have consented to become a candidate for the Mayor's chair for 1889. In accepting this candidature, I have been influenced by various reasons.

In the first place, Mr. Stevenson openly declared last year that he would not again be a candidate for the position. He not only stated so publicly, but has repeatedly assured me personally that he would, on no consideration, consent to become a candidate for another term, and that, as another member of the council was anxious for the position, he (Mr. Stevenson) preferred that I should be the candidate.

In the second place, I do not think that it is in the interests of the town that any one man, no matter how good a man he may be, should occupy the positions of Mayor of the town, Chairman of the School Board, Chairman of the Town Trust Commission and President of the Gas Company,—all directly affecting the interests of the ratepayers.

These different concerns involve a large expenditure of the people's money, and it is desirable, and it is obviously proper, that the necessarily conflicting personal and corporation interests that are at issue should be administered by an official, not personally concerned in getting the best end of a bargain at the expense of the town.

In the third place, I am opposed to the large expenditure in connection with the Collegiate Institute, of which my opponent is the foremost champion. I am not in favour of educating rich men's sons at the expense of the poor, but, on the other hand, believe that the most liberal expenditure of money is justifiable in maintaining and adding to the efficiency of our public schools. I am in favour of having the public schools brought to so high a standard that when a poor man's son is compelled to leave them, as he has to do at the age of 14 or 15, he may be thoroughly equipped with a practical education that will fit him for any business career he may see fit to enter upon. Those who wish to go higher in the educational scale have access to a provincial university maintained at the public expense.

I am opposed to the importation of outsiders to fill places of trust in town, when as good men, if not better men, are available at home. I could cite many flagrant instances of disregard of this fair principle, but have not space in this brief address to advert to them.

There are many other questions, such as the assessment of the homes of the middle class, to their highest dollar of value and placing a half assessment on the palatial homes of the wealthy, thus tending to the adoption of a policy for making the poor man poorer and the rich man richer; these are of interest to the ratepayers, upon which, if I receive the confidence of the public, I will always be found arrayed on the side of the people, as against cliques, corporations and monopolies of all kinds.

I need only to mention, in order to enforce the glaring impropriety of a parliamentary representative occupying the Mayor's chair, The interests of the representative, no matter how just and cry[illegible] needs of the town may be, will be [illegible] as we have had frequent examples of, to the promotion of personal and family interests, leaving those of the town to take their precarious chances on their own merits.

During my past record in the council I have endeavored to stand up fearlessly in defence of what I considered just and in the best interests of the town, irrespective of any person, and if honored with your confidence I will in the future pursue the same course.

Hoping, electors, that you will show on polling day that you are opposed to one man being placed year after year in a position in which an opportunity is presented of advancing personal and other interests at the expense of the town,

I remain, very faithfully,
HENRY DENNE.

School Trustee Elections.

The elections yesterday were very quietly carried on and resulted in easy victories for the present representatives. The votes polled were :—

NO. 1 WARD.

Wm. English	45
Geo. Rose	9

NO. 3 WARD.

Dr. Burnham	126
A. McFarlane	47

It is only fair to Mr. McFarlane to state that he did not personally interest himself in the election, and Mr. Rose had practically resigned before the polling began.

The returns in the other wards were made by acclamation,—Mr. Wrighton in No. 2, and Mr. T. Rutherford in No. 4 Ward.

Millbrook Elections.

(By Telephone.)

MILLBROOK, Jan. 3.—The election for school trustees yesterday was the most exciting that has taken place here in twenty-five years. The following were elected :—Dr. Turner, J. W. Carrie and T. B. Collins.

Police Court.

THURSDAY, Jan. 3.

The Harper Scott Act case was further enlarged.

"Laboring John" Sullivan was this morning sent to gaol for thirty days. Jack ventured back to town to celebrate Christmas and forgot to return to the shanties, where he had been working. He fell into the hands of those good Samaritans, the police, and the magistrate "sent him up" to straighten himself out.

The sequel to a sad story of matrimonial infelicity and domestic broil, transpired at the court this morning, when Esther Barclay was committed to gaol for four months as a vagrant. She was a pleasant-faced young woman, and carried in her arms a six months old baby. About a month ago she came to town from Kinmount in destitute circumstances, and through the chairman of the charity committee, found an asylum in the gaol. She was discharged and re committed to-day for a term of four months, when the severity of winter will have passed away. Her story is that she is married to a man named Barclay, at Kinmount, who was a slothful, brutal husband to her. She was obliged to support him by her own labor, for which she was repaid by blows and ill treatment; but finally tiring of his incorrigible laziness and cruelty she left him, and declares she will not live with him longer. In the spring she hopes to be able to support herself and little child.

New Law Firm.

By reference to card in another column, it will be seen that Mr. A. P. Poussette and Mr. W. F. Johnston, have formed a law partnership. The new firm should make a strong team. Mr. Poussette has had a large experience and Mr. Johnston has passed his course with great credit, taking a scholarship every year, and winding up with the gold medal. The EXAMINER wishes the new firm a happy new year and a prosperous legal business.

Hungarian Minstrels

The Hungarian Gypsy Band of musicians delighted a large and fashionable audience at the opera house last night. The troop numbered 12 dusky, uniformed performers, comprising six violins, two claronets, two bass violas 'cello and a cimbalo, the national hand-organ of Hungary, an instrument like the American xylophone, consisting of metal bars played upon with small hammers. The music was grand, brilliant and of great depth and volume. Several national airs were played and a couple of popular American songs. Every number was rapturously encored, and altogether the Hungarian minstrels were so warmly received that they are assured of another good house should they again visit Peterborough.

Elocutionary Entertainment.

Miss Baker, the elocutionist, gave an entertainment in the George street Methodist church last night. The attendance was much smaller than the merits of the programme were deserving of. Miss Baker is an accomplished elocutionist, and her performance was highly spoken of by those who heard her. Rev. A. C. Wilson, pastor of the Mark street Methodist church, under whose auspices Miss Baker was brought here, occupied the chair. In addition to the elocutionary numbers by Miss Baker, vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Logan, Miss Butcher, Messrs. W. R. Greatrix, R. G. Loch and W. Manning, Mr. Hoover, acting as accompanist. The entertainment, as such, was a great success. Miss Baker is an artist of exceptional ability, combining rare culture with great natural gifts. Her facility in turning from the serious to the gay without any apparent difficulty, is really remarkable. Miss Baker may certainly be ranked among Canada's most gifted and cultured elocutionists.

Belleghem's Furniture Business.

There is no better guarantee of a happy new year than to start on the right line in every respect, and, in the matter of buying furniture, the right line is a bee-line to the furniture warerooms of D. Belleghem, the well known Furniture King. At these warerooms the public will find the largest, most varied, most complete stock of furniture in the Midland district. The best of stock, too, made from the finest quality of lumber, thoroughly kiln-dried, finished in a neat, stylish manner and upholstered with the best of material. Because Belleghem's warerooms are large and his stock imposing in appearance the buyer of modest means must not conclude that there is nothing there to suit him, for the furniture comprises the plainest of every-day furniture for the poorest man's cottage as well as furniture fit for the mansion of a millionaire. Every condition in life can be suited with furniture and at moderate prices. Remember furniture bought at Belleghem's delivered within a radius of twenty miles. With unequalled manufacturing facilities, D. Belleghem makes a specialty of ordered work of every kind, including shop fittings, church furnishing, etc. All work promptly done and satisfaction guaranteed in every case. Remember the place, the furniture shop furthest west on Hunter street, Peterborough.

Engine 635 took down the afternoon express.

The makers are one of the oldest in England, making nothing but the finest goods. This lot, with his last importation of the celebrated B 4 Any pocket and butcher knives, enables Mr. Stethem to show a line of cutlery that cannot be surpassed in the largest cities of the continent for quality and appearance, and being direct from the makers the goods are being sold as cheap as are goods of inferior quality and finish. Bensfort.

From Our Own Correspondent. (Condensed.)

Mr. Geo. Kerr, formerly of Bensfort, is visiting friends. He has been absent nearly ten years during which time he has been a successful tiller of the soil at Plum Creek, Man. He enjoys the advantages of early settlement, and his house is now in what is called one of the gardens of the province. He looks and feels hearty and enjoys the invigorating prairie breezes of the Northwest.

On Saturday, 22nd ult., a good number took the chance of the near route to town. The cold weather of the previous week made the ice good, thus relieving from the monotony of doing seven miles by going fourteen. A slight freeze will open regular winter traffic.

The literary and musical entertainment in the Sunday school hall Friday evening, 28th inst., was very largely attended and quite successful. A good programme was rendered and Messrs. McCamus and Jackson added brief addresses. The proceeds went to augment the Sunday school fund, which now amounts to $25, with all expenses paid.

Young's Point.

(From Our Own Correspondent. Condensed.)

The members of the Young's Point baseball club entertained Mr. and Mrs. Thos. N. Lee at a social supper at the McFarlane Hotel on Wednesday evening, on the eve of their departure for Penetanguishene, where Mr. Lee goes to occupy a lucartive situation. Mr. Lee has been captain of the club during his residence here, and by his departure, it loses an energetic member, and one of its best players. The dining hall was tastefully decorated with bunting and evergreens, and suspended above the table was a baseball outfit—bats, ball mask, gloves, &c. A tableau representing the 'diamond' graced the foot of the hall. Mr. Wm. McFarlane, president, occupied the chair, and Mr. Jas. A. Johnston, vice-president, the vice-chair. After ample justice had been done to the splendid spread, which reflected great credit on Mrs. McFarlane, and after the ladies had withdrawn, the usual loyal and patriotic responses and songs followed, and a delightful evening was spent. An adjournment was then made to the dancing hall, where dancing was kept up till the wee sma' hours. Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Lee leave for their new home with the best wishes of their Young's Point friends, and we hope often to see them among us again.

The annual meeting of S. S. No. 3, Smith, was held on Wednesday. Mr. W. J. Young was re-elected trustee, and Messrs. Wm. A. Graham and Wm. Macfarlane, were re-appointed auditors.

A few of the young men of the village skated up the lake as far as Julien, on Friday afternoon. The ice was in fine condition.

Lakehurst.

The anniversary tea of the Methodist Church of this place, was held on Friday, 28th inst, at the Town Hall. Despite the unpromising weather, and exceeding bad state of the roads, there was a very large attendance, which did full justice to the magnificent spread furnished by the ladies. The intellectual treat comprised selections by the Chemong choir, Miss Ferguson, organist, who discharged her duties, as did also the choir, with great credit. Mr. Oswald gave two fine addresses, on "Knowledge and Signal Lamps on the Railway of Life." Mr. Ferguson, pastor, also gave a fine address. For the delightful success of the entertainment, great credit is due the Chemong choir.

Mrs. McMartin, formerly of Lark Hall, but residing in Ashburnham, was entertained by a large number of friends at Mr. Renwick's on Thursday night, and made the recipient, on behalf of the Presbyterian mission in Harvey, a beautiful hanging lamp.

MRS. HASKELL'S BIGAMY.

The Pastor's Wife Runs Away with and Weddes a Married Scotchman.

LOWELL, Mass., Jan. 3.—Mrs. Mary A. Long Haskell, third wife of Rev. Mr. Haskell, a retired Congregational clergyman of Billerica Centre, was arrested yesterday afternoon for bigamy by Inspectors Hayes and LaBarnes, on complaint of Rev. Mr. Haskell.

Mrs. Haskell has not been living with Mr. Haskell for some time. With his other wives the old minister says he lived a life of happiness, but he could not say this of the third wife. She was very devoted to Mr. James C. Wilkinson, a real estate agent who left his own wife to live with the clergyman's wife. One day last winter Mr. Wilkinson and Mrs. Haskell went to New York, where, on Feb. 7, they were married in the City Court.

Previous to this Mrs. Haskell had sought divorce from her husband, and the divorce not having been allowed her marriage to Wilkinson constitutes a clear case of bigamy, for which her husband is bound she shall be made to suffer. To make things even worse, Wilkinson's wife has attached Mrs. Haskell's property in the sum of $10,000 in a suit brought against Mrs. Haskell for alienating Mrs. Wilkinson's husband's affections.

SIGNS OF A SHORT SESSION

PARLIAMENT WILL PROBABLY PROROGUE BEFORE EASTER.

The Manitoba Grumbling Case to Come Before the Railway Committee To-day—The C. P. R. Arbitration.

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—Four weeks from to-day Parliament will meet and the usual prognostications of a short session are made, this time, it is thought, with some probability of fulfilment as Easter falls on April 21 and the general impression is that prorogation will take place on the Wednesday or Thursday before, so as to avoid adjournment over the Easter holidays.

The amount of legislation will probably be light. So far only about seventy notices of private bills have been given, including eight applications for divorce, and it is not likely that this number will be greatly increased.

Some important public measures will no doubt be proposed by the Government, but there is no reason to suppose that any of these will be of a nature to provoke long discussion or strong opposition, and there is therefore ground for the belief that the session will be a short one.

The Public Works Department has called for tenders for the erection of an industrial school at St. Paul, Man., tenders to be received up to Jan. 28.

The Railway Committee of the Privy Council will meet to-morrow, when the Manitoba crossing case and the application for approval of the plans of bridges across the Assiniboine River at Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie will come up.

It is understood that the position of Comptroller of Postal Finances, created for the late Cunningham Stewart and rendered vacant by his death, will not be filled. The three branches of accounts, money, orders and savings bank—which were to have been amalgamated under him will remain separate branches under the general supervision of the Deputy Postmaster-General.

Sir John and Lady Macdonald left for Toronto to-night to attend the Board of Trade banquet. They will return Sunday morning.

Sir John A. Macdonald and Hon. J. H. Pope were examined before the Canadian Pacific Railway arbitrators to-day, and gave evidence generally to the effect that the road was to be well built; that there was never any intention that the road should be of the highest class, but that it should be built as cheaply as consistent with safety in running. Mr. Pope said in the course of his examination that he had never heard anything from the Canadian Pacific Railway officials about a claim until 1885, when Mr. VanHorne said something about making a claim, and Mr. Pope told him he had better not try any of his Yankee tricks here, or he might find that he (Pope) could match him.

AMBITIOUS CITY NEWS.

Arrested on a Capias—A Bouquet to Judge Falconbridge—Escape of a Lunatic.

HAMILTON, Jan. 3.—W. A. Wodehouse, who, up to about two months ago, kept a hotel in Stoney Creek, was arrested last night on a capias issued by Judge Sinclair at the instance of Mr. Henry Simon. An action for $164 brought by Simon against Wodehouse for the value of goods supplied is pending, and it is asserted that Wodehouse was going to leave the country. His counsel will apply for his release, which will probably be granted on the furnishing of bail, to appear when the suit comes up for trial.

John Colling, a fisherman who lives in Burlington, was tried this morning by the police magistrate for fishing within certain fishing limits of which John Babcock is the licensee and occupant. The magistrate reserved his decision.

Silas Braithwaite was this morning held for trial at the assizes by Police Magistrate Cahill for stealing a gold watch and chain from Catharine Walsh.

George Shaw, who kicked his 16-year-old servant, Mary Shepherd, and threatened to kill her, was fined $7 by the Police Magistrate this morning.

The notorious Bob Collingwood was this morning sentenced to four months in the Central Prison for begging.

Charles Horsenail, a patient at the asylum, escaped yesterday.

Deputy-Postmaster Colbeck has arrived home from a prolonged visit to the scenes of his youth in England.

Two artillerymen from A Battery arrived to-day from Kingston. They took the deserter, William Harris, back with them this evening.

Miss Jessie Hamilton Baker, a teacher in Hess-street school, died at her home in York, Haldimand county, on Wednesday.

Hugh Wynn died yesterday evening at 6.30 at his daughter's residence (Mrs. Delanty's), 165 MacNab-street north, at the good old age of 86 years. He was born in the County of Roscommon, Ireland, in 1803, and came to this country when 24 years of age.

The legal fraternity of this city will entertain Judge Falconbridge to a dinner on Tuesday night next.

The Inland Revenue receipts at the Hamilton office for the six months ending Dec. 31, 1888, were $223,599, an increase over the corresponding period in 1887 of $50,236.

Fatal Fire Near Morrittton.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 3.—The Lincoln pulp mill, a frame structure, in which was made the coarser grades of paper in connection with the Lincoln paper mills of Merritton, was burned to the ground at 3.30 this morning. The flames spread with such rapidity that the workmen barely escaped with their lives. John Boyle, a casual visitor, dropped into the mill at midnight and fell asleep on a finishing table. His charred and burned remains were found in the ruins this morning. The mill, which is a total loss, was valued with its contents at about $30,000. The insurance amounts to about $6,500.

Suicide at Fargo, Ont.

FARGO, Ont., Jan. 3.—A Mrs. Fraser of Rockford, Ill., who was on a visit to her sister a few miles from here, committed suicide last night by jumping into a small pond. No reason is assigned for the act.

Dunkin Act Repeal.

WINDSOR, Jan. 3.—Voting on the repeal of the Dunkin Act in Essex Center came to a close last night, and the law killing the act was carried by a majority of ten.

The Philadelphia Murder.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—A warrant was to-day issued for the arrest of Mrs. Schoop, the wife of Jacob Schoop the confessed murderer of Antoine Schilling. The warrant was issued on the strength of the sworn statement of a daughter of Schoop in which she declared that her stepmother had frequently urged her father to kill Schilling so that they could get possession of his money. Schoop, the murderer, denies that his wife was in any manner implicated in the murder of Schelling.

The drought in South Australia has been broken by copious rains.

The Vandeleur Evictions.

DUBLIN, Jan. 3.—In the County Court today Judge Kelly confirmed all the sentences imposed upon the persons evicted from the Vandeleur estates who previously had been found guilty of resisting the sheriff and attacking the police. Judge Kelly denounced the Government for its laxity and moderation in dealing with rebellion and said the prisoners each deserved to be imprisoned for five years.

THE AMERICAN DUCHESS.

MARLBORO HAS BECOME AN ATTENTIVE HUSBAND.

His Grace and the Rector—A Reporter Requested to Call Again—Latest Cable Advices.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—A month or so ago there was a squabble between the Duke and Duchess of Marlboro, caused by a visit from Lady Colin Campbell, but it was no more serious than a lover's quarrel. The Duchess thought the Duke was a trifle too attentive to his fair visitor, and Her Grace became jealous and sulked in orthodox fashion. The behaviour of the Duke and Lady Colin was quite proper and above-board. Lady Fannie Majoribanks, the Duke's married sister, and the only one of the family whom he respects or fears, went down to Blenheim, and there was no difficulty in effecting a reconciliation. The Duchess simultaneously recovered her usual health. She does not look very robust now, but she drives about Woodstock buying things and was at a grand ball last week. The townspeople like her, and they say the Duke has become quite an attentive husband.

Blenheim Palace is just now full of the noble members and connections of the great Marlboro family. There is lots of fun going on—shooting parties every day and frequent balls and other gayeties. It must not be supposed that the Duke is at all unpopular in the district. The tradespeople don't worry about his morals, for he has spent very large sums of money among them in modernizing Blenheim. It is estimated that each tradesman has made £500 out of the Duke within the past twelve months.

It is still war to the knife between the rector of Woodstock and the Duke. The rector, from his drawing-room window, has a fine view of Blenheim Park, the entrance to which is only a few feet away. The Duke swears that the reverend gentleman shall not enjoy the prospect longer than can be helped, and His Grace has just arranged to make a plantation of tall fir trees right up against the parson's window. When these have grown to a fair size, not only will the rector's view be stopped, but his drawing-room will have to be lighted artificially at all times of the day.

The mayor of Woodstock complains of the conduct of an American reporter who interviewed him some weeks ago, and in print put into His Worship's mouth words he never uttered. The Duke read the report, indignantly remonstrated with the mayor, declined to listen to explanations, and has ceased to invite him to the ducal shooting parties. The mayor, who is a big man, would like the reporter to call upon him again.

The Mortier Matter.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Sir R. D. Morier, the British Ambassador to Russia has furnished to the press the correspondence that has passed between him and Count Herbert Bismarck in relation to The Cologne Gazette's charges. On Dec. 9 Sir R. D. Morier wrote to Count Herbert inclosing Busaine's written denial of the calumny and appealing to Count Herbert as a gentleman and a man of honor to cause an immediate denial of the charges to be inserted in The North German Gazette. On Dec. 25 Count Bismarck replied that neither the tone or the contents of Morier's letter enabled him to comply with its astonishing demands.

The Papal Question.

ROME, Jan. 3.—The Reforma publishes an interview with Mr. Gladstone in which he repudiates the idea that Ireland under Home Rule would become a mere Papal instrument. In support of his belief he instanced the fact that the Irish had chosen Protestants as their political leaders beginning with Parnell. In regard to the Papal question his views had not changed; he considered the possession of temporal power by the Pope as incompatible with the unity and liberty of Italy, but the person of the Pope was very near his heart and he desired to see him surrounded with all the respect which prestige guarantees for his authority.

The Emin Relief Expedition.

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—The managing committee of the Emin Pasha expedition has received information that Lieutenant Wizman, who it was expected would lead the expedition for the relief of Emin Pasha, has been appointed for special services in connection with the foreign office. The committee has expressed its regret at losing the services of Lieutenant Wizman, but has decided to despatch the expedition at the earliest possible moment. The expedition will be under the command of Dr. Carl Peters, the president of the committee.

Emin not a Captive.

SUAKIM, Jan. 3.—A sergeant who belonged to the old Egyptian army has arrived at Suakim from Khartoum. He states that he left the latter place Nov. 23, and that at that time Emin Pasha had not been captured by the Mahdi's forces, but had repeatedly defeated the dervishes in Bahr-el-Gasel province. Officers at Suakim who are personally acquainted with the sergeant know he is trustworthy, and believe that his information concerning Emin Pasha is true.

They Wish for Peace.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 3.—The Journal de St. Petersburg, referring to the speeches of King Humbert of Italy and Her von Tisza, the Hungarian Prime Minister, in which they predicted that peace would prevail during the coming year, declares that every nation sincerely wishes that the events of 1889 will verify their favorable sagacies.

MR. HASKELL WAS TOO CONFIDING.

Wilkinson Got His Wife and Sharpers Took His Money.

LOWELL, Jan. 4.—Mrs. Mary Long Haskell, one of the principals in the scandal published yesterday, was arraigned in the police court yesterday on a charge of bigamy in having married James Wilkinson in New York in February last. She was richly but quietly attired. Clark Savage called up Mrs. Haskell and told her that she had offended the dignity of the statutes. Mrs. Haskell smiled as her counsel looked encouragingly through his glasses, and when the indictment was read she waived examination and was held in $1000 to the Superior Court. Her reverend husband watched the proceedings with watery eyes. When Mrs. Haskell descended to the guard-room she was met by her three youngest children, who were delighted when she told them they would all go home together. She is still true to Wilkinson, saying he is much persecuted.

Her little ones spoke inquiringly of "Papa Wilkinson," and when asked if he was their papa, one of them, a bright little boy, replied: "Oh, we have two papas now, Papa Haskell and Papa Wilkinson; but we love Papa Wilkinson best." Mrs. Haskell does not seem to be at all agitated, not nearly as much so as Miss Hadley, the mature maiden who fancied herself the sole possessor of Wilkinson's attentions. She threatens to make the case more complicated by bringing a suit for breach of promise against the gay deceiver. It is rumored that the police at Portland have captured the fugitive bigamist. It has been learned that Mr. Haskell has been made the victim of certain real estate sharps in this city, and suits in equity are pending in the Supreme Court to recover money. He is said to have been inveigled by one dealer into paying $2000 for a lot of land in Dubuque County, Ia. Investigation proved it to be assessed at $50. Another sharper got $13,000 out of him for a piece of land in Gray, Me., payed for $65, and upon which the assessors

MATTERS IN MONTREAL.

SINGER TESTIFIES AT THE BENSON INQUEST.

He Denies Any Improper Relations With the Murdered Woman—A Gentlemen's Relations—An Alarming Fire Record.

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—The inquest on the body of the murdered woman Benson was continued to-day, when several witnesses were examined. Singer, who was shot by Benson, denied on oath that he had had any criminal relations with Mrs. Benson. The boy Willie, however, testified that the conduct of Singer and the murdered woman was shameful.

A proceeding which is likely to become a precedent was taken by the Crown and sanctioned by Judge Demeyer, presiding in the Court of Special Sessions to-day, in the case against Elisee J. Barbeu, who is accused of unnatural conduct towards his 13-year-old daughter. The latter when called as a witness stated that she did not know her catechism nor what an oath was. The Court then granted the application of the Crown to put back the case till next week and to give the girl into the care of the nuns who would be requested to instruct her on the responsibility incurred by taking an oath.

A few days ago the authorities of Ste. Therese College thought fit to expel one of their students, whereupon his class-mates petitioned the rector to take him back again. This was refused and then fifteen or sixteen of the scholars left the college. They have since asked for readmission, but have been refused for the present at least.

Hon. James McShane Disqualified.

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—The Court of Review has rendered judgment in the Laprairie local election case, annulling the election and disqualifying Hon. James McShane for personal bribery.

The law provides that anyone found guilty of corrupt practices in elections becomes disqualified for seven years from acting as a voter, a candidate for the Local House, or for any position in the civil service of the province.

Montreal's Police Report.

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—The annual police report shows that the strength of the force is 286. During the year 8155 prisoners were arrested, of whom 1069 were females. Moneys and goods to the value of $51,077 were recovered. The number of licensed taverns is 518, an increase of 69; unlicensed taverns 19, a decrease of 4. There are 86 houses of ill-fame in the city with 189 inmates. There were 2037 cases tried by the Recorder for infraction of bylaws.

The Ice Palace.

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—The preparatory work for the construction of the ice palace was commenced yesterday morning on Dominion-square. A lot of blocks of ice 12 inches in thickness were hauled up to the square this morning.

An Alarming Fire Record.

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—In 1888 there were 63 more fires in this city than there were in 1887. In 1887 there were 125 more than there were in 1886; in 1886 there were 76 more than in 1885.

SILVER IN YORK STATE.

The Inhabitants of Glen Falls Think They Will Strike It Rich.

GLEN FALLS, Jan. 4.—Michael O'Reilly, who has spent several years in the mining regions of the West, visited the new mine here a few days ago. He declares that nowhere east of Colorado is there such an immense quantity of silver-bearing rock. Even in the stone walls there are traces of silver, he says, and all the region round about is rich in mineral deposits.

Marritt Ames, an experienced mineralogist, has made two chemical assays. His first assay was from a piece of feldspar, containing carbonate of copper, from which he obtained a bead of silver. This Mr. Ames says he has no doubt carries gold, but two small a bead for a test. The other assay was from magnesian lime rock, which carries the sulphide of silver. From this he also obtained a bead of silver. Mr. Ames is now treating a large quantity of the rock, and when his assay is completed he will be able to report as to gold. An assay is also being made in New York.

Bookkeeper, Actress and $15,000 Missing.

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—Bookkeeper Henry G. Stickney has left town and it is now known that he stole about $16,000 of the money of the Chelsea Salt Company. Last night it was learned that he had run away in company with a variety actress. He leaves a wife and two children.

Stickney was a cool villain. On Saturday he asked Mr. Davenport, a member of the firm, to draw a check for a friend who wished to send it through the mails. The amount he said was $10. Mr. Davenport unhesitatingly signed his name to a blank check and turned it over to Stickney. Monday Stickney did not appear at the office. Suspicion was aroused and an investigation of the books began. Inquiry at the firm's bank showed that the check supposed to have been drawn for $10 had actually been drawn for $3595 and that the money had been paid to Stickney. A second discovery was the filling out of a $1500 check on a previous occasion, which was collected in the same manner. When the books were thoroughly examined it was found that they were "doctored" and that the supposedly honest bookkeeper had been robbing the firm right along, his peculations now amounting to about $14,000 or $15,000.

Phonographic Compliments.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—On New Year's day the lord mayor of London received seasonable congratulations from the mayor of New York through one of Edison's phonographs. Lord Mayor Whitehead immediately made the following reply, and forwarded it to New York by mail: "The lord mayor of London has received with much pleasure the phonograph message of good will from the mayor of New York, and most heartily reciprocates the friendly feelings therein expressed. He earnestly trusts that the friendship which has so long existed between the two great English-speaking communities may last for all time, and that the only rivalry between them may be in the development of education, art, science and manufactures, with the common object of increasing the well-being and happiness of the vast populations of the United States and the British empire. The lord mayor spent a few days in New York seven years ago, and he has not forgotten the evidence of prosperity and wealth which that great city then exhibited, and which he hears has gone on increasing to a marvelous extent."

Anxiety for the Chancellor.

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—Great anxiety is felt regarding Prince Bismarck's health. The Chancellor has received 5000 telegrams expressing sympathy. He has been ordered to remain in strict repose and not to go to Berlin. Count Herbert Bismarck remains at Friedrichsruhe.

Terrible Disaster.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 3.—A terrible disaster has happened at Sabastuchi near Tiflis. A train became blocked in an immense snowdrift and before aid could be sent fourteen of the passengers perished from the intense cold and twenty others were badly frostbitten. A relief party which started out to rescue the imperilled passengers lost their way and died in the

The Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 4, 1889.

The following paragraph from the Montreal Gazette, an ultra Conservative journal tinctured and saturated with Toryism, from title to tail piece, is certainly high praise. The Gazette says:—"It is an awful mistake to estimate a man by his outside size. There is Mr. Mowat, for instance. They call him 'Little Oi,' but, judging from his ability to win law suits, he is one of the biggest men in the seven Provinces."

Such as Hon. Mr. Mowat is as a lawyer, such is he as a statesman. In his combined capacities as lawyer and statesman—as Premier of Ontario, he has won victory after victory in the interests of this province, whose welfare, for nearly seventeen years, he has vigilantly looked after. The bitterest opponents of Hon. Mr. Mowat, while disagreeing with him on details of administration, cannot but regard him as a thoroughly trustworthy, staunch and loyal friend of Ontario—true to its interest, and alive to the promotion of its welfare. In the administration of a great trust there are instances where individual and exceptional interests must yield precedence to considerations of the general good. Hon. Mr. Mowat's past career has proven him abundantly worthy of the trust he has discharged so long, and there is no reason to anticipate a withdrawal of the public confidence in future, so long as the life of Ontario's veteran Premier is preserved to his native province.

When Col. Rhodes was appointed Minister of Agriculture for Quebec, even Conservative opponents of the Government eulogized both the personnel of the appointment and the graceful recognition implied by it of the rights of the Protestant minority in Quebec to representation in the Cabinet. Yet, with true Tory partisan consistency, the Conservatives moved Heaven and earth to prevent Col. Rhodes' return, but in spite of that opposition he wrested an important constituency from the Conservative opposition. The Montreal Herald says, in announcing the new Minister's visit to Montreal:—

"The new Minister deserves, and doubtless will receive, a hearty welcome at the hands of the Liberals of Montreal, not only on account of his high character and estimable personal qualities, but also on account of his well-earned prestige as a Minister of the Crown and representative of the Protestant minority."

Symptoms of Catarrh

Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profused, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has an nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from Nasal Catarrh. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. TORONTO TOPICS.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury in the Lilly Charlton Case.

TORONTO, Jan. 4.—At the session last night of the South Oxford Farmers' Institute, Dr. McKay, M.P.P., delivered a lecture on "Canada Our Country." The speaker said that in proportion to population Canada is foremost in the extent and magnitude of her public works: her network of railways from the Atlantic to the Pacific, her canal systems, her marine and shipping facilities—all tended to make her a great competitor for the world's commerce.

Prof. J. Hayes Panton of the Agricultural College, Guelph, gave a lecture on the "Formation of Soils." Mr. McMillan, M. P. for South Huron, delivered a stirring lecture on "Why Boys Leave the Farm."

At this morning's session Mr. Justus Cohoe read a paper on "Seeding for Meadow and Pasture Lands." He placed red clover as first in importance and timothy second. Alsike clover was much in favor and he would recommend it to all who had never raised it. The paper was followed by an interesting discussion, after which Prof. Panton made an address on "The Soil and its Fertility."

At the afternoon session Mr. George Rice read a paper on "Small Leakages that Result in Large Losses with a Remedy Therefor."

Mr. McMillan delivered an address on "Preparation of the Soil," which was followed by a general discussion; S. P. Brown talked about "Dairying"; and Prof. Panton about "Parasite Plants." A circular was read concerning a proposed joint stock company, to be composed of farmers, for the manufacture of binding twine, and Mr. John Topham gave an address on "Mutual Farm Insurance."

THE Q. TROUBLE.

A Conference Held Yesterday, and a Compromise Probable.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—A brief conference was held this morning between the officials of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road and the committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. No conclusion was reached.

Chairman Cavener says the ultimatum of the Brotherhood has been laid before President Perkins of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road, who is in Boston, and that his decision was expected by telegraph this morning. As it did not come the Conference took a recess.

This evening the strike was admitted by both parties to the controversy to be practically settled. The conference to-day between the officers of the road and the committee of nine resulted in an amicable agreement on nearly all the points at issue, and it is confidently expected that a complete understanding will be reached to-morrow morning. The Times to-morrow will say: "It is understood that by the terms of the agreement the old Q engineers will be placed again upon a square footing instead of being blacklisted by nearly all the railroads in the country. The Burlington itself will set the example by giving the strikers employment in preference to others whenever vacancies occur and by burying completely out of sight the hatchet which was dug up 10 months ago."

Chief Arthur Doubts.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 3.—Chief Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, doubts whether Mr. Cavener ever made the statement attributed to him in a Chicago despatch last night.

A Terrible Fight.

COLUMBIA, S.C., Jan. 3.—James Sistrunk and John and Sam Green, negro desperadoes, attempted Tuesday night to rob and murder the family of G. K. Birt, a large planter in Barnwell county. After robbing the smoke house and store-room, Sistrunk gained admittance to the bedroom of Senora Birt, 17 years of age, and attempted to assault her. A severe fight ensued between the negro and the father and daughter, the latter being reinforced by two large fox hounds. The father and daughter were completely exhausted and Miss Birt was badly injured. The hounds set upon the negro and in a few minutes had torn and lacerated his legs from the hips down, but he was slowly making his escape when Miss Birt struck him with a piece of board, which ended the fight. The negro was arrested and jailed.

The Mexican Government has taken steps to punish the originator of the "clerical ring" hoax, which it is learned was first published in El Diario del Pueblo of Chihuahua.

Piles! Piles! Bleeding Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

For the Ladies

It is not necessary to buy corn cures. Men and women should remember that Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is the only safe, sure, and painless corn remover extant. It does its work quickly and with certainty. See that the signature N. C. Polson & Co., appears on each bottle. Beware of poisonous imitations. 64w1

A Valuable Discovery.

F. P. Tanner, of Nestleton, Ont., says he has not only found B.B.B. a sure cure for Dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system that has ever been taken. B.B.B. is the great system regulator. 2w1d

Presence of mind.

Presence of mind is good in a case of accidents and emergencies, and when coupled with Hagyard's Yellow Oil will often save life. Yellow Oil cures all painful injuries, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, rheumatic and neuralgic pains and is in fact a handy and reliable surgical aid. 2w1d

Signatures accounts proven.

Mr. Hall said the list of liabilities handed him by Mr. Menzies and as corrected by the statement of claims so far as he had them, amounted to $23,000. The stock amounted to $10,006, and there were book debts to the amount of $4,050, but a great many of the accounts were bad.

Mr. Wood asked for a statement of the assets, and Mr. Moore presented the following:—

ASSETS.

Lots 1 and 2, east of George street, and north of Dublin street, Peterborough.

South 60 feet of lot 1, east of George and south of Edinburgh street.

Part of lot 7, west of George and north of Dublin street, quarter acre.

Lot 18, con. 2, Douro.

Lot 18, con. 11, Chandos.

Lots 18, 19 and 20, con. 10, Chandos.

Lot 25, west main street, Mount Forest, Ont.

Lot 4, con. 6, Proton.

Lot 194, con. 3, Proton.

Lot 20, con. 3, Digby.

Lots 100 and 101, south side of Mark street Ashburnham.

Part of lot 12, west of George and north of Brock street, a lease hold.

Mr. Moore said all the real estate still remained in their hands, except what was called the Brock street lot, which has been sold.

Mr. Wood—Has this been sold since the assignment.

Mr. Moore—No, but it was not interested in any way.

Mr. Wood—Why?

Mr. Moore—Because it was ours; it is not Mr. Menzies' at all.

Mr. Wood—How is it "ours"?

Mr. Moore—It was Mr. Davidson's and mine.

Mr. Wood—What was it sold for?

Mr. Moore—For $1000.

Mr. Wood—What was against it?

Mr. Moore—I could not tell you. There were two or three mortgages on it and other property.

Mr. Wood—Who was the purchaser?

Mr. Moore—Mr. C. W. Sawers. We sold it for over $100 more than it was valued.

Mr. Wood—Does the real estate all stand in the names of Mr. Davidson and yourself?

Mr. Moore—Yes, the whole of it.

Sheriff Hall—There's nothing in Mr. Menzies' name at all.

In reply to questions, Mr. Moore said another lot on Aylmer street, lot 10 on plan 2, was being negotiated for sale to Mr. W. S. Cooks, painter, for $1,000 also.

Mr. Wood—What about the summer residence? I don't see it here.

Mr. Moore—I understand it is in Mrs. Menzies' name.

Mr. Wood—Is that a fact, Mr. Menzies?

Mr. Menzies—Yes, sir, that's so.

Mr. Edmison—What about the assets outside of the real estate?

Sheriff Hall—The stock is valued at $10,000.

Mr. Edmison—And what are the proceeds of sales since Mr. Hurley first went into possession?

The statements of sales were produced The first statement, from 19th November to the 28th, showed cash on hand of $100.55, and with the sales totalled $246 00, which had all been paid out except $43.55. In the next statement that was carried forward, and with the sales to Dec 5th, amounted to $238.00. of which all had been paid out except $34.78, which was on hand at the date of assignment, December 17th. Since the assignment the sales had amounted to about $200 (including the $34.78) over expenses.

Mr. Wood called for a statement of the mortgages on the real estate.

Mr. Moore replied that they were mixed up considerably. Mr. Menzies bought property in Proton and Mount Forest which was all mortgaged to the extent of $1,800. He had paid no interest on them since and they didn't know just how the property stood.

Mr. Menzies said he bought the properties over 5 years ago, and they cost him well on to $4,000.

Mr. Moore explained how Mr. Menzies came to make the purchase. A Mr. Kennedy was contractor on the C.P.R., and Mr. Menzies advanced him about $1,500 or $2,000. Kennedy failed, and Mr. Menzies took over this property, by deed of conveyance, to get back his money. Robinson & Robinson, of London, held mortgages on the lots, and Mr. Menzies had them transferred to him.

Mr. Menzies—I paid $1700 to Robinson & Robinson over and above what I gave Kennedy.

Mr. Moore—The $1000 we received from the Brock street lot we used to pay prior mortgages on other properties included in this conveyance. There is a mortgage to John M. Smith of Montreal for $4500; that is on the homestead alone, with interest paid to December 1st. last. There are two mortgages to Mr. S. S. Davidson of $4950, which covers the homestead and other lots; one to Mr. Clutworthy on the 60 feet south of Edinburgh street and east of George street, amounting to $550, and 8 months interest at 7 per cent due on it—$600 in round figures; one to Mr. W. H. Moore for $700, with about $25 interest in arrear, governing the homestead and also the Davidson lot on Dublin street. Then there was $1000 advanced by Messrs. Moore and Davidson to Mr. Menzies on 4th May last, covering everything. These did not include mortgages on land in Grey at all. There was another mortgage on the lot in Digby, but the land was not worth what stood against it.

Mr. Wood—Was that $1000 applied on these mortgages?

Mr. Moore—It was applied on the payment of two mortgages, which were discharged. The Midland Loan Company and Mr. John Burnham had mortgages on property, and payment of these and the interest on the John M. Smith mortgage ate up the $1000 excepting a few small items.

The mortgages on property in Proton were to the amounts of $750 $475, $650, and $400. This, Mr. Moore said, made the total mortgages $14,275 This amount covered interest to date and in it the $1000 was credited.

Mr. Wood—Has any valuation of the properties been made?

Mr. Moore—No.

Mr. Edwards—Did this loan of Davidson and Moore's include any lands that were not already mortgaged?

Mr. Moore—No, it did not.

Mr. Edmison—Mr. Sheriff, have you gone over the books?

Sheriff Hall—Yes.

Mr. Edmison—Can you throw any light upon where the losses have been sustained?

Sheriff Hall—You will have to ask Mr. Menzies that, the books don't show it.

[The books being called for were produced.]

Mr. Wood—How was the stock taken?

Sheriff Hall—The stock was taken at cost price.

The books were passed around for examination. Mr. Wood and Mr. Edmison objected that they were only for the past year. They wanted to see the books of past years, to show how the liabilities were incurred in past years.

Mr. Edmison—The books ought to show where these liabilities were incurred. It is due the creditors that Mr. Menzies showed all his books. I'll be plain about this matter. There is a general impression among the creditors that Mr. Menzies has money now, if he has not made way with it.

Mr. Deyell—Why shouldn't we think it when he told us so?

Mr. Edmison—So far as I understand it the first of Mr. Menzies indebtedness was about the time he built his dwelling house and the mortgage was put on to cover the indebtedness of $4,500. Is that the same mortgage that's on it now?

Mr. Menzies—Yes.

Mr. Edmison—At that time that was the only actual indebtedness you had?

Mr. Menzies—No, I had a lot of other debts beside that.

Mr. Wood—How do you get at your liabilities now? Where did you get this list?

Mr. Moore—It came from the creditors.

Mr. Wood—Mr. Menzies, have you no books to show your debts?

Mr. Menzies—No, sir.

Mr. Wood—I don't believe you. Does your ledger show nothing?

Mr. Menzies—Not accurately.

One of the books was examined by Mr. Wood, who said it resembled a daily cash book. He asked Mr. Menzies if the items were never posted out of it into the ledger, and the latter replied that they never were. The depositors had their deposit receipts and they showed amounts due them.

Mr. Edmison—This shows your deposits. Where are your payments? Didn't you keep track of all your payments in a book?

Mr. Menzies—No, sir, they were never entered in a book. I sometimes endorsed the amounts on the backs of deposit receipts.

A bundle of checks were produced for examination.

Mr. Wood thought he detected a smile on Mr. Menzies' face during this proceeding, and said to him that there was nothing amusing in this to the creditors, though there might be to him.

Mr. Menzies replied that he did not think it amusing, but rather no one felt more sorry than himself. "And what's more," he added, "if some of the gentlemen who are talking so much here to-day had paid me there would not have been any occasion for this thing at all."

Mr. Deyell—Well, if they don't pay you you have them to your credit. Why don't you make them pay?

Mr. Menzies—Well, we will in time.

Mr. Wood—Who are these gentlemen you refer to?

Mr. Menzies—I am not saying anything; but some of these same men are very wide-mouthed to-day.

Mr. Wood—Do you mean me? I owe you nothing?

Mr. Dumble—In looking over these claims I have been astonished to see notes drawing 8 per cent. for the last 12 years. Here is one from John M. Smith, of Montreal.

Mr. Deyell—Would you be astonished to hear that Mr. Menzies lent money at 15 per cent?

Mr. Dumble—Well, did he? I find that those men who get high interest don't make any money after all.

Mr. Webster—One gentleman in Norwood told me he paid Mr. Menzies 25 per cent. for a long time for discounting his notes. That was Mr. John Finlay.

Mr. Dumble—I thought Mr. Menzies was a rich man and I am surprised to find these things.

Mr. Deyell—Why don't he show what he owes?

Mr. Dumble—The books are there, but they are very badly kept.

The Chairman asked the meeting to appoint assignees and inspectors. On motion, Mr. Sheriff Hall was continued as assignee to the creditors.

In reply to Mr. Webster, Mr. Menzies said the stock was taken before the last meeting of the creditors by themselves, when they valued it at $14,000. Stock had since been taken by a Toronto expert, who valued it at $10,000, the present value.

Three inspectors were appointed—Mr. W. D. Taylor, one of the creditors, and Messrs. E. Pearse and W. J. Hall.

The Chairman stated they would next have to arrange for the sale of the stock, and asked Mr. Menzies if all his personal property was in the store.

Mr. Menzies—Yes sir.

There was some discussion as to whether the stock should be sold by auction or otherwise. Mr. Wood enquired about the lease of the store, in case a purchaser should wish to continue the business.

Mr. Menzies—My wife takes it from the first of February next.

Mr. Wood—For you to continue there in business?

Mr. Menzies—I don't know, sir.

Mr. Webster—It's all well fixed.

Mr. Wood—You didn't give any notice that you were going to leave the store.

Mr. Menzies—No.

Mr. Wood—So as a matter of fact you have the store as long as you wish?

Mr. Menzies—No; the lease expired when I assigned.

Mr. Wood—Was the transfer made to Mrs. Menzies before your insolvency?

Mr. Menzies—Yes, sir.

After some further discussion Mr. Taylor moved, seconded by Mr. John Green, that the stock be advertised by the assignees in such newspapers as the inspectors advise, to be sold by auction en bloc at so much on the dollar as per inventory on Friday, 18th Jan., at the court house at 2 o'clock p.m.

Mr. Dumble, on behalf of Mrs. Menzies, undertook to give anyone buying the stock till 15th February to remove it.

There was a discussion about the lease. Mr. Wood suggested that Mrs. Menzies should give up the lease, as Mr. Menzies had been instrumental in getting it for her.

Mr. Menzies—I didn't procure it for my wife; she got it herself.

Mr. Wood—Probably your creditors will believe that.

Next the question of the disposal of book debts and real estate came up.

Mr. Webster advocated a thorough examination into the books to discover, if possible where the money went to, and moved, seconded by Mr. Reynolds, that the inspectors examine into the books for the past five years, and report to the creditors.

Mr. Deyell and others thought an examination of Mr. Menzies on oath would be more productive, and Mr. Webster then moved, seconded by Mr. Deyell, that the inspectors be authorized to engage Toronto counsel to examine Mr. Menzies and others, in connection with winding up the estate, if they deem it advisable.—Carried.

There was some further talk on this subject, a few not favoring the idea of going to such an expense, but Mr. Reynolds said there was an impression that there was a feeling of sympathy for Mr. Menzies among the legal gentlemen of the town. Mr. Edmison queried if the Toronto council would have power to examine Mr. Menzies.

Finally the meeting adjourned till the day of the sale.

Drunk When he Did it.

James McCuaig, of Picton, Obtains Goods Under False Pretences, and Pleads Drunkenness as an Excuse.

Yesterday afternoon a middle aged and respectably dressed man entered Fairweather's fur store, and purchased a dogskin coat and cap, valued at $28. He put the articles on his person, and in payment presented a check on the Ontario bank for $28, made out to the order of James McCuaig. The check was not endorsed, nor was the signature (his mark,) witnessed by anyone. The clerk, in the absence of Mr. Fairweather, declined to accept the check, but the stranger declaring that he had funds in the bank, he ran over to the bank to ascertain, and in his absence McCuaig unceremoniously left the store. The police were notified, and Mr. Fairweather traced the fellow to his boarding house on Hunter street, where he was soon after arrested by P.C. Adams. McCuaig was awaiting the arrival of a horse and buggy which he had hired to drive to Hastings. He was wearing the fur coat and cap when arrested

Thursday morning the prisoner was brought before the magistrate, and Mr. Moore, his counsel, urged that as the check had been accepted they could not prosecute him; and further stated in the prisoner's behalf, that he was drunk at the time and did not really know what he was doing.

Mr. Wood, C.C.A., asked an enlargement to serve witnesses. The magistrate granted it for one week, as he wished to make inquiries concerning the prisoner, who says he is a carpenter by trade and lives near Picton, Ont., where it is said he is respectably connected. He has been about town for a week past, drinking heavily, and he appeared to be all broken up as a result of his debauch. It seems he has been systematically "beating" several parties. When Mr. Fairweather cornered him at the boarding house and offered to let him off if he returned the goods, his landlady put in her claim for a boardbill that was due. Mr. Fairweather then telephoned the police and McCuaig was arrested.

According to reports McCuaig beat his way ever since he came to town, and owed board and whiskey bills at other hotels. He also carried a number of checks similar to the one presented at Fairweather's, but it is not known if he passed any others off. The check in question was drawn out for him by the book-keeper in T. Kelly's store.

The Refund Arrives.

Town Clerk Macdonald to-day received from the Ontario Government a check for $108.09, the amount of the town's expenses in the Greenfield extradition case. It will be remembered some time ago the town was called upon to forward $125 to the government in this connection, and there was considerable capital sought to be made out of the asserted disposition of the provincial government to throw burdens upon the town; but to-day's disclosures show that the town's actual expense in connection with the extradition of this notorious felon was only $17.

C. M. B. A. Meeting Postponed.

The regular meeting of the C.M.B.A., that was to be held this (Friday) evening is postponed for one week.

An Hotel House-Warming.

Mr. Wm. Snowden's New Charlotte Street Hotel Opened for Business.

Last night the opening of Mr. Wm. Snowden's fine new hotel on Charlotte street was celebrated. This being the surrending season of the Fire Brigade Band, Mr. Snowden decided to recognize their attentions by entertaining them at an oyster supper in his new hotel, and accordingly last night was the night selected, and a few other guests, including several representative, public and business men were invited. In honor of the occasion, the hotel building was, during the day, decked with an immense Union Jack in front of it, and in the evening a large number of Chinese lanterns were suspended from the second and third story balconies. About 9 o'clock the Band arrived and after playing in the main hall several of their finely performed selections, repaired to the beautiful dining hall, where the tables were beautifully laid out, presenting the neat, clean, bright attractive appearance, characteristic of Snowden House tables, brightened on the occasion by the presence of new table silver throughout. After enjoying a delightful repast served in the best of styles, an informal toast list was gone through with. Mayor Stevenson, M.P., occupied the chair, having associated with him Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., while Mr. T. Rutherford, contractor of the new building, occupied the vice-chair.

The first toast was the "Queen and Royal Family," followed by the "Governor General and House of Commons." To this toast Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M.P. responded in a brief speech.

"The Lieut.-Governor and Legislative Assembly of Ontario," brought a brief address from Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P.

"The Mayor and Corporation" was recognised by Mr. Stevenson, who took occasion to refer to the progress of the town, its advancement in manufactures and other respects. He also gave the assurance that within a short time a large manufacturing establishment, with which he was negotiating, would be in operation in the town, and that too without any bonus (applause).

"The Army, Navy and Volunteers," brought a neat speech from Lieut. Kent, of C troop of Cavalry. The toast of "The Fire Brigade Band," was responded to by bandmaster Miller and Mr. Geo. Pearce.

The toast of "Our Mercantile and Agricultural interests" brought neat responses from Mr. Jos. Barnard, ex Reeve of Monaghan, Mr. Charles Porter, of Porter Bros., and Mr. J. H. Irving, the latter, however, substituting a song, "John Barleycorn," well performed, his closing cadenza, which gave an unexpected idea of the compass of his tenor voice, provoking a hearty encore.

"Our Host and Hostess" responded to by Mr. Snowden and Mr. T. Rutherford, brought the evening to a close—with the enthusiastic singing of "God Save the Queen."

In the course of the brief speeches highly eulogistic reference was made especially by Messrs Stevenson and Stratton, to the excellence of the hotel building, the excellence of its arrangement and appointments, its convenience to the railway stations, etc.

At an early hour the guests separated, highly pleased with Mr. Snowden's hospitality.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE NEW BUILDING.

The new building is 50x65, four stories high including basement (with 8½ feet ceilings and finished complete). The material is red brick, laid for tuck-pointing, which, however, cannot be done till spring. The facade of the building presents a very fine appearance. It is broken by two roomy balconies, and abundantly lighted, and a recessed porch leads to the main entrance doors. The building is set back about 15 feet from the pavement and this space has been neatly sodded, and in spring will be adorned with flowering shrubs and flower plots. The kitchen annex in the rear, two stories in height, is 22x35, and the outbuildings, sheds, stables, with abundant yard room, make the rear premises equal to any in town.

The beauty of the interior is the large and roomy nature of the halls. The main hall on the first floor is thirteen feet wide and the halls on the other floors, running the whole length of the building, are 11 feet in width. The first floor contains on the left the large, well-lighted, cheery dining room, connected, by means of the pantry and carving room, with the kitchen in the rear. On the right of the main hall is the public reading room, and next that the office, opening from the hall by an arch. In rear of that is the cloak room. Opening from the rear end of the hall on the right is the bar, and opening from that is a small bar parlour. The second and third stories contain the ladies' parlour, smoking room opening on balcony and bedrooms. The second story also contains the ladies' washing, bath and toilet rooms fitted up in the completest style and served with city water. The bedrooms are large, well lighted and well furnished. There are thirty bedrooms available for use of guests. The stairways are excellent, wide, easy and of oak, as are all the floors of the first story. The lighting arrangements are perfect. Every room has outside light and gas is supplied the whole building. The heating is done by means of a hot air furnace in the basement and every part of the house is kept at a uniform and comfortable heat. The basement contains besides, commercial rooms, the larger available, if necessary, for a billiard room. Here also are situated the gentlemen's wash rooms, etc. In fine, throughout the whole building everything is arranged in the very best manner, and no architect could have devised a brighter, cheerier and more comfortable hotel. Mr. T. Rutherford, the contractor, carried out Mr. Snowden's ideas of what a hotel should be, and he deserves congratulations on his success. Mr. Snowden has had large experience and earned a high reputation for keeping a first class, clean, neat, attractive, comfortable, home-like hotel, and his new hotel building will, no doubt, be conducted on the same principles; and win a large patronage from the travelling public and the people of the town and county.

Mr. Waram, at the time, and how the fire originated with no one around the house is a mystery. Mrs. Truesdale lost all her household property. The building was one of the oldest in Peterborough, and was formerly occupied by Wm. Dumble, tailor. It was one of the primitive log houses that were first built here, but had been plastered over and given a more modern appearance. Loss $600, insured for $300.

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Until the Skin was Raw. Body Covered with Scales like Spots of Mortar. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until so a time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed, meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was common and peculiar. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babies with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

BOARD OF TRADE BANQUET

A GREAT FESTAL OCCASION AT ONTARIO'S CAPITAL.

Over 600 Guests Present—Loyal and Eloquent Speeches by Eminent Gentlemen—The Toasts and Responses.

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—The Board of Trade's banquet at the Horticultural Pavilion last night proved to be the largest public dinner that has ever been held in Toronto. Over 600 gentlemen sat down at the eight tables that filled the ground floor of the building. Among these were representatives of all the branches of trade and industry, with distinguished members of the legal, medical and other professions. The guests' table occupied a commanding position on the stage. The galleries were filled with ladies and gentlemen fashionably attired, every available seat having an occupant. In the top gallery Prof. Torrington led an orchestra of sixty performers, who played varied selections while the banquet was in progress. The decorations were elegant. An abundance of choice flowers and evergreens decked the stage in beauty, and nicely designed mottoes and decorations set off the different parts of the building to perfection. The dinner began at 7.30 and was over by midnight.

At the guests' table were seated W. D. Matthews (President), the Governor-General, Sir John A. Macdonald, Hon. O. Mowat, Sir Frederick Middleton, E. F. Clarke, M.P.P., Hon. G. W. Ross, D. R. Wilkie, Hon. G. E. Foster, J. I. Davidson, Hon. Capt. Colville, A.D.C., John Leys, M.P.P., Lieut.-Col. F. C. Denison, M.P., H. E. Clarke, M.P.P., Hon. George Drummond, W. C. Van Horne, Hon. John Macdonald, John Small, M. P., Hon. A. M. Ross, Sir John Lister Kaye and Capt. J. B. Fairgrieve.

Lady Stanley accompanied by Mrs. Colville, and Lady Macdonald accompanied by Mrs. Fitzgibbon occupied the front gallery seat, facing the stage. They were loudly cheered on entering the building about 9 o'clock.

Speaking began about 9.30 and continued till midnight. Addresses were made by the Governor-General, Sir John Macdonald, Hon. G. E. Foster, Hon. O. Mowat, W. C. Van Horne, Senator Macdonald, Sir Fred Middleton, Mayor Clarke and Hon. Geo. Drummond. The speeches were all of the loyal and patriotic order and both Mr. Mowat and Sir John scouted the annexation sentiment amid the loud applause of the whole house.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S SPEECH.

Lord Stanley responded to the toast of "The Governor-General of Canada." His Excellency referred to the benefits of Boards of Trade, to the growth of Canadian commerce and alluded to our relations with the United States. He said that it was his wish, of which he had spoken in the past and of which he trusted on many occasions to speak in the future, that our guiding principle throughout this great country may be the Constitution above all. His Excellency continued:

Unity is strength. I do not say that in a vast Dominion amongst its thousands you will ever produce identity of feeling, and I think those who wish it most, who wish that on questions of emergency there should be entire unity, are also those who are willing and anxious to respect the feelings of those who desire to preserve the proudest traditions of their race, who look back with satisfaction to their own history, but who are on that ground no less capable, honest and law-abiding citizens than any of those whom I have the honor of addressing.

In an eloquent speech which was addressed, I think by Lord Dufferin, to an audience at Winnipeg he spoke of the great Northwest, then only opening out, and he describes in language which I can only feebly approach the feeling of almost amazement with which the personified Dominion viewed the apparitions from what had been considered her utmost boundaries into a new world which lay before her and to which the old portion seemed to be only the antechamber. Since that time much progress has been made. To make the most of such a heritage as this is no light task. Bodies such as yours supply information, pushing trade, using resources which exist, can perform a great and noble task; and corresponding to the ability which you possess so is the responsibility great upon you if you neglect your occasion. Gentlemen, I trust that in years to come, long after we have passed from this scene, there may arise in the Dominion a people even greater and nobler than that which exists and may populate this vast Dominion from shore to shore and who, whether it be on the Atlantic or on the Pacific side, will be known as those who are a foremost in the cause of freedom and of commerce, who are themselves the forerunners and at once the representatives of a great, happy and prosperous people. [Great applause.]

THE DOMINION'S GREATNESS.

The toast of "The Commercial, Manufacturing and Agricultural Interests of Canada" was replied to by Hon. G. E. Foster, Minister of Finance, who said:

At the eastern and western entrances of this country are two magnificent graving docks which have cost the government 2 million dollars, ready for the use and service of the growing trade of the country. It was only a few years ago that no vessel of over 8 feet draught could reach Montreal. Next season the deepest vessels of the sea will be able to make their way between Quebec and Montreal, vessels with a draught of 27 feet. The contracts have already been let for the building of a Canadian canal at Sault Ste. Marie—[applause]—which will complete that chain of navigation, which will be a helpful competitor in times of perfect peace, and if ever the time of imperfect peace supervenes, be a guarantee of the integrity and independence of our own commerce. [Applause.]

And so has Canada developed in her railways. Think of the condition of this country in 1867. The Maritime Provinces had no communication with Ontario and Quebec except by water in summer and by a foreign country in winter; Quebec and Ontario cut off from the Northwest, except through a foreign territory, and British Columbia separated from her fellow sisters by what appeared to be impassable mountains. What have we to-day? Commencing at Prince Edward Island, or St. John, we have lines which make their way to Quebec, there connecting with the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific, which, through their branches, reach every part of the two great middle provinces, and which send their lines over the prairies and through the mountains until they come to the ships of the Pacific with their wealthy traffic from the great East. [Applause.] All this has cost money, and if you foot up the cost of the St. Lawrence improvements, the canals and railways, as far as the Government has borne them, you will find is amount to some 200 millions.

The speaker quoted figures to show how largely the commerce of the country had grown so that it now occupied the proud position of being the fifth maritime country of the world.

There are three things, said the hon. gentleman, which I think ought to be accomplished in our country. In the first place it ought to be that no Canadian subject holding a bill from any authorized bank in Canada, whether in Nova Scotia, Prince Edward, or British Columbia, should be charged discount upon that bill in any part of the Dominion. [Hear, hear and applause.]

I believe again it is for our commercial as well as national interests that every man who holds a bill from every authorised bank should have no more fear of that bill being liable to any discount or depreciation than if he held the gold which was its equivalent in his hands—[applause]—and if you will allow me I will say that I believe at present the bankers themselves hold the key to this position, and by united action can bring about both these things. The third element of a successful banking system is that which Canada enjoys to a very large extent, the facility of expansion, when expansion is needed, and the facility of contracting the circulation when the business requirements of the country did not require much circulation.

The Government has pledged itself and is to-day considering a plan by which I confidently hope that a service will ultimately be obtained from England to this country, as good, as capable and as swift as any other Atlantic line to-day. [Hear, hear and applause.]

Finally I cannot have sympathy and I cannot ask any Canadian to have sympathy with those who are prepared to sacrifice the traditions of the past, the historic links which bind us to him so full of glory and grandeur. [Loud applause.]

Gen. Van Horne, who also spoke to the toast, expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him as being called upon to speak a second time at the annual dinner of the Toronto Board of Trade. He said:

Four or five years ago the commerce of Canada was bounded on the west by the great lakes; now it has no bounds in that direction. It extends to the Pacific and beyond the Pacific to Asia. It has increased more in four years than any other country has widened in four times four years. I cannot give you a better idea of this rapid extension of trade than by telling you what I saw at Vancouver. There at one time were five great ocean steamships receiving and discharging cargo on three new docks; were great piles of merchandise awaiting shipment eastward. But better than all were the great quantities of cottons from Halifax and machinery from Toronto consigned to Honor Kong and other far eastern points. I would not try to describe the future of the commerce of Canada any more; I fear would have attempted to paint the picture I have just described on the wharves at Vancouver.

The arteries of trade—the railways—are extending day by day throughout the country and are opening up to us new markets for our produce, manufactures and trade. Our cities are growing with marvelous rapidity. The tide of emigration has been diverted to our own Northwest—[applause]—where it adds to the wealth of the country instead of impeding it. This stream of emigration is rapidly increasing and we see nothing in the conditions surrounding us that does not point to a great prosperity. But notwithstanding much that has been done some things remain to be done. [Hear, hear.] I was very glad to hear what my friend the previous speaker told you about the intentions of the Government regarding an Atlantic steamship service. [Hear, hear.] We have been content up to this time to depend upon our neighbors—to use our neighbors' railways, our neighbors' seaports and our neighbors' steamships whenever we had occasion to cross the Atlantic. We have let them carry our mails and much of our freight and we have not used as we should have done the great geographical advantages nature has given us. This is not consistent with the enterprise of Canada to-day. [Hear, hear.] National pride is a first essential to national existence. It is the very foundation of nationality. We cannot possess this pride so long as we are obliged to depend upon borrowing our neighbor's wagon. [Laughter.] Besides our neighbor has given us a strong intimation—she threatened a little while ago not to lend us the wagon any longer. [Renewed laughter.] I do not think you will give her the opportunity to do so any longer. It is time Canada took more of this Atlantic steamship service and provided an equal if not a superior service to the best service of New York no matter what the cost may be. [Loud applause.] We should not hesitate to attempt competition with our big neighbor to the south simply because she is big. If we require ships a few miles from her coast I am sure the gentlemen of this Board of Trade will not kick against whatever may be necessary to be expended on this service simply because nature requires our steamships to land at Montreal, Quebec or Halifax. [Applause.]

SIR JOHN TALKS.

Replying to the toast of "The Parliament of Canada and the Legislature of Ontario," Sir John Macdonald said:

I have a fatherly interest in the Parliament of Canada because I have sat by its cradle and my good friend the Premier of Ontario helped me to rock the cradle. [Cheers.] If you will look back to the evidence of the last 21 years I think that all those who were concerned in laying the base of Confederation and in carrying out the legislation under the constitution which was then put upon us in 1867, I think that all those who have brought up Canada to the present day have good cause to be satisfied.

Only this last year the statutes of the Dominion were revised, and if any one will take those two volumes and look over the index and see the mass of legislation, all for the good of the Dominion, all prepared for the purpose of developing Canada, they will say that is a body of law that any country may be proud of. It is a code that no party in Canada can claim a right to or be sorry for. From 1867 to 1873, I say, on behalf of the legislators of those days, that they worked well and wisely up to the time when they ceded their place to those who were opposed to them. The work was carried on by the parliament that succeeded the one in which I for one was a leader of the majority, and by the assistance and work of the two great parties in Canada we have a body of law that any nation may be proud of.

Look at the United States, look at the various questions which have divided them since they first adopted their constitution. Here we may have our differences of opinion as to some of the legislation that is now upon the statute book, but I believe that if ministers were to change every five years—but I don't suggest that—[loud laughter]—we should find that the legislation offered to the different parliaments by the change of governments is all based substantially upon the body of laws which we now have the happiness of being governed by.

Mr. President and gentlemen, I will say this, that I believe that the Parliaments of Canada as they have been elected for four or five years, that they have represented the feeling, the wishes, and the desires of the people that elected them. [Cheers.] In the election of 1874, which did not exactly agree with me, —[laughter]—or the election of 1878, in which I think they exercised a wise discretion, I believe that in those several legislatures the representatives did fairly and honestly and substantially reflect and represent the desire and wishes of the people of Canada. I speak not only for the representative body of the Parliament of Canada, but I speak also for our house of peers. And there are some people who think there ought to be no house of peers. That may all be, but I think that you, gentlemen, who have heard two representatives from that body speak to-night will agree with me that if those are fair specimens of the Senate we could not well do without them. [Cheers.]

One thing I have to say in behalf of both chambers of the Parliament of Canada as now constituted, that they fully represent the feelings of the people of Canada and of the people in this room, all of whom I am prepared to say are a loyal body of men that will speak and have spoken, and by their speech will allow no uncertain sound. They will prove by act, by word, by ministration, by legislation, that they love the constitution under which they now live; that they love the sovereign who now rules over them; that they appreciate the great advantages, moral, commercial, political and material which they enjoy by their connection with that grand old country—the Mother Country. [Loud applause.] Aye, let any man in Canada go to a constituency and make it one ground of claiming their confidence that he was anxious to sever the tie that has so long connected us with the Mother Country, and I think that under our rigid law he would most likely forfeit his deposit. [Applause.] Gentlemen, we are doing very well, we are comfortable, we are very happy, and the people outside are quite as happy as we. We have resolved to remain so, and the best way to do so is to go on as we have been going on for the past twenty-one years under our present constitution.

We have very pleasant neighbors to the south of us. They have a great constitution—a constitution in some respects more conservative than our own. Ours is in no degree inferior, but in many respects superior, to the constitution they have in the neighboring republic. And while we desire to trade with them, to have the most friendly relations with them, that our young men should go across the line and marry the prettiest and richest of their girls—[loud laughter]—yet we desire to retain our own independence and to remain Canada, a nation belonging to a nation. [Applause.]

I don't think that we should be at all annoyed at an effort to get us to join the States. It is a compliment that is paid to Canada and a testimony less to its value. Let me tell you an anecdote which was told to me by my respected friend, Sir William Howland. He told me that a good many years ago he was traveling from Windsor by the Great Western Railway eastward, and before him were sitting two Americans—his own countrymen, as you know. And he could not help listening to the conversation. Those two were paying their first visit to Canada. After looking out of the windows one said, "This is not a bad country." Then the other said "This is a pretty good country." Then a little farther on one said: "This is a rather good country," but a little further on, "This is a very good country." I could make it a little more spicy. [Laughter.] At last says one of them, "This is a very good country and we must have it." "Well," said the other, "if Goodrich's relief bonds, the Grand's only we would be entitled to take the Canada people too." [Laughter.]

Such is the reverse of Canada that our neighbors are quite anxious to take the country and all that it contains, even including the "Dominion people." Mr. Butterworth sings a pretty little song: "Will you walk into my parlor, said the spider to the fly?" We all say: "No, no, kind sir, I thank you, I have no curiosity." [Great applause.]

ONTARIO'S PREMIER.

Hon. Oliver Mowat, who replied to the same toast, spoke substantially as follows:

Human work is not perfect, and I would like to improve that constitution a little. We have had twenty years' experience of its working, and if the Premier would only accept the suggestions I would give now it would add still greater honor to his name. [Laughter.] He has exercised a very important influence over our affairs, and if he would only now do his best to adopt these improvements it would be a crowning act in his long political career. I agree a good deal in what the Premier has said. I agree with the loyalty between the Dominion and the Old Land. [Applause.] I may say that those who differ from me politically as well as those who hold the same political views as I do agree in our appreciation of the Toronto Board of Trade. We agree in our appreciation of the ability and enterprise, the public spirit and the high character the members of that board possess. We agree also in our attachment to the Old Fatherland. [Loud applause.] We all love it well. During the many years I have held a seat in the Ontario Legislature I have never once heard one of the members of that house say one disloyal word. (Applause.) I have not heard one member of that house express one disloyal sentiment—[renewed applause]—nor express disconcent.

We all rejoice that we are subjects of the British Empire. We also rejoice that Canada is part of that great nation. We are all glad to know that British history is our history—[hear, hear]—that the glory and the civilization of the Fatherland are our glory and your civilization; that all its great men—its statesmen, its soldiers, its philanthropists and its philosophers—all belong to us—[applause]—because we are the same people. [Applause].

Our constitution was the best at that time that we could form. I agree with the Premier of Canada that on the whole it is the best constitution of any other country. I agree with him on the whole it is a better constitution than that of the United States. [Loud applause.] And because it is so good, I would like to make it better. Under it there has been legislation in all of which I would not concur; but under that constitution, just as it is, our country has flourished.

We have been told to-night, and it has been a joyful thing to be told, of the great progress Canada has made. That progress has led to discussions in regard to our future. Our political future is a matter of infinite concern to us. To a very large extent, I have no doubt, the views I entertain in this regard most of you entertain too. There are some who think that there must be some change, and they are giving various suggestions such as imperial legislature, independence of any friendly alliance with England, and some others think of annexation with the United States. Now, I am not for annexation and I am glad to know you are not for annexation. [Loud applause and cheers.]

You love, I love, our country better than we love any other country. [Applause.] We prefer being British subjects to being subjects of any other nation in the world. [Applause.] For myself, I would rather be Premier of Ontario than Governor of New York. [Great applause.] If my ambition soared still higher I would rather be the Premier of Canada than the President of the United States. [Ringing cheers.] I say that with all respect for that nation. It is impossible not to respect the energy and the enterprise they have displayed and the progress they have made. But it is one thing to respect them and another to join them. [Hear, hear, and applause.] We cannot but regard that nation as a hostile nation. We have probably many friends among them whom we greatly esteem, but we have had a proof lately—we would be blind not to see that as a nation they are hostile to us. While no such thing could be created there as an anti-French or an anti-German feeling, it is very easy to excite an anti-British feeling. [Hear, hear.]

There ought to be perfect amity between the two great nations of which I have spoken. They ought to be on the friendliest possible terms, and if they occupy that position in the future we may then consider the question of annexation under a new aspect. But I am prepared to say for the people of Canada that they will never give away or sell this great territory to a hostile nation. [Tumultuous applause.] Canadians would suffer the loss of all things rather than give or sell their country—[renewed applause]—or sanction the giving or selling of it. It is matter of joy to know that this loyalty you all feel, and I feel, pervades every class of our community. Our people consist of various races. They are not all of British blood; but those other nationalities are just as loyal as we are. [Hear, hear.]

Take the French Canadians. In 1812 they fought faithfully and loyally. In suppressing the Northwest outbreak the French and German races were represented among the volunteers who went out to quell that outbreak. Whilst those of other races may not be so enthusiastic, still they appreciate all that our present constitution gives them. While we talk in this way of the loyalty of our country, there are some who do not adequately appreciate their strength.

Suggestions have been made as to the consequence of trade relations with the United States. But the loyalty of this country can stand that strain as it has stood many other strains. Closer trade relations with the United States would neither hasten nor retard Annexation.

The Provincial Governments and Legislature have their part to perform in making the constitution a success, in building up this Dominion of ours. Our duty is to give you the best possible government and legislation, and the Premier of Canada tells me—very correctly—[laughter] that we have done so. This result has been the work, not merely of those who have been my friends, I rejoice to refer to the assistance always given from both sides of the House, and now on behalf of both parties I once more thank you for your toast. [Loud applause.]

The American Customs People Bother About Certain Freight Cars.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The collector of customs at Detroit recently applied to the treasury department for information as to the dutiable character of certain empty cars belonging to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company brought into the Detroit district by the Michigan Central Railroad and which have entered into use in domestic traffic within the limits of the United States. Assistant Secretary Maynard has written the collector in reply that foreign built cars used in international traffic are not regarded as importations within the meaning of the law, but there is no record that the department has ever permitted the importation free of foreign built cars for use wholly within the bounds of the United States, except in cases of certain postal cars. If the cars in question were brought in for the express purpose of being used between points in the United States via Canadian territory, they are liable to seizure wherever found. He suggests, however, in the absence of satisfactory evidence, that if these illegal importations were intentional, the proper course would be to demand payment of duty from the officials of the railway company on all the cars so used which have been brought in at Detroit.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

The Daily Examiner.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 5, 1889.

For the Mayoralty.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—There seems to be a great deal of talk about Mr. Denne being the Labor candidate for the mayoralty. Now, I should like to ask, who brought Mr. Denne out? I have been told that he was the Knights of Labor candidate, but I saw a statement in your paper over the signature of Mr. Ross asserting that Mr. Denne was not brought out by the Knights of Labor, but by the Trades Union, that was composed of all the different Unions of the town. Now, sir, I wish to contradict that statement, as I am positive that Mr. Denne's name was never mentioned in any one of the different Unions of this town, as the Labour candidate for the mayoralty. I may say that one or two individuals, who are very anxious to bring their names before the public, took upon themselves to wait on Mr. Denne, and ask him to be the Labour candidate for the mayor's chair, and that, of course, as they had so much influence over the working men, that the latter would all join with them, and vote for Mr. Denne. They, therefore, called a meeting, nominated Mr. Denne without ever consulting any of the members of any of the Unions. Now, this is what I would call a little too much cheek, on the part of any one or two individuals, to think that they are going to pull the wool over the eyes of the workingmen, in any such a way. I would also ask, who is the working man's friend? Did ever any working man in this town know Mr. Denne to be his friend? I think not, at least, not till about three or four weeks ago, when he very suddenly became a great friend of the working man, and of course, he will expect in return that the working man will be his friend and vote to place him in the civic chair for the year 1889, and then, as one might naturally expect, Mr. Denne will drop back into his old tracks, and the working man may go. Now what about Mr. Stevenson? Judging from Mr. Denne's address, one would think that Mr. Stevenson was altogether opposed to the workingman, but I would ask, has Mr. Stevenson ever refused any request that the working men has ever asked? Last September, did he not, at the request of the working men, grant us a public holiday, and did he not go to Hastings to our picnic, and did he not state on the platform there that he would do anything he could to advance the interests of the working men? What more can you ask? Where was Mr. Denne, the great friend of the working man, at that time? He did not expect to want your votes at that time, therefore he was not there. One word in reference to the schools. Mr. Denne thinks that a common school education is good enough for any working man's child. He evidently doesn't want the working man's child to stand on equal footing with the rich man's child. He therefore wishes to deprive them of the free education that they may get at the Collegiate Institute, and thus deprive them of the opportunity of getting an education that will enable them to fill the many important positions in our country. Surely Mr. Denne doesn't think that any working man who loves his child, is for the sake of the paltry few cents that he has to pay towards the Collegiate Institute, going to deprive him of that education, which is a fortune in itself, and perhaps all that he may ever hope to be able to give him. I do not think so. The working men of our town are too intelligent at the present day to allow any man to delude them in any such way.

Now, in conclusion, Mr. Editor, I wish to remove an impression that is abroad; that is, that the Trades Unions and the Knights of Labor are one. I wish to state that the Knights of Labor are a separate and distinct organization, and have no connection, whatever, with any of the Trades Unions.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this extent of space, I remain,

Yours, etc.,

J. J. HARTLEY,
President of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union.

The Mayoralty and Manufactures.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—A great many persons are highly jubilant over the campaign assurance that a mammoth manufacturing establishment is to be removed to Peterborough. The scheme is worth thinking over, and I really would be glad if there were some prospect of hearing more of it after the local elections are over.

Yours dubiously,

NOT-OVER SANGUINE-ELECTOR.

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR DECEMBER.

Statement for the First Six Months of the Fiscal Year—The Public Debt—The Manitoba Crossing Application.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—The statement of revenue and expenditure for the month of December shows that the former continues to go up and the latter to go down in the most satisfactory manner, the receipts for the month being $2,885,497, an increase of $284,915 over the same month last year, and the expenditure $2,080,799, a decrease of $316,515 from the preceding December. The revenue for the first six months of the fiscal year shows as follows:

Customs	$11,719,923
Excise	3,617,734
Derelicts	1,044,700
Public works (including railways)	1,412,259
Miscellaneous	289,811
Total	$18,103,934
Expenditure	14,009,189
Surplus	$4,170,695

Compared with the same months in 1887 this shows an increase of $1,518,642 in revenue and a decrease of $409,932 in expenditure, a sufficiently satisfactory result to please the most exacting critics. It must be borne in mind, however, that the semi-annual payments in advance of subsidies to the provinces, amounting to nearly $2,000,000, were made on Jan. 2, and that over $1,225,000 interest was due in January, so that the next monthly statement will show a considerable reduction of surplus, but it must also be borne in mind that this finishes the payment of subsidies for the year.

Every item of revenue, with the exception of miscellaneous, shows a large increase for the six months, the amounts being:

Customs	$744,913
Excise	317,697
Derelicts	85,287
Public works	215,468
Miscellaneous (decrease)	103,776

The Public Debt.

The following is the statement of the public debt on Dec. 31:

Gross debt	$269,127,320
Assets	55,589,543
Net debt	$213,537,777

This shows a decrease of $307,502 during the month and an increase in the net debt since June 30 last of only $543,629, while the expenditure on capital account during the same period has been $2,786,123, as follows:

Public Works	$2,439,073
Railway subsidies	307,499
Dominion lands	19,451
Northwest Rebellion loan	4,679

The Crossing Case.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—The Railway Committee of the Privy Council this morning took up the applications of Railway Commissioner Martin of Manitoba for the crossings of the Pembina branch, the Manitoba and Southwestern branch and the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Portage la Prairie. After some discussion, which was followed by a private conference of the committee, Sir John Thompson made this announcement of the decision arrived at:

"As regards the crossing of the main track in the village of Portage la Prairie by the Portage extension of the Red River Valley Railway, that will stand over for further consideration. As regards the other two crossings of the Pembina Mountain branch and the Manitoba and Southwestern Railway, we have come to the conclusion that the crossings should be put in by the Canadian Pacific Railway at the expense of the Railway Commissioner of Manitoba; that the crossings shall be maintained at the expense of the Commissioner, that the semaphores shall be put in and maintained and the lights maintained at the expense of the Commissioner; that the Canadian Pacific Railway have precedence of trains. We decline to allow any rental and have nothing to do with the costs. The works to be executed under the supervision of officers to be appointed by the Minister of Railways."

The application of the Canadian Pacific Railway for permission to cross the street railway at London was postponed until Jan. 15, as was also the application of Attorney-General Martin for approval of the plans of bridges crossing the Assiniboine River.

On Mr. Gormully asking approval of the application of the Northern Pacific and Manitoba Railway to cross the Canadian Pacific Railway at Brandon, Mr. Clark objected on the ground that the company applying had no existence. Under an agreement with the Manitoba Government the Northern Pacific Railway Company was constructing a railway to the international boundary to connect with the Duluth and Manitoba Railway. The railway was being constructed to a point not within the province, but under the British North American Act such a road could only be sanctioned by the Dominion Parliament. He therefore asked that the case should also be referred to the Supreme Court for an opinion. After some discussion the committee reserved its decision on this application.

MURDERS IN ALABAMA.

An Unknown Victim Found—Arrest of Hawes' Suspected Accomplice.

BIRMINGHAM, Jan. 4.—The third murder mystery within a month came to light yesterday near Snake Mines, four miles from the city. Some boys hunting in the woods found the dead body of a well-dressed young man concealed in a pile of brush. The man had evidently been dead several days. Several pistol shot wounds were found on the body, and a pistol with every chamber emptied was lying a short distance away. The coroner was notified, and he has gone out to have the body brought to the city. A number of people have viewed the body, but it has not been identified.

John Wylie, the man arrested in Atlanta on suspicion of being an accomplice in the Hendrix Hawes murders in this city, may prove an important witness in regard to that series of crimes if he is not implicated in them. The circumstances look very ugly for Wylie now, but he may be able to clear himself of suspicion. He was seen with Hawes several times just before the murders were committed, and on Saturday night before the discovery of the bodies he had no money to pay for a drink.

THE MAYORALTY!

Address to the Electors:

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a large number of the electors, I have consented to become a candidate for the Mayor's chair for 1889. In accepting this candidature, I have been influenced by various reasons.

In the first place, Mr. Stevenson openly declared last year that he would not again be a candidate for the position. He not only stated so publicly, but has repeatedly assured me personally that he would, on no consideration, consent to become a candidate for another term, and that, as another member of the council was anxious for the position, he (Mr. Stevenson) preferred that I should be the candidate.

In the second place, I do not think that it is in the interests of the town that any one man, no matter how good a man he may be, should occupy the positions of Mayor of the town, Chairman of the School Board, Chairman of the Town Trust Commission, and President of the Gas Company,—all directly affecting the interests of the ratepayers.

These different concerns involve a large expenditure of the people's money, and it is desirable, and it is obviously proper, that the necessarily conflicting personal and corporation interests that are at issue should be administered by an official, not personally concerned in getting the best end of a bargain at the expense of the town.

In the third place, I am opposed to the large expenditure in connection with the Collegiate Institute, of which my opponent is the foremost champion. I am not in favour of educating rich men's sons at the expense of the poor, but, on the other hand, believe that the most liberal expenditure of money is justifiable in maintaining and adding to the efficiency of our public schools. I am in favour of having the public schools brought to so high a standard that when a poor man's son is compelled to leave them, as he has to do at the age of 14 or 15, he may be thoroughly equipped with a practical education that will fit him for any business career he may see fit to enter upon. Those who wish to go higher in the educational scale have access to a provincial university maintained at the public expense.

I am opposed to the importation of outsiders to fill places of trust in town, when as good men, if not better men, are available at home. I could cite many flagrant instances of disregard of this fair principle, but have not space in this brief address to advert to them.

There are many other questions, such as the assessment of the homes of the middle class, to their highest dollar of value and placing a half assessment on the palatial homes of the wealthy, thus tending to the adoption of a policy for making the poor man poorer and the rich man richer; these are of interest to the ratepayers, upon which, if I receive the confidence of the public, I will always be found arrayed on the side of the people, as against cliques, corporations and monopolies of all kinds.

I need only to mention, in order to enforce the glaring impropriety of a parliamentary representative occupying the Mayor's chair. The interests of the representative, no matter how just and crying the needs of the town may be, will be directed as we have had frequent examples of, to the promotion of personal and family interests, leaving those of the town to take their precarious chances on their own merits.

During my past record in the council I have endeavored to stand up fearlessly in defence of what I considered just and in the best interests of the town, irrespective of any person, and if honored with your confidence I will in the future pursue the same course.

Hoping, electors, that you will show on polling day that you are opposed to one man being placed year after year in a position in which an opportunity is presented of advancing personal and other interests at the expense of the town,

I remain, very faithfully,
HENRY DENNE.

Who is the "Workingman"?

In the present municipal contest there seems to be a difficulty in deciding who and what is a "workingman." To the real, honest workingman the idea of being patronized and toadied to at election times is disgusting. The genuine workingman is the equal of anybody. He is able to "stand on his own bottom," especially if he buys his "bottom" (boots and shoes) at "bottom" prices from gough bros., the wonderful cheap men. At their store, 375 George street, the representatives of both labor and capital will find a splendid stock of boots and shoes at prices less than half wholesale cost. The conventional season of Christmas boxes and New Year's presents is past, yet gough bros, the philanthropists in leather, make every customer a present all the year round of half the price of a pair of boots, if the same were bought at one of the high price shops. When you want prime boots and shoes at "bottom" prices try gough bros.

Rev. Professor Symonds, of Toronto, who officiates tomorrow in St. John's church, has lately been appointed to a divinity chair in Trinity College, in succession to Rev. Prof. Roper. Prof. Symonds is an instance of rapid advancement in life. He came from England to Peterborough some years ago. He was a lay reader at Bobcaygeon, and took a course at Trinity College, when he graduated with such brilliancy that he was immediately offered the Fellowship in divinity. His work was so efficient in this department that, when Prof. Roper retired, Rev. Mr. Symonds was elected to take up his important work. He is a thorough student, thoughtful and painstaking.

Public School Matters.

The public schools of the town will re-open on Monday 7th inst. at 9.30 A.M. We are requested to state that a new programme of studies will be adopted, and important changes in grading will be made, and as every day of the term will be needed to do the work thoroughly, parents are requested to see that their children attend school the first day if possible.

Hereafter pupils of the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd book classes will be required to attend school in the district in which they reside, a fact which parents will please note, so as to avoid confusion. These districts are as follows :—South Ward district includes Simcoe street and all south thereof; West Ward district includes all north of Simcoe, and west of Bethune street; Central School district includes the rest of the town.

A change will also be made in the hour of attendance at school. Hereafter no classes will be dismissed before four o'clock, except part I of 1st 'book, and the junior classes of part II.

"Ratepayer" Rated.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

DEAR SIR,—In the Review of Friday I notice my name used by some person calling himself "Ratepayer," who appears to have more impudence than brains. Had he signed his name I might talk to him. He seems to me like the man who lost his brains by a railway accident, and a kind samaritan was going to replace them, but as he was going to live in Peterborough he did not require any. For 38 years I have lived in Peterborough, I have paid more taxes than "Ratepayer's" carcass will ever be worth, and if Mr. Stevenson or Mr. Deane wants my vote they will have to employ better argument than "Ratepayer," with his "stuff" and "rubbish" can produce. I say "stuff." for how much taxes did you ever pay in this bargh, and are you one of these $100 per month men. If you are, I have helped to make this town large enough for silly folks to give it to you, without giving what a working man has to give in return, time. Wishing, Mr. Editor, you and your valuable staff a happy new year, I remain

Yours, etc.,
E. C. HILL.

Eloped With the Cook.

A Campbellford Hostler Leaves His Wife and Family and Clears out With the Cook.

This forenoon Chief Roszel received the following telegram from Campbellford :

"Thos. Young ran away with Lizzie Milligan this morning. Arrest them and hold. MRS. THOS. YOUNG."

The telegram came too late; the train had already arrived and the sloping couple had proceeded on their way to Toronto on the 8.20 express. The Chief at once wired Mrs. Young to that effect, and were she as all anxious to capture her recreant husband the guilty pair might easily be intercepted at Toronto station by a telegram to the city police.

Thos. Young was hostler at Bute's hotel in Campbellford, and had a wife and family. The serene felicity of their conjugal relations was disturbed by the appearance a few months ago of Lizzie Milligan, a cook who came "all the way from Buffalo," to work at Bute's. Lizzie, although on the wrong side of thirty, and unprepossessing in appearance to the general observer, possessed subtle charms for the amorous hostler, and straightway an illicit love was established between them that flourished as the green bay tree, and culminated this morning in an elopement. The train which passes through Campbellford about 7 o'clock had the hostler and the cook among its passengers. The woman had all the money, and bought tickets to Peterborough for herself and companion, and on arriving here paid also for their fares to Toronto. She told Conductor Stanton they were going to Toronto and from there to Buffalo or Rochester. One of the most pronounced of Miss Milligan's charms (?) was a ready tongue that rattled constantly as if lubricated by something more exhilarating than cider. Conductor Stanton was entertained part of the trip by a ceaseless flow of her slangy loquaciousness.

Drowning Accident.

On Christmas Eve, a young man named Cahney, who lived with his parents between Harwood and Gore's Landing, was drowned in Rice Lake. It was only the other day his and death was discovered. It appears he left home in a fit of anger and taking his skates started off on the ice. He did not return, but nothing was thought of it for a few days, when, still remaining away, a search was instituted. His tracks were followed on the ice to a hole, beside which his hat was found lying. There is no doubt that the young man was drowned in the lake. The body has not yet been recovered.

Mr. G. Gossyniski is in town. Orders may be left at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's or Mr. A. L. Davis' store. d

In the window of Mercer's store is shown a large colored photograph of a glade and rustic bridge taken from the creek near the quarry. It is a pretty little scene and disproves the idea that we must always go away from home to find natural scenery. The photograph was taken several years ago, before the demolition of the old mill, and its picturesque beauty attracted the attention of a New York artist, who took a copy of it and sent the reproduction to the Vienna Exhibition. The original has been nicely finished in water-colors by Mr. Sproule for a Christmas gift.

Before leaving Cobourg, by the pupils of his school, Mr. George McGrath, teacher of S. S. No. 4, Hamilton, and a brother of Dr McGrath, of Peterborough, was made the recipient of a handsome collection of elegantly bound poems. Mr. McGrath is said to be a very efficient young teacher.

The Fenelon Falls Gazette says :—"Mr. L. Laliberte and family are soon to leave Fenelon Falls for Peterborough, much to the regret of all who are acquainted with them here, Mr. Laliberte, who is an accomplished musician and an exceptionally fine singer, has been organist and leader of the choir in St Aloysius' Church ever since he came to the village about six years ago; but Bishop Dowling desires his services in the same capacity in the Catholic Church in Peterborough, and has offered him inducements which he would be unwise to refuse."

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

—As regularly, almost, as the months roll round Belleville has a "missing" sensation. The latest unaccountable absentee is Mr. Blewett, about whom his friends are very anxious. The cause of these sudden disappearances must be apparent to all. KINGS TALKING OF PEACE

WHILE SWORDS, IN THEIR GRASP PRESAGE WAR.

The Empire's Defences—A Brilliant Society Event in London—Emin Bey's Capture Re-Affirmed by a Deserter.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Holidays have brought with them the usual stagnation in public affairs. Seldom in England does a week pass more quietly. A speech or two have been made by talkers of the calibre of Mr. Labouchere; responsible politicians have been content with silence. Lord Salisbury, indeed, to whom absolute idleness seems difficult, has received a weighty deputation on the subject of national defence, introduced by Lord Armstrong, head of the great Armstrong works on the Tyne. These gentlemen represent local defence committees of the great northern ports. They have examined the defences of the Mersey, the Clyde, the Tyne and other important rivers and estuaries. They have made up their minds that the need for defence of these ports is urgent, that the ports themselves cannot and ought not to do anything, and that the Government ought to do everything.—do it on a great scale, and do it at once. Lord Salisbury naturally declined to give any pledges beyond the usual assurance that he and his colleagues were aware of the importance of the subject, and would give it their best attention. But under the influence of Lord Charles Beresford and others the admiralty and other departments are believed to have resolved at last on some very considerable scheme, to be laid before parliament next session.

All talk on the Continent meantime is of peace. The King of Italy went so far as to tell the Deputies who presented him with a loyal address that he thought peace during the present year certain. Other sovereigns confine themselves to hopes. They have peace on their lips, but swords in their hands, and nobody dreams of reducing armaments. Events in Servia, where revolution seems possible enough, make indirectly for peace. Had the threatened insurrection broken out, Austria would have put it down, Russia would have deemed this sufficient pretext for open interference, and so the long smouldering flame of war might have broken out in those ever restless regions. But King Milan, who though anything but a pleasing figure is not wanting in political ability, has completely beaten his opponents, who had an enormous majority in the Constituent Assembly. He offered them their choice between the Constitution as amended by him and absolute despotism. They gave way, and like true Orientals, kissed the rod that hung over their heads. Russia, which has intrigued busily, is furious, but for the moment powerless.

THE EVENT OF THE LONDON SEASON.

Marriage of Hon. Edward Stanley and Lady Alice Montagues.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The marriage of the Hon. Edward Stanley, son of the Governor-General of Canada, to Lady Alice Montague, daughter of the Duke of Manchester, occurred in the Guards Chapel yesterday. The Prince of Wales and family, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke and Duchess of Teck and an aristocratic company were present. The rector of Hatfield, who is a son of the Marquis of Salisbury, officiated. Beautiful presents were received from Queen Victoria, Empress Frederick of Germany and other royal personages.

BERLIN'S LOYALTY.

Many Ways in Which Devotion to the Kaiser is Exhibited.

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—So many went to the opera house on Friday to see a dress rehearsal of a play relating to the Furst Hohenzollern, Elector of Brandenburg, that the authorities directed a change in the plot on the ground that it reflected on the royal family.

The Landtag is convoked for Jan. 14. A measure will be presented increasing the King's civil list by 3,000,000 marks, this sum being additional to the amount requested from the Reichstag. The semi-official papers argue that the allowance should be more, that according to the feeling in Berlin it ought to be double the amount asked for.

The loyalty of the Berliners toward the Emperor has led to a caution from The North German Gazette against crowding upon the carriages of the imperial party when out driving. It says that apart from the accidents which occur from these causes too impetuous crowding upon Their Majesties is incompatible with that feeling of respect which ought to be shown to them and the absence of which deprives the demonstration of the character of a genuine ovation. With regard to the throwing of letters and petitions into the Emperor's carriage, it is argued that it is better to deliver such documents at the Court Marshal's office.

The Reichsanzeiger publishes a rescript from Emperor William to Prince Bismarck, bearing date Dec. 31. It reads:

DEAR PRINCE: The year which has brought us such heavy visitations and such irrevocable losses draws to an end. It is a joy and a solace to think that you still stand loyally by my side with fresh strength to enter upon the new year. From my whole heart I invoke upon you happiness and blessing, but above all uninterrupted good health. I trust to God that I may still be long permitted to labor with you for the welfare and greatness of our fatherland.
WILHELM.

The Emin Expedition.

Lieut. Wissman, whose regiment is the second foot guards, is now attached to the Foreign Office for special service in East Africa. In consequence of this appointment the Emin Relief Committee has relieved Wissman from all connection with the relief expedition and has nominated Dr. Peters chief leader in his place. Wissman's post under the Foreign Office is understood to be that of imperial commissary of Germany, and has nothing to do with the East Africa Company.

A Deserter's Story.

SUAKIM, Jan. 6.—One of Osman Digna's lieutenant has deserted his leader and has arrived here. He reports that the rebels are enraged with Osman Digna for seizing their effects and their wives, he giving as his reason for such a course that the rebels chewed tobacco, which is contrary to the precepts laid down by the Mahdi. He also reports that 2000 dervishes at Handoub are squabbling with Osman Digna concerning the evacuation of the place, a majority of the dervishes being desirous of retiring from the town.

The deserter declares that Emin Bey has been captured and that he is a prisoner at Khartoum, where he is well treated by his captors.

Italy's Treatment of the Pope Denounced.

PESTH, Jan. 6.—At a banquet at Gran last night Cardinal Simor, Primate of Hungary, offered a toast in honor of the Pope. In a violent speech he denounced Italy's treatment of the Pope as infamous.

MADRID, Jan. 6.—An attempt was made yesterday to blow up the buildings occupied by the Minister of the Interior. A petard was exploded in the rear of the building, but beyond smashing the windows did no damage.

The Rochester Baseball Association last night elected H. E. Leonard manager, arrangements were made to pay the International Association dues and guarantee and "Bob" Barr shook hands with Manager Leonard.

SUGAR MEN ELECTRIFIED.

"PROFESSOR" FREUND'S REFINING PROCESS EXPOSED.

A Million Dollars Sunk in the Scheme—Many Materializing Scenes—300 Stockholders Taken In.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The stories about a secret process for refining raw sugar by means of electricity, which succeeded in exciting much interest, establishing a company with a capital stock of $1,000,000, and attracting many shareholders to it on both sides of the Atlantic, but especially in England, have been relegated to the airy and impracticable realms which boast an equally amazing scheme for extracting sunbeams from cucumbers. Early on Tuesday persons interested in the Electric Sugar Refining Company were first disturbed by a dispatch from London which stated that the stock of the company had dropped from £20 to £12. The cause of the tumble may be summed up in a sentence as concise and comprehensive as the often quoted chapter on Snakes in Iceland. There is no electric sugar refining process. The founders and promoters of the company, it appears, have been the dupes of a party of rascally Westerners whose headquarters are at Milan, in Michigan.

Some four years ago an elderly German named Henry C. Freund, whose knowledge of chemistry and electricity gained for him the title of "Professor," came to New York from the West with his wife. He presently began to promulgate rumors in business circles that he was the possessor of an important secret of his own discovery, which would revolutionize sugar refining all over the world. Freund gave a number of exhibitions here at which he was wont to invite the attention of his onlookers to a wooden table, on which stood, covered by a cloth, a something which he described as the electric refining machine. They might look, but they mustn't touch. They could see that the veiled mystery was toy-like in size. They were allowed to thump on the floor in order to satisfy themselves that there were no trap-doors, and to look around the room, as perchance there might be a refining mill in concealment.

Then "Professor" Freund would point to his other "property," a barrel of raw sugar. He would then exclude his visitors, permitting them, however, first to set watchers by the house to prevent any collusion from without, and would shut himself into the operating-room with his wife. The expelled investigators were kept waiting for about ten minutes, and then invited into the room. There they would find an empty barrel, a sample of beautifully granulated refined sugar, and a self-satisfied "Professor."

But, with all his efforts to achieve remunerative notoriety from his invention, it was not until about a year ago that the Electric Sugar Refining Company was formed. W. H. Cotterill, who was elected president, is said to have been a solicitor in London, and it is believed that J. A. Robertson, the treasurer, was formerly connected with the ship-building business in Scotland. The company secured the office at No. 60 Wall-street, and issued 10,000 shares of stock of a par value of $100 a share. In England 3000 shares were sold at prices varying from $625 to $200 a share. No less than 526 Englishmen took shares in the company. It is estimated that in all $1,000,000 was received for shares.

When Mr. Cotterill and others went to the refinery last week to set all doubts at rest they bulldozed the Cerberus on guard into admitting them into one of the secret work rooms. There they saw all the raw sugar that had ever gone into the place on pretence of being refined still there, untouched, unchanged. They found barrels of sugar refined by the ordinary process, and it was at once made plain to them that this was what had been taken to the refinery by the truck-load, disguised in big wooden cases marked in black letters "Machinery!"

The second room was a regular proof-room, clad in sheet iron, and the company's officers were not able to enter it until yesterday morning. They then took some workmen with them, and broke in upon it violently from the room above, cutting a hole through the ceiling. They found that it was an ordinary sieve-room, equipped for the sieving process, which divides the sugar into various grades, according to its fineness. Having broken up, ground and sorted their prepared sugar, it was easy enough for the "electrical refiners" to send it down the shoots into barrels at a speed that astonished outside beholders, and so complete the fraud.

"Professor" Freund died last March and left his precious secret in charge of his wife. It is said that she holds 5250 of the company's shares. Warrants have been issued in Liverpool for her apprehension and that of her stepfather, W. E. Howard, a director of the company. They are in Michigan, however. Mrs. Freund says that no fraud was intended. The company wanted refined sugar direct from cane juice, which was not the contract, and which her husband's process could not do. She also says she has another secret for making sugar from grapes, which the company want to get, and that they are taking the present course to secure it.

A despatch from Milan, Mich., says: "The elegant home of Mrs. Freund near here was completely deserted this morning. At the house of W. E. Howard, Mrs. Howard was found just setting out to join her husband and daughter (Mrs. Freund) at Ann Arbor. She is a sharp eyed old lady, with a determination not to give away what she knows, further than to say that if the New-Yorkers have broken open the electric sugar refinery they have lost all their rights, and that it would have been well if the process had been lost when Freund died in March; also, that she is sure that Mr. Howard and Mrs. Freund are able to take care of themselves. Since the opening of the sugar business the Howards and Freunds have cut a big swath here, building elegant houses and living high on incomes from some source not generally understood, though not without a taint of suspicion."

A Taunton Farmer's Loss.

OSHAWA, Jan. 6.—About 9.45 last night fire was discovered on the premises of Robert Brown, Taunton. The barn together with four tons of hay, 60 bushels of barley, farm-implements, harness, etc., was entirely consumed. The building was owned by A. Gifford of East Whitby and was insured for $400, but Brown had no insurance and consequently his loss will be heavy. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A Paper Mill Blaze at Merritton.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 6.—The storeroom of Riordon's paper mill at Merritton was burned early this morning. The loss is heavy. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Ottawa's "Honest John" Honored.

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—Alderman John Heney, who has been over thirty years in the City Council and who is popularly known as "Honest John," has been made a Knight of the Holy Sepulchre by His Holiness the Pope in recognition of his services in the cause of temperance. The installation took place in St. Patrick's Hall this evening.

Anxious Critics.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Sir James Hannen, President of the Parnell Commission, is in London for the purpose of conferring with his associate commissioners in the matter of another contempt case upon which the commission will act at its next sitting. The identity of the person or persons held to be in contempt is not disclosed and the silence observed on this point is creating a feeling of nervousness in the breasts of many persons who have expressed themselves concerning the actions of the commission.

BATTLE BETWEEN MATAAFA'S MEN AND THE GERMANS.

Lieut. Siegel of the German Army and 32 of His Men Killed—Two Officers and 36 Men Wounded.

APIA, Jan. 6.—Official advices from Samoa confirm yesterday's announcement of a encounter between Mataafa's followers and the Germans. On Dec. 16 the German consul Adler with the German consul on board proceeded to Lealy, Mataafa's chief position, with the intention of negotiating for the disarming of the insurgents in consequence of the destruction of German property and insults to German sailors. A party of men were landed and while on their way to the Vailele plantation they were suddenly attacked by a party of rebels led by an American named Klein. The Olga, Adler, and Eber landed more men who succeeded in repelling the natives and destroying some of their villages.

Lieut. Siegel and 15 men were killed and Lieuts. Spengler and Barchard and 36 men were wounded. The latter are doing well.

Other accounts state that the Germans retired to Vailele, and held it against the greatest odds until reinforced.

Mataafa's loss was ten killed and thirty wounded.

The Germans bombarded Vailele, Letoge, Lealy, Mataafaga and Matafas.

Mataafa now holds a strongly-entrenched position near Apia, where great excitement prevails. The European women and children have been placed on board the men-of-war. Business is at a standstill expecting further German action.

Mataafa has obtained a supply of ammunition. He declares himself ready to appear before the commanders of the British and American men-of-war.

A CRUEL GUARDIAN.

How a Chatsworth Farmer Abused an Orphan Under His Protection.

CHATSWORTH, Jan. 5.—A case of unusual cruelty to a child has just been ventilated here. About the middle of December a little boy between 8 and 9 years of age appeared on the streets early one bitterly cold morning, with his face bruised and cut, his hand swollen and disfigured with wounds and his body and limbs covered with bruises and sores. The little fellow presented a most pitiable sight, as he staggered along, scarcely able to keep on his feet with his sufferings from cold and abuse. It seems that last May he was sent from the Guthrie Home in London to a young farmer named Charlton who lives just south of the village. At first the boy was treated kindly, but for some three or four months past he has been shamefully beaten and abused daily, and on Thursday was brutally kicked and thrashed by his foster-father. Proceedings were taken against Charlton and the Magistrate imposed a fine of $24 for unlawfully striking and beating the lad.

Mrs. Charlton, the foster-mother, took no part in the beating as all her endeavored to shield the little fellow as far as possible.

UNHAPPY HAYTI.

Its French Fleet Sent Out to Protect Port-au-Prince.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Dec. 23.—The Haytian gunboat Grand River left last night late, flying the French flag, for Mole St. Nicholas, now in the hands of the Hypolites, to cable to Martinique for the French fleet to protect Port-au-Prince. It is understood that Legitime's general commanding his main army was seriously defeated at Hinche, ten miles from the San Domingo frontier, and arrived last night with a report of the defeat. He is now at the French legation under the protection of the French flag, as the rage of the people is feared when they shall have learned of the defeat and it is believed that the French minister immediately despatched a request for the French men-of-war.

A jubilatory mass was held this morning at St. Joseph's Cathedral for the election of Legitime to the presidency.

Several cases of yellow fever exist on the ships in the harbor and in the city itself.

Birmingham's Welcome to Chamberlain.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Mr. Edwards, First Secretary of the British Legation at Washington, is not yet allowed to return to his post, and is at present staying with Mr. Chamberlain at Highbury. Arrangements for the welcome offered to Mr. Chamberlain and his American bride by Birmingham are now complete. The ceremony occurs this week in the Town Hall. Three addresses will be presented, as well as many gifts. The party now staying at Highbury includes, besides Mrs. Chamberlain, one American, Lady Mandeville. Mr. Labouchere sends his contribution in the shape of the remark that Mr. Chamberlain has donned the Devonshire livery and become the lickspittle of noble lords and the lapdog of the noble ladies.

Gladstone's Roman Mystery.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Mr. Gladstone's Italo-Papal arbitration mystery is as much a mystery as ever. Nobody yet professes to understand the true significance of his telegram from Naples. Mischief organ in the London press has a long editorial on the relations between Italy and Rome which is in its own way a masterpiece. Its political strategy is that of the ostrich. Mr. Gladstone's name is not mentioned, nor is the fact that he has written a letter or suggested any kind of arbitration allowed to appear. This judicious suppression permits The Daily News to condemn sternly all proposals to disturb Italy in her possession of her National Capital.

The Steamship Montana Sunk.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 6.—The British steamship Montana, which sailed yesterday morning for London with an assorted cargo, was yesterday afternoon in collision off North Point with the North German Lloyd's steamer Main, which was coming in from Bremen. The Montana was struck full on the side and sunk in a few minutes. Chief Engineer Robert M. Young was killed, but the rest of the crew were transferred to the Main, which was not injured.

Murdered by a Jealous Rival.

FAYETTEVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 6.—Yesterday Mr. Brooks, a prominent young merchant of McDowell's Mills near this place, came to town, secured his marriage license and started home. This morning his dead body was found lying on the roadside with a bullet hole through his head. When he left town he was accompanied by a man named Smith, who was a bitter rival of his for the hand of the young lady Brooks was to marry. There is considerable excitement over the affair.

The Falcarragh Evictions.

DUBLIN, Jan. 6.—Further evictions were made yesterday on the Olphert estates at Falcarragh, County Donegal. At one house only was resistance made, but after a fight which lasted 15 minutes the defenders yielded. The last house visited by the evictors was found to be so strongly fortified that the magistrate decided not to attempt its capture until Monday.

Of the George Street Methodist Sunday School—A Special Occasion on Sunday —Rev. Mr. Allin, of Cobourg, Delivers Two Interesting Addresses.

The George street Methodist church has a large and well conducted Sunday school in connection with it, which is the pride of the officers, pastor and people. Its average attendance lately has been about 500. Mr. H. S. Griffin, Superintendent, is ably supported by a large staff of officers and teachers who delight in their work. That the church people generally take an interest in the Sunday school, was evinced by the large congregations on Sunday.

At the morning service Rev. Jas. Allin, of Cobourg, preached, taking for his text Malachi iv, 6—the last verse of the last chapter of the last book of the old Testament, viz., "And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse." In his discourse the preacher pointed out the relations of the home and the Sunday school to the child—that it was the duty of the Sunday school to teach, while it was the peculiar function of the home to do more, and train the child also. The sermon was an excellent one indeed. The children were well represented in the congregation. Appropriate music was rendered, and the altar was profusely decorated with flowers.

An open meeting was held in the afternoon at three o'clock, the pupils of the school sitting in the middle seats. The large auditorium and galleries were nearly filled by the children and their parents and friends. Superintendent H. S. Griffin presided, and there were on the pulpit platform beside him Rev. Mr. Allen, Rev. M. L. Pearson, pastor, and Mr. J. W. Flavelle, ex-superintendent. After opening exercises Mr. Flavelle and Rev. Mr. Allen made short addresses to the children, illustrated by anecdotes and striking comparisons, from which they drew morals for the children's instruction. Rev. Mr. Pearson also added a few remarks and brought the proceedings to a close. The musical part of the services was unusually interesting, Sunday school hymns being chosen and sung with vigor. The choir was assisted by an orchestra comprising a half dozen brass instruments.

A NATION'S HOPE.

At the evening sermon Rev. Mr. Allen took for his text II Timothy, iii., 16:—"All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness." The subject of the sermon was a continuation of the morning's discourse—the relation of the Sunday school to the nation. The source of every nation's prosperity was in its good men and women, and in that only—not in its great mines, but its goodness. Canada, the preacher said, was destined to become a great nation in numbers, and now was the time to lay a broad and solid foundation of good men and women on which to build the magnificent superstructure of a righteous and prosperous people. If this were not done, Canada in the future would realize the same error that older countries had committed; all the evils of outcast London would be repeated here. The Sunday school was the place to give the children of to-day, who will be the men and women of the future, a correct Christain teaching, such as would enable them in the years to come to so conduct their affairs that the nation would be a prosperous, peaceful and happy one. That was the only hope of any nation; how important was it then that our young should receive careful instruction in Godly things. A great many men considered they did their duty if they looked after their own children; but the preacher pointed out that the contagion from those who were educated on the streets in ways of wickedness would surely bring disaster to the more carefully nurtured ones. Mistaken philanthropy picked up the hardened criminals and expected a maximum of virtue from them, and entirely overlooked the little waifs who were treading the same path and would eventually come under their notice when too late to be recovered from their waywardness. Rev. Mr. Allin said he had a conversation with the superintendent of the George street Sunday school, and learned that he (Mr. Griffin) had some time ago asked his pupils to find out how many children there were in town not attending Sunday school. They had given him the names of 100 children who were not receiving the blessings of a moral education such as Sunday schools offered. It was all right, Mr. Allin said, if these 100 children were being taught at home; but were they? If not, what a terrible reckoning there would be in the future from these neglected little ones. In the interest of their own children, who would surely suffer from contact with their more degraded fellow-beings Christian people should endeavor to look after the poor waifs who were not being given the knowledge and training to enable them to become better men and women. Rev. Mr. Allin urged all his hearers to become missionaries; it meant much self-denial and hard labor, but the reward would be great. If not for love of God and suffering humanity, if for no higher motive than the peace and prosperity of their country, they should undertake the work.

A choral festival will be held in the church to-morrow evening, for which great preparations are being made. A fine rehearsal of the children will be held this evening. An unusually interesting programme is promised on the occasion of the annual festival.

Apsley.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Our worthy Reeve is getting better of his rheumatism. He got in for Reeve without any opposition.

Mr. Hatton, who got his leg broken in Strickland's shanty in Burleigh two weeks ago, is progressing favorably under the care of Dr. Marks, of Apsley. Thomas C. Young, son of John Young, very nearly cut his great toe off. Dr. Marks is attending to it, and he has another case, a young man by the name of Johnson, of Bobcaygeon, who was working in Ritchie's camp in Burleigh, fell on a bottle he was carrying in his pocket and put two bad cuts in his hip.

Mr. Tom Woods had a fine horse worth $150, drowned in Loon lake. The ice is not safe yet.

The Methodists had their tea meeting in the Temple in Apsley on Christmas day. Although the day was wet, and the roads muddy, they realised the sum of thirty dollars.

Omemee.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A considerable number of Peterborough citizens favored our town with a call on New Year's day, to attend the Presbyterian Tea and concert. Among them were Mr. John Kincaid, who acted as chairman in an acceptable manner, keeping excellent order over a large audience who listened with great pleasure to Mrs. Bowman, vocalist of Peterborough, who proved herself as great a favorite here as ever. Prof. Cameron, of Toronto, pleased well on his first appearance here, as a comic vocalist and elocutionist. The home talent all excelled, and the whole affair proved a grand success. Proceeds amounted to about $140.

Ask for samples and, after drawing, you will be convinced the Palace Grocery is the place to purchase teas. A large and well selected stock of fine Xmas fruits at lowest prices. dw

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.
Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.
The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,573,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have over $3,207,600.00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contract of the Company are 8,969 for $14,061,377.60.
The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,361.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gain from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	G in amount
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$166,482 60	$1,149,743
1876 to 1880, four years	36,580 67	195,188 29	1,167,398
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 31	2,992,936
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 80	475,607 24	4,029,373
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 46	$10,373,777

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

CHAT FROM THE CAPITAL.

Judge Caswell Appointed to Open the Quebec Legislature—Mr. Chapleau's Health.

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—Owing to the continued illness of Lieutenant-Governor Angers, His Excellency the Governor-General has appointed Judge Caswell, Administrator of the Province of Quebec, to open the session of the Legislature on Wednesday next.

Hon J. A. Chapleau in a private letter to a friend here says his health has greatly improved and he hopes shortly to be able to return to Canada.

W. C. Munderlock, German Consul at Montreal, was here yesterday with reference to renewal of the contracts between the Government and the Hanes and Ludwig lines of steamers, between Hamburg and Antwerp and Montreal.

Lieutenant-Governor Royal denies the story published in The Winnipeg Free Press that he has made a demand on the Dominion Government for an increase of salary.

Attorney-General Martin has gone to Montreal, it is said for the purpose of an interview with Grand Trunk officials.

Captain Murray and other directors of the St. Catharines Milling Company are here for the purpose of interviewing the Government with reference to the claim of the company for compensation for loss in connection with licenses issued by the Dominion Government in the disputed territory.

Mr. T. F. Blackwood, who for years has occupied the position of hardware and fancy goods appraiser in the Toronto Custom House, has been appointed a Dominion appraiser. This last appointment completes the staff.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Dog and Coon Fight Case—Slugger Sullivan and Party.

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—Mr. Slugger Sullivan and a select party of prize ring cohorts are expected here to-day, the advance guard having already arrived. Their object, it is said, is to arrange a fight with Kilrain.

Actor Mantell and some of his troupe gave evidence for the defence in the case of Hotelkeeper Bingham, who, with five others, were arrested on Saturday morning for enjoying the luxury of a dog and coon fight on his premises, known as "The Hub." As the actors had to leave for Hamilton on Sunday, they were permitted to testify, although the entire case will not be heard until Friday. "Members" said that Bingham was with him all the latter part of the evening and did not leave the room in which were Mrs. Bingham and Mrs. Mantell, and of course was profoundly ignorant of the presence of a 'coon in another apartment.

Specific charges of drunkenness, slander and lying have been lodged by certain members of the Western Methodist Church, Toronto, against Rev. T. W. Jeffery, ex-pastor. Meanwhile, a testimonial committee is at work on Mr. Jeffery's behalf.

Montreal's Clearing House.

MONTREAL, Jan. 6.—The clearing house established by the city banks goes into operation on Monday. The Merchants' Bank have given the use of a room in their building. A manager will be appointed by each of the banks in turn, and every morning a clerk and a messenger from each bank will attend at the clearing-house at 10 o'clock to deliver to and receive from each other the checks, drafts and notes which are payable by each to the other, these being made up in packages. At the same time a statement will be handed from each bank to the manager showing the amount due by or to each bank, to or from each other bank. Between 12 and 12.30 the representatives of the different banks will pay to or receive from the Clearing-Bank, which the Bank of Montreal has agreed to become, the amount so appearing due, thus doing away with the trouble and labor attending the system now followed, by which each bank collects daily from the other banks the amount due on its exchanges. The system adopted is a simple one and free from all expense.

A Case of Mysterious Disappearance.

TRENTON, Jan. 5.—Moses Bissett, formerly of Watertown, N.Y., and who has for some time past been engaged as painter for Randolph & Vanllaricom, agents for the Gananoque Carriage Company in Belleville, left for Trenton on Dec. 27 last. He had with him a quantity of hardware novelties, furnished by them, to dispose of there. As he did not return on Saturday, as expected, they, being anxious about him on account of pressure of work, determined to discover his whereabouts. Inquiry at Stacey's hotel, Trenton, at which he was found to be staying, revealed the fact that he had not been seen since Sunday evening. He was seen disposing of his goods on Saturday and he was also seen on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, but since then his whereabouts are unknown. Diligent enquiry has failed to disclose any particulars in regards to his mysterious disappearance. It is feared some serious misfortune has befallen him, as he had left a quantity of his goods at the hotel.

Victoria, B.C., to Have an Electric Railway.

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 6.—The prospectus of the "National Electric Tramway Co." has been issued. The object of the company is to construct and operate a tramway or street railway, propelled by electricity, throughout the City of Victoria. The shareholders of the company are all well-known citizens, who are subscribing for a capital stock of $250,000 in 25,000 shares of $10 each, 20 per cent. payable on allotment and 10 per cent. on call.

The amount of funds necessary to construct and put the road in operation is estimated at $75,000, and the company, which is not committed to any scheme or system, will seek the best and most efficient agent for the attainment of their object.

Lost Her Reason.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The antics of an unfortunate woman named Mrs. Cook have for some time past occasioned considerable annoyance to the residents in Queen's-avenue, near where her mother resides. She is in the habit of leaving the house at night and running up and down the street, yelling at the top of her voice. Her mind was unbalanced by the conduct of her husband, who, it is alleged, left her and two children and went away with another woman. Her condition is a pitiable one, and her mother is opposed to placing her in the asylum. Yesterday morning she was found on the street by two citizens who took her home.

Ottawa Merchants Victimized.

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—Several forged checks aggregating $500, purporting to be signed by C. Devlin of Aylmer, and endorsed by C. Devlin, jr., were palmed off on various Ottawa merchants on New Year's Eve by a young man supposed to be Fred Devlin, son of C. Devlin, who was in trouble in Montreal for a similar offence some time ago. He has cleared out, presumably for the United States.

On the Verge of Starvation.

"For three months I could not eat a fair meal or do a day's work. I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, began using it, and in three days my appetite returned, in a week I felt like a new man. It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Allchin, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia. 2w1d

A Valuable Discovery.

F.P Tanner, of Nestleton, Ont., says he has not only found B.B.B. a sure cure for Dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system that has ever been taken. B.B.B. is the great system regulator. 2w1d

Presence of mind.

Presence of mind is good in a case of accidents and emergencies, and when coupled with Hagyard's Yellow Oil will often save life. Yellow Oil cures all painful injuries, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, rheumatic and neuralgic pains and is in fact a handy and reliable surgical aid. 2w1d

School Attendance Districts.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I do not know whether to be surprised or not at the action of the School Supervision Committee in fixing cast-iron school attendance limits, but I am certainly indignant so far as it relates to the South Ward School. Here is a school where we have chronic over-crowding, and it seems to me, singular that this ward, which is described by a member of the Board as a pest-hole, should be compelled to crush all the pupils within its limits in a building whose accommodation for pupils is notoriously defective. It strikes me that the School Supervision Committee, without the consent of the Board, in thus arbitrarily taking a course that prevents the relief of the congestion of pupils at the South Ward school, are acting beyond their power and contrary to the dictates of good judgment and common sense. As a ratepayer I protest in decided terms against the folly of compelling pupils to attend a school where there is and has been serious overcrowding, and where there must be worse crowding and positive danger to health, and actual disturbance of school routine if the mandate of the committee is carried out. We used to call them Common Schools, that is when common sense was applied to their management, but now they are Public Schools, and an object of public reprobation, that is under the tyrannical and short-sighted control of the Supervision Committee.

Yours faithfully,

PARENT.

A Broken Axle Did it.

Nine Cars Derailed, Some Badly Wrecked and Three Horses Killed on the C. P. R.

Sunday morning, between four and five o'clock, Johnston's special east-bound freight was running down a grade on the line of the C.P.R., about four miles west of Cavanville, when a broken axle under a flat car in the middle of the train caused a run-off and smash-up. Nine cars left the track, and all were pretty badly damaged. Four cars of merchandise and two oil-tank cars were wrecked and their contents had to be transhipped. A car of horses was among the derailed ones, and three of the animals were killed outright. The others were taken from the wreck and put out with some farmers until they can be sent on to their destination. The remaining two cars of the nine damaged were empties. Fortunately, none of the train hands were hurt, and not a foot of the track was disturbed. This made the work of clearing a passage comparatively easy, and the morning express from Montreal was delayed only 4 hours at Cavanville. Auxiliaries were dispatched from Toronto and Havelock, and by night the wreck was all cleared up. The loss to the company will not be so very heavy.

Bound to be There.

Rev. M. L. Pearce is evidently an energetic and devoted pastor to the interests of his flock. So anxious was he to attend the Sunday school Anniversary services in the George street church Sunday afternoon, that after his dedicatory sermon in Rev. Mr. Dewey's new church at Lindsay in the morning, he drove through the rain as rapidly as possible to Peterborough and went without his dinner in order to be on time.

Runaway Accident.

On Sunday evening as Mr. H. Best, of Peterborough, was returning from Buckhorn, says the Chronicle, when near Garbutt's turn he had the misfortune to meet with a rather serious accident. It appears the axle of the buggy broke, causing the horse to take fright, when Mr. Best was thrown out of the buggy sustaining severe injuries to his head, also having his ribs fractured in several places. The horse ran a considerable distance and was so badly injured that it is doubtful if it will be of further use.

St. Luke's Sunday School.

At the close of St. Luke's Sunday school yesterday the lay-superintendent, Mr. H. C. Rogers, gave a short address, congratulating the teachers and scholars on the success of the school during the past year and hoped they would strive to make it even more successful the present year. He said they had commenced well, as not one of the twenty-one teachers and officers was absent and the attendance of scholars was exceptionally good, when it was considered that the day was very unfavorable.

Leap Year Weddings.

Well, leap year is over, and the bachelors who have been living in fear and trembling can once more emerge from their hiding places and hold up their heads among the residents of the earth. It would be interesting to know just how leap year affects the matrimonial market. In Peterborough there has been a remarkable decrease of marriages. In 1887 there was 149 marriages registered, and last year only 112. The ladies have evidently not taken advantage of their privileges, or have the bachelors been too wary to be caught?

Matrimonial.

The EXAMINER records with pleasure, and with congratulations, the marriage of Mr. W. Renwick, of Harvey, to Miss Sarah E. Bowman, of Toronto, the knot having been tied by Rev. Mr. Milligan, Miss Annie Fraser taking the duty of bridesmaid, and Mr. H. D. Hicks, of Harvey, acting as groomsman. Miss Bowman for two years taught in school section No. 8, Harvey, and won the respect and esteem of the community generally, and of Mr. Renwick in particular, who is to be congratulated upon his fortunate choice. The EXAMINER gives its best wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

A New Company.

In the Ontario Gazette, of the 29th Dec., 1888, Gordon & Samson gave notice that in one month they will apply for a charter of incorporation to take over "the profits, rights, reservations, contracts, agreements and privileges, real and personal, belonging to, or held by, the Canadian Land and Emigration Company (Limited)" etc. The operations of the new company are to be carried on in the C.L. & E. Co's. townships in Haliburton county, and their head office, Toronto. The capital stock of the new company is to be $50,000, divided into 25,000 shares of $2 each. The names of applicants are James Moore Irwin, Peterborough, lumberman; W. H. Lockhart Gordon, solicitor, C. J. Campbell, Esquire, Toronto; David B. Gardner, Peterborough, book-keeper; Alex. Sampson, Toronto, solicitor.

From the Far West.

Mr. R. J. Christie, of Asphodel, after an absence of eleven years in the Northwest has returned to this county on a visit to his parents in Asphodel. Eleven years ago last June Mr. Christie left this county to settle in the vicinity of Fort Macleod, about 100 miles south of Calgary. Mr. Christie is engaged in farming operations, having 320 acres under cultivation. He reports that for eleven years there was only one year that could be considered a failure in the matter of crops. He is delighted with the climate —"wouldn't live in Ontario again." The winters there are so mild that cattle can run out the year round. This year crops were good and prices fair. The only drawback worth complaining of is a grist mill, and there are good prospects of that want being supplied the coming season. Mr. Christie is so well pleased with his western home, and gives such glowing accounts of it that he will, in all probability, be able to induce some one to accompany him on his return—about the 1st of March next.

A Long Chase.

On the 16th of November, James Blake whilst driving along the Bobcaygeon road towards Silver Lake, overtook Mrs. Graham, wife of Richard Graham, of Somerville, and offered to give her a lift. She accepted, and in a short time Blake made improper proposals. Mrs. Graham jumped out and Blake followed her and attempted a criminal assault, which was stopped by a man coming within sight. On this charge, says the Bobcaygeon Independent, a warrant was issued, and Blake was arrested, but on the way to the lock-up he made his escape. Last week it was understood that Blake was working in Reynolds shanty along the Monk road, and constable Staples went to Minden, and with the assistance of constable Scott, they drove to the camp. Blake was found chopping in the woods, but the moment he caught sight of Staples he took to his heels. As there was a few inches of snow, he was easily traced, and a chase, which commenced about one o'clock, continued till dark. A distance of fifteen miles must have been covered, but the pursuers failed to catch up, and Blake escaped, but proper instructions have been given, and the arrest may be made at any moment.

In the Land of the Free.

Thomas Young and Annie Milligan get Safely Away.

The runaway couple from Campbellford, whose escapade was chronicled in Saturday's EXAMINER, have made their escape to the other side. As was surmised, Mrs. Young telegraphed the Toronto police to intercept her husband on the arrival of the train there, but the city officials wired back that they could take no action unless she swore out a warrant and notified them of her action. Nothing more was heard from Mrs. Young, and by this time doubtless the faithless husband and his paramour are across the lines, in the land of the stars, stripes and divorces.

The following despatch from Campbellford throws more light on the circumstances surrounding the elopement:—

CAMPBELLFORD, January 5.—Considerable infelicity has existed for some time in the family of Thomas Young, hostler at the Windsor hotel. Young refused to give his wife any money, and it is said has not been in his own house for some weeks. Meanwhile his attentions were being directed to the cook at the same hotel. The cook has gone under several aliases, the last one being Lizzie Milligan. Mrs. Young last week tried to get her husband but failed for some reason or other. The climax was reached this morning when it was found they had both left town on the early train

Obituary.

The many friends of Miss Sarie Sabine will regret to hear of her death, which occurred Saturday morning. Though not unexpected, Miss Sabine having been a sufferer from consumption for a long time, her death will cause intense sorrow on all sides. Deceased was aged 24 years, and was a daughter of Mr. J. E. Sabine and niece of the late Dr. Tassie. The funeral takes place from the family residence at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Second hand pianos and organs from $50. Sole agents for the Karn Organs, prices from $47.00 up. Tuning and repairing done. Jackson & Co., corner of Simcoe and Aylmer streets. dw

A Brace of Accidents.

The streets were very slippery Sunday morning and church-goers found it no easy job to retain their equilibrium. Two old ladies met with serious accidents as the result of falling. Mrs. Anglaye, who lives back of St. Peter's Cathedral, fell and broke her leg, and Mrs Keane, residing on Water street, broke her arm in the same way at her own door. Miss O'Leary, also suffered a severe strain.

Lacrosse Matters.

There will probably be a change in the territory comprising the North-eastern District of the Canadian Lacrosse Association during the coming season. The Madoc and Norwood lacrosse clubs have applied for membership in the C.L.A., and others from this district are anticipated. It is suggested that a new district be formed, comprising the Norwood, Hastings, Peterborough, Millbrook, Belleville, Stirling and Madoc clubs. In this case a new district would have to be formed for the Orillia, Barrie, Bradford, Beaverton and other northern clubs that were in the old district. The third annual convention of the C.L.A. will be held at Niagara Falls on April 16th.

The Endeavor Society.

The regular meeting of the Charlotte street Methodist church Endeavor Society will be held on Wednesday evening next instead of this evening. A very interesting programme has been prepared consisting of glees by the Glee Club, readings, recitations, selections from the Casket, and a debate on "Money vs Brains." The debate between representatives of the Y.P.A. of Oshawa Methodist church and of the Endeavor Society of this town on the subject, "Resolved that Canada is a better country to live in than the United States," has been fixed for Monday evening, Feb 11th. Messrs. Arthur Tebb and O. C. Rowse represent the Endeavor Society.

Superior English Cutlery.

We were shown to-day by Mr. Stethem his last importation from John Clarke & Son, Sheffield, England, per steamer "Vancouver," of their elegant pocket, pen, sportsmen's and ladies' knives; carving knives and forks, table steels, and ivory handled table and dessert knives, and must say that we have never seen goods their equal. The makers are one of the oldest in England, making nothing but the finest goods. This lot, with his last importation of the celebrated B 4 Any pocket and butcher knives, enables Mr. Stethem to show a line of cutlery that cannot be surpassed in the largest cities of the continent for quality and appearance, and being direct from the makers the goods are being sold as cheap as are goods of inferior quality and finish. Call and see them. Mr. Stethem will be pleased to exhibit them to each and every one. t th-w

Obituary.

The Late John Miller.

Less than a month ago the death of Mrs. John Miller, of Otonabee, was noted in these columns, and now it becomes the EXAMINER'S sad duty to chronicle the death of Mr. Miller himself, who passed away this morning (Jan. 7th, 1889) at the advanced age of 74 years. The deceased gentleman has been a resident of Otonabee for 58 years. He was a native of Scotland, and comes of fighting stock. He was born at Clathick, near Comrie, Perthshire, Scotland, and not far from the estate of Sir Ralph Abercrombie, who was killed at the Battle of the Nile. Mr. Miller's maternal grandfather, Duncan McIntyre, was a member of the 79th Highlanders, saw Sir Ralph carried from the field, and was also present at the Battle of Waterloo. Mr. Millar was accompanied to Canada by his brother, the late Mr. James Miller, and by his sisters Mrs. D. Drummond, Mrs. Comrie and Mrs. Shoss. In February 1842 Mr. Miller was united in marriage to Miss Wood and settled on the farm, where he resided till his death. He was for some time a member of the township counciland as deputy reeve, represented the township for one term in the county council. In politics Mr. Miller was a thorough Liberal, and firmly believed in the exercise of his franchise. From Dr. Gilchrist election contest, to the time of his death, he has voted at every election, municipal and parliamentary. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, and an elder of the congregation of Rev. Mr. Andrew's, Keene. He was held in high respect by all classes of the community.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE OLD MILLS AGAIN MADE NEW.

The above Mills were shut down last April, and all the old machinery, from the water wheels to the top of the Mill, removed and replaced by an entirely new plant. The machinery put in is the most modern, and the capacity has been increased 250 barrels daily. The Roller Plant is W. F. Cochrane's New invention, connected and running in two straight lines and driven by one belt. We have also erected adjoining the Mill a NEW ELEVATOR for wheat, with a capacity of 30,000 bushels. For grinding coarse grain into chop, we have put in A New Roller Mill which is a great improvement over the old stones. The firm has spared no expense in making this mill one of the best of its capacity in Canada, and that they have succeeded in so doing is evident from the excellent quality of flour it is now turning out.

We invite all our old customers, and others who have not favored us in the past, and all the farmers from north, south, east and west of Peterborough, to call and see us; assuring satisfaction in prices and quality of flour, price for wheat, quality and quantity of flour exchanged for wheat, and last but not least, the reduction of coarse grain into chop by our NEW ROLLER CHOP MILL. Chopping 5c. a Bag. 13w1-6d2

A PETITION FOR SCOTT ACT REPEAL IN COLCHESTER.

Judge Cassault's Illness Makes Necessary the Appointment of Another Administrator for Quebec.

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—A somewhat curious thing has happened with regard to opening the Quebec Legislature on Wednesday. Owing to the illness of Lieutenant Governor Angers an order-in-council was passed on Saturday morning appointing Judge Cassault administrator for the purpose of opening the House, and Mr. McGee, Clerk of the Privy Council, left for Quebec yesterday to swear him in. This morning a telegram was received that Judge Cassault was laid up in bed with gout and it would be impossible for him to go out on Wednesday. Another meeting of Council was thereupon held and Judge Bowen appointed. His commission was made out and forwarded to Mr. McGee this afternoon and he will be sworn in to-morrow. The appointment is only for the purpose of opening the Legislature. Lieutenant-Governor Angers, although suffering from bronchitis, is still able to attend to business at his residence.

The directors of the St. Catharines Milling Company will meet here to-morrow to discuss what action will be taken now that the decision of the Privy Council has been given against the company. It is most probable that the Dominion Government will be called on to rescue the company for all outlay.

An order has been issued by the Postmaster-General that in future savings bank and money order offices shall be kept open until 11 o'clock on all holidays.

The Department of Justice has received a petition for the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act in Colchester County.

The idea of establishing a ferry on Bras d'Or Lake, C. B., in connection with the Cape Breton Railway has been abandoned and a steel bridge will be built across the Grand Narrows at a cost of about $300,000.

The board of civil service examiners has forwarded to the Secretary of State the list of successful candidates in the November examination and they will probably appear in the next Canada Gazette.

The Railway Committee will meet on Jan. 16. The Detroit extension of the Ontario and Quebec Railway will apply to cross the London, Huron and Bruce branch of the Grand Trunk Railway at Hyde Park by means of an overhead bridge. The same road wants to cross the Sarnia branch of the Grand Trunk in Caradoc Township, Middlesex County.

A cablegram received from Hon Mr. Chapleau states that he had an operation performed to-day and is doing well.

ESCAPED FROM SING SING.

Convict Montgomery goes Down the Walls on a Rope Ladder.

SING SING, Jan. 8.—Keeper Michael T. Garvey took a gang of convicts to the roof of the main prison yesterday to make some repairs. Among the men was James Montgomery, aged 42, alias James Lewis, alias James Buckling, alias James Austin, who was sentenced by Judge Gildersleeve of New York to five years' imprisonment for burglary March 25, 1887.

Keeper Garvey, who is a roofer by trade, was not satisfied with the way the work was being done, and knelt down to show the men a few tricks of the trade. His back was hardly turned before Montgomery threw over the parapet a little rope ladder which he had concealed under his coat, and slid down opposite the window of Warden Brush's bathroom. He pulled open the window, shot in and dashed down the hall and front stairs. Here he stopped a few minutes, recovered his breath and took off his coat. He turned it inside out and threw it negligently over his shoulder. Passing out of the south entrance of the warden's residence he made his way across the garden in front and out through the little wicket gate into the road. He seemed in no hurry, and in fact all his movements were marked by the utmost deliberation. He looked around a few moments and then sauntered down the road toward Sparta, a little village a mile south of Sing Sing and a half mile from the prison. On the road he passed several people, who looked at his convict garb, but who never supposed that he was escaping.

Near Sparta he was seen by George Gisler and Michael Gisler, who believed him to be an escaping convict. Spurred on by the standing reward of $50 for the capture of a convict, they started toward him. The burglar sprang forward like a deer and rushed into the woods back of the village. His pursuers could now and again catch a glimpse of the striped suit as the convict hurried in and out among the naked trees.

The Gislers made a detour and suddenly came face to face with their man. The burglar's lips were firmly set and his eyes fixed steadily on the men. They advanced, and as they approached he pulled a long knife from under his jacket, and said in slow, measured tones: "I will kill the first man who lays hands on me." There was no mistaking the burglar's intentions, for he held the knife back over his shoulder ready to do murder for his liberty. Michael Gisler, a nephew of the two men, came into the wood, where his uncles held the convict at bay. He drew his revolver, and told the burglar that unless he dropped his knife he would bore a hole through him. The convict never winced. Young Gisler fired a shot that whizzed by Montgomery's head. The convict knew that the bullet was not fired to kill, and laughed at the men. Another shot was fired, and again the burglar laughed, at the same time retreating deeper into the woods.

Keeper Robinson of the prison came into the woods at this moment. "Shoot him," he cried, "if he does not surrender, and shoot to kill!" Young Gisler leveled his pistol again and advanced on the convict. The barrel was pointed at the man's heart, and there was no trace of pity on the face of the holder of the weapon. He did not speak a word, but approached steadily. The convict watched him until within five feet and then he dropped his knife. He was taken back to the prison, and, when Principal Keeper Connaughton said he was glad to see him, he replied: "Well, you came near never seeing me again. I have been planning this escape ever since I have been here."

The little rope ladder was made of pieces of marline knotted together and stray bits of wood. A hammer handle formed one of the three rungs. No one knows where the convict got the rope and knife.

Montgomery has always been regarded as a desperate prisoner, and has a record for escaping. He served a previous term in Sing Sing. He escaped from Dannemora Prison, but was recaptured, and about five years ago while serving a term for burglary in the New Jersey State Prison at Trenton, escaped and made his way into the woods in the depth of winter. There he wandered about for two weeks, until he was nearly dead from starvation and exposure and gave himself up.

Hamilton Granted Time.

HAMILTON, Jan. 7.—The Hamilton Base ball Association's request for an extension of time until January 15 has been granted. A Grab for Diamonds.

NEWARK, Jan. 8.—Two men threw a brick through the window of Emil Alters' jewelry store on Broad-street, at 10 o'clock last night, and tried to grab a tray of diamonds. A brass railing made the blaring attempt at robbery a failure, as before it was broken a clerk rushed from the store and chased away the men. A crowd joined in the pursuit, but the men escaped by running through Military Park.

THE GREAT SUGAR FRAUD

DIRECTOR FULLER EXTRACTS HOPE FROM THE SITUATION.

Why He Thinks the "Professor" Had Valuable Secret—Enough Investors Who Bought Stock at $200.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Director Lorenzo N. Fuller has not yet abandoned his faith in the electric sugar refining process. "Why," he says, "do you mean to tell me that Mrs. Freund would have retained those $200 shares if the thing had been a swindle? Why, she might have sold each of her shares for $200 and made a fortune out of it. There is another reason for my faith in the thing," he said, "I will pay $2000 to any refiner in the world who will produce a single barrel of sugar equal to any of these grades, and I will give another $1000 to you if you will find such a man. The fact is it can't be done at any price. There is a secret somewhere."

The secret in question promised, when put into practice, to revolutionize the sugar trade by placing in the hands of the fortunate shareholders a monopoly of the sugar refining industry of the world. By passing through a mysterious process dried beets, electric force raw sugar was to be transformed, at a fabulously cheap price, into refined sugar of unequaled purity. The samples of its work were pronounced of unexampled purity by the best authorities of both continents. Sugar refiners began to quail at the prospects the new discovery promised. Even the sugar trust began to fear the opposition of the new company and fabulous prices were offered for the purchase of the secret. Samples after samples of Freund's work was exhibited and caused the greatest interest in the trade.

Finally the company was floated and Freund furnished with $100,000 for the purchase of machinery. The factory was fitted up in the most gorgeous style, $40,000 being expended on this. The Brush electric light flashed through the factory, illuminating even the mysterious rooms of the secret treasure. Each of the men had his private room, where they worked by day and slept by night. Their meals were provided by "Jerry," a mysterious servant who attended to all their wants at the company's expense. But "Jerry" was limited to certain rooms of the factory.

After "Professor" Freund's death in March last Howard remained in charge of the factory, on a salary of $40 a week. Mrs. Freund also received a consideration of $100 a month. Meantime samples in fourteen different grades were turned out, the sugar was boomed everywhere, and the officials became more and more anxious to learn the secret. They were invited to witness experiments at the factory, that is, to listen to them. They were shown the raw sugar. For ten minutes they listened with breathless interest to the noise of the wondrous fortune-making machinery, then they feasted their eyes on results such as man had never seen.

Two weeks ago Howard went west to spend the holidays at Milan. On Dec. 24 the president of the company, W. H. Cotterill, also left for Milan to make arrangements for the fulfilment of Mrs. Freund's contract to reveal the great secret. He was surprised to find that Mrs. Freund now refused to unravel the secret. He insisted that even if the preparations were not complete she should pass fifty barrels of raw sugar through the process in presence of her own lawyers, but this she declined to accede to. With his first suspicions aroused President Cotterill returned to this city, went straight to the factory in Brooklyn, and broke down the barriers that sheltered the mystic secret with the result detailed to-day.

But a great many people would still like to know how sugar of such unequalled quality and unexampled purity was turned out.

Liverpool Speculators Hopeful.

GUELPH, Jan. 7.—Some Guelph people are among the victims of the electric sugar refining swindle, insurance agent O. H. Evans being the principal holder of stock here. Some stock here was sold at $600 a share.

A NEW ELDORADO.

Silver is Just Bursting From the North in the Lake Superior Region.

DETROIT, Jan. 7.—Richardson I. Paulison, capitalist and president of the North Shore Mining Company, has just returned from a trip to the mining country north of Lake Superior. He is almost carried away with enthusiasm with what he saw. He started from Port Arthur, Canada; thence pushed his way west through windfalls, boulder piles and rugged hills to a point north of Sand Lake. He says: Beginning with the Beaver mine you strike a belt of silver forty miles long and six miles broad. Beaver mine is owned by General Alger, and half a million of ore is in sight. There are four other mines now being worked, which show wonderful prospects. It may tax the credulity of people to say that great masses of pure silver are found in the region I have been visiting, but such is the truth. The rock of that belt is the oldest in the country, not excepting Mexico. It was brought to the surface by the earliest upheaval and shows the richest ore in the world. There is bound to be a great boom there in 1890. Twill be a boom with ample capital, as a poor man stands no show under the strict mining laws of that country. One of the chief needs is a railroad, which I propose to build. I hope to interest Detroit capital, but failing in that I will look to Eastern men. The idea would be to extend the road from Port Arthur into the mining region, and ultimately to Duluth and the Minnesota wheat fields. As things now are everything is very expensive in the region of the silver belt. A house that cost $300 here would cost $2000 there. As soon as this find becomes generally known there will be a great rush into the field. It is certainly a wonderful Eldorado."

FAVORABLE FORECAST OF THE RUSSIAN BUDGET.

Boulanger's Election Deemed Certain—Rumors of a Coming Duel Between Celebrated Artists Current in London.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at St. Petersburg gives a forecast of the Russian budget. He says it will be one of the best that Russia has had in a long time and will probably show a surplus of from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000. It will also prove that the rumors of great war preparations in Russia are unfounded.

Rumors of a duel are current.

This they did and then fell back, allowing the Soudanese to fire. After a short engagement the enemy retired with four wounded. OUR PUBLIC DEBT.

In the interval between sessions of Parliament there is a decided lull in political affairs and the people settle down into the feeling that things are rubbing on, any way—into a condition of apathetic trust in the automatic sailing powers of the ship of state. Of course the ship of state sails along serenely and steadily, so, indeed, she is bound to do when she is ballasted with a gross debt amounting to almost three hundred million dollars. The people ought to rouse themselves from their condition of false security on the subject of the public debt. They ought to feel a keen alarm over the fact that since Confederation—in 1867, a little over twenty years—the public debt of the Dominion has trebled, and be appalled at the fact that since 1878, when Sir John Macdonald and his party were returned to power, a trifle over ten years, the public debt has increased one hundred millions of dollars! or, in exact figures, $94,199,389. In 1882, Sir Leonard Tilley, then Finance Minister, in a cheerful speech, prophesied that by the year 1890 the debt of Canada would be reduced to a hundred million dollars. The year 1890 proves Sir Leonard to be only about one hundred and eighty-four millions out in his reckoning. The apologists of the government seeing that they cannot deny these ponderous facts endeavor to lessen the weight of the burden by asserting that the country has increased in population, resources, etc., in a proportionate manner—that the national back has been broadened to the national burden. But such is not the case. Within my the past twenty years the public debt has increased two hundred and fifteen per cent; in the same time the expenditure has increased one hundred and seventy-two per cent., and at the same time taxation has increased one hundred and seventy per cent. During the same twenty years our population (which has to stand all the above gigantic increases) has only increased thirty-eight per cent. If our good Conservative government calls this progress, the people of Canada are certainly justified in demanding a little healthy retrogression, especially in the matter of the public debt and public expenditure.

Warsaw Presbyterian Church.

A very successful missionary meeting was held in the above named church, on the evening of the 20th ult. After devotional exercises, which were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. R. Hyde, the Rev. John McEwen, of Lakefield, delivered a most eloquent and telling address, keeping his audience spell-bound for about fifty minutes. The Rev. gentleman introduced the subject of Home Missions work, by administering the sacrament of baptism to the infant daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hyde. During the evening the choir sang several appropriate pieces. On the afternoon of the 22nd ult., the Sabbath school class, taught by Miss Mary Kidd, presented her with the following and fruit service:—

DEAR TEACHER,—It is with feelings of regret that we hear that you are about to sever your connection with our Sabbath school, and we cannot permit this opportunity to pass without expressing our thanks for the interest you have taken in our spiritual welfare—and as a proof of our sincerity, we hereby present you with this fruit service, and may you long be spared to enjoy their use. Be assured, we shall always remember you. May we all live, so that we may at last meet in that Happy Home, where parting shall be unknown.

Sarah J. Smith, Lizzie Ware, Lillie Smith, Lottie Smith, Charlotte Edwards.

On the evening of the 26th ult., at the close of the week-night prayer meeting, the pastor requested Miss Mary Kidd to come forward to the choir platform. When she took her position on the platform, Mr. Alex. Smith, the senior elder present, read the following address, and Mrs. John Wasson, representing the ladies, handed the presents:

DEAR MISS KIDD,—On the occasion of your approaching marriage, and your departure from our midst, a few of your co-workers and well-wishers desire to present to you some tangible proof of their respect and regret ere you leave this place to occupy another and nobler position in life. We assure you that we feel that we are not only losing a true and tried friend, but also an energetic worker in every good and noble cause. In leaving us the Sabbath school loses a faithful teacher, the church a noble worker and the choir a leading spirit. Your departure from our midst will leave a vacant place, which will long suggest to us the one who sat there; but to the Great Disposer of all events we humbly bow.

Ere we say good-bye to you, we desire your acceptance of this silver cruet and cake basket, as token of our respect and regret at your departure from our midst. We pray that your life may be spared so that you may enjoy the use of these tokens of our friendship, and which we believe will suggest to you the warm friends you have left here, and also bring to your remembrance many happy days you have spent in the Warsaw Presbyterian church.

Mr. John Kidd, brother of Miss Mary Kidd, replied in behalf of his sister.

From Our Own Correspondent.

We may be rather late in presenting our communication, but lengthy and interesting Xmas festivities is our excuse, and hope for pardon. We were agreeably surprised to see the hall filled to overflowing on Xmas Eve, although the evening was extremely unfavorable. However, all was bright, merry and inviting inside, and an appreciative and large assembly to enjoy. Mr. D. Nelson discharged the duties of chairman in his usual masterly manner. There were over 50 children on the platform, each taking part in the entertainment which was unusually interesting. All were particularly pleased with the boys' rendition of the "Choice of Trades." Also recitations, well rendered, by little girls, and "Rock a bye Baby," beautifully sang by Miss Mabel Nelson, which was loudly applauded. The dialogues were exceedingly well acted, in fact, too much praise cannot be given the children for the manner in which they executed their parts, and their teacher, Miss Maggie Mark, must certainly have given them a thorough and careful training, for which they showed lively and sincere appreciation, by presenting her with a handsome Plush Dressing Case with handkerchief drawer attached. The presentation was made just before Santa Claus appeared, the following address being read by Miss Carrie Walsh.

DEAR MISS MARK;—We, the pupils of Allandale school, cannot allow this opportunity to pass, without giving you our sincere thanks for the interest you have taken in our advancement during the past year. Our parents join in tendering thanks for the kindness you have shown us. We wish you a Merry Christmas and a happy New Year; hoping you will accept a souvenir of our gratitude,

Signed on behalf of the scholars,

MARY HOPE
CARRIE WALSH,
SARAH NELSON,

Two heavily laden evergreens were divested of their beauty, and many were the exclamations of surprise as "Santa Claus" went about distributing the presents. We heard that some unlucky youths got the mitten. One feature of the evening was luncheon, served in the lower rooms of the hall during recess, under the able supervision of Misses Aggie Nelson and Minnie Walsh. Proceeds of evening, $23.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Municipal Elections—Sullivan Signs Articles to Fight Kilrain.

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—Owing to Mayor Clark's re-election to the mayoralty a week ago by acclamation, the municipal contest this year lacked the interest and excitement which has usually characterized the annual strife for civic honors. The results are rather victories of men than of principles. Harry Piper of Zoo fame, who headed the poll in St. John's Ward last year, was beaten as was also his colleague from the Noble Ward, John Irwin. Rather to his own surprise but not greatly to that of anyone else, John Hallam, who has been distributing election cards containing printed texts coupled with an injunction to vote for Honest John, also finds himself relegated to private life. Ald. Fleming had the largest vote, 1228. The bylaw appropriating $30,000 for the establishment of a dispensaries hospital was defeated by a majority of 1998.

The articles for a prize fight between John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain were signed at the Rossin House yesterday morning. The battle will take place within 200 miles of New Orleans, July 8, for $10,000 a side and the championship of the world. Sullivan was there himself together with a host of more or less well-known sports from across the line including representatives of all the leading sporting papers. Steve Brodie the famous bridge jumper, "Parson" Davies, manager of the Mitchell-Kilrain combination, W. E. Harding of The Police Gazette and others.

Mayor Clarke will present the testimonial to Rev. T. W. Jeffery at Association Hall to-night.

Mr. Justice MacMahon yesterday made an order for bail for Alexander Campbell, confined in the Belleville jail on a charge of criminal assault. The Deputy Attorney-General agreed to the order. The bonds were fixed at two sureties of $200 each and Campbell's own in $1200.

In the action brought by the Attorney-General of Ontario against the Ætna Insurance Company to recover that company's proportion of the $17,000 damages done by fire to a wing of the London Insane Asylum, Sir Thomas Galt yesterday decided in favor of the province.

HE CONSPIRED TO SHOOT WHITES.

Then a Masked Party Called on Him and Shot Him to Death.

MERIDIAN, Miss., Jan. 8.—In the neighborhood of the Roberts place, twelve miles northwest of this city, there has been great excitement since the Wednesday after Christmas, bad feeling being engendered among the negroes by the lynching of the negro who entered the house of Mr. Houston at midnight and attempted to murder one of the inmates with an axe. The negro was recognized and afterwards hanged. Since that time the negroes have been making threats.

Just prior to the holidays an old negro man reported that a conspiracy was brewing to kill certain white men in that locality. This report was corroborated by overhearing a conversation between the old negro and one Bud Spears, who, it was said, was a ringleader among the negroes.

The result was a party of masked men and an excursion to the house of Spear, and the conspirator was shot. Since then efforts have been made by armed white men to arrest the negroes implicated in the conspiracy. On Thursday seven of the negroes were subjected to preliminary trial and acquitted.

REMORSE DROVE HIM TO DEATH.

Thomas Ready Had One Too Many Wives, so He Killed Himself.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Jan. 8.—Thomas Ready, aged 26, who committed suicide by taking poison yesterday at the Zylonite Hotel, was last November refused marriage by the pastor of the St. Francis Catholic church, as it was not certain that his former wife was dead. Ready afterwards produced alleged proofs of the death of his first wife, and he was married to Miss Moore on Thanksgiving day. The pair left town shortly after, when reports were circulated to the effect that Ready's first wife was living, and that the proofs to the contrary which he furnished were forged.

Mrs. Ready No. 2 came back some time since. Ready returned yesterday and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Hearing of this, he took a large dose of poison before boarding a horse car for Adams. He was taken sick on the car and stopped at the Zylonite Hotel, where he ordered a room. Shortly afterwards he was found in intense pain, death resulting last night. Previous to this escapade deceased had borne an excellent reputation. It is thought that remorse drove him to the deed.

Terrible Accident in a Mill.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 8.—On Saturday afternoon William Patrick Devlin, 20 years old, undertook to put a belt on a drum in Morrison's mill, which is about a mile below Fredericton. His left arm became caught and he was dragged between the belt and the drum. The arm was pulled out at the socket, and every particle of clothing torn from his body. The flesh was torn on the arm and his body was badly bruised. Wm. Godsoe, who went to his assistance, was struck by Devlin's boots and knocked senseless. When he recovered he stopped the engine. Devlin died at a late hour last night, after having borne his terrible suffering with great heroism. He leaves a wife and one child.

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE!

Result of the Municipal Election Contests.

A List of the Successful Candidates for Municipal Honors in the Town and County—The Town Council for 1889.

The agony is over for another year, and the people's representatives at the municipal boards for the ensuing twelve months have been chosen. In town there was not a great deal of excitement, and the vote polled was much smaller than last year. There was just enough activity on the streets to indicate that something of unusual importance was occurring. Some betting was done, but there was too general an unanimity of opinion to warrant any extensive gambling.

The mayoralty contest resulted in an easy victory for Mr. Stevenson. The supporters of both Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Denne worked hard, but the electors evinced their satisfaction with the present Mayor in an unmistakeable manner. In No. 4 Ward, where Mr. Denne resides, the contest was close.

The councillorio fight was only carried on in three wards, the representatives of No. 4 being elected by acclamation.

In No. 1 Ward the three present councillors were returned with good majorities. There seems to have been a determined effort made to oust Mr. Davidson, but a majority of the ratepayers considered him too good a man to lose. In Mr. Davidson, as chairman of the Finance Committee, the town has a very valuable man. Mr. Winch again headed the poll, with Mr. Cahill a close second. Mr. George Rose, the labor candidate made a good run considering the uphill fight he had to make.

In No. 2 Ward Messrs. Thos. Kelly, E. H. D. Hall and A. Hall were again elected, Mr. Kelly taking the lead. The electors of No. 1 and 2 wards are apparently content with the past records of their present councillors. Mr. W. H. Robertson, though unsuccessful, had many friends who did their best to have him elected.

No. 3 Ward will have an entirely new set of men at the council board. It was a matter of general surprise that Mr. Moore was defeated. He was generally regarded as a live, energetic and careful guardian of the town's interests, and his defeat was unexpected. Mr. Adam Dawson, who heads the poll, is to be congratulated upon his victory, which is all the more marked that he did not personally solicit a single vote. He received many plumpers, and altogether the election returns would indicate that he is about the most popular resident of the third ward today. Mr. J.D. Baptie came in a good second, closely followed by Mr. A. Rutherford, who is an old and tried municipal officer. Messrs. Dawson and Baptie supply the only young blood infused into the council of 1889.

In the fourth ward the old councillors were returned by acclamation—an evidence of the satisfaction of the ratepayers. The present representatives are Messrs. J. J. Hartley, J. Keadry and Wm. Lansford.

After the election returns were made known the streets were crowded with people talking over the results, and the fire brigade band serenaded the successful candidates, whose good humor took practical shape in the way of munificent donations to the Band.

Following are the correct returns:

Ashburnham Brevities.

Miss Annie Smith left this morning for Toronto, to resume her duties in the Kindergarten school.

The public school re-opened yesterday after the holidays, with an attendance, in the three rooms, of about 170.

The many friends of Mr. W. Wand will be pleased to hear that he is recovering from his recent illness.

The first coat of paint is being put on the hull of Mr. Calcutt's new boat.

The municipal election caused a good deal of excitement in the village yesterday, although not of a disorderly character. The day was noted throughout by an honest endeavor on the part of the friends of each candidate to poll every available vote, but still a great many electors did not reach the polling place. It will be seen from the figures given elsewhere, that Messrs. Wand, Calcutt, Tivey and Marshall are to be councillors for the present year. Messrs. Tivey and Marshall are new men, and Messrs. Wand and Anderson the old councillors who were defeated.

WHAT THE CANDIDATES SAY.

One more success without a fight.
JOHN BURNHAM.

I have headed the poll twice now and I'll do it again. J. T. CRAIG.

I'm the man that's to govern the north end this year. R. TIVEY.

Who says I'm not the biggest man in the council? HARRY CALCUTT.

They elected me councillor this year and I'll be reeve next year.
HAMILTON MARSHALL

Had I been able to work I'd have been one of the happy four. W. WAND.

Now that I've been over the course I'll take a higher place next time.
ALEX. FITZGERALD.

I've served the village faithfully two years and am willing to try it again.
JOHN ANDERSON.

A Chapter of Accidents.

Both Legs Amputated by a Train—Accidents About Town.

This morning Messrs. Wilson & Morrison, agents for the Manufacturers' Insurance Company, received the following telegram from their agent at Orillia:

Mr. A. D. Kean, Orillia, had both legs amputated by midnight train here.
R. WATSON.

Mr. Morrison has telegraphed for further particulars. Mr. Kean is quite well known in Peterborough. He is one of Orillia's leading lawyers. The accident is a terrible one to contemplate.

Saturday afternoon a brakesman named Roseman lost an arm at the North Hastings Junction of the G. J. R. He was climbing on the tender but slipped and fell beneath the wheels, which severed his arm from the body. He was taken to Belleville hospital.

Yesterday afternoon a young man named Robt. Fanning, employed at the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company's Works, fell off a car on to the track and suffered a severe injury to his back.

William Neil, an employe of Forsyth's factory, has a couple of very sore fingers as a result of too close contact with the knives of a "shaper." The end of one of the digits was nipped off.

The Manufacturers' Accident Insurance Company, Wilson & Morrison, agents, have cheap rates and large indemnities. No one should be without an accident policy.

An Embezzler Arrested.

A Toronto Man in Trouble at Lakefield—Embezzling Goods from a Bankrupt Stock.

Lakefield is all agog over the elections and an embezzlement case. The elections are dealt with elsewhere, this item treats of the sensational portion of the excitement.

Not long ago E. Sellens, dry goods merchant, assigned to a Toronto firm, and a man named W. E. Davis was sent down to look after the stock. For some time there were strong suspicions that quantities of the goods were being surreptitiously spirited away. While stock was being taken it was suspected that Davis took goods out of the shop after night, and after the stock had been taken it became known that he was systematically abstracting goods from the place. A couple of large parcels were sent away by Davis, but to what destination could not be found out.

Davis was watched and finally cornered. He was compelled to confess that he had been embezzling the goods, and made out a list of articles which he admitted taking. He was arrested by Constable Cochrane, and upon executing a search warrant his rooms at Dion's hotel were found to contain a quantity of the missing merchandise.

Yesterday Davis was given a preliminary trial before J.P. Hall, who committed him for trial. It is presumed the prisoner found bail, as he has not yet been incarcerated. He is still in Lakefield.

The School Limits.

There is a good deal of objection being taken by the townspeople to the new school attendance divisions. A great many parents consider that the limits are too strictly defined. This morning no less than 20 children were sent away from the Central School because they reside outside the boundaries; in some cases they lived simply on the wrong side of the dividing street. A special meeting of the school board will be called for Thursday evening to consider the matter.

A. O. W. W.

The regular meeting of the Peterborough Lodge No. 126, A. O. U. W., will be held this Tuesday evening in the Foresters' Hall. Installat on of officers. A full attendance is requested.

Farmers' Institute.

A meeting of the directors of the Farmers' Institute will be held Wednesday afternoon to appoint dates for the coming series of meetings, the first of which will probably be held at Peterborough next week or the week following. The first meeting of the East Riding Institute will be held at Norwood Saturday next.

Just to Hand.

A car load of very fine sugars, which will be sold at cost. Be sure to call and price them as they are cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. Another large consignment of teas has arrived, nice and fresh, as our extensive holiday sale cleared the greater part of our stock off. W. J. MORROW, 340 George street.

A Festive Occasion.

Last night, by special request of the Grand Master, the installation of the newly-elected officers of both lodges of the Sons of England Benevolent Society in Peterborough were held together, D.D.G.M. Brundrette being installing officer. After the ceremony the "hearts of oak" met around the festive board, and the evening's proceedings terminated in a right jolly and fraternal manner.

The "Examiner" Folding Machine.

The Brown newspaper folding machine for the EXAMINER has arrived and is at the station. It was the intention to present our readers, at the beginning of the year, with the weekly EXAMINER cut and pasted, but the change of premises has interfered with that intention, which will, however, be fully carried out on the occupation of our new and more commodious premises, about the first of February next.

Pianos and Organs.

Jackson & Co. have the largest stock of pianos and organs in Peterborough to select from at lowest factory prices. Terms to suit everybody. All instruments sold by Jackson & Co. are guaranteed for five years and kept in tune for two years free of charge. Piano and organs taken in exchange and the best value allowed for them. Second hand pianos and organs from $50. Sole agents for the Karn Organs, prices from $47.00 up. Tuning and repairing done. Jackson & Co., corner of Simcoe and Aylmer streets. dw

Entertained by the Pastor.

The choir of the George street Methodist church was entertained by the pastor, Rev. M. L. Pearson, at his residence last evening. Refreshments were provided and a pleasant and profitable evening spent. An impromptu concert was also gotten up, consisting of solos by Messrs. Annesley, Ferguson and E. Pearson and duets by Misses Wrighton and Pearson, Mrs. Hamilton and Mr. Miller, and Messrs. Ferguson and Pearson. Rev. Mr. Pearson is a popular pastor.

REMEMBER that M. R. KIDD is doing some remarkable price cutting on groceries.

Five Hundred Voices.

To-night the annual choral festival of the George street Methodist Sunday school, will be held in the church. A choir of 500 juvenile voices, to be assisted by the grand organ and orchestra, have been trained to sing beautiful hymns and anthems, and besides some noted local talent will assist. A spacious platform has been erected over the altar area with wings ascending to the transept galleries, giving sufficient room for the accommodation of the 500 children. Mr. Arthur Rutherford built the platform. The officers, teachers and musical director have gone to an immense amount of trouble and labor to bring this festival to perfection, and the public should show their appreciation by a large attendance. The entertainment opens at 8 o'clock.

The Official Returns.

Among the multifarious duties of the Peterborough reporters was one devolving upon them at noon to-day of listening to the formal declaration of the election returns by Returning Officer Macdonald. They were requested to be the audience on this suspicious occasion, as representative of the wealth and intelligence of the community, but other more pressing duties interfered and they were unable to take in the matinee. The official, bound to fulfil the conditions of the law and at the same time not waste his figurative eloquence upon the desert air, impressed Chief of Police Reazel and Mr. James English, engineer, into the service. After the returns had been read and duly declared, etc., the proceedings terminated with the patriotic sentiment from Mr. English, "God bless the Queen and royal family." Vivat Jim.

Now for Business Again.

Now that the elections are happily over, the people can settle down to business for the New Year without any destracting influences. The farmer sets about getting up his winter supply of fuel, the merchant squares up his accounts, and the wise man or woman rushes to gough bros., the wonderful cheap men, and invests in tip-top boots and shoes, which are sold at less than half what the high priced dealers charge for the same quality of goods. Here's where you get it. Great stacks of splendid boots and shoes going for less than half the wholesale cost. You can't afford to miss this chance. Bargains ripening for the public every hour. Call and gather them in. Keep your feet dry and warm. Don't run your pocket book dry. Don't let the high-priced dealers clean you out, but go to gough bros., the wonderful cheap men, and save half the money you would have to pay if you went to other shops.

A Week of Prayer.

A good congregation attended the first of the series of meeting to be held in the town during the present week, at the Charlotte street church Monday night. The services were most interesting, Rev. Mr. Shorey presiding and Rev. E. F. Torrance delivering an address upon "Thanksgiving and confession." To-night a meeting will be held in the Murray street Baptist church, which will be presided over by Rev. P. C. Parker and spoken to by Rev. S. J. Shorey. The subject will be "The Holy Spirit in the Church." For the demonstration of the Spirit and power; for his abundant grace and effectual operation as the Spirit of truth and holiness, comfort and love; that multitudes may be convinced of sin and converted to God; that backsliders may be restored; that believers may walk in newness of life; that divisions among Christians may be healed, and the spirit of humility increased. —John 16: 8-15. Rom. 8: 14-17; 1 Cor. 12: 13; Gal. 5: 22-26; Phil. 2: 5-16.

A Few Reflections.

The Sensations and Sadness of Newspaper Life—A Glimpse Behind the Scenes.

"You fellows must find it pretty hard work these dull times to fill up your paper," was remarked to the EXAMINER this morning. "Of course you have lots of news once in a while, but I don't see how you keep up the standard every day. You must shin it considerably to do so."

You're right; we do shin it considerably. And it is often a matter of surprise to ourselves as well as the public that we are able to continuously present a readable budget of news when, to the ordinary citizen, the town is as quiet as a graveyard. There is a novelty about newspaper life that is exhilarating. But don't run away with the idea that there is not hard work to be performed also. The life of a journalist is not all sunshine. There are times when the day's work of an ordinary man is crowded into a few hours. And what a hustling there has to be then!

There is truth in every line of the following "reflections" taken from the Kingston Whig. The missions which reporters have to perform are sometimes pleasant, sometimes difficult, sometimes perplexing. It is a wonder that the reports are so well written up, because the circumstances are so varied and often quite technical in character. From the synod to the circus, from the prayer meeting to the police court, from the council to the caucus, from the theatre to the church, from the hallelujah meeting to the horse race, from the funeral to the fight, from the teetotallers' talk to the vituallers' spread, from the farmers' institute to the foresters' court, from the concert hall to death's chamber. To keep in touch with all these things requires an apt spirit and a ready pen.

Sometimes tired and weary over a long drawn meeting a reporter goes home to spend the midnight hours in getting his hieroglyphics and notes into readable shape, to make men's speeches run smoothly, to give expressions to views uttered in language most palpably ungrammatical, and then—to be abused for not expressing the citizens' views as plainly as could be washed.

No, sir, there is no class more painstaking than the reporters, none more anxious to do the right thing, none more truthful. Many will think the last remark a joke, but were they to live in a newspaper office for one week they would speedily discover the necessity for truthfulness. Nothing is more gladly seized by the public than mis-statements, and nothing causes more distress in a reporter's life. But there are often mis-statements! Granted, but they are not maliciously inserted. Wrong information is frequently given, and rather than throw the odium on the informer the scribe stands the reproach.

Apropos, the Peterborough reporters do about as much work as is done in any town or small city in the province, and in no place of its size or even larger can more readable or reliable newspapers be found. They are deserving of public encouragement.

Ahead of All.

I have used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam in my family for years and have found it ahead of any preparation of the kind in curing colds, etc. I can especially recommend it for children. ALEX. MOFFAT, Millbrook, Ont. 2wld

LeGros' Christmas Boxes.

Mr. Charles Legros is not neglecting the demands of Christmas in his barber shop and tobacco store business. He has now in stock a fine display of plain and fancy pipes, cigar cases and cigar holders, fancy match cases and all other fine goods required by smokers. A new line of choice imported cigars. LUNATICS ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE.

Five of the Criminal Insane at the Auburn Asylum Nearly Go Free.

AUBURN, N. Y., Jan. 8.—While the attention of William Kelly, temporarily the only guard in charge of ward 6, in which are confined the most dangerous criminals in the insane asylum here, was momentarily diverted at 5.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a desperate attempt to escape was made by five inmates. John Thomas, alias Welch; John O'Brien, Henry Hance, Thomas Smith and Thomas Donohue rushed upon Mr. Kelly and knocked him down.

The lunatics passed down the stairs into the basement, and, having reached the rear basement door of the main building, they opened it and rushed out suddenly on Guard Stebbins, who was stationed at that point. Although his rifle was strapped to his back in such a way that he could not unfasten it in time to use it, Stebbins struck at the desperate men before him. Other guards had by this time been attracted to the scene, and they succeeded in stopping the prisoners. Welch, who is a powerful man, would not surrender until he was shot in the leg. The prisoners were then marched back to their cells.

A Bride at 80 and Dead at 102.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 4.—Mrs. J. G. Chinn died in this city last week of pneumonia at the great age of 102 years. Not only was she remarkable for her age, but also for the fact that she was married at a time of life which but few people attain. Her marriage took place just thirteen years to a day before her death. Her husband, Dr. Chinn, was only seven years younger, their ages being 89 and 82 years respectively at the time of their nuptials. Dr. Chinn had once been Mayor of this city, and both come of old families. Their health was excellent, and both appeared younger by many years than their actual age. Mrs. Chinn preserved her mental faculties to a remarkable degree. She was a fine conversationalist, and had an almost unimpaired memory. She was a devoted member of the Christian Church, or Campbellites, as the denomination is more generally termed. Her large fortune was liberally handled. The funeral took place from the church in which she was married. Dr. Chinn survives his aged wife, and is still in fairly good health.

OTONABEE MILLS,

ASHBURNHAM.

THE OLD MILLS AGAIN MADE NEW.

The above Mills were shut down last April, and all the old machinery, from the water wheels to the top of the Mill, removed and replaced by an entirely new plant. The machinery put in is the most modern, and the capacity has been increased 250 barrels daily. The Roller Plant is W. F. Cochrane's New invention, connected and running in two straight lines and driven by one belt. We have also erected adjoining the Mill a NEW ELEVATOR for wheat, with a capacity of 30,000 bushels. For grinding coarse grain into chop, we have put in A New Roller Mill which is a great improvement over the old stones. The firm has spared no expense in making this mill one of the best of its capacity in Canada, and that they have succeeded in so doing is evident from the excellent quality of flour it is now turning out.

We invite all our old customers, and others who have not favored us in the past, and all the farmers from north, south, east and west of Peterborough, to call and see us; assuring satisfaction in prices and quality of flour, price for wheat, quality and quantity of flour exchanged for wheat, and last but not least, the reduction of coarse grain into chop by our NEW ROLLER CHOP MILL. Chopping 5c. a Bag. 13w1-642

NEGLECTED COLD IN THE HEAD IS DANGEROUS

James Smart, Esq., Sheriff of the united counties of Leeds and Grenville, says: It would be impossible to speak too extravagantly of the wonderful curative properties of NASAL BALM. I suffered for upwards of a month from a severe Cold in the Head, which, despite the use of other remedies, was becoming worse and developing into Catarrh. I procured a bottle of NASAL BALM, and was relieved from the first application, and thoroughly cured within 24 hours. I cheerfully add my testimony to the value of NASAL BALM.

Capt. D. R. Lyon, Manager and Proprietor of the C. P. R. and R. W. and O. R. Car Ferry, Prescott, Ontario, and Ogdensburg, New York, says: I used NASAL BALM for a prolonged case of cold in the head. Two applications effected a complete and thorough cure in less than 24 hours. I would not take $100 for my bottle of NASAL BALM if I could not replace it.

Isaac Waterman, of the Imperial Oil Co., Petrolia, Ont., says:—NASAL BALM gave me the most perfect satisfaction of any medicine I ever used for cold in the head. I found it easy to use, quick in giving relief and effected a complete cure in a few hours.

D. Derbyshire, President of the Ontario Creamery Association says:—NASAL BALM, beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

T. H Munroe, Parry Sound says:—NASAL BALM has no equal as a remedy for catarrh and cold in the head. It is both speedy and effective in its results.

D. A. Brocksbridge, General Agent Canada Life for Eastern Ontario, says:—I have used NASAL BALM for cold in the head with the most satisfactory results. It is all you claim for it, and its merit cannot too widely be made known.

Mr. G. T. Gorrell, Mail Clerk on C.P.R., says: —NASAL BALM is a boon to all suffering from cold in the head. It gives relief rapidly and never fails to effect a cure.

J. McKee, Chemist, Peterborough says:—NASAL BALM gives the most general satisfaction to consumers of any preparation I ever handled. My sales are large and the reports from those who use it fully substantiate your claims for the medicine as an unequalled remedy for catarrh and cold in the head.

COLD IN THE HEAD is one of the most annoying, and at the same time, most insidious and dangerous diseases with which the people of this latitude have to contend during the spring and summer months. Rapid changes of temperature, and damp, sloppy weather are the fruitful sources of Cold in the Head and there are few who have not felt its disagreeable effects. DO NOT NEGLECT A COLD IN THE HEAD, as it invariably leads to Catarrh—often to Consumption. NASAL BALM is a sure and speedy cure for Cold in the Head, and never fails to give almost instant relief. We offer the following testimony from well known people to substantiate our claims:

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS, similar only in name and appearance; they are dangerous. Ask for Nasal Balm and take nothing else. If you cannot obtain NASAL BALM from your dealer it will be sent post paid on receipt of price—50 cents and $1—by addressing FULFORD & CO., Brockville, Ont.

Send for our pamphlet "GEMS OF WISDOM."

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL

THE NEW CHAIRMAN OF THE LABOR COMMISSION.

Experimental Farm Improvements—A Dominion Geodetic Survey Branched—The Baden-Powell Fable.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—La Patrie of Montreal stated editorially yesterday that it was informed on good authority that Sir John A. Macdonald showed his love for Canada by investing $1,000,000 in United States securities and that Sir Adolphe Caron had $600,000 invested in a similar manner. There is not one word of truth in the story. On being shown the paragraph to-day Sir John laughed and said that unfortunately for him he had not $1,600,000 invested in the United States or anywhere else.

It is understood that Mr. A. T. Freed has been appointed chairman of the Labor Commission in place of the late Judge Armstrong. The commission meets here to-morrow to prepare its report.

An area of sixty-five acres in the central experimental farm will be laid out next spring as a botanical garden, and a great deal of other work will be done. A large number of young forest trees from Russia, France and other countries have been received and planted.

A deputation of Dominion land surveyors has asked Mr. Dewdney to authorize a geodetic survey, on the basis of that adopted in the United States, for the purpose of accurately defining the coast lines on our inland waters as well as those of the Atlantic coast.

The Department of Agriculture has issued a small pamphlet descriptive of the visit of the Ottawa Field Naturalists' Club to the experimental farm last summer.

George S. Mayes of St. John, N.B., has entered suit against the Government in the Exchequer Court for $4500 in connection with the contract for building the railway bridge across the St. John River two years ago. Mayes claims that part of the timber to be used had to be obtained in South Carolina and it was agreed that it should be inspected by Government officers before shipment, but that owing to delay in sending the inspector he was put to considerable extra expense.

The cablegram that Sir George Baden-Powell has been appointed by the Imperial Government as plenipotentiary to Washington and Ottawa on behalf of the British Government in the fisheries question is not credited in official circles here, as the Home Government never takes such action without consulting the Dominion authorities. The impression here is that nothing can be done in the fisheries matter until after Harrison comes into power.

Sheriff Hathaway of Montana, to whom the warrant for the extradition of Godin, the half breed murderer now in jail at Regina was addressed, having been defeated at the late election, the Department of Justice has issued another warrant addressed to the new sheriff.

As evidence of the openness of winter here it is worthy of mention that four of the Ottawa Rowing Club took a spin on the river to-day. There was a little ice about the boathouse, but the centre of the river was clear. A race for fours has been arranged for to-morrow.

It is understood that Captain James Dick, inspector of hulls at Toronto, has been retired from public service. It is probable that his successor will make headquarters at Kingston.

Sir John Thompson left for Montreal this afternoon to place one of his daughters in the convent at Sault au Recollet.

The Author of the Murchison Letter.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 8.—The Los Angeles Times this morning published a letter written by Col. H. G. Otis, editor of The Times, S. T. Gage and W. F. Fitzgerald, to President-elect Harrison, under date of Jan. 1, in which the identity of the author of the Murchison letter is disclosed. The letter states that the author of the letter is Osgoodby, a citizen of Pomona, a man of good repute and family, a fruit farmer and owner of considerable property. He has lived in Pomona a number of years. His parents and brother also reside there. He is of Scotch-English parentage, but was born in the United States. After drafting his original letter to Sackville West, which he says was written in the presence of his wife and brother, Osgoodby mailed it to the minister. Osgoodby says he did not until a few days before the correspondence was made public have a conception of its importance in a political sense.

BIRMINGHAM'S WELCOME.

An Enthusiastic Greeting to Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain—The Wedding Gifts.

BIRMINGHAM, Jan. 8.—The Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain and his bride were given a cordial greeting by the people of Birmingham to night. The reception to the couple was held in the Town Hall, which had been converted into a salon and beautifully decorated. The gathering was a large and representative one. Until the arrival of the guests of the evening the time was occupied in listening to a concert and viewing the presents intended for the bride, for which the citizens of Birmingham had subscribed £700.

The entrance of Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, who were accompanied by Mr. Chamberlain's sons and daughters, Lady Mandeville and others, was the signal for great cheering, which was again and again renewed, the organist meanwhile playing a wedding march. Handsome bouquets were presented to Mrs. Chamberlain, who repeatedly bowed her acknowledgments.

The bride was dressed in pink satin and her ornaments were diamonds and sapphires.

The presentation of the wedding gifts and accompanying addresses followed. The gifts consisted of a pearl necklet with a diamond clasp from the citizens and a brilliant diamond brooch containing fifty-five gems in the shape of a six-pointed star, the gift of the women of Birmingham.

Mr. Chamberlain, in replying to the addresses, said they surpassed his expectations in the warmth of their greeting to his wife, whose ancestors left England over 250 years ago. [Cheers.] Although he neither hoped nor expected to lessen her love for the country of her birth he knew that she was prepared to take up life among them in all its fulness and that she would say with Ruth: "Thy people shall be my people." [Cheers.]

Referring to the feeling of kinship with America expressed in the address just presented he said that that was no new feeling in Birmingham. At the time of America's greatest trial—the crisis of the Union—the eloquent voice of John Bright, now unfortunately hushed for a time by illness, was raised again and again in that very hall to defend the integrity of the republic. The same feeling permeated the whole country. It was now admitted on all hands that a serious quarrel with America would be the greatest national calamity. [Cheers.] Differences were certain to arise from time to time but the democracies of both countries were determined that they should be amicably arranged. He was glad to say that even that august body, the American Senate had nothing to say about his private negotiations which his hearers had just ratified by their presence.

Look Out For Him.

KINGSTON, Jan. 8.—Bishop Cleary's secretary warns the public that a person in the garb of a priest, professing to be pastor in the apostolic vicariate of Pontiac, is not known to the bishop nor is such a mission registered in the ecclesiastical directory.

DOINGS IN THE DOMINION.

A SENSATIONAL LIBEL SUIT AT HAMILTON.

How a Montreal Harbor is Masquerading as a Prince—Postal Accident at Aragonite—A Lawyer's Misfortune.

HAMILTON, Jan. 8.—At the re-opening of the winter assizes to-day the case of Schuhl v. Rosenstadt came up for trial. This was a suit brought by Henry Schuhl, of this city, against Edward Rosenstadt for $10,000 damages for libel. The libel consisted in exhibiting copies of a paper called The Dallas Evening Times of July, 1887, containing a statement of a number of charges against Schuhl and indictments in the courts against him while he resided in that city; also charging him with having been dismissed as rabbi from the congregation there for having illicit relations with an abandoned woman. The article was printed in The Dallas Times in response to a letter from the city editor of The Hamilton Spectator stating that Schuhl was making himself a conspicuous figure among the Knights of Labor in this city and asking why Schuhl left Dallas. At the trial to-day witnesses were called to prove the publication of the libel, after which the plaintiff took the stand. He said that when he left Dallas he was a professor in the commercial college, minister of the Hebrew congregation, chaplain of the Fourth regiment, justice of the peace, acting coroner, president of the fire department, president of the general relief society, etc. The Times' charges against him were the outcome of political malice, he being the only Republican candidate elected to office in the intensely Democratic Lone Star State. The case was not concluded when the court rose.

Ellen Garbutt and Nellie Winters, two 16-year-old girls, were in the Police Court this morning charged with vagrancy. One of the girls admitted that she went to a dance where she remained until 12 o'clock, when she was afraid to go home, and afterwards went with seven other girls to a hotel, sleeping there all night. Some of the girls had young men, who occupied the same apartments with them. Her story revealed the horrible depravity of the young girls, none of whom were over 16, and the direct cause of their downfall was the tough dances they had attended. The girls were allowed to go with a reprimand.

The accounts of the recent Art exposition were audited yesterday. The net receipts are $4154, of which $600 goes to the volunteers and the balance to the art school.

Mr. John Close, an old and respected citizen of Hamilton, died to-day after an illness of about nine years' duration. He leaves two sons, one of whom (George) lives in Toronto, and four daughters.

Mrs. Mary Young, relict of the late Captain Young, died this morning, aged 79 years. Mrs. Young had been a great sufferer for the past three months, a hurt on one of her legs having resulted in gangrene.

This afternoon Constable Duncan arrested Nannie Scrugge, a woman who arrived from Brooklyn and was without friends. She showed symptoms of insanity.

Frank Livings, proprietor of the Brant House, has assigned to F. H. Lamb.

Another Batch of Evictions.

DUBLIN, Jan. 8.—Six tenants were evicted from their holdings on Col. Charles Tottenham's estate at Dungarestown, County Wicklow, to-day. A force of 100 military and an equal number of police were present to dispossess the tenants by force if necessary, but no resistance was offered. An army surgeon was also present.

The evictions on the estate of Olphert at Falcarragh were concluded to-day. The inmates of a house occupied by a tenant named Curran, which had been fortified, yielding to the entreaties of the priests, surrendered and were arrested.

A Special Correspondent's Little Story.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The last development of the Morier incident is only another indication of the bitterness of feeling against England in Germany. It would have been wiser if Sir Robert had not raised the subject, but nothing can justify the insolence of Count Herbert Bismarck's reply. It is only one of the many signs of the way in which England is considered there. The Emperor's anger is not one bit abated, and to that true Count Herbert dances. It is known that he is the intimate friend and counsellor of the Emperor, and in every way represents imperial sentiment and opinion, so it is easy to see in what direction that is flowing. The pro-English feeling of Emperor Frederick, the strong English proclivities of the Empress and the Morell Mackenzie incident added fuel to the flame, and we may look out for a good deal more German insolence before we see the end of the friction. The visit of the Prince of Wales to Berlin did not improve matters. He saw many things of which he did not approve, ventured to criticise and give advice, and was not too civilly told to look nearer home.

Attempt to Blow Up the Palace in Madrid.

MADRID, Jan. 8.—A dastardly attempt to blow up the royal palace was made here to-day. Fortunately no one was injured and the only damage done was to smash many windows. The petard with which the attempt was made was exploded on the staircase of the palace. Great excitement prevailed for a time, the members of the royal household being almost panic-stricken. Prime Minister Sagasta, as soon as he heard of the attempted outrage, hurried from the Congress to the palace, where he was at once admitted to an audience with the Queen.

The German Disaster in Samoa.

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—It is understood that Samoan affairs will not be made the subject of a special debate in the Reichstag, but will be referred to during the discussion of the naval budget. The disaster in Samoa has created a deep impression and will strengthen the arguments of the anti-colonial party in the East African debate. The Kieler Zeitung states that the Samoan losses are the greatest in officers and men that the German navy ever experienced in a transoceanic expedition.

A Friend in Need.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Italian Government has ordered that 4000 Italian workmen on the Panama canal, who are said to have been thrown out of employment, be given protection and assistance until their eventual return to Italy.

The Proposed Catholic Congress.

VIENNA, Jan. 8.—The Fremdenblatt denies the statement published in The Tribuna of Rome, that Emperor Francis Joseph has written Cardinal Simeon, Primate of Hungary, deprecating the summoning of a Catholic congress.

Boulanger Confident of Success.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—In an interview to-day General Boulanger said that his election experience enabled him to feel the pulse of a constituency as well as any one, and that never, even during his triumphs in the Department of the North, did he consider his success so certain as now. The exaggerated importance attached to this contest by his opponents would only influence the Provinces still more in his favor in the event of his election. Therefore, he would work his hardest to secure a brilliant success, a success that would lead to a triumph at the general election.

Gladstone's Fiasco.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Mr. Gladstone has written from Naples to The Pall Mall Gazette with reference to his recent telegram, which as published reads as follows: "The Tablet's version of my letter to the Marquis De Rasc, touching the position of the Pope, is untrustworthy. The statement that I recommend international arbitration upon the Roman question is incorrect under the present circumstances." Mr. Gladstone, in his letter, states that the telegram should have ended with the word "incorrect." The additional words "under the present circumstances," he says, belong to a private communication. Mr. Stead, editor of The Gazette, commenting on the letter says that even now he cannot understand Mr. Gladstone's meaning.

THREE BATTLES IN HAYTI

HYPPOLITE'S TROOPS ADVANCING ON PORT-AU-PRINCE.

The Cannibalistic Rites of Voudouism Revived—A Human Sacrifice—Incredible Ghoulishness.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Hayti, Dec. 30.—As this despatch is being written the deposition of Legitime by the dissatisfied citizens of the capital or by the advancing victorious troops of the North under Hyppolite appears to be shortly expected by all but the immediate supporters of Legitime. He has thrown into prison all the prominent citizens and residents of the North in Port-au-Prince suspected of opposing him.

Three battles have been fought and lost by Legitime in the past ten days. The first, near Hirahe, was most disastrous, followed by an engagement on Dec. 29 a few miles northeast from here. During the rapid retreat on the capital two divisions of the Southern army, under Gen. Jean Florin Paul and Gen. Ross, deserted to the pursuing Northerners. Both these generals had supported Gen. Theslamaque, but had been bribed by Legitime to support him with their armies recruited in the central and northern departments. Gen. Paul was captured and shot by sentence of a drum head court-martial under Hyppolite. Gen. Ross escaped and sought protection at the French Minister's at Port-au-Prince.

A stand was made the next day at a rising knoll of ground by the dispirited army of the South, but they were able to stand but a short time against Hyppolite's assaults. The army of the North are entrenching themselves some twenty miles from Port-au-Prince, completing their lines of communication, re-organizing their augmented army and awaiting the arrival of recently purchased arms and munitions of war. They are also devastating the great agricultural section where they are now encamped and from which Legitime received the greater portion of his supplies.

Gen. Hyppolite, having been elected and declared Provincial President by the central and northern departments, on his capture of the capital will demand a congress of deputies from all the departments and the election of a permanent President, declaring Legitime's election unconstitutional and void. He will probably then be the only candidate in the field.

Reports of defeats and desertions have raised to a high pitch of excitement the inhabitants of this section, and hence Legitime is imprisoning all the possible ringleaders in a revolt against him. He is showing great activity in securing "volunteers" through press gangs, who seize the laborers in the fields and bring them to the barracks, frequently in chains to prevent their escaping.

Without law life and property are unsafe in this section. Excesses of every kind are the rule. The horrid cannibalistic rites of Voudooism are revived and reports reach this city of a meeting of several thousand Christmas night near Jacmel and the sacrifice of a young girl and the greedy scramble for some portion of the half-cooked flesh. The devastation of the central part of the Island has been the cause of the robbery of recently buried bodies and the devouring of the same. These are well authenticated facts. The inhabitants of the interior are even more degraded than their African ancestors. They are rarely brought in contact with any evidences of civilization and can easily be led by any scheming adventurer.

Gen. Auguste, a resident of the North, has been thrown into the military prison here and his assassination is feared. The capital is denuded of troops and mob rule is feared.

The French minister by his open backing of Legitime is most unpopular. The schooner Aurora was captured in San Domingo waters; her mail bag, weighted with lead, was seized before it could be thrown overboard, the letters opened and found to contain statements implicating some 30 persons in Port-au-Prince, most of whom were previously unsuspected. All have been thrown into prison. Many hold high positions in Legitime's Government. The seizure of the vessel in foreign waters was another high handed outrage. The cargo of provisions was instantly appropriated as being much needed.

The whole Haytian navy consisting of some 8 vessels occupied the inner harbor Dec. 24 and 25 thus rendering null and void any previous blockade. The steamship Haytien Republic is still in the hands of Admiral Laco.

It is claimed that Legitime has appropriated to his own privy purse all the remainder of the cash in the treasury and will flee on his fastest gunboat as soon as his fall is by assured fact.

Bucked Off The Train by a Goat.

LARAMIE CITY, Wyo., Jan. 9.—The overland fast freight train on the Union Pacific Railway brought into the city, at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, the body of James Sumner, a brakeman, who had been pushed from the top of his car, while two engines were pulling the train along at the rate of forty miles an hour. His assailant was a bucking goat belonging to a "Daddy Nolan" Company and known as Oleo. It had been trained to clear the stage at a signal.

Escaping from the hotel stables in Cheyenne, where it was kept, it wandered down to the railroad yard. It is supposed to have got on the freight train from a low shed near the water-tank. By the time the train had got ten miles west of Cheyenne, Oleo had his railroad legs on and started along the train. Brakeman Morrissey was first encountered. He waved his lamp at Oleo and jumped for the brake ladder, climbing down between the cars just in time. Morrissey pulled at the bell-cord and found it was broken. Oleo had chewed it in two and the train was at his mercy. Of the struggle between the animal and Sumner the other brakemen could tell but little. They saw Sumner's lantern go out, and soon after the train stopped. Sumner's body was picked up two miles back. The goat had stopped the train by trying to chew up the rest of the bell cord. When the train pulled into this city a cowboy was secured who lassoed Oleo, and he is now in the hands of the police.

Imperial Federation.

Editor of the Examiner:

Permit me through your paper to address particularly the Reformers of this county in order to clear up a misapprehension which, I am afraid, exists in some minds, at least as to the political bearing of this great question. A meeting is to be held at the opera house Friday evening, when the principles and objects of the Federation League will be fully and ably explained by the leaders of the movement in Canada, and there is no doubt that if your readers attend that meeting they will learn more about it than I can teach them. But it so happens that the chairman who is to be the chief speaker at that meeting, the man who is President of the League in Canada, is the well known Conservative, the "dyed-in-the-wool Tory," Dalton MacCarthy. And it also happens that you have but recently published a letter from an active Reform member of parliament for the adjoining county Mr. Barron, in which he roundly denounces Imperial Federation, and flatly refuses to have anything to do with it. And it is the case that Imperial Federation is very much the opposite to Commercial Union and Annexation with the United States, and it is probably the last thing that our good friends the Americans, who would like to work out their "manifest destiny" of absorbing us, would care to see us, as a people, adopt, and what between that section of the Canadian press that has gone mad over the Commercial Union fad, and these Tory organs that want to assume to themselves all the loyalty that remains in the country, the idea has come to be entertained by many unthinking people that Imperial Federation is a little scheme got up by Sir John's lieutenant, Mr. MacCarthy, as a sort of counter irritant to Commercial Union, and that therefore, as a work of the enemy, Reformers can have nothing to do with it.

What is the fact? The Imperial Federation League was organized in England some years ago, and before Commercial Union was heard of as a living question. It included in its ranks some of the leading minds in the United Kingdom on both sides of politics, and it had for its President that clear headed Liberal, Lord Rosebery. I can point with peculiar pride to the fact that over ten years ago—in 1878—a great and liberal-minded American published a book, in the opening chapter of which he boldly and strongly advocated—not as the Butterworths and Shermans of to-day are doing, that we should be annexed, absorbed by the great republic, that we should be tempted to sell our birthright for a mess of pottage—but that Canada and all the other colonies of Great Britain should be united to the mother country by closer bonds than now exist, to form one great empire, the like of which the world has never seen. That American was Elihu Burritt, whose name I am proud to bear; and from the time of reading that book, immediately after it was published, I, for one, have been a strong believer in the federation of the British Empire. In Canada as in England, the question is one entirely apart from party politics. Reformers as well as Conservatives are already members of the League. Canadians, above all other, may well join in furthering a movement, which has for its object the drawing closer of the ties which unite them to the mother land, and the result of which must be to stem the efforts of those in our country and out of it, who want to force us into annexation, and for this reason all or the vast majority of the English speaking settlers in this country have themselves, or their fathers have before them, deliberately chosen Canada as a home, in preference to the great republic with all its glittering advantages, because they counted the cost and preferred to live under the flag that, to them, represented more than filthy lucre. Such was the case with the hardy bands of pioneers who came came direct from England, Ireland and Scotland to settle here. If any of their sons are unworthy of such sires, if they have lost that ardent loyalty, and are hankering after the supposed advantages to be gained in the United States, it is open for them to go there, but in the name of all that is good and honest, do not let them attempt to take our country with them.

I trust that the attendance at the meeting on Friday evening will show that Reformers as well as Conservatives are ready to take an interest in this great question.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

Central Farmers' Institute.

The annual meeting of the Central Farmers' Institute of Ontario, will be held in the York Chambers, Toronto, on February 5th, 6th and 7th, 1889, commencing at 11 a.m. on the 5th. The constitution provides for the appointment of two delegates from each Institute to attend the annual meeting of the Central Institute, the expenses of which, as stated in the by-laws, shall be borne by the Institutes sending them. Institutes that have not already selected delegates to attend the approaching annual meeting of the Central Institute, should give the matter their early attention, as once forwarding the names and addresses of the delegates chosen to the secretary of the Central Institute, Mr. Thos. Shaw, 45 John street south, Hamilton, and also a copy of the resolution relating to the appointment. Said credentials should reach the secretary not later than January 25th. After routine business at the annual meeting, the following papers will be read and discussed in the order named:—"Rendering the work of the Farmers' Institutes more effective," introduced by Prof. Shaw, Ont. Agl. Col., Guelph; "Railroad and Ocean Freights," by A. McD'allas, Goderich; "The Question of Statute Labor," by James Cochrane, Kilsyth; "The erection of an Agricultural Hall in Toronto," by Alderman G. F. Frankland, Toronto; "Agricultural Education," by G. F. Copeland, Hespeler; "County Council Reform," by James McEwing, Drayton; "The advisability of doing away with Township Shows," by John Dryden, M.P.P., Brooklin. Delegates will be furnished at once with certificates providing for the usual reduced rates of travel, on receipt of the notice of their appointment by the Secretary. Judging by present indications this will be one of the most important gatherings of farmers ever held in the Dominion.

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Until the Skin was Raw. Body Covered with Loathsome Sores. Speedily Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary cleansing, CUTICURA REMEDIES have done for me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pimples like scarlet rest all over my body, but thought nothing of it until a week or so later on, when it began to itch like mad. I scratched and scratched, and when I got in bed at night the scales, being loosened meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased some from my druggist, and to my delight almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared bit by bit, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have been with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

Central Bank Liquidators' Fees—The Lottery Testimonial—A Break for Liberty.

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—The Master-in-Ordinary has fixed the remuneration to be allowed the Central Bank liquidators. The amount collected up to Oct. 15 was $720,620 and the fees allowed therefor are $1,142. In addition there are at present outstanding accounts which the liquidators have to collect amounting to about $20,000. The Master is not prepared to give the exact fees for this collection but in proportion to the present schedule the whole amount will not exceed $20,000. This is in striking contrast to the amount originally demanded, some $56,000.

Association Hall was packed to suffocation last night by an enthusiastic audience assembled to express their confidence in Rev. T. W. Jeffery. A beautifully framed and engrossed address was read and when the end was reached the Mayor handed Mr. Jeffery a marked check for $1000. Mr. Jeffery made an affecting reply and speeches were made by Rev. Dr. Potts, Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, Rev. G. M. Milligan, Mayor Clarke and others indicative of warm esteem and sympathy for the much talked-of clergyman.

A writ has been issued at the instance of Rev. T. W. Jeffery against Rev. E. A. Stafford, president of the Toronto conference, Rev. J. C. Stone, superintendent of the Toronto district, and Mr. C. R. S. Dinnick, a trustee of the Western Methodist Church. The plaintiff claims $333 on a check given for the first instalment of the $1000 which the trustees of the church agreed to give the ex-pastor to relinquish his post.

Mr. William Ogilvie, C. E., of Ottawa, who has been in charge of the Mackenzie River survey, arrived here yesterday on his way to the capital, Mr. Ogilvie visited during his tour the Treadwell gold mines at Douglas Island, which is operated by the firm of Treadwell & Co. This mine is one of the most prosperous in America and the Treadwells are Canadians belonging to St. Johns N. B. The output of the mine a short time ago was estimated at $70,000 a month, when 120 stamps were in operation, but the stamps have since been doubled, and the output was increased to 240 stamps, showing an output of $240,000 a month. This is one of the largest gold mines in operation on the continent.

Wallace Ross, held on suspicion of being concerned in the O'Connor fur robbery, made a bold break for liberty on leaving the van at the jail yesterday morning. He had slipped his handcuff before leaving the vehicle and at once started on the run. Policeman Veitch, who was in charge of the van, saw that his other prisoners were safe and then started in pursuit, running him to earth on the Don Flats after firing three shots at him without effect.

Mr. Wingfield, J.P., yesterday heard the charges against Mungo Smith, who was arrested on Monday on a charge under the Charlton Act. It is alleged that on June 2, 1883, under promise of marriage, he debauched a girl 17 years of age named Clara Gosney. The prisoner told the J.P. yesterday that he preferred to marry the girl and the case was adjourned to give him an opportunity to do so. Later on, it is said, he went down to County Clerk Eakins' office, secured a marriage license and they were married.

John Crockett, whose leg was broken a year ago when he was thrown out of V. T. Bero' hotel by the barkeeper, was salved with a verdict of $271 against the hotelkeeper yesterday.

Mr. Angus McKay, manager for Milloy Bros. at the Yonge-street wharf, said yesterday that he had never seen the bay clear of ice at this period of the year before during the thirty-one years he had been doing duty on the bay front.

The Death Penalty By Electricity.

NEW YORK, Jan 8.—With reference to a despatch from Buffalo, giving Dr. Southwick as authority for the statement that there would be a meeting in this city of the commission to select a proper method of executing the death penalty by electricity, Mr. Elbridge T. Gerry said yesterday he had received no notice of any such meeting, and he did not believe any was to be held. The commission had performed its work and made its report to the Governor, and there was no further occasion for its meeting. Some of the electric lighting companies, Mr. Gerry added, were anxious to keep the public in ignorance of the deadly power of their wires, and were denying their odious as death-dealing instruments, but if anybody was inclined to believe them let him take a pair of iron support and attach one of their poles and attempt to cut one of the electric light wires. He would have the death-dealing power of the electric current strongly enough impressed upon him to put him beyond cavil and denial forever, but that was no reason why electricity should be condemned or the man who put it to use. As well might the ropemaker be condemned because hemp had been occasionally instrumental in hanging a man.

Virginia Farmers Want Protection.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Senator Riddleberger to-day presented resolutions adopted by the State Grange of Virginia, asking Congress to give a bounty of 50 per cent. on exported agricultural products. The resolutions say that the present tariff protects manufacturers at an average rate of 55 per cent. and agricultural products at only 20 per cent. and that as any protection afforded by tariff laws would be impractical owing to the fact that our agricultural staples are produced in excess of the demand and have to seek a foreign market, that therefore a bounty should be allowed.

KILRAIN OBJECTS TO THE ARTICES.

He Says Sullivan is Trying to Crawl Out of the Fight.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—An Albany special to The World states that Kilrain says he is not satisfied with the Toronto agreement. He says his friends fail to give way in everything to bring Sullivan to terms and that "the baby" was even now trying to crawl out of the fight by putting in all six months and choosing a referee at the ring side and to this Kilrain objects. He says the referee thus chosen would of course be a Sullivan man. Kilrain could not say whether he would fight under the agreement or not. He would have to consult friends in New York. He did not believe the fight would come off, as Sullivan would insist on having everything his way and would blame the other party for kicking and the fight would fall through.

Sullivan, when shown The World special, said: "Kilrain is a monkey, referee are always chosen at the ring side to open championship fights. I will be there to fight whether he is or not."

On the Verge of Starvation!

"For three months I could not eat a full meal or do a day's work. I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, began using it, and in three days my appetite returned, in a week I felt like a new man. It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Allchin, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia. 2w1d

Sacred Symphony.

The Annual Choral Festival of the George Street Methodist Church—A Chorus of Five Hundred Voices — Pleasing Sights and Sounds for a Large Audience.

Five hundred tuneful voices raised to full-est swell filled the George street church on Tuesday evening with a grand wave of harmony. As Rev. Mr. Pearson aptly put it, one scarcely knew whether to be glad or weep as the great volume of melody rolled out over the audience, and thrilled every sympathetic heart, or as the little ones rendered their recitations and choruses with guileless grace; whether to laugh at the childish glee and artless actions of the merry, chubby-faced boys or girls of the primary class, or weep in sympathy with the soul-stirring melody of the full chorus, or the pathetic simplicity with which each child performed its minor part, all tending to one object, praise of the great Redeemer, whose command was, "suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not." To a susceptible person the occasion must have been sublimely suggestive of the great choir of sweet-voiced angels on high, whose loud hosannahs fill the heavenly realm with divine music. What more sweet or angelic than a child's song, and what more grand and inspiring than a chorus of five hundred young voices trained to sing together in melodious consonance. It touches a tender chord in every human heart, and makes fond parents rejoice in the possession of the bright little beings who are able to lift their plaintive voices in praise of their maker. The mere sight of so many happy, lightsome children gathered together, appeals to the parental instincts inherent in all classes of humanity. Of course there were a number of large pupils, from the Bible and advanced classes, on the platform in the George street church Tuesday evening, but the great preponderance was of children under 14 years of age. These filled the large platform and transept wings, and on the whole they were a well-conducted and evidently well-trained lot of young people.

The occasion was the annual choral festival of the George street Methodist Sunday school, and the church was well filled by the parents and friends of the pupils.

At eight o'clock the children came up from the schoolroom and took their places, and after a handkerchief salute to the audience, opened with a choral rendition of the National Anthem. Then followed prayer by Rev. M. L. Pearson, pastor. Altogether nine choruses were rendered by the children, who were assisted by the grand organ, presided over by Mr. A. E. Carter, of St. Andrew's Church, and the orchestra, led by Mr. J. Miller. The primary class gave several kindergarten and lesson songs which were greatly enjoyed. The recitation "Ten Temperance Boys," the motto song "God is Love," by nine little girls, and the building of the tower, were nice numbers, indeed. To Miss Grundy great credit is due for the successful training evinced by the children in this department. She was assisted at the piano by Miss Galley.

Besides the choruses, there were several individual numbers on the programme. Miss Jennie Moles contributed a well-rendered violin solo, and Miss Pearson sang the "Angel's Serenade," with violin obligato. Miss Pearson has a sweet voice that would be acceptable to the most critical audience. Messrs. Dingle and Miller performed a duet, organ and cornet, that was followed by a demand for an encore. Miss Saunders' recitations, it is needless to say, pleased everyone. Miss Saunders is a success wherever she appears. Miss Maud Bradburn made her debut as a solo singer with encouraging results. The audience showed its appreciation by liberal applause. Altogether the festival was a decided success.

Before concluding Rev. Mr. Pearson made a few appropriate remarks anent the impressions the entertainment left upon him, and Mr. H. S. Griffin, superintendent of the school, who acted as chairman, thanked the people for their attendance.

To Mr. W. H. Dingle, musical director, the lion's share of the credit must be awarded for the diligent and painstaking efforts he put forth to bring the affair to a satisfactory termination. He bore the whole burden of training the children, and was ably supported by the others who afforded him assistance. Among these was Mr. J. T. Emmerson, the indefatigable secretary of the school, who did all in his power to make it a success. Nothing succeeds like success, and that this was achieved by those concerned in the annual choral festival of the George street Methodist church was the unanimous opinion of all who attended the event on Tuesday evening.

OTONABEE.—Reeve, Geo. Stewart, by acclamation. Anderson is again elected Deputy-Reeve by 56 majority, but the new candidates have beaten the old councillors by big majorities. The following are the figures:—New candidates and the councillors for 1889, Johnson, 369; McIntyre, 310; Wood, 306; old councillors, Grady, 221; Hope, 212, Lancaster, 191.

McQuaig as a Bigamist.

The Checkered Career of a Man now in Cobourg Gaol.

James McQuaig, at present in gaol for passing a worthless cheque at Fairweather's fur store last Thursday, is evidently well known in Belleville, Picton and Kingston. The Whig, assuming his identity with the prisoner here says he kept store on Ontario and Princess streets. It appears he is a bigamist also in addition to his other misdemeanors. About twenty years ago he was married at Cape Vincent to Mary Campbell, of King ston. They resided in Kingston for a half dozen years, but the conduct of McQuaig was so scandalous and his beating propensities so patent that Mrs. McQuaig decided to leave him, and with her four children secured the protection of her friends. This was over twelve years ago. Since that time McQuaig has been wandering about, beating his way and continually appearing before the courts for misdemeanors and felonies. He has travelled over much of the States and Canada since he left Kingston.

Last summer he reached Belleville, where he passed himself off as a widower, and winning the affections of Miss Lizzie Brown, was married to her last July. The chief of police in Belleville became informed of McQuaig's bigamous conduct, but before he could secure his arrest he had disappeared. He was heard of in Prince Edward county, where he has various relations, but the trail was lost, only to be recovered by his arrest in Peterborough.

Mrs. McQuaig, the first wife, is now living in Toronto with a son and daughter. Two of the daughters are living in Kingston and married to respectable citizens. They have not seen their father in twelve years, and would disown him if they did. They have frequently heard of his bad conduct elsewhere. Mrs. McQuaig was asked to prosecute him for bigamy, but having left him she desired no further communication with him. One of Mrs. McQuaig's brothers was seen, and said he never knew anything good of McQuaig. He was a dead beat, and the sooner he was placed under restraint for life the better it would be for the public.

Belleghem, the Furniture King.

This a title of courtesy applied to Mr. D. Belleghem, furniture manufacturer and dealer, and it is in every respect deservedly applied. For he does the leading furniture trade in the Midland district and has one of the best equipped and most extensive factories outside the large cities. In thousands of homes in the district his furniture is found as tangible evidence of Mr. Belleghem's popularity and success in meeting the wants of the people. And the reason of this is not far to seek. His goods are of the very best make in style, finish and solidity. His factory is thoroughly equipped with the best of modern machinery, and the first-class material he uses is thoroughly kiln-dried, and put together by a large staff of first-class mechanics. Therefore, in special ordered work, such as the seating, etc., of churches, the furnishing of banks and offices, the equipment of shops, Mr. Belleghem is able to give special satisfaction. His manufacturing facilities are unsurpassed and his personal attention is devoted to all orders of this class. Any person desiring furniture of any kind, from the plainest and cheapest to the most elegant and expensive, can get what they want at Belleghem's, and at moderate prices, for Belleghem will not be undersold. He is prepared to give the best value for a customer's money, and besides he will deliver free of charge, within a radius of twenty miles, all furniture purchased at his establishment. This insures safe and careful delivery, and prevents the scratching and damage to furniture caused by its being moved by unskilful persons without waggons suited to the purpose.

St. John's Annual Festival.

The annual festival of St. John's Sunday school was held in the school room last night and was a pronounced success in every respect. The children were bountifully regaled with excellent refreshments, and presents were distributed to all, the teachers of each class giving a special prize to the most proficient pupil. The recitations presented by the several pupils were capitally given, and the musical portion, which was under the direction of Mr. Seward, organist of St. John's, was unusually good. Mr. Seward played the piano accompaniments, and there were besides the cornet played by Mr. Jones, the snare drum by Mr. Beech and the silver bells by the girls of the chorus. The effect in the carols was exceedingly pleasing and delighted everybody present. The little girls, who constituted all the singing, are worthy of great praise for the excellent manner in which they performed their parts, due, no doubt, largely to the attention paid to the painstaking instruction of Mr. Seward. The dissolving views, etc., presented by Mr. E. M. Roy, were highly entertaining, the enlarged photogram of the rector being received by the boys and girls with loud demonstrations of applause. The whole entertainment was in every respect a pleasant success and reflects much credit on those concerned in its management.

An Election Bet.

This morning at 10 o'clock there was quite a crowd of men around the post office corner anxious to witness the fulfillment of a novel wager made over the election. The big, jovial host of one of the three hotels on the corner of Water and Hunter streets had made a bet with a Simcoe street real estate and collecting agent over the mayoralty election, the loser to wheel the other in an ordinary wheel-barrow from the corner to St. Peter's Cathedral and back. The Boniface won and at the appointed time this forenoon he was waiting for his friend to appear with the barrow. But the other never came; it is said he was out of town hunting for a vehicle large enough to hold the big man. The latter was disappointed of his ride and the crowd were cheated out of their fun by the non-appearance of the real estate agent, who by the way is a small man while the winner of the wager weighs something between 200 and 250 pounds. The bet may yet be fulfilled, however, as the agent came around late during a shower of rain, and offered to carry out the conditions of the wager; but the other declined, and told him to come around in fine weather and he would be prepared to ride as far as the agent chose to wheel him.

The Lost Found.

A week ago last Saturday night, a young woman named Mary Brock, lost her purse containing $20.50 in the Salvation Army barracks. Every effort was made to recover it and the matter was reported to the police, but until yesterday nothing was heard of the lost money, when an honest young man named Kemp, of Douro, returned it to her. He had found it on the barracks floor, and had been to the barracks two or three times since looking for an owner, but did not succeed until yesterday. The young man's honesty is very commendable.

REMEMBER that M. R. KIDD is doing some remarkable price cutting on groceries.

Well Worth his Wage

Night watchman Gordon is indeed the guardian angel of many careless business men, and as a vigilant and alert night watchman certainly earns his money. Last night on his round he found the back door of the shop of one of our prominent boot and shoe men open,—invitingly to the sneak thief, and he went at once to his home to inform him of his neglect. The EXAMINER left just as he was setting out. On the same evening a furniture establishment door was left open, viz the back doors. Business men should remember that it is by back doors that thieves generally operate.

Real Estate Investments at the opening of the new year. It will be wise to consider which is the safest and most profitable investment for money in large or small sums. I claim without fear of contradiction that Real Estate in Peterborough and suburbs stands at the head. From 10 to 50 per cent. has been made by those who bought through me during the past year, and I have a few exceptionally good properties to offer just now. I have had several years experience in buying and selling Real Estate in and about this town, and those who consult me make money, while those economical investors who go to the owners generally lose. I know where the good bargains are to be had, and I am at the service of all who mean business. T. HURLEY, 176 Hunter street. dw

Week of Prayer Services

Another large congregation assembled in the Baptist church Tuesday evening at the special week of prayer service. Rev. P. C. Parker presided and Rev. S. J. Shorey addressed the meeting. To-night there will be two meetings, in St. Andrew's and the Mark street churches. The speakers will be Rev. Mr. L. Pearson and Rev. P. C. Parker. The subject will be "Families and Schools." That husbands and wives, parents and children, masters and servants, may, in their mutual relations, observe the law of Christ; that family worship may be more generally observed; and that domestic life may be sweetened and hallowed by godliness. For Sunday schools and week-day schools; for universities and colleges: for all associations which promote the intellectual, moral and religious welfare, of young men and young women; for the preservation of young minds from the current scepticism and superstition. —Deut. 6: 1 7 Eph. 5: 22: 6: 9; Col. 3: 18; 4: 1; II. Tim. 1: 5; II. John 4.

The Hamilton Bishopric.

Bishop Dowling May not Succeed Peterborough After All.

There is considerable excitement among the priests of the Hamilton Diocese over the following press despatch from New York:—

The New York Freeman's Journal states that Rev. Canon Sheehan, administrator of the diocese of Cork, Ireland, has been appointed Bishop of Hamilton to succeed the late Bishop Carbery, and that the appointment has been confirmed.

It has been confidently expected on all sides that Bishop Dowling of Peterborough would be Bishop Carbery's successor, and his appointment was hailed with delight by the priests of the Hamilton diocese, who do not express satisfaction with the new possibilities that have arisen. It is believed the Freeman's report may be correct as it is quite an authority on matters pretaining to church appointments.

If true, the people of Peterborough will feel a lively sense of pleasure that their present Bishop is to remain with them. The Toronto World states it has positive information that Bishop Dowling last Thursday received the Papal Bull appointing him Bishop of Hamilton. The World's information was incorrect, as Bishop Dowling has not yet received an official notification of his appointment, nor in fact any information on the subject whatever. The many statements and speculations regarding the appointment of a new Bishop of Hamilton are as yet nothing more than newspaper report; nothing definite has been heard from church authorities.

Personal.

Mr. C. LeBrun, brother of Mr. H. LeBrun, formerly of Peterborough, and more recently of Boston, after an absence of nine years has returned to Peterborough on a visit. Mr. LeBrun is connected with one of the largest clothing houses in Boston, and his many personal friends in Peterborough are glad to welcome him to town again.

The recent elections furnish the occasion for an exchange of aldermanic and cousinly courtesies between Dr. Baptie, of Ottawa, who was on Monday elected alderman of Centre Ward, Ottawa, and his cousin, Mr. J. D. Baptie, who was chosen as councillor for No. 3 Ward, town.

News Nuggets.

—The adjourned debate of the Otonabee Canoe Club will be held to-morrow evening.

—At stated in the EXAMINER yesterday, there will be a special meeting of the school board Thursday evening to consider the school limits. A meeting has been called by the Secretary.

—Monday evening a young man who attended the choral class in St. Paul's Church hung his overcoat in the hallway and left his pipe in one of the pockets. Presently smoke was observed coming from under the hall doors, and on searching for the cause of it the young man's coat was found to be half-burned. The pipe was responsible for the accident.

Died of his Injuries.

Early this morning Mr. A. D. Kean, the Orillia lawyer whose accident was chronicled yesterday, died of his injuries. Mr. Morrison has received full particulars from his agent as to how the accident happened. Mr. Kean had been to Toronto and reached home on the early morning train, intending to stop a day or two before setting out upon a long trip through the Western States. He had evidently been asleep in the car and only wakened up in time to hurry off as the train started again. In his half dazed state he slipped on the icy platform and fell beneath the cars and the wheels nearly severed both legs from his body, necessitating their amputation below the knees. All that the best medical talent in the town could do was done for Mr. Kean, but he died about one o'clock this morning. Deceased was only 28 years of age and was a promising young barrister. He was insured for $5,000 in the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

OTONABEE MILLS, ASHBURNHAM.

THE OLD MILLS AGAIN MADE NEW.

The above Mills were shut down last April, and all the old machinery, from the water wheels to the top of the Mill, removed and replaced by an entirely new plant. The machinery put in is the most modern, and the capacity has been increased 250 barrels daily. The Roller Plant is W. F. Cochrane's New invention, connected and running in two straight lines and driven by one belt. We have also erected adjoining the Mill a NEW ELEVATOR for wheat, with a capacity of 30,000 bushels. For grinding coarse grain into chop, we have put in A New Roller Mill which is a great improvement over the old stones. The firm has spared no expense in making this mill one of the best of its capacity in Canada, and that they have succeeded in so doing is evident from the excellent quality of flour it is now turning out.

We invite all our old customers, and others who have not favored us in the past, and all the farmers from north, south, east and west of Peterborough, to call and see us; assuring satisfaction in prices and quality of flour, price for wheat, quality and quantity of flour exchanged for wheat, and last but not least, the reduction of coarse grain into chop by our NEW ROLLER CHOP MILL. Chopping 50c. a Bag. 13w1 6d2

DOINGS IN THE DOMINION.

MEETING OF THE LABOR COMMISSION AT THE CAPITAL.

The Jury in the Hamilton Libel Case Fail to Agree—A Rich Vein of Silver Found in Musquash.

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—Mr. L. Mongkow, manager of the King Lye Company, interviewed the Minister of Customs to-day and urged his claims to the office of Chinese interpreter for Victoria, B.C., which it is understood is now vacant. Mr. Mongkow leaves to night for the west. He stops at Winnipeg, Kamloops and other points for the purpose of seeing the country.

The directors of the St. Catharines Milling Company had a meeting yesterday, but no decision was arrived at as to the season to be taken with reference to their claim against the Dominion Government.

The Labor Commission met to-day for consideration of the report, but as two members had not arrived nothing was done beyond passing a vote of condolence with the family of the late chairman, Judge Armstrong.

Mr. A. Middleton, the civil engineer who has spent some time in Brazil examining the Aragoay River in the interests of a syndicate of Canadian and American capitalists who propose putting a line of steamers on the river and building a railway 66 or 70 miles long to overcome the rapids and bad stretches of navigation, is at the Russell House. He declines to intimate what the nature of his report will be, but states that the river may be made navigable as far as Goyaz, 1600 miles from Para. He describes the country as rich, the people prosperous, and perfect order is maintained.

FAILED TO AGREE.

The Hamilton Libel Case—An Insane Girl who is Intimate with Royalty.

HAMILTON, Jan. 9.—The jury, in the libel suit of Schuhl v Rosenstadt, after being out two hours to-day, reported that there was no prospect of an agreement and were discharged. It is said they stood eight to four in favor of defendant.

At the Assize Court to-day Silas E. Braithwaite pleaded guilty to stealing a gold watch from Catherine Walsh in a house on Stuart-street. As it was not his first offence Judge Falconbridge sentenced him to three years in the penitentiary.

Nannie Scruggs, the woman arrested here yesterday because of apparent insanity, says that the Prince of Wales promised to marry her but went back on her and married her sister. She wanted the Canadian police to bring him to time. A telegram was received this afternoon from Mrs. Chas. H. Ash, 295 McDonough street, Brooklyn, N.Y., stating that Miss Nannie Scruggs had been there for two years, and that she showed no insanity then. Her relatives are well connected and live at Farmington, Virginia.

Early this morning Constable Hawkins saw two girls—Hattie Beeby and Margaret Gilbert—coming out of a hotel in Stuart-street. He immediately arrested them for vagrancy. When they were brought before Police Magistrate Cahill, Chief McKinnon explained that the prisoners were two more of the unfortunate girls who attended dances and then went to hotels to remain over night. These girls made some disclosures to him, and, if what they told him is true, the chief will prosecute the proprietors of the hotels where the girls remain. The Beeby girl is 17 years old, and her companion is one year older. They told the constable that they did not go to the hotel until 6 o'clock this morning, and their object was to see some other girls. They were remanded until to-morrow morning.

Wm. Ross, who was brought up from Peterboro on a charge of forgery, pleaded not guilty at the Assize Court to-day and asked to have his case put off to get witnesses. The offence with which Ross is charged is forging the name of Superintendent C. Stiff of the Grand Trunk Railway to a check for $40.45 in November, 1887. Detective Dey found Ross in last December in the Peterboro jail, where he had been committed for uttering a forged check for $18, purporting to be signed by James Stephenson.

The members of the Wentworth Bar Association entertained Judge Falconbridge to a dinner at the Hamilton Club last night. There was a gathering of between 30 and 40 members of the Bar. Mr. Edward Martin presided, and Mr. John Crerar, County Crown Attorney, occupied the vice-chair. Attorney-General Martin of Manitoba was also present.

MAN'S DUPLICITY.

George Algernon Jefferson Anderson Missing With His Wife's Money.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 9.—Some time during the forepart of December last George Algernon Jefferson Anderson arrived in Dundela and was engaged writing records in family bibles. He was an excellent chirographer and was liberally patronized by the people in the vicinity. He boarded in the same house in which the school mistress stayed, and as he was of rather prepossessing appearance she soon became enamored of him. He professed to reciprocate her affection and an engagement soon followed. She lent him $95 to pay his fare to Morrisburg to purchase some clothes. He returned and they were married at Bell's Corners on Dec. 22. They afterwards visited Morrisburg, where she drew $100 of her savings from the bank, and gave them to George Algernon, to secure a house in Brockville in which to take up their abode. She had business in Ottawa, and after spending a couple of days of married life, they separated, she going to Ottawa and he coming to Brockville to secure a house. On Saturday last she arrived in Brockville and since then she has been looking for her truant husband, George Algernon Jefferson Anderson, but he with the imposing name has left for parts unknown. The young lady in question possesses a highly respectable appearance, and her friends in the vicinity of Dundela are said to be prominent persons.

BEEKEEPERS IN SESSION.

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 9.—The annual meeting of the Ontario Beekeepers' Association closed here last night. The association now numbers over 200 and is the largest organized body of beekeepers on the American continent. Excellent papers were furnished, that of Mr. S Cornell of Lindsay being one of the best ever presented to the association. The financial statement shows $255 on hand.

The officers for the year are: President, Mr. W. T. Clarke, Guelph; Vice-President, Martin English, Holbrook; Treasurer, E. McKnight, Owen Sound; Secretary, W. Consa, Streetsville. Directors—J. K. McKnight, Owen Sound; F. A. Gemmell, Stratford; R. E. Smith, Tilbury Centre; F. H. Macpherson, Beeton. The next place of meeting will be Belleville.

A Fortune in Chancery.

MONCTON, N.B., Jan. 9.—Mr. J. W. Clare of Sackville is visiting his relations at Waldford to devise means for securing the Clare fortune of £82,000 sterling, which is said to be in Chancery awaiting the claims of the lawful heirs.

A Rich Find in Musquash.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 9.—A vein of silver has been found on the property of Chas. Clinch at Musquash. The ore is said to be very rich. Excavations are being made to ascertain the extent of the deposit.

Went Over a High Bank.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 10.—The body of Manuel Arandus, who lived two miles east of Ottumwa, was found on Monday morning in a big ditch with the body of his horse. It is supposed that as he was returning home on Saturday night his horse went over the bank, which is high, and that both were killed.

A Missing Canvasser.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 10.—The whereabouts of Mr. Moses Bissett, who was engaged by Messrs. Randolph & VanBlaricom to canvass the town of Trenton, on behalf of the Gananoque Carriage Company, is as yet a mystery. Nothing whatever has been heard of him since he left Stacey's hotel in that town on Dec. 20.

DEATH-DEALING CYCLONE.

MANY PEOPLE KILLED IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Over Sixty Lives Lost in the Neighborhood of Reading—A Sixth Mill Blown Down Upon 200 Operatives.

READING, Pa., Jan. 9.—This was the saddest night in the history of Reading. A death-like pall hangs upon the city in consequence of the most horrible disaster it has ever known. A hundred householders are in mourning as the result of one of the greatest calamities in Pennsylvania.

A cyclone swept over the northern section of the city and laid waste everything within its reach, with a terrible loss of life. The lives that have been sacrificed and the number that have been injured can only be conjectured. The only reliable computation to-night is that not less than sixty persons have been killed outright and 100 injured.

Persons residing along the track of the storm say that they saw the first signs of danger in a funnel-shaped maelstrom which seemed to gather up everything within its reach and cast it right and left. Out in the country houses and barns were unroofed, farm outbuildings overturned, crops rooted up and destruction spread in every direction. The cyclone came from the west but passed along the northern border of Reading.

First it touched the Mt. Penn stove works. Here the corner of the building was struck and a portion of the roof was cut off as nicely as if done with a pair of scissors.

A silk mill in which 200 girls were employed blew down just before the hour for quitting work.

About the same time there was an explosion and fire in the same neighborhood, by which eight men were burned to death.

Everything is confusion. The loss of life is probably much heavier than at first reported.

THE PITTSBURG DISASTER.

A Four Story Building Blown Down—Many Killed and Injured.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 9.—The most frightful catastrophe that Pittsburg has witnessed for many years occurred at 12.20 o'clock to-day. At that hour a new four story building in Diamond-street fell with a crash which was heard for many squares. The force of the falling building was so great that the rear walls of the two adjoining buildings were crushed as if they had been made of paper and their front walls fell upon the pavement in Wood-street, burying several people in the debris and mangling some horribly. A man, a boy and a girl have been taken to the hospital. A barber shop in the rear was also demolished and its occupants were buried in the ruins. The boot story in the rear of Erchbaum's building in Fifth-avenue was also knocked in and three printers were injured.

Amongst the injured were: John H. Gearing, fatally; Miss White, school teacher, fatally; Jerry Hook, Wm. Sandon, very seriously.

The falling walls crushed in the adjoining buildings in which were a number of persons. The storm lasted about thirty minutes and was the heaviest known in this section for years. Twenty-eight person have been taken from the ruins. Of these four were dead and several so badly injured that recovery is almost impossible. A large number are still buried under the debris.

THE HORSESHOE FALLS.

Their Shape Altered by the Fall of a Mass of Rock.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 9.—About 9 o'clock Friday evening last a large mass of rock became detached from the Horseshoe or Canadian Falls and fell into the vortex, and on Saturday night about 10 o'clock another large fragment followed. The noise made by both these pieces in falling alarmed the residents in the vicinity at the Canadian side and also at Goat Island, about half a mile up the river. The effect of these displacements on the contour of the falls is quite marked, the change being from that of an angle at the vortex to the original horseshoe shape.

How a Careless Employe Was Killed.

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—The Coroner held an inquest yesterday at the Notre Dame Hospital upon the remains of H. Lanctot, who died at that institution from injuries sustained on the C. P. R. line. The deceased and three other men were sent to[Blue Bonnets with a small hand car to get some spikes, on Dec. 31, and having filled their box fixed it on the car for the return journey. Prior to leaving, one of the men, named Gaumond, had a bottle of whisky, and each of them had a couple of drinks apiece. Then they hitched their car on to a train that was starting for Montreal, the engine and tender being at the rear, and the men, quite unknown to the driver, took off the coupling pin and attached themselves to the engine. Just at the start one of the men, named Aubin, got frightened and jumped off, while Gaumond was also afraid, and after advising his companions to release themselves, jumped on to the back of the engine. Only the deceased and Cantin were therefore left, and just as the train got up to a speed of twenty-five or thirty miles an hour three of the hand car wheels broke, but Cantin kept a firm hold of the pin and jumped on the engine, while the deceased and the car were violently hurled from the track. As soon as the train could be backed the unfortunate man was found quite unconscious, with his skull fractured and bleeding from the nose, ears and mouth. After hearing the evidence of several witnesses, the jury came to the conclusion that death had resulted accidentally, and returned a verdict to that effect, imputing blame to no one.

Suicide with a Shot Gun.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Christian Jaeger, aged 42, a carpenter, residing at No. 24 Willow-avenue, Hoboken, committed suicide yesterday morning. He had been sickly for several months and unable to work. His wife and three children were unprovided for and this preyed upon his mind. He took a heavily loaded shotgun, lay down upon the floor in his parlor, and, putting the gun's muzzle under his chin, pulled the trigger with his toe. Death was instantaneous.

She Bound Out the Heirs.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 10.—F. E. Patterson of Portland, Ore., claims that nearly all the land where the town of Stratford now stands belongs to the heirs of Hezekiah Patterson, who died in 1760. Patterson, it is claimed, left the property to his wife on condition that if she married again it should go to the children. Mrs. Patterson married and disposed of the children by binding them out. An attorney is looking up the matter.

A Jail Full of Murderers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Sheriff Flack received the official notification from Governor Hill yesterday morning of the commutation of Adolph Reich's sentence. He will go to Sing Sing to-day. A happier man than Reich would be hard to find. Sheriff Flack at once surrendered the prisoner to Warden Osborne's custody, and the death watch was relieved. The suit of clothes provided by the Sheriff for the execution is an object of horror to Reich now, but he has packed it away with his other belongings, and it will be given to his son.

Reich obtained the Warden's permission to say good-bye to Gibbs, Lewis, Packenham, Carlin and Carlton, the five death-sentenced men now in the Tombs, and the spectacle presented when he did so—the ill-suppressed exultation of the fortunate man, and the envy of the five whose hopes are fading—was one that could have taught a shrewd observer much. The five men bore themselves well, however, and expressed cordial congratulations. Eleven men and four women now await trial for homicide, a number never before equalled in the prison's history.

TRAGEDY AT FLESHERTON

A FRENCHMAN BEATEN AND KICKED TO DEATH.

It is Rumored That There is a Woman in the Case—Probable Murder in Essex—A Double Crime in Toledo.

ORILLIA, Jan. 9.—Yesterday when the afternoon train from Midland drew into the station here, among other passengers who alighted were Charles Holmes, his brother and a Frenchman named Paul Marriel. They made their way up town, Marriel stopping at the Oriental Hotel. In the evening the Holmes came around with the intention, according to their threats, of giving the Frenchman a thrashing, but were promptly expelled by the proprietor of the hotel.

The train left at 9 o'clock, all being aboard and somewhat the worse of liquor. Arriving at Flesherton, their place of residence, they alighted. The train had hardly moved out when the Holmes attacked Marriel, Charles knocking him down with a pair of skates he had strapped together. A man named Thomas Caramill, who witnessed the affair, tried to interfere, but was also knocked down, being, however, only slightly hurt.

The Holmes kicked Marriel's face and body almost into a jelly and left him for dead. In a few minutes, however, he arose and walked to his boarding house about a quarter of a mile distant. He told the people there that the Holmes had been trying to murder him but they couldn't kill a Frenchman. Dr. Hanley, of Waubaushene was immediately sent for but arrived only a few minutes before Marriel died, about four hours after he had been beaten.

The Holmes were arrested and brought to the Ryan House at Coldwater. An inquest was begun to-day on the body of the deceased.

The Holmes bear a hard name here, Charles having lost an arm in the Central Prison, while serving a term there. Marriel seemed to be a quiet fellow and had been working on the farm of Mr. Scarrow. He has a brother and sister in Quebec, who have been telegraphed for.

It is rumored that there is a woman at the bottom of the affair.

A TECUMSEH BUTCHERY.

Murderous Assault—One Man Killed—The Perpetrators at Large.

WINDSOR, Jan. 9.—A Tecumseh (Ont.) telegram yesterday afternoon requested Chief Palmer to meet the west bound train at Windsor. The chief did so and was informed that on Monday night six colored men employed by a Detroit firm as choppers in the woods near that village had left their shanty with their axes and gone to a neighboring shanty, occupied by three white choppers and a white woman named Mrs. Wm. Beasley of Windsor, and after breaking in the door made a murderous attack on the three male inmates.

Two of the victims were said to have been discovered yesterday in a terribly bruised condition, while the third was missing and is supposed to have been killed by his assailants and his body hidden.

At 5 p.m. a second Tecumseh telegram was received by the chief stating that the six colored men had left their shanty with their axes and started through the woods in the direction of Windsor and would likely endeavor to cross the river at Walkerville.

The chief immediately dispatched three of his men to appear and assist the Walkerville police but the six colored men had escaped, having crossed over at about the time Chief Palmer received the second telegram.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Toledo's Ghastly Contribution to the Carnival of Crime—A Fatal Quarrel.

TOLEDO, Jan. 9.—A horrible murder and suicide occurred in East Toledo this morning. M. Shaffer and a woman named Mary Jane Valentine, whom he claimed was his wife, and two boys came here from Genoa, O., in December and took rooms in the tenement at the corner of Front and Platt-streets. They had frequent quarrels.

Last night a stranger was with them, and they played cards and drank all night. They quarrelled and Shaffer wanted the visitor to leave but the latter would not. He left later, however, and this morning Shaffer and the woman had another fight at 12.30 o'clock. Five shots were heard by the neighbors and soon after another shot followed.

Policemen forced an entrance and found the woman stretched down in a corner of the room with an umbrella over her and three bullet holes in her head and one in her breast. The man lay near by shot through the heart, with an empty revolver in his hand.

GAYNOR WANTS A DIVORCE.

A Young Brooklyn Man Says His Wife Threw a Lighted Lamp at Him.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 10.—On April 5, 1885, Henry Gaynor, a young man who is in the employ of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company, married Mary Elles, who was then a handsome girl scarcely out of her teens. He provided a comfortable home for his young wife at 1290 Myrtle-avenue, and they lived happily together until January, 1888, when, he says, his wife became addicted to drink, and from that time dated the downfall of the once happy couple.

The husband sought the counsel of Lawyer Baldwin F. Strauss of Brooklyn, and, as a result, proceedings looking toward a limited divorce have been begun. In his complaint Gaynor says that on May 12 last his wife threw a lighted lamp at him, which struck him on the left hand and almost set fire to the house. On the same occasion he says that his wife beat and maltreated his children. On Dec. 16 last, he further alleges that his wife picked up a heavy drinking glass and threw it at him, striking him on the head and inflicting a severe gash. On various other occasions she has assaulted him, he says, and ill-used the children.

On last Christmas Day, he says, he came home and found his wife in a drunken stupor and the children crying for something to eat. That night he says she took the children away and has not returned.

A feature of the case is the novel method employed in serving the papers. On leaving her husband Mrs. Gaynor went back to her parents, who reside in South 1st-street, Williamsburgh. Gaynor's counsel learning that a party was being held on New Year's Eve sent his clerk to the house, who entered as an invited guest.

After gaining admission he asked to see Mrs. Gaynor; when she appeared, under pretense of handing her his card, he slipped the summons and complaint in her hand and then fled.

The case will be tried shortly in the City Court of Brooklyn.

BOARD OF TRADE RETURNS.

The Dominion's Trade with the Mother Country.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Board of Trade returns show that British trade with Canada for 1888, like the British foreign trade generally, is less satisfactory than was expected. The exports to Canada amounted to £5,162,145, a decrease of 10.91 per cent. as compared with 1887. The imports from Canada were £7,017,730, a decrease of 11.65 per cent. The largest decrease in exports occurs in cotton, woolen and worsted goods, probably due to the enlarged Canadian home make. Iron exports were about stationary. The imports of oxen remained about stationary at £1,026,260. Cows decreased from £45,470 in 1887 to £40,264. Sheep increased from £65,736 to £68,572. Wheat and flour decreased from £3,045,846 to £2,866,785; butter, from £126,586 to £90,797; cheese, from £1,552,764 to £1,523,539. Fish increased from £336,657 to £367,662, and lumber increased from £2,645,263 to £3,012,561.

"ANNEXATION."

A person outside Canada, reading the Empire and other contemporaries of congenial kidney, would be inclined to think, assuming that these publications were in any degree reflective of public opinion, that the subject of the political "annexation" of Canada to the United States, was a subject engaging the attention of the people of Canada. But he would be thoroughly deceived. The fact is, the question is not seriously discussed at all. It cannot be called discussion, when all the talk, or, rather, twaddle, on the subject is confined to those unprincipled and disloyal journals who for the paltry sake of political effect persist in setting up a man of straw for the puerile pleasure of knocking him down. There is no annexation party in Canada. There may be here and there individual cases of pronounced "annexationists," firm in the faith, such as Mr. Sol. White, the prominent western Ontario Tory politician, but as a party, "annexationists" do not exist except in the frowsy imagination of the Empire and its journalistic followers. But there is a bare possibility of the Empire, if it persists as industriously as it has done for some months past to foster "annexation" sentiment, to achieve an "annexation" party. It is safe to say that thousands (this number is to be taken as a mere expression of indefinite plurality, not as all, literally)—thousands of the readers of the Empire have seriously thought upon the subject of "annexation," and possibly have been inoculated with the poison, who would not have thought of it, had not the Empire persisted in hammering away at it, in season and out of season, for months past. Scores of men who go wrong and commit crime, had no thought of such a course, until the suggestion came that crime was possible and profitable. And scores of men, it is possible, were loyal and contented till the Empire, by its gratuitous, insulting and "damnable iteration" on the subject of "annexation," put evil thoughts and longings into their heads. We deny that there is an "annexation" party in Canada, but if there should be the materials of it, these have been created by the Empire and its Tory confreres within the past few months. Who but an ignorant clown would suggest to an honest and thriving business man, the subject of his failure in business, through improper means, as an agreeable subject for discussion? Who but a coarse-fibred cad would hint to an honourable man, the subject of doubt of the virtue of the latter's wife, as an agreeable topic of conversation? Who but a designing demagogue would trail the patriotism of his country through the slime of partisan discussion, when that patriotism was unquestioned by any save himself and that from mere lust of political gain? It is an old practice under a new garb. When worsted in political argument the Tory press either flies to the "refuge of a scoundrel," arrogating the possession of all the loyalty extant, or, if more closely cornered, advocates flat treason, as witness the Tory Annexation manifesto of 1848. And the organ of this class has the unspeakable effrontery to impute "annexation" principles to its opponents, whose economic arguments it feels itself unable to otherwise answer. If the Empire were in the pay of Butterworth, Sherman or other Yankee Ahabs, who covet the Canadian vineyard, it could not do more than it has done to create, out of nothing, "annexation" sentiment in Canada.

Of the immigrants arriving in Ottawa last year, 181 were mechanics, clerks, traders, etc., and only 51 were female servants.

The man who gave the evidence on which Hon. James McShane was disqualified at Montreal has since hanged himself. Mr. McShane says it was a clear case of remorse.

Says the Halifax Chronicle:—If the Southern States could establish and develop vast manufacturing industries in the face of free competition from the whole Union, and that they have done so is a fact patent to all the world, surely it is a manifest that the dismal forebodings of the opponents of unrestricted reciprocity that it would kill our factories, have their root in cowardice, in ignorance, in a distorted imagination or in something worse.

In consequence of the disgraceful conduct of several of the deputy returning officers appointed at the late election in Haldimand, one of the more respectable Conservative deputy returning officers, says the Hamilton Times, has publicly declared that if appointed at the coming election his duty to his own reputation would compel him to decline the office, as he utterly declines to have his name, even remotely, associated with such doings as were exposed in the course of the two last election trials.

Centreville.

(From a Correspondent.)

Tuesday night, Jan. 8th, the second meeting of the Centreville Literary Society was held and its success was very gratifying to all concerned. There was a large attendance, the town hall being filled. Mr. John J. Fair occupied the chair and introduced the programme. This consisted of a recitation, well given by Miss Beccie Fair; a song by Mr. Robert Hutchinson, which was loudly encored, and a song by Mr. Fenning, which was also heartily received. Miss Annie Hutchinson presided at the organ and gave great satisfaction. The debate was on the subject of the relative merits of the town and country as places of residence. Mr. Wm. Earl, with able assistants, championed the charms of the town, and Mr. Robert Brown, with equally able assistants, upheld the delights of the country. The decision was in favor of the town by two points. One of the most interesting features of the programme was the tableau representing as it did vividly the recent fracas in connection with the Millbrook school trouble. Especial prominence was given the surgeon who was on hand to bind up the wounds, and the worthy scribe who was present to record the exciting scenes of the melee. The tableau took immensely and was a cutting satire on a local educational squabble. Altogether the entertainment, was a pronounced success, and it was decided to hold the meetings of the Society fortnightly. They are likely to be largely attended, as these meetings are not only entertaining but highly instructive to those taking part in them or to those witnessing the proceedings.

"Eureka" and "Golden Hair Wash."

These are two of A. Dorenwend's standard preparations. The "Golden Hair Wash" gives the hair that beautiful golden shade so universally admired; it does not injure the hair in the slightest degree. TORONTO TOPICS.

The Surgical Operation at Government House—An Aldermanic Recount.

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—The Canada Copper Company, owned principally in Ohio and supposed to be backed by the Standard Oil Company, have bought out the Canadian interests of the Vermillion Company (Tough mine). This is further evidence that American capital regard the Sudbury field as one of the richest in America.

The surgical operation performed upon Miss Marjorie Campbell at Government House, in which a great deal of interest has been taken throughout the province, was the removal of an ovarian cyst weighing 15 pounds. The patient continues to steadily improve.

At the annual meeting of the Canadian Marine Association yesterday these officers were elected: President, Capt. Gaskin, Kingston (re-elected); first vice-president, Capt. Fairgrieve; second vice-president, Capt. Sylvester; sec.-treas., W. A. Geddes; Executive committee, Joseph Miller, D. S. Simpson, W. A. Geddes, R. O. Mackay, J. Matthews, C. Myles, F. Hagarty.

A delegation of representative educationalists from Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska arrived in the city yesterday to investigate the Smead-Dow system of heating school buildings in use here.

N. Weatherston, whom the returns for St. Patrick's Ward put one vote behind Ald. St. Leger for a seat in the council, has applied for a recount, which will be made by Judge McDougall on Saturday.

In the Colonel's court yesterday a quartette of old offenders, T. McLean, John Teale, John Flood and William A. People, were sent to penitentiary for 30 months each for ransacking a Grand Trunk freight car in November last. Thomas Cosgrove, a suspected accomplice, was sent to prison for three months for drunkenness.

Reid, Birely & Co., wholesale tobacco and cigar dealers; S. M. Clapp & Co., boot and shoe dealers; George Currie, boots and shoes; Lowden and Paton, wholesale druggists, and Walter Davidson, clothier, are in financial difficulties.

The World this morning has a double-headed article on a reign of terror which the paper says exists among the hotel men, wholesale liquor men, brewers and cigar manufacturers, brought about by a remedy having its origin in the license board of Toronto. The World says: "The worst perturbed of all are the men who keep the public houses of the town. Many of these are living under such a dread of their masters, put there by the politicians, that they cannot call their souls their own! They have to do the bidding of these masters: in that they are told where to buy their beer, where their cigars, in some cases even their meat and bread; or off goes their head into the basket, viz., they will have their license taken away from them. It is a strange story, this tale of political bidding and religion, and would take a great many columns of The World to tell to the end."

Last night's gale played havoc with telegraph and telephone poles and wires, fences, trees and outbuildings. The storm was pretty general throughout the province and was accompanied in many places by a heavy fall of snow.

Profitable Blockade Running.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—As was surmised at the time she sailed, Gonaives was the real destination of the steamer Alert, which arrived here at a late hour Sunday night. Finding no demand for her cargo at Port de la Paix, she ran into Gonaives on the 19th, in the darkness, with all lights extinguished.

"We found the steamer William Caulman in the harbor, having come in for a load of coffee," said one of the crew yesterday. "Another blockade-runner had taken it all the day before and the Caulman took in logwood instead. In the morning, when our arrival was known, at least 2000 people flocked to the shore to welcome us. The poor devils were nearly starved and looked upon us as deliverers. It is an actual fact that there were only two barrels of pork in the place and about twenty thousand people to eat it. Our cargo was sold almost before we could land and the people, among whom there were four or five priests, knelt down on the sands, weeping for joy, and thanked God for sending them relief.

"The gunboat Dessalines had been there a few days before and had shelled the town, but the damage was trivial. She sent eight sailors ashore at a point near Gonaives to get fresh water. They were set upon by the natives. Five of them were killed and the remaining three tied upon horses, Masseppe fashion, and jailed at Gonaives. We took on a load of logwood and left Gonaives on Dec. 30, coming directly here."

Merchants who know say that the Alert's trip was an immensely profitable one.

A New York Jam House

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Chinatown was in a glow of happiness yesterday. It was the day appointed for the removal of Joss from the old temple over the store of Yuet Sing, at No. 10 Chatham square, to the new and more elegant temple on the third floor of No. 16 Mott street.

There was no ceremony attending the removal, and at evening the scene in the new temple was one of great disorder. Chinese carpenters, painters and decorators were still at work embellishing the room, which will, when completed, be equal, it is said, in grandeur to any temple in the Celestial Kingdom.

The new temple being much larger than the old, it will require more furniture. To meet this requirement a new and richly carved altar table, several handsomely carved ebony chairs, inlaid with pearl, and a large amount of bric-a-brac and costly ornaments have been imported from China. There will be great rejoicing to-day among the Mongolians, who will gather from all parts of this city, Brooklyn and New Jersey to celebrate the dedication of their new house of worship. The building in which the new temple is located is owned by the Chinese, and, with the repairs, has cost nearly $30,000.

The Voice's Charges.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The Voice, prohibition organ, in its issue of to-day will publish fac similes of letters from J. S. Clarkson and W. W. Dudley to C. A. Durfee, an employe of The Voice, and also a sworn confession by Durfee that he sold the mailing list of The Voice to the Republican National Committee during the campaign for $200 and was to have employment under the committee, and that the letters referred to were written in negotiations therefor. Another employe, named Sansome, was implicated. Both men were arrested, but were discharged.

Three Skeletons of Children.

GLEN'S FALLS, Jan. 10.—The skeletons of three children were found yesterday by workmen who were digging a cellar for a house. There is no clue to their identity

Piles! Piles! Piles! Itching Piles. SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

On the Verge of Starvation.

"For three months I could not eat a fair meal or do a day's work. I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, began using it, and in three days my appetite returned, in a week I felt like a new man. It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Allaire, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia. 2w1d

Presence of mind.

Presence of mind is good in a case of accidents and emergencies, and when coupled with Hagyard's Yellow Oil will often save life. Yellow Oil cures all painful injuries, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, rheumatic and neuralgic pains and is in fact a handy and reliable surgical aid. 2w1d

A Valuable Discovery.

F. P. Tanner, of Nashing, Ont., says he has not only found B.B.B. a sure cure for Dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system that has ever been taken. B.B.B. is the great system regulator. 2w1d

Ashburnham Brevities.

The corporation snow plough made its first tour this morning.

The Young Men's Literary Guild of St. Luke's church meet to-night, and a debate on prohibition will take place.

A meeting of the Sunday school teachers of the Mark street Methodist church Wednesday night, Mr. A. Russel was unanimously elected superintendent for the present year, and other matters pertaining to the school were discussed.

The Rev. P. Clifton Parker of the Baptist church conducted the prayer meeting at the Mark street church Wednesday, and delivered a very impressive address on the church and the family. Owing to unfavorable weather the attendance was not so large as usual.

An accident occurred on Wednesday in the village which might have ended the earthly career of a young man. Having occasion to handle strychnine he thought he would taste it, just to see what it tasted like. Thinking the ingredient had lost a good deal of its strength from lying round a long time, he took a good deal more than he would otherwise have done, with the result that in a short time he was unable to move round. Very fortunately he came round all right and is now a wiser man although he paid dearly for his wisdom. Medical aid was about to be called when the sufferer took a turn for the better and the doctor was not thought necessary. Persons cannot be too careful when handling such poisonous stuff.

Ross at Hamilton.

Another Charge of Forgery Preferred Against Him.

Wm. Ross, alias Ferguson, who was some time ago committed for trial on a charge of passing a forged check in Mayor Stevenson's name upon Messrs. Foot & McWhinnie in December of '87, was wanted at Hamilton for a similar offence, of which the Times gives the following particulars :—

A somewhat interesting case came before the grand jury of the Winter Assizes Tuesday. It was a bill against Wm. Ferguson alias Wm. Ross for forgery. Over a year ago a man went to the clothing store of W. P. Giles, got a suit of clothes, and in payment gave a cheque for $40.45, alleged to have been signed by Mr. C. Stiff, of the G. T. R., and payable to John Chambers or bearer. The purchaser represented to Mr. Giles, jun., that he was Chambers, but it was afterwards discovered that the check was a forgery. Detective Day, of the G. T. R. staff, took up the case, and after a search of over a year he came across Ferguson alias Ross in Peterborough jail awaiting trial for forgery. He suspected the man and took Mr. Giles, jun., to Peterborough to see him. Mr. Giles immediately identified him as the man who had personated Chambers, and got the clothes from him on a forged cheque. The grand jury heard the evidence Tuesday and brought in a true bill against Ferguson.

On Wednesday Ross, who had been brought up from Peterborough, pleaded not guilty to the charge. When asked if he was ready for trial he said no. He said he would like six weeks or two months in which to get ready as he knew nothing of the charge until he heard it read. His witnesses, he said, were in Port Hope and other places and it would take some time to get them. He also said he had not yet been tried in Peterborough, but was being held in custody there awaiting trial on a charge of forgery.

Belleghem, the Furniture King.

This a title of courtesy applied to Mr. D. Belleghem, furniture manufacturer and dealer, and it is in every respect deservedly applied. For he does the leading furniture trade in the Midland district and has one of the best equipped and most extensive factories outside the large cities. In thousands of homes in the district his furniture is found as tangible evidence of Mr. Belleghem's popularity and success in meeting the wants of the people. And the reason of this is not far to seek. His goods are of the very best make in style, finish and solidity. His factory is thoroughly equipped with the best of modern machinery, and the first-class material he uses is thoroughly kiln-dried, and put together by a large staff of first-class mechanics. Therefore, in special ordered work, such as the seating, etc., of churches, the furnishing of banks and offices, the equipment of shops, Mr. Belleghem is able to give special satisfaction. His manufacturing facilities are unsurpassed and his personal attention is devoted to all orders of this class. Any person desiring furniture of any kind, from the plainest and cheapest to the most elegant and expensive, can get what they want at Belleghem's, and at moderate prices, for Belleghem will not be undersold. He is prepared to give the best value for a customer's money, and besides he will deliver free of charge, within a radius of twenty miles, all furniture purchased at his establishment. This insures safe and careful delivery, and prevents the scratching and damage to furniture caused by its being moved by unskilful persons without waggons suited to the purpose.

Sunday School Festival.

The annual festival and Christmas tree of the St. John's South Ward Sunday school, held last night in the Mission school rooms Dalhousie street, was a great success. The room was filled with pupils and their friends, except the space occupied by a gigantic Christmas tree, beautifully decorated with lights and flags. Out of compliment to the superintendent, Mr. Young, the United States consular agent here, the stars and stripes were displayed alongside the Union Jack. The tree was loaded down with beautiful presents besides. Previous to the distribution of the presents, a nice little programme beginning with a Christmas carol, was presented, consisting of songs, recitations, etc., by the pupils of the school. Those taking part were May Martin, Lacy Sabin, Albert Vess, Ella Morton, Birdie Martin, Etta Martin, Edith Evans, Bobby Baller, Harriet Andrews, Beddy Rush, Percy Wagborn, Belford Martin, Alice Warbey, Geo. Morton, Lily Rush, Mary Lachear, Harry Rush and Jessie Miller. Louisa Yuletide gave a violin solo for the youngsters, which was encored, and Master Freddie Benton, who presided at the organ with great skill, gave a song which was warmly encored. This little fellow is a born musician and his unusual talent is worthy of full development. Then followed the distribution of presents. To begin with, Mr. Young, the popular superintendent, was presented by the teachers and pupils, with a splendid dressing case, Mrs. Baller, one of the teachers longest connected with the school, with an elegant silver butter cooler, Miss Campbell, the librarian, with a beautiful present and Miss Barlee, organist, with a large Hymn Book, engrossed with her name. This pleasant distribution in gifts has been practiced for some time and all the teachers have thus been remembered from time to time. The ex-superintendent, Mr. Yokome, who made the foregoing presentations, was also remembered with a beautiful antique-design cup and saucer. Besides, the Christmas tree contained an elegant silver napkin ring for each of the teachers, also a present for Mrs. Beck, and a present for every pupil, including a bag of sweets. Special prizes given by Mrs. Yokome for the best boy and girl in the junior classes were won respectively by Annie Blade and Alan Bell. The entertainment, which closed with the National Anthem, was a delightful success and a good index of the flourishing state of the school under the earnest labors of the superintendent and teachers.

Peterborough and Belleville Wen.

Yesterday at the cold grey of dawn several 'bus loads of "sports" drove into town from a southerly direction and dispersed to their homes. They had been up all night at a cock-fight about nine miles down the river, and after the excitement they were all pretty well fagged. They drove down, to the number of about one hundred, Tuesday night, but one of the 'busses had some difficulty in reaching its destination, a broken wheel causing a collapse just after passing the locks bridge. The main was an interesting one. The fighters were Belleville and Peterborough against Toronto, and a large number of the sporting fraternity from these places was present. Eighteen birds were entered and nine battles fought, in which the Peterborough and Belleville cocks came out victorious. The main was for $500 a side, and $25 a fight. It is said considerable money changed hands on the result. Arrangements are being made for another cocking main to be held in about three weeks.

Obituary.

We regret to record, says the Hastings Star, the death of a most estimable young lady, in the person of Mrs. John Dixon, a native of this village, and daughter of a former townsman, Mr. Andrew Orr. Though in delicate health since the death of her husband, which occurred in May 1883, yet none of her relations or friends anticipated that the end was so near. At an early age she adopted the profession of school teacher, which she relinquished on her marriage with Mr. Dixon, who was Principal of the Collegiate Institute, Peterborough, which position Mr. Dixon resigned owing to ill health. Mr. and Mrs. Dixon removed to Middlesex, where Mr. Dixon's relatives resided and where he died, as before stated, in May 1883. A few years later Mrs. Dixon resumed teaching, (for which she was eminently qualified) but which she was compelled to relinquish owing to delicate health. She leaves two children whose future has been amply provided for by the forethought of the parents. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Orr in this vicinity will join with us in heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

Superior English Cutlery.

We were shown to-day by Mr. Stethem his last importation from John Clarke & Son, Sheffield, England, per steamer "Vancouver," of their elegant pocket, pen, sportsmen's and ladies' knives; carving knives and forks, table steels, and ivory handled table and dessert knives, and must say that we have never seen goods their equal. The makers are one of the oldest in England, making nothing but the finest goods. This lot, with his last importation of the celebrated B 4 Any pocket and butcher knives, enables Mr. Stethem to show a line of cutlery that cannot be surpassed in the largest cities of the continent for quality and appearance, and being direct from the makers the goods are being sold as cheap as are goods of inferior quality and finish. Call and see them. Mr. Stethem will be pleased to exhibit them to each and every one. 8 th-w

The Storm and the Wires.

We are evidently catching the edge of the storm which wrought such terrible havoc in Pennsylvania yesterday. It has touched us lightly in comparison. However, as far as the town is concerned there has been no derangement of railway travel on any of the many lines centreing in the town. Neither have the wires been interfered with. The Midland Railway's wires are working all right, and the C.P.R. Telegraph Company's wires are working through to Winnepeg and east to-day. The G.N.W.T. Co's. wires are all right straight west but there is some little derangement east of Hamilton, south of the lake and east of Kingston, but altogether the difficulty is trifling.

"It Beats Cock-fighting."

Judging from the interest manifested in the cocking main held in the neighborhood of the town, it would be thought difficult to name anything to justify the correctness of the above heading. But there is something in town, that has been in town, and that will remain in town, that beats cock-fighting out of sight, and that is the low down bottom price that is marked on all boots and shoes at gough bros store 370 george street. More than that it beats Canada and it beats creation. Outsiders coming to town cannot believe when told what tremendously low prices boots and shoes can be bought for at gough bros till they try and are convinced. Everybody believes that tries. Therefore hasten to gough bros and select what you need from a large and first class stock of boots and shoes at prices, which cannot be approached elsewhere in Canada.

Real Estate Investments at the opening of the new year. It will be wise to consider which is the safest and most profitable investment for money in large or small sums. I claim without fear of contradiction that Real Estate in Peterborough and suburbs stands at the head. From 10 to 50 per cent. has been made by those who bought through me during the past year, and I have a few exceptionally good properties to offer just now. I have had several years experience in buying and selling Real Estate in and about this town, and those who consult me make money, while those economical investors who go to the owners generally lose. I know where the good bargains are to be had, and I am at the service of all who mean business. T. HURLEY, 176 Hunter street. dw

Didn't Support his Wife

This afternoon John Smith, who lives back of the Collegiate Institute, was arrested and placed in the cells by P. C. Adams, on the strength of a warrant issued on the complaint of his wife that he neglected to support her.

Well! Well! Well!

Can it be possible? Ice creepers, to prevent you from slipping and breaking your limbs on icy walks this winter. Don't wait until you have had a tumble, but have a pair of them attached to your rubbers now. Adapted to all sizes, for ladies, gentlemen, boys and girls. For sale by Foot & McWhinnie. d

The Letter That Never Came.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Sarah Socke, 24, of 80 1-2 Attorney-street, has been a great annoyance to the letter carriers. She stopped them hourly to inquire if they had letters for her. She was arrested and her brother appeared in her behalf before Justice O'Reilly at the Essex Market Police Court yesterday. He said that his sister is of unsound mind. She believes that every man who looks at her is in love with her and sends her letters. She was held for examination as to her sanity.

For Selling Others' Land.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Jan. 10.—Frank Lovett and Thomas F. Howard left here last evening in charge of the sheriff of Duluth. Howard is a member of the real estate firm of Howard & Kearney of this city. Howard and Lovett were taken on a requisition to answer at Duluth a charge of fraud and forgery in the sale of 40 acres of Sioux City suburban property to one Cummings of Duluth. It is alleged that they had no title whatever to the land which they sold.

The Receiver Makes the Thief.

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 10.—Detective Reeves of Cleveland, O., effected nine arrests of persons who were systematically robbing the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Thefts have been made to the extent of $150,000. Moses Seugerman, a Cleveland junk dealer, who was the prime mover in the scheme, was held in $25,000 bail. A number of boys who were paid so much a pound for stolen iron were also put under arrest.

His House was His Castle.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Jan. 10.—On Sunday night George Hamilton, a colored porter, shot and seriously wounded Oscar Buttolph. During the early part of the evening Hamilton had been insulted by a crowd of drunken toughs, and supposing they were breaking in his house after he had returned shot through the door and his Buttolph. Hamilton will not be prosecuted.

Belleville Ladies Insulted.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 10.—The police have been notified that a number of young girls have been grossly insulted of late on Foster-avenue, by a man who is unknown to any of the residents in that locality. A description of the person has been furnished the police officers, who expect to bring the guilty party to justice.

OTONABEE MILLS,

ASHBURNHAM.

THE OLD MILLS AGAIN MADE NEW.

The above Mills were shut down last April, and all the old machinery, from the water wheels to the top of the Mill, removed and replaced by an entirely new plant. The machinery put in is the most modern, and the capacity has been increased 250 barrels daily. The Roller Plant is W. F. Cochrane's New invention, connected and running in two straight lines and driven by one belt. We have also erected adjoining the Mill a NEW ELEVATOR for wheat, with a capacity of 30,000 bushels. For grinding coarse grain into chop, we have put in A New Roller Mill which is a great improvement over the old stones. The firm has spared no expense in making this mill one of the best of its capacity in Canada, and that they have succeeded in so doing is evident from the excellent quality of flour it is now turning out.

We invite all our old customers, and others who have not favored us in the past, and all the farmers from north, south, east and west of Peterborough, to call and see us; assuring satisfaction in prices and quality of flour, price for wheat, quality and quantity of flour exchanged for wheat, and last but not least, the reduction of coarse grain into chop by our NEW ROLLER CHOP MILL. Chopping 5c. a Bag. 13w1-6d2

SUN

LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have more-over $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,000 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table :—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in cash assets.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,482 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 67	196,188 29	1,167,386 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 31	2,902,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,607 24	4,029,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

THE FURY OF THE CYCLONE

HALF THE CONTINENT SWEPT BY A RAGING TORNADO.

The Upper Suspension Bridge at Niagara Started Into the Maelstrom—Scenes of the Pennsylvania Catastrophe.

NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 10.—A southwest wind accompanied by snow commenced to blow about 6 o'clock last night. It increased in velocity until it almost reached a cyclone about midnight. About 2 o'clock this morning the upper foot and carriage suspension bridge near the falls gave way. The south or falls side of the bridge gave way first, no doubt from the continued swaying to and fro by the force of the wind. The steel girders, fastening the body of the bridge to the suspenders hanging from the cables, snapped like pipe stems, and the south side of the bridge, tearing the supporters on the north side from the cables, fell with its thousands of tons of steel and iron into Niagara's angry waters. Nothing is left but the towers, cables and cables. The loss will amount to $200,000. No one was known to be on the bridge at the time of the accident. Peter Brober crossed it about midnight. It was swinging so heavily then he had to hang on to the side in order to get over.

The bridge was ½ of a mile below the falls and was finished in 1869 at a cost of $175,000 by Samuel Keefer, C.E., of Brockville, now President of the Canadian Civil Engineers' Society. It was 1190 feet from cliff to cliff, 1268 from tower to tower and 190 above the river. During the last ten years a great deal of money has been spent on the structure and lately it has been thoroughly refurnished and all the woodwork was removed. In place of the wooden braces, wrought iron ones were inserted, and iron was substituted in every place where a piece of wood formerly did duty. Fully $300,000 has been expended by the Bridge Company in strengthening and improving the span, the substitution of iron for woodwork costing in itself an immense amount of money. The structure was considered one of the strongest of its kind in the world and was deemed capable of withstanding the most violent attack of the elements.

In the town of Niagara Falls, Ont., house roofs were torn off, the elevators and tramways leading down to the river suffered great loss and the river rose twenty-five feet.

A large tree fell across the Michigan Central express as it was running between Niagara Falls and Suspension Bridge, but did little damage other than tearing off the steak of the engine and slightly damaging the coaches. The loss around the Falls, including the bridge, will reach nearly $1,000,000.

In St. Catharines last evening the wind rose to the fury of a gale and by midnight a miniature cyclone was raging. Sleep was almost out of the question and many people rose from their beds and sat up until morning. Beds rocked like cradles, owing to the swaying of the houses, and the rattle of bricks and crashing of window glass and shutters added to the general alarm. Evidences of the destructive nature of the storm are everywhere observable to-day. Chimneys and plate glass fronts are down and broken in every direction.

The storm in Merritton was unprecedented in its fury. The wind tore around the base of the mountain and swept over the village. About half of the roof of the Merritton cotton mills was torn off. Barns, fences, chimneys and trees are down on all sides.

At Thorold the engine shed of the St. Catharines and Niagara Central Railway was blown down. The barrel shed of the Howland mill was also blown down, besides a large number of fences, trees, etc.

In Welland the new float bridge built across the canal was carried away and also the west side approach, the water coming within a foot of the top of the aqueduct. Fraser's lumber yards suffered severely. Planes were blown off the front of the City Hotel.

Whaley's store and the Presbyterian Church were partly unroofed. Park & Leslie's canning factory was uncovered. A number of electric lights were blown down, as was the large brick chimney of Round's saw mill, besides numerous smaller ones.

At Port Colborne it is claimed as the severest storm in years. The Isaac May's two barges, lying up in the harbor, were lifted on the harbor wall by the rising of the water in the lake and left on the bank. It is expected they will be launched off without damage. The west pier and some cribs were badly damaged and more than half of the pier was washed away. Several vessels lying in the canal carried away the snubbing posts and drifted across the canal without much damage. Part of the roof of the public school was blown off and numerous fences were blown down. The lake front at Erie Park was partly washed away and the fences carried off by the heavy sea. Harbormaster Carter says it is the heaviest gale since the big blow of 1841.

At Port Dalhousie the storm Wednesday night was the worst in 30 years. The wind blew from south-west-by-west and raised a most terrific sea on the lake. At times the waves went many feet over the piers and the lighthouses were so deluged it is almost a miracle they stood the force of the blast. Strange to say there was but little damage done.

The Blizzard on Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Jan. 10.—Last night's storm ripped about 40 feet of the galvanized iron roof off the armory and tore a number of holes on the Robert-street side. M. Richardson's store, a large frame structure in King-street, was partially demolished. At the Presbyterian mission church, corner of Look and Herkimer-streets, the wind blew in the back and front doors, and held high carnival in the interior of the sacred edifice during the night. Considerable fencing was blown down and trains were delayed.

A Howling Gale at London.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—London and vicinity were visited last night by a storm, the like of which has not been witnessed hereabout for several winters. At 8 o'clock snow began to fall, and from that hour until long after midnight a storm of unprecedented force raged. It was almost impossible to keep one's feet, owing to the boisterous character of the storm. Signs swayed to and fro, windows clattered as if being torn from their fastenings; awnings creaked and fluttered, like so many living things, whilst the music from Barnum's "steam calliope" was harmony and symphony combined as compared with the noises sent forth from the telephone and the telegraph wires. The trains were a trifle late from the west and south, and passengers reported the storm widespread.

The Erin and Guelph Stage Blown Over.

GUELPH, Jan. 10.—In coming to town this morning the Erin stage was blown clear over off the road into the ditch. Mr. Moore got his ankle a little hurt, but, with the help he soared up, righted his conveyance and got to the city only half an hour behind time.

What the Oldest Inhabitant Says.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—The "oldest inhabitant" here says he never experienced such a wind storm as that which raged last night. Considerable damage was done in this neighborhood to fences, houses, trees, etc. No lives are reported lost.

Port Hope Visited.

PORT HOPE, Jan. 10.—The most severe storm of the season set in last night. A perfect hurricane prevailed all night and up to noon to-day, accompanied with rain and snow; property has been destroyed on all sides. The schooners Sutlej and Garibaldi broke from their moorings in the new harbor and ran against the east pier, both were more or less damaged. The damage to the Garibaldi is estimated at about $100.

The top of the spire of St. Mark's Church was blown off, Jason Wilson's flag pole on Protestant Hill baited the dust; the oldest tree in this part of the country, near the old Midland Railway station, was blown down; a fine spruce in the grounds of Mr. Hereford was also felled; Mr. Doyell and Miss Doebler's awnings were blown into smithereens; shutters and venetian blinds were seen scudding through the air; fences and telegraph poles were sent promiscuously about; barns and sheds in all directions were uncoofed without any human aid. Such a storm has not visited this section for years.

Havoc at Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 10.—Yesterday afternoon the rain fell heavily and toward evening the wind began to blow from the westward, steadily increasing until about 6 o'clock, when it blew a violent gale. Those who had occasion to be on the streets found it difficult to travel. This state of things continued all night, the wind in the meantime increasing to almost hurricane force and doing havoc in all directions. Towards morning snow had succeeded the rain and this was carried madly about by the wind and in many places piled in drifts to a considerable depth. It is impossible to estimate the damage that has been done to property, but it is considerable.

CHAOS AT READING.

A Scene of Death and Destruction Which Beggars Description.

READING, Pa., Jan. 10.—Yesterday's terrible disaster is not mitigated by to-day's revelations. It has been raining hard all morning. Towards noon it ceased almost entirely, and by 4 o'clock there was every indication that there would be an entire cessation of the rainstorm. Half an hour afterwards the sun made every effort to penetrate the clouds. The refulgent tints of a rainbow were seen in the eastern sky, and to all appearances portended a beautiful evening sunset. There was a clear sky overhead. This continued for half an hour longer. Then the scene changed with a suddenness that was appalling. The fleecy clouds gave way to the ominous signs of a coming storm. Dark, heavy banks of clouds marshaled themselves towards the front, and a gloom seemed to have settled over the city. There was a stillness as of a coming danger. Suddenly the wind whistled, roared and tore in mad confusion. The storm clouds grew heavier still, and louder roared the winds. In the western sky the storm was seen approaching with a thundering noise. The swath it cut was narrow, but its effect was terrible.

The track of this destructive element was not more than 200 feet wide; and it is lucky that it only touched the suburbs of the city. It came from the west, but passed along the northern border of Reading. First it touched the Mount Penn stove works. Here the corner of the building was struck and a portion of the roof was cut off as nicely as if done with a pair of scissors. Then the storm cloud scurried across some fields, took off a portion of the roof of J. H. Sternbergh's rolling mill, and a number of dwellings were unroofed as nicely as if their tin roofs were paper. The storm then hurried across the property of the Reading railroad company and crossed the railroad. Here a passenger car was standing. This was overturned as neatly as if it was a toy, and its splinters scattered in every direction.

Meanwhile the rain poured down in torrents. The atmosphere became heavy and oppressive, and it was almost as dark as night. Directly alongside the tracks of the Reading railroad was situated the paint shop of the Reading railroad company. It was a one-story building about 60 by 150 feet in size. Here about 30 men were employed in painting passenger cars. There were eight or nine of these cars in the building. They had been built at the company's shops in this city at a cost of $6000 each.

The building was struck square in the middle, and the bricks scattered like feathers. The cars were turned topsy-turvy, while the men were buried under the debris. Some of the bricks were carried a square away. The chamber of each of the passenger cars was already filled with gas, as they were ready to be taken out on the road in a few days. These exploded with terrific force, causing the people all over the city to run out of their houses, thinking that it was an earthquake. There was a considerable quantity of gasoline in the building, and this added fuel to the flames, which shot heavenward with the roar of musketry. Some twenty of the men had a chance to crawl out of the debris, but four of their companions were enveloped in the embraces of the flames. Their cries were heard for a moment, then their voices were hushed forever. They were roasted to death, and the fire from the nine passenger cars lit up the heavens for miles around. In the meantime the fire department was called out, but its services were unavailing. The building and cars were consumed in fifteen minutes, and nothing was left but the smoking ruins, under which lay four human beings burned to a crisp. Their names are: John Kohler, Albert Landberger, Sheridan Jones and George Shaeffer. It was rumored that several others had been killed, but these are the only ones who it is known have lost their lives. Aaron Dewalt, another employe in the paint shop, had his arm broken, and George Knobb was injured internally, no doubt fatally. The loss to the railroad company is fully $75,000. While this was all going on the storm was traveling forward at the rate of about 100 miles an hour, uncoofing houses and doing other damage.

Directly in the storm's path, at the corner of Twelfth and Marian-streets, stood the Reading silk mill, one of the industries of the city, and in which were about 175 happy girls working. The building was a large structure, most substantially built, four stories in height, and had a basement besides. It occupied an entire block of ground. The size of the building itself was nearly 200 feet in length and about 150 feet wide. It was surmounted by a massive tower fully 100 feet from the ground. The funnel-shaped storm cloud struck the building directly in the center on the broadest side, which faced the west. It fell to pieces as if composed of so many building blocks. Nearly 200 human beings went down in the awful wreck.

Human tongue can never tell the terrible scenes of that hour. The walls gave way, the floors fell down, one on top of the other, and carried their great mass of human beings to the bottom. The bricks were piled up in the greatest confusion while amid the hurricane and whistling, rushing, roaring wind, terrific cries for succor were sent up to heaven. It was a moment that tried men's souls; and almost simultaneously with the fall of the building came the awful cries for relief. Girls with blackened faces, bruised and broken limbs, their clothing tattered and torn, dragged themselves from the ruins. So probably 75 to 100 escaped or were dragged out by their friends. These, of course, worked on the upper floors and were thrown near the top of the debris.

At some places the bricks were piled 20 feet deep and underneath were lying last night human bodies by the score. About 250 girls and young women are usually employed in the mill, but at 4 o'clock about 80 were relieved from duty for the day. They returned to their homes before the storm came.

The most reliable estimate places the number in the building when it went down in the neighborhood of 175, and, as before stated, 100 of these were rescued by friends or designed themselves, not immediately after the accident. The alarm for relief was immediately sent out, and in a short time thousands of citizens arrived to take out the dead and dying. The scene was a harrowing one and beggars description. The mill is situated near the foot of Mount Penn, a high mountain overlooking the city. When the people arrived everything was enveloped in darkness. Then huge bonfires were built which cast a dismal glare on the surrounding scene. The fire companies left the burning paint shop and assisted in the rescue of the dead and dying. The entire police force was called out, the ambulance and relief corps and a thousand people were in among the debris, carrying out bricks, pulling away timbers and assisting wherever they could, all at the same time, but their work was slow compared with the demand for the rescue of the victims of the disaster.

Here a young woman was taken out, bruised and suffering from pain. One body taken out had its head cut off. Others were in various postures, the living all suffering from the most terrible wounds and some almost scared to death. The associated press representative entered what was once the basement of the building, and groping his way through the debris noticed five bodies of young girls lying close together. He tried to pull them out, but they were pinned down and it was impossible to get them out. They were dead and beyond all human aid.

All is chaos and confusion around the mill. The managers are missing, and the correct number of the dead is mere guesswork. It may not be over 60, and then again there is a likelihood that it will reach 90, or even 80. The silk mill was built about four years ago, and together with the machinery is a total wreck. This means a loss of over $100,000.

THE PITTSBURG CATASTROPHE.

Every Feature of a Tornado—Collapse of a Seven-Story Structure.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 10.—The storm which passed over this city yesterday afternoon and wrought such frightful destruction to life and property possessed every feature of a tornado. United States Signal Officer Stewart said that the storm came from the southwest. It made its first appearance in Texas on Monday, reaching Arkansas on Tuesday, and struck Chicago at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The storm then swerved in a direct line for Pittsburg, which, however, escaped the greatest severity, as the track of its force lay northwest of this city. Just before the storm struck the city the barometer recorded 29.08, the lowest point reached here since the establishment of the signal service in this city. At 12.30 o'clock the velocity of the wind was fourteen miles an hour. Five minutes later it had attained twenty-five miles, and at 12.45 the maximum of forty miles an hour was reached and the tornado was over. It was the most furious storm ever known here. The thermometer fell fourteen degrees. The new Iron City nut works were demolished by the wind. Wm. Heins, a workman there, was killed. Loss, $10,000. The historic Fort Pitt foundry was badly wrecked. Loss, $7000. Telegraph and other wires were broken and tangled all over the city. The roof of the south side market house and part of the roof of the Oliver mill were blown off. Many houses were more or less damaged. There was but little damage in Allegheny City.

The chief catastrophe in Pittsburg was the collapse of the building at Wood and Diamond-streets, involving a loss of several lives. This was a new seven-story structure, partly completed. The workmen were mostly on the first floor at lunch when the crash occurred. Out of thirty of them only seven had been accounted for up to nightfall. While citizens and firemen were working to extricate the buried men another portion of the wall fell at 4.15, burying three firemen and the Rev. Father Canevin. They were but slightly injured. At 9.30 the dead body of a colored boy, name unknown, was taken out and removed to the morgue. A few moments later the elevator boy, James Garing, employed in Weldon's store, was removed. He was unconscious and is probably fatally injured.

About 4 o'clock Joseph Goehring, an errand boy employed by Weldon & Co., was discovered among the debris. He was heard to call for a drink of water, and Father Canevin and B. Devlin got a tin of water. They were about to let it down to young Goehring through a small hose, when a partition in the rear of Weldon & Co.'s store fell, covering up Father Canevin and three others. When Mr. Canevin heard the wall crackling he supposed he would be killed, and pushing Devlin aside, he threw his arms around a pillar so as to prevent the air from being cut off from young Goehring. Fortunately, he was not much hurt, and when rescued was able to go home unassisted.

From the best information obtainable eight persons were killed outright, or died in a short time, and 35 others were injured. Of the eight killed only two have been identified so far. One was a little girl named McGlone, who was walking along the street with her brother when the building fell, and the two were found buried in the wreck. The little girl was killed instantly, and her brother, it is thought, fatally injured. The body of George Kirsch, a bartender, 18 years old, was found in the cellar of the barber shop. Five unknown men and one boy are now at the morgue awaiting identification.

THE FESSERTON TRAGEDY.

Merrill's Slayers Held for Murder—The Cause of the Quarrel.

ORILLIA, Jan. 10.—At the inquest held on the body of the Frenchman, Philip Merrill, who was murdered at Fesserton on Tuesday night, the Hebners were committed to Barrie to await trial at the spring assizes.

The quarrel was over a charivari. Merrill having taken part in charivarieing a young woman who recently left her husband and was supposed to be living with a young Englishman at her mother's place. Hebner was a friend of the festive young lady, and although a married man with a family of six undertook to champion her cause.

COMPENSATION FOR HIS TOES.

A Hamilton Laborer's Suit Alleged Chicken Thieves—A Vagrant's Sentence.

HAMILTON, Jan. 10.—At the Assizes to-day Madden v. Hamilton Iron Forging Company, an action brought by John Madden, a laborer formerly in the employ of the above corporation, for compensation under the Employers' Liability Act, because of injury received while assisting to place a heavy iron gate under steam shears used to cut up scrap iron for the furnaces, was taken up. The accident occurred on April 19 last, and resulted in the plaintiff losing the great toe of the left foot, besides injury to two other of his toes. The case was not finished to-day.

The preliminary hearing of the charges against Sam Williams and David Towler for stealing two game cocks belonging to M. H. Leggat took place before Police Magistrate Cahill this morning. After hearing the evidence the cases were laid over until to-morrow, as there is some doubt as to the jurisdiction the magistrate has in cases of this kind and the punishment he can inflict.

Timothy O'Leary approached Constable Bainbridge yesterday and asked to be sent to jail. He had been sleeping in barns for a couple of months, and had not had anything to eat for two days. The poor fellow was poorly clad and was almost frozen. The Magistrate this morning gave him three months in the Central prison.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Annual Meeting, Reports Read and Officers Elected.

A Retrospect of the Doings of the Year—A Statement of the Finances—The Town and County to be Asked to Relieve the Debt.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society was held at the council chamber Thursday afternoon. Mr. J. H. Roper, President, occupied the chair. There were present Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, John Burnham, D. W. Dumble, Dr. Burnham, J. R. Stratton, Col. H. C. Rogers, F. J. Lewis, W. Stocker and Secretary F. Henry.

REPORT OF THE YEAR.

The Secretary read the following report:

To the members of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society:

GENTLEMEN,—The directors beg to submit the following report:—

The past year may be considered to have been fairly prosperous to the Society. Our annual exhibition, which was held on 30th August, was indeed a success, as there was a larger number of entries than ever before and nearly a hundred more than the previous year. The exhibit of plants and flowers was especially good. The cut flowers and bouquets were so nicely got up and so tastefully arranged that the judges experienced considerable difficulty in awarding the prizes to the different competitors. On account of the backwardness of the season the show of fruit was not as good as we had wished for. There was also a difficulty noticed in the fancy work. The prize list will be so revised as to make, we trust, an improvement in this class.

It is the opinion of the directors that the town council deserves the thanks of this Society for the yearly grant which they generously make.

The grant of $500 was all expended on the Court House Park.

The public reaped the benefit during the summer months of the labor, taste and care expended under the excellent management of Mr. McLennan, whose services your directors were successful in securing. During the coming year we hope to pay off the most of our indebtedness. The amount of outstanding accounts against the society is $92.35; besides a note current in the Bank of Montreal for $300.

In conclusion the directors beg to state that though the society is to be congratulated on its success during the past few years, still it is to be regretted that there is a great lack of interest shown by many of the citizens of Peterborough and Ashburnham, which is particularly apparent by the small attendance at the annual exhibition of the society.

P. HENRY, Secretary. J. H. ROPER, President.

The report was adopted without any discussion.

Real Estate Investments at the opening of the new year. It will be wise to consider which is the safest and most profitable investment for money in large or small sums. I claim without fear of contradiction that Real Estate in Peterborough and suburbs stands at the head. From 10 to 50 per cent. has been made by those who bought through me during the past year, and I have a few exceptionally good properties to offer just now. I have had several years experience in buying and selling Real Estate in and about this town, and those who consult me make money, while those economical investors who go to the corners generally lose. I know where the good bargains are to be had, and I am at the service of all who mean business. T. HURLEY, 176 Hunter street. dw

Petitions have recently been received from the City of St. Thomas, the counties of Brant, Wellington, Peterboro, Kent, Frontenac, Lennox and Addington.

It was only sent on trial in a small lot, but so well were the Japanese pleased that it is estimated they have received during the past year 900 carloads of Canadian cotton, most of which was consigned to firms at Yokohama. Quite a trade in cotton has also been opened up in Pekin.

THE RAILWAY COMMITTEE.

Attorney-General Martin's Application to Cross the C. P. R.'s Main Line Postponed.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—The Railway Committee of the Privy Council met to-day, Hon. J. H. Pope, Sir Hector Langevin, Sir John Thompson and Hon. John Carling being present. The application of the Canadian Pacific Railway to cross the street railway at London was postponed until the next meeting of the committee on Feb. 5.

The application of Attorney-General Martin for approval of the plans for crossing the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Portage la Prairie was taken up. Mr. Clark, solicitor for the Canadian Pacific Railway, objected to granting the application until it was settled whether the Red River Valley Railway would connect with the Manitoba and Northwestern, as if they did not the latter road would also apply for right to cross and the Canadian Pacific Railway, while willing that there should be one crossing at Portage la Prairie, objected to two. Attorney-General Martin had told him that no agreement had been come to between the Manitoba and Northwestern road for connection with the Red River Valley Road at Portage la Prairie. There was no necessity for the latter road to cross the Canadian Pacific Railway and stop a few hundred feet beyond it.

Sir Hector Langevin intimated that the committee were laboring under misapprehension respecting the application of Mr. Martin. The Portage extension, they had supposed, was making the crossing at Portage la Prairie in order to connect with the Manitoba and Northwestern tracks at a point north of the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Now they understood Mr. Martin simply proposed to get across the main line a few hundred feet without making any connection there.

Mr. Trudeau, secretary of the Railway Committee, read the following communication from Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, Chief Engineer of Government railways:

OTTAWA, Jan. 10, 1889.

Sir,—The application of the Red River Valley Railroad Company to cross the Canadian Pacific Railway at rail level in the town of Portage la Prairie, Man., having been referred to me, I have the honor to report that in my opinion the lower crossings of one railway by another at rail level the better, and therefore I say that if the Red River Valley Railway is merely designed to extend a few hundred yards beyond the proposed crossing of the Canadian Pacific Railway without final connections beyond, I recommend that the crossing should not be approved. If on the other hand it is the intention to form a connection with the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway I think the latter company should join in the application. Otherwise they may be likely to seek a crossing of the C.P.R. and it does not appear necessary for the traffic that two crossings should be granted, neither does it appear to me to be in the public interest. However the proposed crossing, if made jointly for those two roads would appear to me to be a reasonable one I have the honor to be,

Your obedient servant,
COLLINGWOOD SCHREIBER.

After some discussion Mr. Gormully, who appeared for Attorney-General Martin, said: "As a matter of fact Attorney-General Martin has stated that there was no junction between the Portage extension and the Manitoba and Northwestern."

Sir Hector Langevin: "For my own part I understood the road was to join the other and that the trains were to come together. You will see what I mean is that if you do not connect with the other road may ask for a crossing which of course cannot give crossings on their road to the former."

The case was finally postponed until full information could be had about the junction or non-junction of the roads was obtained.

The application of the Northern Pacific and Manitoba Railway to cross the Canadian Pacific Railway at Morris was postponed until Jan. 24, the committee being of opinion that the plans submitted did not give sufficient information.

THE BOUNDARY DISPUTE.

The School Limits Settled for the Present.

Other Matters Dealt With by the School Board—Increased Accommodation to be Provided—The Mission School to be Used for the Present—The Annexation of Ashburnham for School Purposes.

At the regular meeting of the School Board Thursday evening there were present Mr. Jas. Stevenson, chairman, and Messrs. Dumble, Hill, McWilliams, Kendry, A. Rutherford, Wrighton, Weir, English, Hughes, Stratton and Dr. Burnham.

The following communications, etc., were disposed of, after the minutes had been approved of:—

A communication was read from town clerk Macdonald, stating that all required information regarding school debentures could be secured from Mr. E. Pearse, treasurer of the Town Trust Commission.—Received.

Mr. Colbeck's application for an increase of salary was received for the time being.

Mr. J. H. Long, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, notified the Board that there had been a decrease in the fees for December, which was accounted for by a large number of county pupils dropping off at the first of the month in order to save the month's fees, because there were few actual teaching days in the month, most of the time being taken up by examinations. He suggested that in future the fees be made payable by the term instead of monthly, by which means the attendance of all the pupils up to the last day could be better secured.—Received.

An application of Miss Maud Reilly, of Norwood, for a position on the public school staff, was received.

A commenication was read from Mr. Alex. Marling, secretary of the Educational Department, enclosing a cheek for $150 the balance of government grant to the Collegiate Institute, stating also that the amount would have been forthcoming earlier had the town council taken such action as it recently had.—Received.

The following reports of school attendance during December were read:—

	Ave. Att.	No. on Roll
Collegiate Institute	106	169
West Ward School	148	236
South War. School	313	536
Central School	499	654

The Collegiate Institute fees for December amounted to $88; public school fees, $7.09.

An account of McKee & Davidson for $38.60, and one for S. S. No. 11, Douro, fees of pupils, $26.00, were ordered to be paid, the former on condition of being certified to.

THE SCHOOL LIMITS.

Mr. A. Rutherford presented the following report of the school supervision committee:—

Your committee have had under consideration the reports of your Inspector, Mr. Tilley, and we would beg to report and recommend, first, that for the better ventilation of the schools now in use, boards be provided for each window; second, that the grounds in the south ward school be repaired, also a new closet for girls, and such other repairs as may be required, either for the south or west ward schools; third, that on account of the over-crowded state of the south ward school, an addition of two rooms be made to the south side with separate entrance, and in the meantime your committee have the power to rent the mission school; fourth, the early completion of the north ward school; fifth, it has been deemed advisable to make changes with regard to the grading of the classes in the central school—in place of eleven grades, to make six, so that except in the senior rooms, there will be two teachers doing the same work, one room for boys and another for girls; also that instead of the blackboard system, used during the examinations, printed questions be used, prepared and furnished to all the schools by the Inspector at a cost of $50 per annum. Sixth, shall the Principals in the Central and Ward schools strictly enforce the school boundaries as follows:—South Ward school, all south of Charlotte street, except pupils residing east of the Midland railway and north of the C.P.R., who may attend either the South Ward school or the Central school. West Ward, all west of Bethune street, between Charlotte and Smith streets; North Ward school, (when built) all north of Smith street. Seventh, that the school hours for all classes, including senior division of part II of first book to headmaster's room, shall be in the morning from the hour of 9 o'clock until 12, except in the winter months, when the hour of commencing shall be 9.30; in the afternoon from 1.30 to 4 four o'clock, with ten minutes recess both afternoon and morning; the hours for the junior department will be the same as the rest of the classes for commencement, but will close in the morning at 11.30 and in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. Eighth, all teachers will be expected to be in their several places fifteen minutes before the time of commencing their duties. The Secretary will forward to each teacher in the employ of this board a copy of clauses 5, 6, 7 and 8; also clauses 1 and 2 be sent to the Chairman of the Property Committee. The committee recommend that after July next all teachers in the employment of the board will be expected to possess the proper legal qualification to teach.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. RUTHERFORD, Chairman.

PRO AND CON.

Mr. Rutherford spoke to the report, going over the recommendations in detail and supporting each item. He moved its adoption.

Mr. J. Stevenson, head master of the South Ward school, pointed out that the present limits (south of Simcoe street) increased rather than diminished the number attending the school, which were now 288. If the Charlotte street limit was adopted it would reduce the number to attend by 50.

Mr. Stratton said there was general dissatisfaction in the town [illegible] newly appointed limits. Some parents, who had children attending both the Collegiate Institute and Public school did not wish to have them separated and the smaller public school pupil sent to school alone. Another serious objection was that the new rule compelled a great many children to pass four or five times a day the railway crossings on Charlotte, King and Sherbrooke streets, where engines were passing frequently and where all the shunting was done. It was very dangerous. Some 60 or 70 taxpayers had spoken to him about this matter. Mr. Stratton claimed that the Charlotte street limit would not cover the case either, and in view of the proposed enlargement of the South ward school and the erection of a new North ward school, he proposed the following motion:—

Moved, in amendment, by Mr. Stratton, seconded by Mr. Hughes, that that portion of the report defining the district within which pupils must attend the several schools, be not adopted, but that matters remain as at present until such times as the necessary additional public school accommodation be provided.

Mr. Hughes spoke in behalf of the amendment.

Mr. Dumble urged the immediate necessity of adopting some measure to relieve the pressure on the schools. Any general rule would pinch somewhere, and on the whole the new limits would, he thought, give general satisfaction. Mr. Dumble combatted Mr. Stratton's arguments con, and dealt in detail with the other items in the report, favoring their adoption.

Mr. McWilliams proposed that the limits for those attending the south ward school be south of the C.P.R. track and west of Bethune street as far north as Hunter; that would do away with the objection to crossing the railways.

Mr. Stirling proposed that this might be left optional with parents.

The Chairman—The objection to the track is a very serious one.

Mr. English pointed out that the great majority of those attending the south and west ward schools were very small children, for whom it would be dangerous to be crossing tracks.

Messrs. Stratton, Dumble and Rutherford spoke again, each in support of his previous contention.

Mr. Weir suggested that all children living east of Aylmer street and north of Wolfe street be allowed to come to the central school, and that the remainder of the town be divided equally between the two ward schools.

Mr. Hill pointed out the necessity of appointing some definite limits to prevent the promiscuous running about of children to different schools, and Mr. Hughes again urged that it would be better to let the matter stand till the proposed additional school accommodation had been provided.

Mr. McWilliams made another proposal, but withdrew in favor of a motion by Mr. Dumble, (incorporated in the report as published) leaving it optional with parents residing in the gore bounded by Wolfe, Bethune and Charlotte streets, as to which school their children should attend.

Mr. Stratton's amendment was then put to the meeting and lost, and Mr. Dumble's amendment, to be added to the report, was adopted. The report, as a whole, was then passed.

ASHBURNHAM SHOULD ANNEX.

Mr. Dumble read the following report:—The committee appointed to consider matters in the interest of the Collegiate Institute met and considered school matters, and beg to report as follows:—

That Ashburnham and Peterborough are so identified in interest in reference to school matters that it would be in the interest of both municipalities to unite in a common high school district as provided by statute; and we recommend that a committee be appointed to meet the Ashburnham council with a view to bringing about the union.

That the matter of a separation of the board and the matter of erecting a Collegiate Institute was in part considered, but your committee ask leave to report on these matters at a future meeting.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

D. W. DUMBLE, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Moved by Dr. Burnham, seconded by Mr. Hill, that Messrs. Stevenson, Stratton, Dumble and Rutherford and the mover and seconder be a committee to wait upon the council of Ashburnham to take into consideration the advisability of joining Peterborough for High school purposes.—Carried.

PAYMENT OF FEES.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. Weir, that hereafter the Collegiate Institute fees be paid quarterly in advance, and that the year be divided into three terms.

Mr. Dumble supported the motion, pointing out the arguments already adduced by Mr. Long in his communication, introduced as the beginning of the meeting.

Mr. Hughes did not believe the new rule regarding advance payments would be received with favor by either town or country pupils.

Mr. Long, said in addition it was impossible to have the grading of the institute correctly done unless all the pupils attended the terminal examinations.

Mr. Stratton moved in amendment, seconded by Mr Hughes that the Institute fees be collected monthly as heretofore, and that the fees for December be half the usual rate, as only about half of the month is devoted to school work.—Lost.

The original motion was adopted.

MISCELLANEOUS MOTIONS.

Mr. McWilliams moved, seconded by Mr. Kendry, that the salary of Mr. Colbeck be $1 000 dating from the first of January last.

The motion was adopted after a little discussion.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Dumble, that the Property Committee forthwith procure a teacher's desk and individual desks and seats for the children of the new ward school, (known as the mission school); the children's desks and seats to be suited in size for junior pupils; and that the Committee on Appointments procure a suitable teacher for the new school, salary not to exceed $350 a year.—Carried.

Mr. McWilliams suggested that a committee wait upon the county council with reference to securing aid from the county towards the new Collegiate Institute building. The suggestion was followed out by Mr. McWilliams' name being added to the committee appointed to confer with the Ashburnham authorities, said committee to also consider Mr. McWilliams' proposal.

THE INCREASED ACCOMMODATION.

Mr. Kendry asked the chairman of the special committee to call a meeting and consider the plans of the north ward school.

Mr. Stevenson replied that a meeting would soon be held, and said a proper application should be made to the town council for the money to build the school.

Mr. Stratton moved, seconded by Mr Hill that the committee appointed to procure the plans of the north ward school be instructed to procure plans for an addition to the south ward school; that Messrs Hughes and English be added to the committee and that plans and estimates of cost be submitted to this Board at its next meeting.—Carried.

Mr. Dumble said he had received a small circular that he thought might be profitably used in the public schools here. It was simply a request to parents and guardians to send their children to school with clean faces, hands and feet, clean heads and scalps, brushed boots and tidy appearance.

Mr. Stevenson said one of the great objections to attending the crowded Ward Schools was because of the uncleanliness of some of the pupils.

Mr. Dumble moved that the Property Committee have 2,000 copies printed and circulated among the pupils.—Carried.

He also moved that 1,000 copies be printed of another circular to parents, asking the cause of absence of their children.

The motion was adopted and the Board adjourned.

A Tale of Many Swindles.

John McCuaig Convicted of Larceny and Committed to the Central Prison for One Year.

This morning John McCuaig was tried on a charge of larceny before P.M. Deacbill. It will be remembered this was the man who on Thursday of last week passed a worthless cheque in payment for a fur coat and cap at Fairweather's store, and was arrested, with the articles upon him. The Examiner gave full particulars of his case at the time.

Mr. Wood, County Crown Attorney, prosecuted, and Mr. W. H. Moore defended the prisoner, who is about 55 years of age, with iron-grey hair and side whiskers, shabbily dressed in a cheap summer suit and collarless cotton shirt, with boots on his feet that were just about worn out. He was rather seedy looking this morning, but might, if spruced up a bit, present a very respectable appearance.

A large number of witnesses were examined—Messrs. J. W. T. Fairweather, Thos. Barrie, Robt. Fairweather and Harry Wright, store proprietor and employees; W. D. Parker, accountant of the Bank of Ontario; Patrick Nevin, livery stable keeper, and Constable Adams. Their evidence corroborated the Examiner's published report of the affair. The prisoner on Wednesday, Jan. 2, selected the fur coat and cap and said he would call the next day and pay for them, stating that he expected money from the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co. Thursday afternoon, about 4 o'clock he came around and got the goods, offering the check for $28, payable to his order at the Ontario Bank, signed by his mark, not witnessed and without endorsation. Mr. Barry ran over to the bank to ascertain if there were any funds there to McQuaig's credit, and in his absence the latter went out with the coat and cap. The check was found to be worthless, and immediately Mr. Fairweather began tracing the man and notified the police. No such man was known to either the bank officials or the Hamilton Manufacturing Co., but it was ascertained that McQuaig had engaged a horse and buggy to drive him to Hastings between 6 and 7 o'clock. McQuaig was found at his boarding house, 21 Hunter street, by Mr. Fairweather, sitting with his coat on ready to depart from town, but he was arrested before he could carry out his intentions. A check book with several other cheeks filled out for different amounts was also found on him.

Mr. Moore, prisoner's counsel, sought to show that McQuaig had been on a protracted spree and was from the effects almost a lunatic and unaccountable for his actions; he also produced a letter from Mr. J. D. Gilbert, J.P., Reeve of Sophiasburg, stating that all he knew of the prisoner was creditable and that he was not in his opinion a bad man. A document found in McCuaig's pocket, being a petition drawn out asking the appointment of the prisoner to the position of night watchman in Belleville, was construed by Mr. Moore into an evidence that the man was actually demented. He asked leniency in view of these facts, considering that the prisoner's confinement in gaol of one week was sufficient punishment where no fraud was intended.

Mr. Wood made out the case for the Crown, and said he had received equally bad reports of the prisoner from the Picton and Kingston authorities.

The magistrate said there had been evidently a deliberate intention to defraud, for which drunkenness was no extenuation. He considered the prisoner a dangerous man to be at large and sentenced him to one year in the Central Prison.

The prisoner appealed for a reduction of sentence, alleging that he had been industrious and sober for the past three years, and stating that if the magistrate knew him he would not sentence him as he had. The magistrate could not see any reason why sentence should be recalled.

The Italian Must Go.

James Smith says he Won't Have Them Around his House—An Amusing Police Court Trial.

One of the most amusing cases ever tried at the police court was that of James Smith, a resident of Waterford street, who was this morning charged with non support of his wife. The trial had its pathetic side as well. Mrs. Smith told a pitiful story of neglect and bad treatment. She claimed that her husband drank constantly and sat about the house instead of working, and if ever he did earn any money it usually went in drink. She said that since last fall he had only brought a bag of potatoes, some tea and sugar into the house, and besides given her $1 in cash. Mrs. Smith supported her husband and family by hard labor, working out every day. She had stood it as long as she could, and then had her husband arrested. Mrs. Tighe, a neighbor, corroborated Mrs. Smith's statement, and said further, that frequently Mrs. Smith and her children were compelled to seek refuge in her house owing to the terrible temper of Smith paterfamilias. Mrs. Tighe said Smith often used "terrible language" to Mrs. Smith.

Smith is a talker of the first order and pleaded his own cause vigorously. His arms gyrated wildly and he empasized his statements by frequent thumps on the desk and earnest "s'help me God's." He was, to use a quotation, fairly transported by the exuberance of his verbosity. He swore by all that was true and beautiful "if he was to be carried out a dead corpse that very minute," that he was a sober and industrious man, earned lots of money and gave it all to his wife. He didn't drink five cents out of five dollars that he gave her. Their family had lots to eat—in fact they "chewed more victuals than most of families in town." The loquacious James frequently interrupted the witness and had to be told half a dozen times to shut up. His look of righteous indignation over the whole affair was comical to witness. His wife would mildly remonstrate, "why, James, you know you never gave me any money," and so on, to which the husband would retort he couldn't see how Mrs. Smith could stand up there and tell so many lies. "Well," he said once, "you are a d——d fine woman to be swearing on the Bible." If James said anything funny the audience would laugh, and James would laugh too, and harass his meek little wife still further.

When his turn came he took the oath with jaunty air, and very impressively informed the magistrate that he would let him into the whole secret of this thing. Mrs. Smith's daughter, he said, was low-lived enough to go and marry an Italian, and he, (the witness) would not have any drunken Italians loafing around his house. He told his wife so, and she said "well, if they can't stay around here I'll put you out." That, Mr. Smith said, was the cause of the whole thing. What was more, Smith said, if he was put in gaol he would never come out again alive. "If that woman sends me to gaol my death will be upon her," he said.

The magistrate remarked that he might sentence the prisoner to three months in the Central—"I 'n all the same to me," quoth James, "three days or three months, I won't live in there," and he laugh d unconcernedly—but the court would be merciful and make it 3 months in the gaol.

James was led away and locked in the cells.

An Embezzler's Escape.

W. E. Davis, of Toronto, who was committed for trial by J. P. Hall, at Lakefield, this week, for embezzlement, particulars of which have already been given in the Examiner, has escaped further punishment. Directly after his commitment for trial, while constable Cochrane was preparing to bring him down to the gaol, he was released from custody by order of Mr. Hall, who had a conversation by telephone with the assignee, Mr. Anderson, of Toronto, the latter agreeing to pay for the stolen goods. Further proceedings were dropped and Davis was allowed to leave the village.

Making a Grievance.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I sent one of the larger drawers in the postoffice. I do this as a matter of convenience to myself, as it enables me to collect my mail at any time without requiring the employees at the office and without the risk of being detained through having to wait my turn as the general delivery ticket. For the convenience I thus enjoy I pay the postoffice a considerable sum yearly in advance.

If I received my mail through the general delivery the attendant would be obliged to sort out a considerable budget for me twice each day, and the postoffice would receive nothing for that extra trouble.

My case is precisely similar to that of all drawer and box holders. If there were no drawers or boxes the duty of delivery would be very onerous. It is, therefore, clearly apparent that, whatever convenience a drawer or box may be to the rented, the preponderance of convenience is in favour of the postoffice, in addition to which the revenue of the office is considerably augmented by the sums received in the form of rent.

The claim to infallibity being so jealously monopolized by His Holiness at Rome, I, in common with the rest of the human herd, have no safeguard against occasional error, and twice during the past six months I have found on reaching the post office that I had neglected the key to my drawer. Addressing myself with true Canadian politeness to the attendant, I have apologized for troubling him, and asked him if he would kindly hand me my mail, to which request, expressed in very good English, that is, so far as good English is characterized by lack of dubiety as to the speaker's sentiments, he replied that he wouldn't. I had, therefore, no alternative but to return a considerable distance to my office for my key or do without my mail.

Never having worn the shoes of post office officialism, I am, unable to view this matter from the postmaster's standpoint, but from the standpoint of an outsider, I cannot but regard the refusal to hand out my mail under such circumstances, as an act of meanness which it would be in the interest of the post office to correct.

The public estimation of the management of the Peterborough post office is not so high that that institution can afford to add discourtesy to a carelessness which has become chronic and which, unless checked, may some day involve the Department in a serious charge for damages.

It is with regret that I make this complaint, and I do so only in the conviction that my grievance, being shared by a large number, requires airing.

I do not believe our postmaster disposed in the least degree to meanness. On the contrary, he is a good fellow, "a gentleman, and judge of"—well, not human nature, for I strongly suspect that much of the mismanagement of the office results from his trusting too much to his subordinate, whose disposition to be surly is apparent to everyone but the postmaster, and to muzzle whom might be an advantage to the office and to the public.

Yours truly,

Peterborough, Jan. 11th, 1889. $5.

Burns Anniversary.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—The approaching 130th anniversary of Robert Burns, which occurs on Friday, the 25th inst., has suggested the idea that Peterborough will not surely be behind in doing honour to Scotland's "darling poet." You have no doubt noticed, Mr. Editor, that extensive preparations are on foot this year in the cities and towns of Canada and the United States to celebrate this event in a proper manner, but, as yet, no movement has been made in Peterborough. The Burns Club which was formed here during the summer is, unfortunately, for the present, dormant, or it would have been expected to have taken the initiative in celebrating Burns' Birthday.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the St. Andrew's Society, held last evening, a general conversation on the subject took place, and a strong desire was manifested to have a Peterborough celebration. I was requested to ask your permission, through your columns, to call a meeting of the friends and admirers of Burns to be held in the parlour of the Morgan House on Saturday evening, the 12th instant, at 8 o'clock, to take the matter into consideration. A grand rally of all the admirers of Burns, in town and county—of every nationality—would undoubtedly result in a celebration worthy of the occasion.

Yours truly,

Wm. Menzies,

Secretary of St. Andrew's Society.

The Burns Anniversary.

A letter from the secretary of the St. Andrew's Society, published elsewhere, officially calls a meeting to consider the subject of a celebration in Peterborough of the 130th anniversary of Robert Burns, the Scottish poet, who has done so much by his inspiring verse to paint

The scenes from which old Scotia's grandeur springs,

That make her loved at home, revered abroad;

and there should be a large attendance of the great poet's admirers present.

OTONABEE MILLS, ASHBURNHAM.

THE OLD MILLS AGAIN MADE NEW.

The above Mills were shut down last April, and all the old machinery, from the water wheels to the top of the Mill, removed and replaced by an entirely new plant. The machinery put in is the most modern, and the capacity has been increased 250 barrels daily. The Roller Plant is W. F. Cochrane's New invention, connected and running in two straight lines and driven by one belt. We have also erected adjoining the Mill a NEW ELEVATOR for wheat, with a capacity of 30,000 bushels. For grinding coarse grain into chop, we have put in A New Roller Mill which is a great improvement over the old stones. The firm has spared no expense in making this mill one of the best of its capacity in Canada, and that they have succeeded in so doing is evident from the excellent quality of flour it is now turning out.

We invite all our old customers, and others who have not favored us in the past, and all the farmers from north, south, east and west of Peterborough, to call and see us; assuring satisfaction in prices and quality of flour, price for wheat, quality and quantity of flour exchanged for wheat, and last but not least, the reduction of coarse grain into chop by our NEW ROLLER CHOP MILL. MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

A Peculiar Case at Montreal—Charges Against a Labor Politician.

MONTREAL, Jan. 11.—J. N. Greenshields has resigned his position as Crown Prosecutor and it is stated that N. W. Trembolme will be appointed in his place.

Much anxiety has been caused by the absence of a young man of exemplary habits, who has only recently been admitted to partnership in the firm with which he had worked for a number of years. Nothing whatever is wrong with his accounts. He has three times before disappeared in a similar unaccountable manner, but has always been found and immediately returned to business, apparently not knowing what he had been doing.

Alexander Lalonde of Morrisburg was discharged by Judge Desnoyers to-day on the ground that the alleged false pretences in obtaining goods from Slater & Co. were too remote from the transaction.

Wm. Keys, who presented himself as a Labor candidate in Montreal West, was arrested this afternoon on a warrant sworn out by Lepage of Outremont, charging him with obtaining money under false pretences in not turning over the proceeds he received for the sale of some machinery. Keys denied the charge and was released on his own personal bail.

Wedding Bells at Highbury.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Thomas A. Richardson, British representative of R. G. Dun & Co., whose London office is a resort for Canadian commercial men and who is well known to all Canadian buyers and importers, was married to-day at St. Augustine's Church, Highbury, to Miss Annie Gordon Ayres. After the wedding breakfast to sixty guests at Highbury Athenæum the bridal party left for Devonshire, where the honeymoon will be spent. Numerous cablegrams and valuable presents from friends in the United States and Canada testified to the esteem in which Mr. Richardson is held in America.

Given a Chance to Reform.

HAMILTON, Jan. 11.—Hattie Beeby and Margaret Gilbert, the girls who were arrested by Constable Hawkins as they were coming out of an hotel on Stuart-street, were very repentant as they sat in the dock at the Police Court this morning. Chief McKinnon, Mr. Cahill and the parents of the girls have had several conversations with them and they promised to be better girls hereafter. The magistrate decided to give them an opportunity to reform, and discharged them. The unfortunate girls wept bitterly and left the court with their parents.

Wentworth Farmers' Institutes.

HAMILTON, Jan. 11.—A meeting of the institute was held in the Foresters' Hall this afternoon, and it is the intention to continue the meeting to-morrow. John Fothergill, vice-president, Burlington, was chairman, and in his opening address regretted the small attendance. The program for this afternoon included an address by John McMillan, M.P. for South Huron, on The Preparation of Soils for Various Crops, and a paper by Prof. Panton, of the Guelph Agricultural College, on Parasitic Plants (ergot and potato blight).

The Sackville Blue Book.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A blue book has just been issued on the Sackville affair, interest in which centers in a declaration by Lord Salisbury, who quotes Lord Palmerston, to the effect that international law enables the nation to which a demand for the withdrawal of its minister has been addressed to decline to comply with the demand, even though grave and weighty reasons have been assigned.

BRAINED WITH A HATCHET.

MYSTERIOUS DAYLIGHT MURDER OF A WOMAN IN BALTIMORE.

A Young Servant Girl Arrested, but She Insists That a Stranger Negro Committed the Crime.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 12.—One of the most atrocious murders in the annals of this city was committed yesterday afternoon. The victim is Mrs. Margaret Schneider, 65 years of age, of slight build, with a round, pleasant face and grey hair, who kept a house at No. 8 Fifth-street, near Charles, which has been under the watchful surveillance of the police for some time. Ida Kessel, a servant in the house, is accused of committing the crime. She eluded the police until to-day, when she was apprehended in the eastern part of the city.

The scene of the tragedy is a neat, three-story pressed-brick house, the last of a block of four on the north side of the street. An alley-way running beside the house furnished means of ingress and egress from the rear. The house is furnished nicely throughout, the third floor being entirely devoted to an elaborate opium lay-out. Heavy white blinds hang in all the windows and are rarely raised. For two or three months after Mrs. Schneider moved into the house the neighbors were annoyed by hacks and cabs driving up to the door at all hours of the night. Since the police have begun to watch the premises the house has been very quiet. The old lady had with her in the house until two weeks ago her granddaughter, Mrs. Mary Schuhmann, the latter's five-year-old boy and a colored woman. The colored woman left, and on Dec. 27 a stout German girl who gave her name as Ida, was taken in her place.

At 2.30 o'clock yesterday the milkman who serves the route stopped at the door, and Mrs. Schneider came out with a pitcher. An hour later Capt. J. C. McGregor, of No. 3 Engine Company, just opposite, saw the old woman come to the door covered with blood, beckon for help and then sink exhausted on the doorstep. After being carried to the City Hospital Mrs. Schneider regained consciousness only once and then was unable to make a detailed statement to Justice Hobbs. She endeavored, however, to tell of the assault, and from her disconnected and rambling sentences it was gathered that after getting the milk she went upstairs to the second-story front room and lay down.

After a short time, it is thought, the new servant came up and demanded money. Mrs. Schneider refused to give her any and a quarrel ensued, which the younger woman ended by assaulting the old woman with some blunt weapon. Mrs. Schneider struggled with her assailant and cried for help, but no one could hear her and she was soon overcome. The girl Ida then coolly walked into an adjoining room, leaving her victim unconscious and bleeding on the bed, changed her dress and left the house by the back way unseen save by a little girl who was playing on the sidewalk opposite. A bloody hatchet was found in the sink, and it is supposed that the deed was committed with it. The room was in disorder, and it was apparent that a struggle had occurred. The bed was devoid of covering and the sheet was spotted with blood. The headboard and wall were also spattered with blood, and on the left side of the bed was a pool, as if the woman had been left to bleed to death.

In the rear room the Captain found the bed in a state of disorder, and, looking underneath, discovered the blankets, spreads and coverings of the dead woman's bed. They were covered with blood, and had been thrown there hurriedly. Near by was a blue spotted calico dress, also covered with blood. The room was also in disorder. Upstairs on the third floor both rooms looked as if they had been ransacked. Even the pillow covers had been removed, and papers as well as letters, some of which were addressed to several prominent gentlemen in the city, were found strewn around. Only the upper rooms were torn up. No one was found in the house.

In the meantime a crowd had collected, and among them was a German, who conversed with Mrs. Schneider for a few minutes. She told him the substance of the foregoing story before her death.

Ida Kessel, the girl who was arrested, and who cannot speak a word of English, insists that a strange colored man came into the yard and asked her, "Where was the old woman?" She told him she was upstairs, whereupon the negro told her to leave the house, granting her the privilege of getting some clothes out of her room before she left. Blood stains are on her dress, but she says the negro hit her on the nose and she wiped away the blood with her sleeve. She insists that the negro committed the murder. Just what caused her to commit the fearful deed, if she did it, is still a mystery. There was little evidence that a search for valuables had been made, and it is not known that the woman took anything with her when she fled.

MRS. THORPE'S STORY OF ROBBERY.

She Says Two Men Dragged Her Into a Saloon and Stole Her Diamonds.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Just before 11 o'clock last night Policeman Warner of Capt. Reilly's command, found a golden-haired young woman who wore a sealskin ulster, wandering along Seventh-avenue, near Twenty-fourth street, in a partially dazed condition. She told the policeman that she was Mrs. Ellen Thorpe, and that two men had robbed her of her diamond earrings and a diamond brooch worth $3000.

Warner took the woman to the Thirteenth-street station house where she told Sergeant Lane that while walking in the street toward her home at 256 West Twenty-third-street, two young men, one of whom was lame, got her to go into John Seckman's saloon in Seventh-avenue, near Twenty-fourth-street, gave her some dragged liquor, and led her to their lodgings at 150 Twenty-fourth-street, where they tore the earrings from off her ears, tore away her brooch, and fled.

Policeman Warner found the woman's husband in a fit of great excitement at his home over her prolonged absence. He said that his wife had the brooch and earrings when she left the house. Capt. Reilly discovered that two men had really been to the Seventh-avenue saloon with the complainant, and he also discovered the identity of the men who are accused of robbing her. The jewels were bought not long ago at 22 Maiden-lane.

Took Back His Sleeping Wife.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 12.—John Zinser of Jersey City applied at the Pawtucket police station yesterday for an officer to go in search of his wife, who had eloped from Jersey City with Charles Dolan, abandoning her home and two children. The officers had seen the young man about town with Mrs. Zinser. Officer Hackett this morning, with Mr. Zinser, went to a boarding-house on East-avenue, where they found Mr. and "Mrs." Dolan, who were taken into custody. A reconciliation was effected, and after a talk of half an hour Dolan and Zinser were willing to return home in company and the eloping couple and the wronged husband went off on an early train.

MR. BLAIR IS FOR PEACE.

BUT "AMERICAN DESTINY" CANNOT FOREVER BE POSTPONED.

The New Hampshire Senator Thinks the Sooner the Continents is United Under One Flag the Better.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—In the course of a debate in the Senate to-day on the tariff bill Mr. Blair (Rep., N. H.) said there was no better foreign element in this country than the French Canadians. The idea of "American destiny" was not to be confined forever to the realm of poetry and declamation. It had been talked of for a century but could not be postponed forever. If there was to be an American continent with one flag and one people it was desirable to have it before it was filled with hostile populations and before national prejudices had grown strong. He had no desire to legislate for a future war and the sooner the people became a united people, which was the tendency on both sides of the line, the better it would be with regard to the continued peace of the continent. He trusted that in the discussion of the bill nothing would be said to spoil a tendency which was now so manifest in the [illegible] of a union of the two people, who were now comparatively few in numbers.

It might be objected that the French Canadians were Catholics, but at least they professed the Christian religion. He was informed that those who controlled the interests of the Catholic church on the other side of the frontier looked on the question in the same light that he did. The French Canadian Catholics were escaping from the Church of Rome, and in order to preserve its relations to them a political [illegible] was undesirable.

If there were those, in this or any other country, to whom the Catholic Church was an abomination, he asked them to consider the question whether if that church were to be eliminated, it would be less difficult to produce that effect while the church was in a foreign country and operating directly on this country. If there were things in the organization or ascendancy of that church objectionable to anybody's mind they could only be removed by the spirit of intelligence and by the general diffusion of knowledge which would remove whatever was objectionable in any religious organization.

He believed that by bringing the many together, and especially by being assimilating citizens under the direction of American institutions, anything objectionable could be easily eliminated. But there was nothing about the French Canadian population that was to his mind objectionable. But the Canadian immigrants were not wholly of French extraction or of the Catholic Church. Many thousands of them of other extractions had fought under the banner of the United States in the recent war.

Finally, on motion of Mr. Hall (Rep., Me.), fresh fish was struck off the free list of the tariff bill and put on the dutiable list at ½ cent a pound.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR ANGRY.

A Syracuse Justice Denounces the Methods of the Order.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 11.—For the last ten years or thereabouts Thomas Mulholland has been Police Justice in this city, and no one could beat him for a re-election. He is not a lawyer, but his reputation for hard sense has always carried him through against all opposition. Yesterday he had a knotty case. W. R. Barton, a large cigar manufacturer who has been boycotted by the Knights of Labor for putting in boot-breaking machines, was before the Justice on a charge of assaulting one of the Knights. In disposing of the case the Justice said:

"I may as well state right here that I don't believe in the Knights of Labor. I hold that every man has the right to employ whom he sees fit without any dictation from organized labor. The old plan of demand and production is the best in my opinion. I look on the boycott of Barton as a conspiracy, and if the instigators are brought before me I will settle their cases."

This was too much for the Knights of Labor here, and they have adopted resolutions to this effect:

"That we, as a body of law-abiding citizens, strongly criticise the unmerited remarks of our most honorable Justice. That all organized labor of Syracuse and vicinity do in the future as well as the present bear in mind the injustice of the remarks against organized labor. That a copy of these resolutions be placed on file by each organization to be held for future remembrance of our most honorable Justice."

Justice Mulholland is about 70 years old, and has four years to serve.

MORE KNIGHTS DISSATISFIED.

Four of the Founders of the Order to Form a New Association.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 11.—Four of the surviving five of the seven founders of the Knights of Labor, James L. Wright, Joseph S. Kennedy, R. C. McAuley and Robert N. Keen, have taken preliminary steps to form an association which they claim will be free from all the disadvantages that they see in the older order. The new movement is neither to be identified with Barry's new scheme nor the order which ex-Secretary Charles Litchman is endeavoring to form, but the progenitors expect to draw their membership directly from the rank and file of the Knights.

The reasons given for withdrawing from the Knights are that the Order has not adhered to the original lines of self-government set forth in the old constitution and that its objects are really inimical to the interests of the laboring classes. The leaders will hold several conferences, and after a plan of action shall have been decided upon it is expected that an advance will be made against the Knights of Labor. The General Master Workman said to-day that these four men were associated with Uriah S. Stephens in his efforts to establish the Knights of Labor. They were members of the old Garment-Cutters' Association, and when the form of organization was changed they changed with it.

A Tie-up Impending.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—From a semi-official source it was learned to-day that a general tie-up in all the surface railroads in this city and Brooklyn is impending. The railroad companies of this city have refused to sign the new scale recently submitted by the employes and it is said have reached a mutual understanding to resist it. They are prepared to risk a tie-up of the roads rather than sign the new scale, while the employes appear to be equally determined to enforce it.

Carriage Shops Burnt.

CENTRAL OFF. JUNCTION, Jan. 11.—The carriage and blacksmith shops belonging to James Forestille at Springbrook were destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock last night. Some half dozen new sleighs and cutters and a few tools were saved. Loss about $8000, insured for $1300. Cause of fire unknown. Ferguson's Hotel on the opposite corner of the street was with great difficulty saved from the flames. Ferguson also suffers considerable loss by damage to his effects by removal.

The Weeks' Failures.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Business failures number for the United States 231, and for Canada 20, a total of 251, against a total of 207 last week and 228 the week previous to last. For the corresponding week last year the figures were 276, making a total of 194 in the United States and 33 in Canada.

The Pendennis—Doctor's Opinions.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—The opinion of the great English moralist, Doctor Johnson, will always command the highest respect. The following passage occurs in his life by Boswell, vol. 1, p. 154:—

"That he (Dr. Johnson) in conformity with the opinion of many of the most able, learned and pious Christians in all ages, believed that there was a middle state after death, wherein the souls of the faithful are detained, separate from the enjoyment of the presence of God, for certain purposes, and in different degrees, proportioned to their demerits. This, especially from his devotional prayers, is evident. In his prayers and meditations is the following passage:—

"That, O Lord, as far as it may be lawful in me, I commend to Thy bitterly grudging the soul of my departed wife; beseeching Thee to grant her whatever is best in her present state, and finally to restore her to eternal happiness."

Again, in another part of the same life the following dialogue occurs:—

Boswell inquires.—I have hired a Roman as my servant while I remained in London, and being much pleased with him I asked Dr. Johnson whether his being a Roman Catholic should prevent my taking him with me in Scotland.

Johnson.—Why, no, sir; if he has no objection, you can have none.

Boswell.—So, sir, you are no great enemy to the Roman Catholic religion?

Johnson.—No more, sir, than to the Presbyterian religion.

Boswell.—You are joking.

Johnson.—No, sir, I really think so; nay, sir, of the two, I prefer the Popish.

I proceeded:—What do you think, sir, of Purgatory as believed by the Roman Catholics?

Johnson.—Why, sir, it is very harmless doctrine. They are of opinion that the generality of mankind are neither so obstinately wicked as to deserve everlasting punishment, nor so good as to merit being admitted into the society of blessed spirits; and that, therefore, God in graciously pleased to allow of a middle state, where they may be purified by certain degrees of suffering; you see, sir, there is nothing unreasonable in this.

Boswell.—But then, sir, their masses for the dead?

Johnson.—Why, sir, if it be once established that there are souls in purgatory, it is a proper thing to pray for them as for our brethren of mankind who are yet in this life.

Boswell.—The idolatry of the Mass.

Johnson.—Sir, there is no idolatry in the Mass; they believe God to be there, and they adore Him.

Boswell.—The worship of saints?

Johnson.—Sir, they do not worship saints; they invoke them; they only ask their prayers.

Boswell.—Confession?

Johnson.—I don't know but that is a good thing. In the Scripture says: "Confess your faults one to another," and the priests confess as well as the laity.

By publishing the above you will oblige an admirer of Cobourg Railway Project.

Cobourg people are still agitating the proposed railway line that is to connect the northern district with that town. The town council and town trust commissioners have taken action by appointing a provisional committee to conduct preliminaries and "feel" the pulse of the country in regard to the scheme. The Star says that Cobourg should build the road alone and calls upon the municipalities to come forward with substantial assistance. It says:—"The road is practicable, and if once built its permanence and success are assured, as the Canadian Pacific Railway, that wealthy corporation, guarantees to stock and run it. Warkworth, Campbellford, Havelock, and the numerous little villages on the proposed line, as well as the townships of Hamilton, Haldimand, Alnwick, Percy and Seymour, should bestir themselves at once. They have been long wanting railway communication with the County now here is their opportunity."

About the last of April last I noticed some red pimples like measles out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until so many came on, when I began to notice the spots of itching, which kept increasing, and soon after I commenced with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the water would have formed somewhere, which dried off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. TORONTO TOPICS.

The Coon and Dog Fight Case—Trial of Mississippi Fortunes Fixed.

TORONTO, Jan. 12.—At the Police Court yesterday the six defendants appeared on remand charged with being concerned in the alleged coon and dog fight at The Hub. Sergeant Hales deposed to entering the premises on hearing that a dog fight was in progress. In an upstairs room he found a raccoon in a barrel which was in a "pit," a dog with marks as if from claws, and blood on the floor. Patrol Sergeant Robinson gave similar evidence. Herbert Piper, one of the defendants, was discharged and thereupon called as a witness. He said he was at The Hub for supper, but he saw and heard nothing of any fight. The Police Magistrate held that the charge had not been made out, and dismissed the other defendants.

The crowd that filled Mr. Justice Rose's court all yesterday afternoon were no doubt on hand in anticipation of hearing some spicy details in the branch of promise action of Ross v. Robertson. But they were doomed to disappointment. It was settled out of court by an agreement on the part of the gallant captain to hand over $1250, including costs, to the fair plaintiff. The plaintiff, Maria Ross, is a widow, and the defendant, William Tait Robertson, is the captain of the steamer Frances Smith. Both are residents of Owen Sound.

The Jaffary inquisition was continued yesterday, and as on the previous day, with closed doors. Mr. W. J. Gage, one of the trustees of the Western Methodist Church, and intimate to the late pastor, was examined. Up to the present the inquiry has elicited nothing of importance.

The bay is being dragged for the body of Mr. Seymour Porter, head book-keeper of Rice, Lewis & Co., who is missing since New Year's day, and who it is expected must have been accidentally drowned. Mr. Porter, who is married and has eight children, is a highly respected citizen, and one against whom no breath of scandal could be wafted. Foul play is feared.

The trial of the Cardwell election petition has been fixed for Jan. 29 before Judge Street at Orangeville. In the meantime an order has been taken out to examine the respondent, Mr. R. S. White, at Montreal.

Chief Justice Armour will hear the Halton election petition (House of Commons) at Milton on Jan. 29.

Walter Davidson, clothier of King-street, assigned yesterday with liabilities of $16,000.

The appointment of Charles Seager, Goderich, clerk of 1st Division Court of Huron; E. A. Combs, Saltfleet, bailiff, Wentworth; Wm. Falls, Hamsley, bailiff, Carlton; S. M. Dumble, Cobourg, E. H. Ambrose, Hamilton, J. A. Thomas, London, notaries public, will be gazetted to-day.

Letters of incorporation have been granted as follows by the Provincial secretary: The Sarnia Oil Company, capital $250,000, in $100 shares; the Sudbury Mining Company (limited), a capital of $100,000, $100 shares; the West Toronto Elevator Company, with a capital of $10,000, in $25 shares.

CRACKED BY PROFESSIONALS.

Burglars at Windsor Open a Safe and Make a Small Haul.

WINDSOR, Jan. 11.—Safe blowers last night broke into Simons & Sons' rag and old metal warehouse in Water-street. The combination of the safe was knocked off with a punch and a sledge hammer, which was found in the yard. The burglars took $40 in money from the safe, but $4000 worth of first mortgage bonds, about $35,000 in mortgages, a check for $150, payable to bearer, and all the office papers were scattered on the floor of the room adjoining the office, where they had been examined by the light of matches and left as too dangerous to negotiate. Detectives think professionals did the job. Three arrests have been made.

Whitby Postoffice Ransacked.

WHITBY, Jan. 11.—Burglars last night forced an entrance to the postoffice here through the back way, blew open the safe, and secured $230 worth of stamps and nine registered letters. Two strangers, supposed to be the parties who burglarised the postoffice, bought tickets for Toronto and went west on the morning mail train leaving here on the Grand Trunk main line at 6.45 o'clock.

A St. Klein Merchant on Trial.

HAMILTON, Jan. 11.—J. D. McDougald, a St. Catharines merchant, was placed on trial at the assizes to-day for forging a receipt for $300, dated Sept. 18, 1886, and purporting to be signed by Robert Walker. In 1886 the prisoner received $200 from Robert Thompson, lumber merchant, to purchase some lumber for him. McDougald gave Thompson a receipt for $300 signed by Walker. Walker afterwards denied that he signed the receipt and claimed that the only timber the prisoner bought was about $60 worth. The case will be finished to-morrow.

He Was Bound to Die.

HAMTAR, Jan 11. — David Totten, a septuagenarian farmer of East Mines, Folly Mountain, committed suicide by hanging. When found his face was only a few inches from the floor.

OPERA HOUSE! OPERA HOUSE!

NEGLECTED COLD IN THE HEAD IS DANGEROUS

COLD IN THE HEAD is one of the most annoying, and at the same time, most insidious and dangerous diseases with which the people of this latitude have to contend during the spring and summer months. Rapid changes of temperature, and damp, sloppy weather are the fruitful sources of Cold in the Head and there are few who have not felt its disagreeable effects. DO NOT NEGLECT A COLD IN THE HEAD, as it invariably leads to Catarrh—often to Consumption. NASAL BALM is a sure and speedy cure for Cold in the Head, and never fails to give almost instant relief. We offer the following testimony from well known people to substantiate our claims:

James Smart, Esq., Sheriff of the united counties of Leeds and Grenville, says: It would be impossible to speak too extravagantly of the wonderful curative properties of NASAL BALM. I suffered for upwards of a month from a severe Cold in the Head, which, despite the use of other remedies, was becoming worse and developing into Catarrh. I procured a bottle of NASAL BALM, and was relieved from the first application, and thoroughly cured within 24 hours. I cheerfully add my testimony to the value of NASAL BALM.

Capt. D. H. Lyon, Manager and Proprietor of the C. P. R. and R. W. and O. R. Car Ferry, Prescott, Ontario, and Ogdensburg, New York, says: I used NASAL BALM for a prolonged case of cold in the head. Two applications effected a complete and thorough cure in less than 24 hours. I would not take $100 for my bottle of NASAL BALM if I could not replace it.

Isaac Waterman, of the Imperial Oil Co., Petrolia, Ont., says:—NASAL BALM gave me the most perfect satisfaction of any medicine I ever used for cold in the head. I found it easy to use, quick in giving relief and effected a complete cure in a few hours.

D. Derbyshire, President of the Ontario Creamery Association says:—NASAL BALM, beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

T. H Munroe, Parry Sound says:—NASAL BALM has no equal as a remedy for catarrh and cold in the head. It is both speedy and effective in its results.

D. A. Breckenridge, General Agent Canada Life for Eastern Ontario, says:—I have used NASAL BALM for cold in the head with the most satisfactory results. It is all you claim for it, and its merit cannot too widely be made known.

Mr. G. T. Gerrell, Mail Clerk on C.P.R., says:—NASAL BALM is a boon to all suffering from cold in the head. It gives relief rapidly and never fails to effect a cure.

J. McKee, Chemist, Peterborough says:—NASAL BALM gives the most general satisfaction in consequence of any preparation I ever handled. My sales are large and the reports from those who use it fully substantiate your claims for the medicine as an unequalled remedy for catarrh and cold in the head.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS, similar only in name and appearance; they are dangerous. Ask for Nasal Balm and take nothing else. If you cannot obtain NASAL BALM from your dealer it will be sent post paid on receipt of price—50 cents and $1—by addressing FULFORD & CO., Brockville, Ont.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

Mass Meeting in the Opera House.

Addresses by Mr. J. M. Long, Col. Denison and Mr. Dalton McCarthy—Votes of Thanks.

The Opera House was crowded last night on the occasion of a meeting under the auspices of the local Imperial Federaton League. All shades of political faith were represented, and the ladies turned out in large force. The stage was draped with the Union Jack. Mr. J. H. Long, Headmaster of the Collegiate Institute, occupied the chair, and on the platform with him were Mr. Dalton McCarthy, president of the Dominion League, Col. Denison, Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., Dr. Burnham and Mr. F. J. Bell, local secretary.

Mr. Long, chairman, in his preliminary remarks, expressed the gratification the large audience gave to every friend of Imperial Federation. He said there only two courses open to Canada, Annexation to the United States and maintenance of British connection. He pointed out that in no way—financial, moral, social or any other respect—would Canada be a gainer by annexation. He pointed out that the enterprise of Canada, the energy of Canada, had achieved far greater successes pro rata than the United States had done. He adverted to the dangerous and disrupting tendencies inherent in the political condition of the United States, deduced the result that the best course for Canada was the maintenance of British connection. He went on to combat the objection that the Imperial Federation League was a political organization; it was, he said, composed of both parties of politicans. Reference was made to the important work done by the Imperial Federation League, in forwarding the objects it aimed to advance. It had fanned into a flame British Loyalty in every dependency of the empire, and the question had reached such a position that Lord Salisbury had stated that Imperial Federation was one of the two great questions demanding the attention of the British world. The speaker outlined the tentative programme of governmental regulation proposed by the League. In well chosen and eloquent words, the speaker limned the picture of the vastness and greatness of the British Empire, his polished periods being from time to time interrupted by loud applause. As a part of the Empire, Canada was placed where she is to keep up British connection and she proposed to do it—and the only salvation of Canada from annexation was Imperial Federation. The speaker referred with scathing scorn to the renegade Canadians who advocated annexation—W. McDougall, Mercer Adam and Prof. Goldwin Smith, and closed with an impressive recitation of his speech having been very warmly received.

"Up with the Union Jack"

Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., was received with applause, was suffering from a severe cold, and excused himself from making a speech.

Colonel Denison, of Toronto.

was received with loud applause. He began by saying that Imperial Federation was not a political question but a national and patriotic question. He referred to the presence at the Board of Trade banquet in Toronto, of Sir John Macdonald and Hon. Oliver Mowat, standing shoulder to shoulder on great Canadian questions. He pointed out that the rivalry of the Canadian Pacific Railway had made the railway magnates of the United States anxious to annex Canada. The Yankees were anxious to get access for their manufactures, to the great North-west rising so rapidly in population and wealth. Erastus Wiman was at the head of the movement of the monopolists of the United States to annex Canada. The crisis was an important one and argued the necessity of Canadians uniting to resist the annexation movement. He pointed out that the two great leading newspapers of Canada, were working diametrically in opposition to the interests of Canada and in favor of annexation. One of these papers the other day and for days had attacked the militia system of Canada, striving to create dissension between the volunteers of Upper and Lower Canada. He said he served in the North-west rebellion, and never were soldiers better treated than those in the North-west rebellion. He referred to Hon. Mr. Mowat's address in Toronto, as implying that he was in favor of Imperial Federation. Col. Denison went on to show that the project could be carried out through the medium of discriminating tariffs. The speaker contended that a discriminating tariff against the United States would enable Canadians to get a higher price for their stuff. Protective sentiment was gaining ground against free trade principles. A discriminatory tariff would not raise the price of breadstuffs in England, because the United States being excluded, the monopoly of serving England by the colonies would reduce the price, but he did not say where Canada's higher price for her "stuff" referred to a moment previous would come in. Speaking of the debt of Canada, three hundred millions, it now cost 4 per cent., but under Federation, the imperial guarantee would reduce the rate of interest one per cent., effecting an annual saving of three millions dollars per year. As to the expense of maintenance for army and navy, Federation might produce, the speaker said the fifth maritime power in the world should be ashamed to take protection from the mother country, and tax the poor operatives of England to pay for our protection. The speaker did not particularly object to Independence, for in the event of war with the United States, he did not believe the States would conquer Canada. The political colossal outlay the subject of discontent, as contrasted with the sordid greed of the advocates of unrestricted reciprocity, had something to do with the subject in hand.

The speaker concluded by reading eloquently a patriotic poem of Prof. Roberts.

Mr. Dalton McCarthy

was introduced by the chairman with a few highly complimentary remarks. Mr. McCarthy said he would point out what appeared to him to be the basis of Imperial Federation. In Peterborough there had been an active organization for some time and the people before him doubtless were well versed on the subject. To him it appeared that all Canadians should know what Imperial Federation was, because the principle existed here in form. It means to outside parties that there is but one country under the one flag; to us is the federation, several provinces united together in harmony and each with a certain degree of independence. And as long as the provinces practice their privileges there will be no danger of collision. In view of this, Imperial Federation scarcely needed any explanation. With all our boasted liberty, he said, we are not absolute freemen. We have no voice in the administration of foreign affairs—wars carried on that may be abominable to us, treaties made that we have no word in. For his part he desired to feel a right to be a complete British subject. The Canadian people have a right to be admitted to the Imperial councils. Leaders in the movement hoped to prove to the people that their cause was right and just and must prevail. Some of the objections to it were mentioned. It was said (and he was sorry to see Mr. Barron giving voice to it in his letter) "Oh, you are rousing the people and making them anxious about a future condition of affairs that may never come." But it must, the speaker said, be apparent to all that it was impossible for these two great countries, Canada and the United States, to remain forever as they had in the past, and the great subject was the destiny of Canada. We are growing out of the condition of childhood. Our population was increasing rapidly, in the North-west especially, and the Americans were realizing that that great wheat growing country was the attraction for the settler. Was it not then right for these men who inaugurated the movement to prepare the people for the great change that was looming up? And this was more apparent when it was observed how the question was becoming the question of the hour in the States. The time was come when Canada should assume the burdens of its manhood. There could be no harm from a calm and deliberate consideration of the destiny of our country. Then it was said that Imperial Federation was utterly impracticable. But he asked those who objected to reflect upon British history.

THE BRITISH CONSTITUTION

was not made out in twenty-four hours, but it is the product rather of the necessities which from time to time arose, and the result is that it is firm and lasting. For his part he didn't care whether it was to be by sending a representative to parliament, Senate or council that Canada was to be represented; but was it right and proper that we should be admitted to the full privileges of British citizens? If that were so, there would be no difficulty in finding a means. The speaker said he realized that there had to be a choice made—closer union with the mother country or disintegration. Referring to Commercial Union, he said it was a movement which aimed at the complete disintegration of Canada. The men who inaugurated Commercial Union knew well enough that it meant annexation. It provided for free interchange of products between Canada and the States, while a tariff wall was raised against the mother land, and the republic being the larger country, would lay down the tariff for us. That meant annexation sooner or later. Was there not a justification for the Imperial Federationists? The speaker then proceeded to point out some of the advantages to Canada that would accrue from Imperial Federation. The Dominion would be relieved of the enormous debt that at present burdened the people. The subject of national defence was the chief platform of the league, and a united empire in federated condition would practically settle the question of peace and war. No nation would dare to lift an arm against the Federated Empire. Any presidental election in the United States, in Canada's present position, contained the possibility of an attack from the United States. He referred to the Sackville incident as a precedent to a possible casus belli at any time. The American politicans were raising a bitter feeling against everything British, and at their last election it was used as a campaign issue. There was a great proportion of native born Americans who know no other nationality than dislike and hatred of the British people. A Nova Scotia Senator expressed the sentiment that he depended more on their coast defences than American friendship for safety, and if Canada were separated from Great Britain, it would not be long before the Americans would attempt our subjugation; but if they knew that the mother country was at our back it would be different. And would Great Britain be a worse ruler than she had in the past? Great Britain's trade amounted to fifteen times that of Canada, and she would have to bear a very large share of the expenses of all the colonies if Imperial Federation was accomplished. The speaker remarked upon the

which comprized one-seventh of the inhabitable portion of the globe, and of her constituent parts only a few colonies were self-governing. These only would come under the Imperial Federation movement. The cost was a question that would have to be considered. Canada was gradually getting stronger and more able to defend her own fisheries and suppress rebellion; there was just one step further, but when that was made she wanted a voice in Imperial affairs. So far as trade was concerned it was not one of the essentials of Imperial Federation, but the outcome of it must be in that way. The agricultural interests of Canada were the great consideration, and closer trade relations with Great Britain would improve the position of the farmer. The Canadian farmer and the British artizan would be mutually benefitted by a discrimination in their markets in favor of Canada. In breadstuffs alone this was apparent, and the speaker went into figures to prove his statements. He said that free trade relations must soon prevail in England: she was being driven to it by the protective policies of other countries. The effect to Canada of such would be tremendous, and our country would prosper as it never had before. That policy must eventually be adopted by the motherland. He did not wish to say too hard things of the Americans, but he could hardly realize that there were men in Canada who were advocating a disintegration policy. But he would say to them that the question of annexation would not be settled at the polls. Before this country could be wrested from the flag that shields it there would be rivers of blood flowing. But they were not all bad in America; some of them at all events appreciated our position and knew that Canadians would dishonor themselves by annexation. The speaker read an extract from an article in the Century magazine by an American writer, pointing out that Canadians should not sell their birthright for mere commercial considerations. Was it possible that Canadians could barter their nationality to go into a union that would merit the contempt of all intelligent patriotic men like this writer? Are there those so mean, low and sordid in Canada? He could hardly believe so. Canada's place was under the protecting flag that had brought her such prosperity, and we would be a craven people in spirit if we deserted it. (Applause.)

Mr. D. W. Dumble, in moving a vote of thanks to the speakers for their sacrifices in coming here to address this meeting, said the question of Imperial Federation was a vast one, but he doubted if after all it was worth shedding blood for. He expressed the great pleasure he had felt in listening to the address.

Hon. R. Hamilton seconded the motion, which was carried amidst applause.

Messrs. McCarthy and Denison replied briefly, stating that they were gratified at having such a large audience.

After the singing of the National Anthem, the audience dispersed.

Runaway Accident.

This afternoon three young lads driving along Hunter street allowed their horse to get beyond control and it ran away. Opposite the Oriental hotel the animal took the sidewalk, and a little farther on the sleigh, a light one without any box, struck against a post and overturned, the horse snapping off the shafts and running on a considerable distance before being stopped. One of the lads, Kenny Denoon, son of Mr. Denoon the butcher, who owned the horse and sleigh, was badly hurt, his head and face being cut and bruised and the ends of his fingers ground to shreds between the sleigh-runner and the hard ground. The other lads escaped serious injury. Young Denoon was taken into Nugen's drug store and from there to Mr. W. Paterson's residence, where a surgeon dressed his wounds. The little fellow is doing well now.

Commodore Forte and Sister,

the Lilliputian wonders, who are to appear at the Opera House next Friday and Saturday, with the world famous Swiss Bell Ringers and Humpty Dumpty troupe, besides being the two smallest people of their age living, are said to be excellent specialty performers. They will prove of especial interest to the ladies and children, who should take advantage of the matinee performance to be given Saturday afternoon, to see and hear these little wonders, as well as to enjoy the really excellent entertainment of the Bell Ringers. 1d

Auction Sales.

The annual lumber sale of Mr. J. M. Irwin was held at Nassau Thursday. The sale was not as successful as in former years, the bad weather preventing a large attendance of the farmers. There were a number of buyers present from Galt, Toronto, Bowmanville, Whitby, Madoc and other district towns. Of the 1,750,000 feet offered 500,000 were sold. The prices realized were good.

The furniture, fixtures and livery plant of the Snowden House, on Simcoe street, were sold to-day by Mr. Chas. Stapleton. Most of the stuff was disposed of at good prices.

Bachelors' Entertainment.

The young men of the George street Methodist church met last night to make arrangements for a social. It was decided to have one on the 29th inst. None but unmarried young men of the church will have anything whatever to do with this entertainment, either as regards programme or refreshments. The intention is to have a first class, attractive programme, to obtain funds for a praiseworthy object. The 29th of January is the date—bear it in mind. Messrs. Scots and Dixon were appointed chairman and secretary of committees respectively, and committees were drafted for special purposes.

The Imperial Federation Fad.

The Imperial Federation fad is a magnificent move, more likely to develop into a nightmare than a practicable achievement. Apart from its other objections it means restricted trade, farmers, and we believe in free trade—world-wide—to buy in the cheapest market, and that is why everybody rushes to gough bros.' to buy their boots and shoes for they are sold the cheapest in Canada. No deception about this—no federation into rings of high price dealers to blind the public pocket. gough bros. sell at the very lowest living margin and they sell tip-top goods at the lowest figures. If you want to make one dollar do the work of two in the way of boot buying, go to gough bros.', No. 37*n george street*.

Police Paragraphs.

Chief Douglas, of Port Hope, has written Chief Rossel making enquiries if a young man named Wm. Scott, supposed to hail from Kinmount, had been working the same game in Peterborough for which he was arrested in Port Hope. Scott made a practice of borrowing money on the pretence that he had been robbed of or lost all his own wealth, and was dead broke. The police were not aware of any such man having been operating in Peterborough.

Last night Irving, the jeweller, while intoxicated began using foul language at the opera house meeting and was arrested by Chief Rossel. This morning he was dismissed by the police magistrate.

Two "vags" just out of gaol were re-committed for terms of six months each. Old Danny Burgess and one Tom Kelly, of Keene, a young man, were just discharged this morning and at once sought re entrance to the county boarding house.

DIED.

Tangney.—In Peterborough, on the 11th of January, 1889, Mary, wife of Mr. Patrick Tangney, aged 68 years.

Smith Elections.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Sir,—I was a little surprised this morning on having my attention drawn to Mr. Bell's card of thanks in Thursday's issue, to find that he was not surprised at the result of the election in Smith, knowing, as I did, that up to the time of and during the polling he expressed himself as being sure of his election with 200 of a majority. He now seems to cry dit the old council and officials with his defeat. No doubt he is willing to attribute it to anything but the proper cause, the unpopularity of the Candidate. When a man after 11 months of continuous canvas is beaten 3 to 1 and 38 over, I am forced to one of two conclusions, either that the affairs of the township have been managed to the satisfaction of the ratepayers, or that the would be Deputy Reeve is decidedly unpopular.

Yours, &c.,
Ratepayer.

Bridgenorth, Jan. 12, 1889.

—The officers of Hiawatha Encampment of Oddfellows were elected last night. The Examiner will publish the complete list two weeks hence when the remainder are appointed and installed.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

Corner Lots

About 50 years ago, a penniless Irish printer, Owen O'Connor, came to New York. He saved a few hundred dollars, and began speculating in Real Estate, developing a peculiarity in favor of Corner Lots, which soon caused him to be dubbed, in the Real Estate Market "Corner Lot O'Connor." Twenty years ago he was worth $100,000. A few years since his father's estate, in Ireland, called "Mount Plunket," and on the River Shannon, was offered for sale by auction. He attended the Sale, and bought the estate, taking great pleasure in overbidding all competitors. He died last November, leaving an estate worth over $2,000,000, to be divided among his widow, two sons and three daughters. He carried a Life Policy of $60,000 in the Equitable of New York.

All parties wishing to follow his example, will please bear in mind that Corner Lots, Building Lots, Houses and Lots, Market Gardens, Farms and Equitable Life as well as Fire Policies, are all obtainable from a reliable agent, who has had Thirty Years' Practical experience in business in this his native county, and all knowledge acquired by him during that time is freely at the service of his patrons.

MORE TALK THAN TROUBLE

ABOUT ENGLAND'S RELATIONS WITH GERMANY.

Prof. Goldwin Smith on the Irish in America—German Funny Postage—Shoregoers Restaurants to Strictness.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Political relations between England and Germany begin to look rather strained. Personal likes and dislikes have more to do with the present troubles, such as they are, than any real conflict of interests. The Morier incident, though more than once dismissed as ended, persists in keeping itself alive. It is a source of endless rumors. Yesterday it was the Prince of Wales who was said to be Prince Bismarck's real target; unless, indeed, it was Prince Bismarck's master who took a shot at the English heir-apparent. There is probably no better foundation for this guess than the known coolness between the Prince of Wales and the German Emperor, which dates at least as far back as last March.

Now there comes a fresh rumor that the attack on Sir Robert Morier is but the first gun in a hostile demonstration against England herself. Here, too, the German Emperor's personality appears. He notoriously dislikes Great Britain. Count Herbert Bismarck, his most intimate counsellor, is on the other hand disposed to regard England as a possible ally in the next war. Lord Salisbury's conditional promises to look after the Italian coasts in case of war between Italy and France is not forgotten. Personal antipathies and court quarrels between august personages will hardly be allowed to weigh against the hope of solid advantage in diplomacy or war; and the English party at Berlin is perhaps stronger since the accession of the present Emperor. It is the Junker party; but the Junker party has no real ascendancy in politics.

Altogether these stories, though not without some foundation, may be put aside. There is one decisive consideration: Germany is not going to enter upon an anti-English campaign with a French war cloud ever looming on the horizon.

Goldwin Smith's Latest Review.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Professor Goldwin Smith sends to The Times a sort of epistolary review of Professor Bryce's "American Commonwealth," the main object of which is to deny Professor Bryce's statement that Irish-American hatred of England has diminished since Mr. Gladstone adopted the Home Rule policy. The Times prints this with all the honors. Professor Smith's name here carries weight. His testimony is skilfully arranged, and his assertions call for contradiction or confirmation. He assures English readers that American fear of the Irish is at the bottom of all the unfriendly acts or declarations of Mr. Cleveland, of the Senate, and of both political parties. Lord Sackville's dismissal, the Retaliation message, the delay in ratifying the Extradition treaty, the agitation against admission of English goods, and the attacks of all kinds on England during the recent campaign, were all due to a desire to win the Irish vote. Both parties assumed that the Irish vote was only to be had by acts or professions of hostility to England. "Americans are, indeed," says Professor Smith, "ashamed of their subserviency to the Irish, and the revolt against their domination is beginning. But the Irish themselves hate England as much as ever, and compel Americans to pretend to hate her."

Agitation Touching the Samoan Affair.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Diplomatic circles here are agitated concerning the Samoan affair and the possibility of a rupture between Germany and America is being canvassed.

Lively Resistance to Evictions.

DUBLIN, Jan. 13.—When a party of officers yesterday tried to evict a tenant on the estate of Lord Lurgan in County Armagh, the inmates of the house assailed them with boiling water, stones and pitchforks. A bailiff was stabbed and Lord Lurgan's agent and a policeman were seriously injured. The Riot Act was read and a number of arrests were made.

The tenant evicted was John Keany, a prominent member of the National League.

White Cap Methods in England.

DUBLIN, Jan. 13.—A party of raiders today visited the house of a Nationalist farmer on the Kenmare estate and after administering a severe beating extorted from him a promise to abjure the plan of campaign, which is very unpopular among a portion of the people.

Members of the National League collected clothing, etc., in Londonderry to-day for the Falcarragh tenants who were arrested for resisting evictors. To-morrow the prisoners will be driven in cars from Londonderry to Falcarragh, where they will be tried on Tuesday.

Three Summonses for Editor Daly.

DUBLIN, Jan. 13.—Mr. Daly, proprietor of The Connaught Telegraph, has received three summonses under the Crimes Act for publishing articles calculated to incite the people to commit crime.

Penny Ocean Postage.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Mr. Henniker-Heaton, long known as a postal benefactor to Australia, is bestowing some much needed attention on ocean postage to America. He touches incidentally on the question of sending mails by contract ships instead of by fast ships, and brings out some interesting facts. The British postoffice now pays $300,000 yearly for two nominal services between Liverpool and New York, equal practically to only one. This makes a profit nearly equal to the whole sum paid. When the postoffice sends letters, which it only does when compelled, by the fast German steamer from Southampton to New York, it pays 1 cent per letter and takes 5 cents from the sender. Well may Mr. Heaton say the day has come for ocean penny postage. Truly does he declare that the dribbling, paltry concessions made to our demands are unworthy of the British postoffice, representing, as it does, the greatest monopoly in the world.

The Revolution in Uganda.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The revolution in Uganda is here thought to have little direct bearing on the question of Mr. Stanley's safety. It is more important as a successful blow to the slave raiding interests, and perhaps, to some extent, in increasing Mahometan influence in Africa. The two are closely connected. The spread of Christianity means to the Arabs suppression of their traffic in blacks. What is becoming clear to the English is that naval cooperation between Germany and England on the East Coast of Africa has thus far been of doubtful benefit to the cause of humanity.

If the Statement is True.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—If anything were needed to confirm the frequent reports of the unhealthy condition of Emperor William of Germany it may be supplied by the statement that in imitation of the late King Ludwig of Bavaria he listened alone to a dress rehearsal of Wagner's "Rheingold" yesterday.

An Illinois Murder.

CLAYTON, Ill., Jan. 8.—Norman Carter was murdered by Andrew and Frank Jackson in Brown county last Friday. The Jacksons had a grudge against Carter, claiming he had been intimate with their sister. They asked Carter to meet them at their cabin in a lonely strip of timber for the purpose of settling past differences on a friendly basis. He did so, and they then killed him with an axe, mutilating his body horribly. The murderers escaped.

VANCOUVERITES EXCITED.

THE FLIGHT OF THE STEAMSHIP PREMIER'S PASSENGERS.

They Had Smallpox on Board a Week Ago And Now the Citizens Will Not Let Them Land—A Hot Water Flight.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan. 12.—A week ago the steamship Premier arrived here from Seattle, W.T., with a big cargo of freight and forty passengers, including the J. S. Murphy Dramatic Company. When the port physician went aboard he discovered that Gus. Thomas, one of the actors, had had the smallpox. The passengers were not permitted to land and the steamer was sent to the quarantine station at Victoria. Friday night the steamer came back with a clean bill of health, but the city authorities here would not allow her to land.

Repeated efforts were made to run out her lines, but the police lined the wharf and with axes cut her adrift. She finally let go her anchor and remained in the bay all night. Saturday morning the steamship Islander of the same line came in the bay, ran alongside the Premier and took off part of her passengers, but when she attempted to land the police cut her lines and with drawn revolvers drove back the crew. Captain Irving of the Islander attempted to disperse the police by throwing streams of hot water on them, but the officers pluckily held their ground.

Both steamers are now lying off the city and 3000 people are down at the wharves. All are greatly excited and determined not to let the steamer land. The Islander is evidently making preparations to try to effect a landing and the fire department has been called out.

A COUNTY-SEAT WAR.

Lively Fighting in a Kansas Town—Two Men Killed and Several Wounded.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 13.—Governor Martin received a despatch yesterday from the Mayor of Cimmarron, Gray County, stating that a force of men from Ingalls, in the same county, had attempted to remove the records of the county from Cimmarron, the temporary county seat, and that a fight occurred in which several men were killed. Governor Martin immediately ordered General Murray Moyers of the Second Regiment at Wichita to proceed to the scene with a company of troops.

Details of the Battle.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13.—A special from Wichita, Kan., gives an account of the tragedy at Cimmarron, Kan., in which two or three persons were killed and several wounded. There has for a year past been a serious conflict between the towns of Cimmarron and Ingalls. The county officers, excepting clerk and surveyor, have been at Ingalls for nearly a year. At a recent election Mr. Watson, an Ingalls man, was elected clerk, but the commissioners refused to canvass the vote until the Supreme Court issued an order for them to do so last Monday.

Yesterday morning several deputy sheriffs went to Cimmarron to place Watson, the clerk-elect, in the office and to remove the county records to Ingalls, when they were fired on by a mob of from 200 to 300 Cimmarron sympathizers. The shots were returned with a vengeance and when the firing ceased it was found that J. N. English and J. Bliss, two prominent citizens of Cimmarron, were killed and quite a number wounded. George W. Baida, a deputy sheriff, was shot in the leg, and Lemuel Brooks and C. R. Rolfter, two other deputies, received flesh wounds in the arms and head.

The Cimmarron people became infuriated over the killing of their two leading citizens and charged in a body upon a brick building in which Watson and the wounded deputies had taken refuge. At last accounts firing was going on at intervals between the besieged and besiegers, the latter using house corners and other places for shelter. If Watson and the deputies fall into the hands of the Cimmarron people they will all be hung and their only safety is in the timely arrival of outside assistance.

General Myres is now en route to the scene with four companies of militia.

DOWN ON DIPLOMATS.

A U. S. Congressman Objects to Sending Representatives to Royal Courts.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—In the House yesterday the diplomatic and consular bill was taken up. Mr. McAdoo, (Dem., N. J.) said he could not allow the bill to pass without emphasizing what he considered to be the popular demand for abolishing United States ministers abroad. One of the great countries of Europe was unrepresented by a minister in this country. The British Government had refrained from sending a minister to Washington for the purpose of resenting what it considered to be an insult. Ninety-nine per cent. of our people did not know nor care whether England sent a minister or not, and the interests of the United States would not suffer if it did not send a minister to England or anywhere else. It was a most absurd thing to his mind that the United States should send ministers to royal courts. They came in at the tail of the bespangled, befeathered, bedizened diplomats of the world. The system was absolutely unfitted to the character of a free country.

Mr. McCreary (Dem., Ky.) was not prepared to say that the diplomatic service should be abolished. The United States had many distinguished men to represent it abroad who had reflected much credit upon the country.

Pending a decision the house adjourned.

Transit in Bond.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—After the usual routine morning business the Senate yesterday resumed consideration of the Tariff bill. In the course of the reading Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) sent to the Clerk's desk an amendment which he proposes to offer to the bill at the proper time. It reads:

"All laws and parts of laws which exempt from the payment of duties any articles of commerce upon which duties are imposed in this act, when in transit through the United States to or from the Dominion of Canada, or any province thereof, are hereby declared to be inoperative."

The 40th Ball at Cobourg.

COBOURG, Jan. 12.—The military ball given by the officers of the 40th Northumberland Battalion at regimental headquarters in Victoria Hall was the most brilliant social fete which has been held in Cobourg for ten years. About 250 ladies and gentlemen were present. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Corlett's orchestra of Toronto played charming music for the merrymakers. The ladies' costumes were brilliant and bewitching.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 13.—All the printers working on the three daily papers of this city, The Record, The Newsdealer and The Leader, struck yesterday. The publishers have acceded to nearly all the demands of the printers, but the trouble lies in some of the Union rules. The publishers say they are determined to run their own business, especially when they pay the wages demanded.

PHILEAS BEAUREGARD SENDS TWO SHOTS INTO HIS BRAIN.

He Had Married a Girl in Montreal and Learned Afterward That She Had Been Living a Fast Life.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—An inquest was held yesterday afternoon on the body of Phileas Beauregard, a young man from Montreal who committed suicide in the Montreal House here late Friday night by discharging two shots from a revolver into his right ear. This letter addressed to the parents of deceased, who live at Varrenes, was read:

DEAR PARENTS: As I was not well pleased in Montreal I came to Ottawa a few days ago. I have not made much money nor got any work here. I have decided to put an end to myself. Do not cry. I am dying at peace with my God. Pray for me, all who love me. I will make known more fully what caused me to shoot myself: I married a girl in Montreal and learned afterward that she had been living a fast life. God will give me justice.

P. BEAUREGARD.

He also left a note to a friend named Wilfred Belanger but only put the number 2000 on it, omitting in his agitation to put the street. In this he asked his friend to look after his clothes and if he sold them to give the money to his parents.

The jury returned a verdict that deceased came to his death by a shot from a revolver fired by his own hand.

OF THEIR OWN MOTION.

Ottawa Bar-rooms Closed Yesterday by the Voluntary Act of the Keepers.

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—Probably for the first time in the history of Ottawa the liquor license law was observed to-day and the back as well as the front doors of the bar-rooms throughout the city closed. This is not the result of any vigilance on the part of the license inspectors, who have never succeeded in causing the slightest respect to be paid to the law, but to the voluntary action of the hotel and saloon keepers, sixty-eight of whom recently signed an address to their patrons that in future they intended to close their bars at seven o'clock on Saturday night and keep them closed until 6 o'clock Monday morning. These notices can be seen in almost every bar-room in the city and are, probably without intention, a curious reflection on the manner in which the law has been enforced, or rather not enforced, in this city.

THE P. E. I. MAIL SERVICE.

What the United States Proposes to do at the Lime Kiln Crossing.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—Messrs Richards, Ings and Owen, representing the Prince Edward Island Navigation Company, had an interview yesterday with a sub-committee of Council consisting of Sir John Thompson and Hon. Messrs. Bowell, Haggart, Tupper and Foster with regard to the summer mail service with the Island and specially with respect to the proposed utilization of the new Government steamer Stanley for carrying the mails all the year round, and the consequent dropping of the subsidy hitherto paid to the company. The deputation urged that the company had carried the mails for 21 years and had given satisfaction; that there was not sufficient business for two lines, and that it would be better for the Government to use the Stanley in the fisheries protection service and continue the subsidy to the company. The committee promised to consider the matter and report the result to Council.

The Marine Department has been advised that the United States Government will next spring resume the work of cutting a channel in the Lime Kiln crossing, Detroit River near Amherstburg, for which Congress voted an appropriation. The channel is in Canadian territory. It is now 400 feet wide and is to be increased forty feet. The work will be under the charge of General Poe, United States engineer.

FIRES OF A DAY.

Warnock's Factory at Galt Burnt—80 Men Thrown Out of Work.

GALT, Jan. 13.—About midnight Saturday fire was noticed in the gear room located in the back part of the axe, edge-tool and carriage-spring factory owned and operated by James Warnock. The flames spread with great rapidity, but were subdued after considerable fighting. The establishment has been very busy lately and employed regularly about 80 hands, who will be thrown out of work at least six months. Workmen's tool, to the value of about $1000 were burned. Mr. Warnock puts the total loss at about $20,000. The insurance is $15,900, divided as follows: On machinery—North British Mercantile $1100, Citizens $2000, Phœnix of England $2800, Wellington Mutual $2000, British American $1000. On buildings—North British and Mercantile $3000, Phœnix of England $1500. On stock—Gore District $1000, Hartford $1000. The cause of the fire is a mystery.

A $12,000 Blaze at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 13.—The fire at May Bros.' flouring mill originated in the engine room and it is thought the boiler making first ignited. The building is of three stories, the two upper stories and engine room are completely destroyed. Part of the machinery in the lower story will be saved. Insurance $6700, divided as follows: Imperial $1850, Royal $1850, Millers and Manufacturers $2000. Waterloo Mutual $1000. The loss will exceed the insurance by some $6000 or $8000.

Wentworth Farmers' Institutes.

HAMILTON, Jan. 13.—At yesterday's session of the Wentworth Farmers' Institute Mr. W. B. Underhill, Secretary of the Farmers' Cordage Company, addressed the gathering, saying that the company was being organized as a protest against rings and combines, so free the farmers from monopolists and wipe out the excessive price of binder twine. Mr. John McMillan, M.P., read a paper on "The Breeding and Feeding of Cattle for the Ecclish Market." He said more attention should be paid to breeding first-class animals. Prof. Panton of Guelph Agricultural College followed with an excellent address on "Plants in Their Relation to Soil."

Charged with Swindling.

BUFFALO, Jan. 13.—George O. Tester, formerly of Testerville, Ont., was arrested yesterday on a charge of grand larceny, on complaint of Charles Moval, who alleges that Tester swindled him out of $200. He was bailed in the sum of $500 to appear to-morrow in the police court. Tester sold Moval a third interest in the "Standard Bound Book Circulating Library Company of the United States," an alleged bogus company.

East Riding Farmers' Institute

A Large Attendance—Summary of Addresses and Papers.

The first public meeting of the East Peterborough Farmers' Institute for the third year of its existence began at Norwood in the town hall on Saturday morning. The opening session was not very largely attended, the usual thing for opening meetings on such occasions.

Mr. Francis Birdsall, president, occupied the chair and made a few preliminary remarks, explaining that the institute had been in operation three years, and had at present a membership of fifty.

The first address was made by Mr. D. Nicholl, of Cataraqui, engaged by the Agricultural College authorities, to address institutes on "Underdraining." He emphasized its importance and benefit. He gave preference to tiles over every other material, they had less tendency to choke. Tiles in quicksand should be underlaid with gravel to prevent choking, the best distance was forty to forty-five feet apart. Tiles should not be laid too near the roots of trees.

Mr. H. E. Birdsall read a paper on "Scientific Farming," by Mr. Nicholl, which emphasized the importance of farmers using the improved methods scientific research and experiment had developed. He advised farmers to take agricultural papers, to study and practice what they taught.

Mr. Blezard, M. P. P. in a few remarks highly recommended agricultural papers, and in reference to fertilizers, when artificial manures were not available, he recommended that swamp muck should be mixed with barn-yard manure.

Mr. Halley in a short address dealt with the evils of over cropping lands. Adjournment was made for dinner.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the opening of the afternoon session there was a large attendance the hall being filled. Mr Birdsall, chairman, made a few remarks in reference to black muck as an element of manure. He had found as much benefit from forty loads of black muck to the acre as from twenty loads of barn yard manure to the acre, and the results of the black muck were evident for years. He believed black muck was a very valuable manure.

HORSE BREEDING.

Prof. Greenside, V.S., of Guelph Agricultural College, gave an address on "Horse Breeding." The subject was an important one and was as profitable as any other form of stock raising. The kind of horses demanded by the market should be considered with the aim of breeding to meet that demand. Canada has been very successful in breeding high-class heavy horses. Of all the heavy horses we have all are pure enough for practical purposes. The Clyde stood first in popular favor. All breeds had their strong and weak points. The breed was not so important as the selection of a proper sire for their mares. Canada's chief weakness is in the class of light horses. To make light horse raising a success would be to avoid the greatest defect—lack of quality which means the indications of certain points. Fineness of fibre in the hoof, fineness and softness of hair, the clean cut head, and their ear, were all indications of quality. And that was what buyers demanded. The source of quality or breeding was the thoroughbred, which was a distinct and pure breed. The thoroughbred was an improved form of the Arabian, developed by breeding. The thoroughbred horse required to improve Canadian stock did not necessarily possess speed. Breeding for speed was out of the province of the farmer—leave that to specialists. Farmers had no business to breed trotters—it did not pay. Farmers should breed a horse that was fit for market at any age, without waiting for maturity. The thoroughbred should be used to improve stock. It was a mistake that light mares alone should be used. Heavier horses with "quality" should be aimed at. The size of the progeny should be regulated by the size of the mare. Get weight but not too much. There was a large demand for carriage horses; beyond the supply. Farmers should always aim at breeding a high price horse. Respecting cavalry horses, if the farmer did not succeed in breeding a good army horse, he would, at any rate, have a good general purpose horse. The speaker preferred the thoroughbred to the trotting sire for breeding good general purpose horses. Americans came to Canada for carriage horses, because their stock had been ruined by too much trotter breeding, for the trotter was not at all a pure stock. The best light horses in the world were English and they were produced from thoroughbreds. Farmers should always aim at the best. Height in a horse was not so important as substance. Care should be taken in the selection of thoroughbred sires, for there were good and bad among them.

In answer to a question, Dr. Greenside said the chief requirements for a carriage horse were substance and ranginess—by length of neck and quarter—not by length of barrel.

In answer to Mr. O'Reilly, the speaker said he thought it advisable to give prizes for thoroughbreds at spring shows, not at other times. Roadster horses and carriage horses should be in separate classes. [At this point the meeting adjourned to the outside, where Dr. Greenside used a horse of Reeve Moore, of Asphodel, to explain the points that army buyers would require in purchasing cavalry horses, and the closest attention was paid to his demonstration. Dr. Greenside seems to be perfectly conversant with his subject, always prompt to answer the most unexpected question.

ENSILAGE.

Mr. T. B. Carlaw, president of the Northumberland Farmers' Institute, gave a history of his experience in ensilage. He had a field of fifteen acres intended for roots but after hearing the addresses on ensilage at the Dairyman's Convention in Peterborough, he put half of it in sweet corn, sowing about half a bushel to the acre, the land well manured. The rows were three feet. He harrowed the field with an iron harrow as the weeds appeared; the corn averaged ten feet in height. He cut the corn to feed to stock, and though this year cheese was less in price, he made more out of his milk than in other years. He put about 60 loads in his silo, and had enough left off the seven acres to last his stock for six weeks, yet; the stock ate the ensilage readily. His experience with ensilage would lead him to double his crop of corn next year. He intended to keep half the contents of his silo for the dry season this year. Mr. Carlaw described how he constructed a silo, emphasing the importance of making it perfectly air-tight, and he did not think there would be any danger of frost, because the temperature of the feed in a silo was high.

In answer to Mr. Blezard,

Mr. Carlaw said if corn were planted in rows it would not exhaust the soil so much as if sown broadcast. If a farmer took twenty tons of sweet corn from an acre, he should return an equivalent to the soil in the shape of manure. He preferred growing a kind of corn that would mature enough to yield ears, instead of southern sweet corn—there was more nutriment in the ear than any other part of the plant.

CLOVER.

Mr. C. A. Mallory, of Percy, read a paper on "The Raising, Curing and Feeding Value of Clover Hay." His experience showed him that while timothy impoverished the soil, clover enriched it. With equal care clover could be raised as easily as any other crop. Sow not less than 12 to 15 lbs. per acre, on well-prepared soil, with a sowing of plaster after, and a good catch was fairly sure. Spring wheat was better than fall for sowing with clover. Dressing of plaster was good for clover. Cut clover when it comes into bloom. Cut earlier when a second crop is wanted for seed. Cock as soon as possible after cutting and let the hay cure in the cock. Clover was better than timothy for horses and stock.

OVER CROPPING.

Mr. Nichols' paper on "Over-cropping," referred to the ruin of the soil by its practice. Disfranchisement was suggested as a proper penalty for any so-called farmer who would impoverish himself and his soil by over-cropping. Over-cropping not only ruined the soil but tended to depopulate the country, for, when the over-cropper had ruined his soil, he had to remove to a new country. Increasing the area of cultivation, resting the soil, stock-raising and under-draining were pointed out as remedies.

Mr. John Lang, M.P., had no address prepared. He found by experience that the more grass grown by farmers the better they would thrive. The west might compete with Ontario farmers in wheat but Ontario could beat the North-west in dairy farming and raising barley. The barley in Central Canada was the best in the world and it would be a grand boon to the people of Canada if we could get free access to the American markets. He went on to show the dignity of farming, and said that farmers sons should be given a taste for it instead of being disgusted with it by grumbling.

Mr. Ewing, of Percy, said the depression in farming was due to the lack of pride in the farming profession.

Dr. Greenside pointed out that a want of study of the market, and the running to litter which became glutted, caused depression.

Mr. Nicholl highly commended orchard grass as good for pasture.

Mr. Chas. O'Reilly advocated the abolition of township shows, and the transference of the legislative grants to riding societies.

Mr. Nicholl referred to the great drawback dogs were to sheep farming.

Mr. T. Blezard said he believed in making the tax compulsory.

In the evening a well-filled house gathered to hear and take part in a grand concert given by the society. The programme consisted chiefly of vocal and instrumental music, together with speeches from the principal members.

A Grocer's Fiendish Fight with Two Burglars—License Commissioners Appointed.

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—A bold attempt was made Saturday at 5 p.m. to burglarize the grocery store of William J. Dugdale at 48 Jarvis-street. The burglars were two characters well-known in police circles as Richard Reddy and John Jennings. The former has served a term in the penitentiary. Mr. Dugdale, who cannot be much under 60 years of age, boldly resisted the miscreants and slashed Reddy's face so fearfully with a knife he happened to have in his hand that he will carry the marks for a long time to come. The old man had a revolver under his counter, but was unable to get possession of it. The two burglars had rolled a heavy barrel of sugar against the door after their entry in order to prevent a rescue, and it is not unlikely that the old man would have been killed in his plucky resistance had not help arrived at an opportune moment. William R. Dobson, the well-known cigar manufacturer, who is a man of athletic build, was passing at the time, and hearing the noise of the fight within burst open the door. He secured Reddy and handed him over to Policeman Steele. Jennings was arrested later by Detective Davis. A $5 bank note which Mr. Dugdale had in one of his pockets was secured by the burglars. It was saturated with blood. Mr. Dugdale came out of the unequal fray almost unhurt.

The recount of the ballots cast for George T. St. Leger and Nicholas Weatherston in the recent contest in St. Patrick's Ward resulted in the former retaining the seat by one vote.

Rev. A. M. Phillips of St. Paul's Methodist Church yesterday preached on the doctrine of Christian perfection and championed the cause of the alleged heretics at Galt.

ELOPED WITH THE COACHMAN.

Arrival in Montreal of a Foolish Couple from New York.

MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—Jennie Stuart, who is said to be the daughter of a wealthy stock broker in New York, arrived here today with her father's coachman, Thos. Johnson, with whom she eloped. They are in a private boarding house here. Miss Stuart has brought her jewelry with her and it is stated that she can be arrested for bringing stolen goods into Canada.

Tired of the Scott Act.

OSHAWA, Jan. 12.—Last spring a long list of signatures was obtained for the repeal of the Scott Act in South Ontario, but on being examined it was found that there were several names on the document of persons who were not bona fide voters. Canvassing for the same purpose is now going on here and in the township of East Whitby, and scarcely a person solicited refuses to put his name on the list.

A Narrow Escape.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—Miss Lester and some of the younger members of Lord Stanley's family visited Dey's rink last evening with Gen. Middleton, where a practice of the May Pole Dance for the Rideau skating carnival was gone through. About 9.30 the Government House party started for home, when the horses bolted, but the coachman had sufficient control of them to keep them in the road so that the inmates of the sleigh, who had an unusually fast drive, were none the worse of it.

A Monarchist Victory.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—M. Ollivier, a Monarchist, was to-day elected senator for the Department of Cotes du Nord.

Postmaster Rogers' Explanation.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—My attention has been called to a letter in your paper signed "65," airing an alleged grievance against the management of the post office, in such a way that I feel called upon, out of regard to my subordinates, to make an explanation. In the old office the boxes were in line with the delivery in such a position that it took but little time or trouble to open them from the inside. The consequence was that a large number of the box holders got into the habit of coming to the office without their keys, relying on the delivery clerk to open their boxes. When we moved into the new office about a year ago, circumstances were changed; the delivery clerks are encircled by their boxes. The lock boxes are at some distance, and difficult to open from the inside. The inspector saw that it would not do to have the clerks running away from their post, neglecting one portion of the public to wait on another portion, who had elected to wait upon themselves, and had paid for that privilege. I therefore put up a notice in the lobby that my clerks were forbidden to open boxes or deliver matter therefrom. I instructed my assistants to that effect, at the same time directing them to inform any applicants who had lost or mislaid their keys, or who came from any distance forgetting them, that if they applied in the inside office myself or, in my absence, my representative there, would wait on them. This rule has, I believe, been strictly carried out for the past year, with the result that the delinquents now carry their keys, obliging themselves and us at the same time. Permit me to say that in my eighteen years service I have always tried, myself, and impressed the same upon my employes, that we are public servants and ought to be courteous and obliging at all times. The latter, I must confess, is sometimes difficult to maintain, as among our numerous patrons, all are not as considerate in their addresses as "65," but on the contrary seem to think that we are merely placed here for their convenience and have no rights or feelings, and seem to forget that we are but mortals like themselves and as liable to make mistakes as the rest of mankind. Feeling aware that your correspondent's charges of improprieties proceed from misapprehension—perhaps on both sides, and hoping that they may have the effect of making us more careful in the future, I am sir,

Your obedient servant,
H. C. ROGERS,
Postmaster.

Peterborough, Jan. 14th, 1889.

Ashburnham Brevities.

Miss A. O. Wilson, of Toronto, is the guest of Mrs. J. J. Rooney.

It is currently reported that a fashionable wedding will take place in the village on Wednesday.

The Rev. A. C. Wilson preached missionary sermons on the Lakefield circuit yesterday.

The Rev. Mr. Coon, of Lakefield, preached an impressive sermon Sunday evening in the Mark street church, from the words:—"Whatsoever ye do, whether you eat or drink, do all for the glory of God."

A parlor social will be held in the Methodist parsonage on Tuesday, the 22nd inst. An interesting programme will be provided.

The Collegiate Institute question is a popular topic of discussion just now. It has its friends and opponents, and the query in most people's minds is what will the town board require the village fathers to do in the matter.

Miss Lena Emmerson, daughter of Mr. J. Emmerson, who is book-keeper for a business house in Trenton, is spending a few weeks' holidays with her parents.

Mr. Harry Rollins preached in Zion church yesterday.

Two members, Dr. Turner and Mr. Campbell, of the Millbrook school board, paid this school a visit on Saturday. A new public school is about to be built in that village, and the board are anxious to have it as complete in all its arrangements as practicable, and in order to do this are making a personal inspection of all the best schools in the adjoining counties. The deputation were pleased with the external appearance, and with the general arrangements inside but thought the ventilation and heating were rather defective.

The debate on prohibition, which was to have taken place at the Young Men's Guild of St. Luke's on Thursday night last, was postponed till next Thursday, there not being a sufficiently large audience.

Tax-collector Ingram has a complicated case in hand at present. Mr. R. Carey who had the store next Mr. J. C. Sullivan's grocery rented from Mr. Sullivan, and ran a grocery business in it for nine months, at the end of which time Mr. Ostrom, the present occupant, took the business off Mr. Carey's hands, Mr. Carey, so it is said, agreeing to pay three fourths of the taxes. However, Mr. Carey now refuses to pay any part of the taxes, and Mr. Ingram went to Mr. Sullivan for advice. The latter advised him to go on the premises and seize whatever he got hold of. Accordingly the collector made a raid, and the most convenient articles he could see were a pair of bob-sleighs and a delivery wagon, which were stowed away in an open shed on the premises belonging to Mr. Sullivan. These are advertised for sale and Mr. S. is indignant over the fact that he got himself into a box out of which it is impossible to get, unless he puts his hand in his pocket and pays the whole sum. Where the case will end is not known, but it may go to the law courts for settlement.

Master Kenny Dawson who was injured on Saturday by a runaway on Hunter street, had two of his fingers so badly bruised that they had to be amputated in the middle. The little finger was broken and the two middle fingers were broken up in the back of the hand. His face was cut also. All the wounds are doing as well as can be expected.

A Case for Charity.

At No. 478 Sherbrooke street there resides a family who are in the most destitute circumstances imaginable. P. C. Adams found out their needs and relieved their pressing necessities, and he would be glad if some charitably disposed ladies, or gentlemen, either, would make some effort to help them out of their difficulties. Theirs is a case that demands prompt relief.

Eclipse of the Moon.

Should the sky be clear on the night of Wednesday of this week, a partial eclipse of the moon will be visible, commencing at ten minutes to ten o'clock. The shadow will cover a little over five-eighths of the surface of the moon, and will pass off at 3 20 a.m. The eclipse will be at its greatest extent shortly after midnight.

Burns' Anniversary.

The meeting called for Saturday evening to take steps to celebrate the approaching anniversary of Robert Burns was not well enough attended to warrant those present in proceeding with the business of the evening. It was thought the numerous engagements of a Saturday night interfered with a good attendance, and it was decided to adjourn the meeting until Wednesday evening, 16th instant, at the same hour and place.

The different papers to be submitted and discussed will be found specified in the advertisement in another column. If it should be unnecessary to urge the attention of farmers to this meeting, for farmers are deeply interested, and there will, no doubt be a large attendance.

The Lady or the Tiger?

Another change of date has been made, and the next meeting of St. Peter's Literary and Debating Society has been fixed for Wednesday evening. The proper answer to the conundrum of Frank R. Stockton's little tale, "The Lady or the Tiger," will be debated, and a musical programme rendered. The subject chosen for discussion is an entirely speculative one, and affords wide range for the ingenuity and imagination of the speakers.

St. John's Church, Emily.

The opening services in connection with the new St. John's church, Emily, were conducted by Rev. Mr. French, pastor of the church. On Monday evening following a tea was held at which addresses were delivered by Rev. Messrs. Rural Dean Allen, of Millbrook, Johnson, of Omemee, and the pastor, Rev. Mr. French. The collections on Sunday amounted to $40 and the combined proceeds of these and the tea amounted to $195. A social was held on Friday evening and was very successful. The promoters of the new church are to be congratulated upon the success of their efforts.

Among the Churches.

Sunday was what might be called the day of exchange among the local churches. In St. John's Rev. C. B. Kendrick, M. A., of Toronto, took the services both morning and evening. The pulpit of the Charlotte street Methodist church was occupied by Rev. C. A. Procunier, of Cobourg, and Rev. C. H. Coon, of Lakefield, preached in the George street church in the morning, and the Mark street in the evening, his church at Lakefield being in charge of Rev. M. L. Pearson and Rev. S. J. Shorey for the day. They delivered the annual missionary sermons. Rev. Mr. Shorey preached in the George street church and Rev. C. H. Coon in the Mark street church, Sunday evening. In the absence of the pastor, Rev. P. C. Parker, who conducted services at the Auburn Mission Sunday evening, Mr. I. J. Metcalf, of McMaster hall, occupied the pulpit of the Murray street Baptist church.

What the Court is For.

This morning Richard Morrison, an old resident of Ashburnham, interviewed P. M. Dumble for the purpose of having papers drawn out to bring to trial another Ashburnham man who was charged with the larceny of $5 from him. The old man stated his case and the papers were about made out when the would-be prosecutor inadvertently dropped a remark which led the magistrate to think that the action was being taken solely with the idea of recovering the alleged lost money. Mr. Dumble then informed him that the police court was simply for the purpose of punishing criminals; if the old man did not want to punish the offender but merely wished to get his money back, he would have to bring civil suit in the Division Court. The other replied that he only wanted his money, and said he had offered to settle it with the alleged thief, but when the latter would not be determined to "haul him up." The magistrate said he would not be justified in setting all the machinery of the law in motion in order simply to recover money for a private individual, and he declined to proceed with the case. The old man went away disconsolate, for the case had been refused also by the Ashburnham authorities.

Again Remanded.

Wm. Ringer was in a pleasant mood this morning when P. C. Adams brought him down from gaol to answer to a charge of wife-beating. His first remark on entering the police station was, "Beautiful mornin', ain't it?" and then, "Well, all my candidates got in that I voted for." Wm. was proud to know that his vote, polled on election day by special privilege of the court, had not been lost, though he was suffering all the inconveniences of enforced withdrawal from active political and social life. He was not, however, given a trial, his wife being still to ill to leave her bed. He was remanded for a week, but before being taken back to his present place of abode on the hill he pleaded hard to be allowed to see his wife. The magistrate replied that the woman was too ill and that she didn't want to see him anyway, and it would be better for all parties if he kept away a while longer.

YOU must have groceries; we must sell 'em. Let's make a trade. M. R. KIDD.

The Poor we Have Always.

And if the outside municipalities had their way the town would be swarmed with paupers unable to care for themselves. Sooner or later the township and village authorities must learn that Peterborough is not to be made the Mecca for the indigent poor of the Midland district. So often has this wholesale imposition been practiced that the charity officials have determined in every case where paupers are shipped here from other municipalities, to return the "live freight" with the intimation that each corporation must look after its own poor. Peterborough has its share of these without being called upon to support outsiders. The latest case of the kind came up before the police court to-day. A woman named Mrs. Mary Morrison, a widow of Sobcaygeon, almost totally disabled with paralysis in her left side, arrived in town Friday last, and sought admittance to the Protestant Home. She had been sent here, she said, by the clerk of the township of Harvey. This morning she was sent to gaol for one month, and in the meanwhile Mr. Hall, chairman of the charity committee, will correspond with the Harvey and Smith authorities, and notify them that they must make arrangements to provide for Mrs. Morrison themselves.

Breach of Promise Suit.

A Case in Which $50,000 is the Damages Claimed—An Interesting Bit of News for Gossip Mongers.

Millbrook gossips have a sweet little morsel of sensation to prate about, and in the village, and indeed in the whole district in which the parties concerned are known, there is little else talked about than the breach of promise suit that is pending in the courts. Mrs. Reynold, a buxom widow residing near Millbrook, has brought action to recover $50,000 from Mr. Jamieson, an old and reputed wealthy resident of the township of Cavan, in the same neighborhood as that in which the plaintiff lives. Mr. Jamieson is about 70 years old and Mrs. Reynolds between 50 and 60 years. The defendant is a retired farmer and said to be worth at least $75,000. The circumstances of the case are about as follows.

The Jamieson and Reynolds families lived on very friendly terms for many years, and not residing far apart visited each other frequently. Some years ago Mr. Jamieson's wife died and about the same time Mrs. Reynolds' husband left her a lone widow. The two disconsolate bereaved ones sought each other's sympathy, and in a short time a most friendly relation was established between them. Everything looked lovely for a time until about three years ago, when, (the defendant alleges) on one of his regular calls the fair widow, assuming leap year privileges, grew demonstrative and upset the usual order of things by herself carrying on a vigorous wooing of her less ardent companion. It is claimed she broadly intimated that he should ask her hand in marriage, but he of the threescore and ten years and no family, couldn't see the advisability of such a thing, and plainly told her so. This angered the widow, and she ordered him out of her house. He went and didn't return again; but she, repenting, apologized and asked as a token of forgiveness that he call on her again. This he declined doing, and for the past three years this aged couple have been at loggerheads, on one side at least. They were destined to never again assume their former friendly relations, for about a month or more ago widower Jamieson took unto himself a second wife, a spinster resident in the vicinity, who has a married sister living in Peterborough. Instantly proceedings were begun in a breach of promise suit, Mrs. Reynolds asserting that the defendant Jamieson promised to marry her and instead married someone else, and claiming also that his trifling had injured his affections to the extent of $30,000. The papers have been served and the case will likely be tried at the spring assizes, unless a settlement is affected in the meantime. No letters passed between the parties to the suit, but Mrs. Reynolds has as a witness in her behalf another lady who was in the house with her at the time. Mr. E. B. Edwards, Peterborough, is plaintiff's solicitor; Mr. Curry, of Millbrook, for defendant.

Personal.

The friends of Mr. E. E. Henderson will regret to learn that since Friday night last he has been prostrated with a severe illness, probably resulting in brain fever, and which will doubtless confine him to bed for a considerable time.

Mr. Thomas Brown, formerly of Westwood, latterly of Dakota, and brother of Mr. John Brown, of Peterborough, has returned to town for a visit of a month or two to friends. Mr. Brown left for Milford, Manitoba, where he remained for two years. Leaving one of his sons on the farm there, he went to Dakota and has remained there since. He reports good crops and is pleased with his home. Mrs Brown, his wife, died last spring, and Mr. Brown feeling the need of a change of scene decided on his present visit. He will return home in March.

WIGWAM

A Steamship Captain's Brutality.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 13.—There are five Malay sailors in the hospital here who are suffering excruciating tortures. They were members of the crew of the steamship Sophia Joachim, which arrived two weeks ago from Calcutta. The men, according to their statements, were treated in a shockingly brutal manner by the captain. Coming along the coast very tempestuous weather accompanied by blinding snowstorms was encountered. The rigging of the vessel was frozen and its decks were coated with ice. The members of the crew, which numbered 34 when they shipped at Calcutta, were very insufficiently provided with clothing. Many of them were without shoes or stockings. The captain, they claim, knew this, but did not warn them of the possible severity of a winter voyage to this port. The men being without shoes found it almost impossible to work and told the captain so. He answered them with an oath and ordered them to their posts. They refused to obey and he caused each one to be flogged with a rope's end. They were compelled to go aloft in the frozen rigging in their bare feet. Some of them were unable to bear up and these were starved into submission. The men's hands and feet were terribly frost-bitten, and the poor wretches frequently fell down exhausted on the deck. They were then treated to an application of ropes and deprived of food for 24 hours. Some of their limbs will have to be amputated, as gangrene has set in.

THERE IS NO BETTER remedy for worms of any kind in children or adults than Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. dw

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Otonabee Agricultural Society was held at Keene on the 10th inst. The following officers were elected:

PRESIDENT—Thomas Thomson.
VICE PRESIDENT—J. H. Taylor.
SEC.-TREASURER—George Reed.
DIRECTORS—T. Blezard, J. Gillespie, A. Gillespie, A. Nelson, G. Mather, W. J. Miller, W. Drummond, G. Keson, E Howson.
AUDITORS—Thos. Campbell, R. English.

There is not as much interest taken in the Society as there should be or as there was 15 or 20 years ago, when there was a membership of 150 to 200, and now it is hard work to get the 50 members required to draw the government grant, which last year amounted to $87. The members, with a view to economy, elected Mr. Read secretary and treasurer, at the same salary he received for treasurer.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,231.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in amount insured.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$160,482 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 67	195,188 29	1,167,366 14
1880 to 1884, four years	126,976 84	363,264 31	2,982,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,607 24	4,029,273 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

THE JESUITS' ESTATE BILL

DENIAL OF THE RUMOR THAT IT HAS BEEN DISALLOWED.

A Fast Atlantic Mail Service Decided Upon —The Anthracite Coal Mines—Schemes of Silent Tobacco.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—The Free Press to-night states that the Acting Secretary of State, in replying to the petition for the disallowance of the Jesuits' Estate Bill forwarded by the Secretary of the Dominion Evangelical Alliance, says that an order-in-council has been passed disallowing the bill. I have most excellent authority for contradicting this rumor: no such order-in-council has been passed.

It is understood that owing to bronchial affection Lieutenant-Governor McLelan of Nova Scotia has been ordered to pass the winter in a southern climate, and Chief Justice MacDonald has been appointed administrator of the Province during his absence.

Lord Stanley has continued the customary Governor-General's grant of $150 to the Dominion Artillery Association for the purchase of challenge cups.

Sir John Macdonald leaves for Toronto to-night on private business. He will return here Wednesday morning.

It is understood that the Government has fully decided to adopt the fast Atlantic mail service and that steps in the direction of establishing the same will shortly be taken.

Hon. G. E. Foster will be unable to accept the invitation to the bankers' banquet at Toronto on Jan. 24, as he had previously promised to attend the Montreal Board of Trade banquet on Jan. 23. Sir John Thompson and Hon. Edgar Dewdney have been obliged on account of previous engagements to decline the invitation to the Montreal banquet.

Private advices received here state that McLeod Stewart has succeeded in floating a company in England with $1,000,000 capital to develop the coal mines at Anthracite. The mines were examined in November by an engineer sent from England, and his report was so favorable that the necessary capital was at once raised. Work at the mines will probably be resumed very shortly.

The Marine Department received information to day that the fog bell tower at the mouth of Niagara River was blown down in last Wednesday night's storm.

An effort is being made to get up a fancy and speed skating tournament here next month, shortly after the Montreal carnival.

There is no truth in the rumor that Colonel Chamberlin, Queen's printer, is to be superannuated at once and A. Senecal, Superintendent of Government printing, appointed in his place.

Preventive Officer Carlew recently made six seizures of illicit tobacco in quantities of from 50 to 200 pounds at St. Jerome, St. Eustache and St. Rose, P. Q.

The Lansdowne Challenge Cup, won by the New Brunswick team at the last Dominion Rifle Association matches, has arrived here. There are 133 ounces solid silver in it, and it cost $420. The duty on it would be over $80, but an order-in-council will probably be passed admitting it free, as is customary in such cases.

The Comptroller of Northwest Mounted Police has been advised that the operations of Dakota timber thieves on the southern Manitoba frontier have been entirely stopped by the presence of the police patrol.

AMBITIOUS CITY NEWS.

A Libel Suit on Trial—Death of an Old Inhabitant.

HAMILTON, Jan. 14.—The sealed verdict put in by the jury on Saturday evening in the case of Madden v. the Hamilton Iron Forging Company was opened in the assize court to-day, and contained a verdict for the plaintiff for $200.

The libel suit of Carroll v. the Penberthy Injector Company of Detroit was taken up. This is a suit for $10,000 damages for libel, brought by Thomas J. Carroll of this city, against the Penberthy Injector Company of Detroit, the alleged libel being contained in a circular printed and circulated by the defendants. There were applications for patents for a steam injector made at Ottawa by the plaintiff and defendants at the same time, and Carroll was awarded the patent. The defendants took steps to set it aside and also issued a circular warning the trade against the Carroll injector, and making statements which are alleged to be libelous.

At an early hour this morning Edward Cary, one of the oldest inhabitants of Wentworth county, died at his residence near Millgrove, on the fourth concession of West Flamboro. Death resulted from the amputation of his leg, which was rendered necessary from a disease which originated in one of his toes and gradually spread upwards on the limb. The deceased was born in West Flamboro about 1823. He was a consistent Conservative and a prominent member of the Methodist Church. A widow and six children survive him.

After several adjournments Samuel Williams and David Towler were this morning committed for trial by Police Magistrate Cahill for stealing two game cocks from Henry Leggat. It was thought at first that the magistrate had no power to send the prisoners up for trial but that he had to dispose of the cases himself. Chief McKinnon, however, looked up the law that gave the magistrate the necessary power to commit them. Two other similar cases against the same defendants went over a day.

A young son of Joel Jerome of Mount Hope, in company with another child, was playing with a cutting box in the barn yesterday when his mitten caught in the knives and his right hand was drawn in, mangling the fingers horribly. Before the machine could be stopped it had chopped the hand away diagonally from the first joint of the little finger to the upper part of the wrist.

The Hermit is Isolated in Death.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 15.—Jonathan Reynolds, also known as "Whisoe B Line," died here yesterday. He took up his abode here 25 years ago and made a hut of rough boards loosely put together, with an old stovepipe projecting from the side. It had a cellar, in one corner of which, on some sticks, was a straw bed. Here Reynolds slept, with a dog as his companion. Sunlight never gained admittance there. In another part of the structure was a place for his horse, which was usually in better condition than his own apartment. He lived a lonely, isolated life, the secret of which probably goes to the grave with him.

To Find Stanley and Emin.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The World has made arrangements for an exploring expedition into Central Africa to obtain authentic news of Stanley and Emin Pasha. It will be led by Thomas A. Stevens, who made himself famous by his tour around the globe on a bicycle, and who is now on his way to Zanzibar, whence the expedition will start. In case the two explorers shall have returned to civilized regions before Mr. Stevens reaches Wadelai, he will devote himself to an investigation of the African slave trade, against which Cardinal Lavigerie, Primate of Africa, is conducting a crusade.

Death of Mr. W. H. Griffin.

SIMCOE, Jan. 14.—Mr. William B. Griffin, clerk of the first division court of Norfolk, died here this afternoon of consumption after an illness that extends back many years. He was quarter-master of the 36th Norfolk Rifles and a brevet major. He was for some time editor of The Norfolk Reformer and was universally esteemed.

A MURDER AT MONTREAL.

PULLMAN MANAGER SHEFFIELD SHOT BY A C. P. R. PORTER.

The Latter, an Extra Man, was Angry Because He Was Not Allowed to Go Out On the Road Yesterday.

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—Joseph J. Chandler, a porter in the Canadian Pacific Railway, shot C. A. Sheffield, the manager of the Pullman dining and sleeping car service, this evening at 6 o'clock. Chandler was an extra man who made occasional runs and expected to go out to-day on the North Shore road, but another man was substituted. He complained to the manager, who remonstrated with him and went into the baggage room, where he was followed by Chandler. An employe seized the porter, but not before he had shot Sheffield directly over the heart.

The wounded man was conveyed to his home in Guy-street. His physician stated to your correspondent to-night that he cannot recover.

The porter was taken in charge and on his way to the station said he wished he had killed the whole gang.

Chandler's mother is an Irish woman and his father a Spaniard and he has been in the employ of the road for two years.

Mr. Sheffield came from Chicago and has two daughters living in Waltham, Mass.

Her Dream is Over.

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—Jennie Stuart, who eloped from New York with her father's coachman, Thos. Johnson, returned to-day

GALT'S FIRE BUG.

Two Conflagrations Early Yesterday Morning—The Loss Slight.

GALT, Jan. 14.—About 4 o'clock this morning a stone cottage with rough-cast kitchen attached, belonging to the James Seddon estate and occupied until Saturday by W. F. Lunn, was damaged by fire to the extent of about $400. Insurance if any not known. During the burning of the house a barn about 20 feet distant on the same lot also broke out in flames on the ground floor within a few feet of the back, entrance but was put out without damage.

This suspicious looking occurrence, coupled with the fact that the premises were vacated on Saturday, as well as the unusual frequency of fires throughout town recently, leads to the conclusion that there is a flourishing fire-fiend in our midst.

NORTH GRAY FARMERS.

Interesting Papers Read at the Institute in Owen Sound Yesterday.

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 14.—The Farmers' Institute of North Gray met in the Town Hall to-day. Prof. Shaw read a paper on "Stocking a Farm," Mr. S. Reesis on "Rotation of Crops," Mr. James Edmonson of Sydenham on "Book Farming." At the afternoon session Prof. Shaw discussed "The Better Cultivation of the Soil," Mr. S. Reesis "Killing Canadian Thistles," Mr. J. McDonald of Chatsworth, "Some Evils that Farmers Might Remedy," Mr. John Clarke, "Cultivation of Turnips." A largely attended meeting was held in the evening at which several interesting addresses were delivered.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

A Brockville Man, in a Fit of Despondency, Shoots Himself.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 14.—Mr. Barnston, who was at one time in the employ of the Hudson Bay Company and has been a resident of Brockville during the past year, shot himself at his residence on Saturday night, the ball entering the brain a little back of the right temple. The physicians have been unable to extract the bullet and his chances of recovery are slight.

Mr. Barnston is about 35 years old, has traveled extensively, is a wide reader and has the reputation of being wealthy. For some time back he has been in a despondent state of mind.

THE RESULT OF A CONSPIRACY.

Important Decision in a Batch of Liquor Cases at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—Judge Dugas dismissed the cases of the Dominion Alliance detectives against four saloon-keepers today. The charge was selling liquor to minors, the two detectives being boys. The court held that the evidence of a sale to a minor in the Alliance cases was the result of a conspiracy on the part of the detectives and that the sale to them of liquor was not wrong in itself, and negligence or guilty knowledge must also be proved to warrant a conviction.

Employment for 600 Men.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 14.—The Fishback rolling mill of the Pottsville Iron and Steel Company, which had suspended on account of lack of orders, this morning resumed full-handed and with prospects of continued work during the winter; 600 men are employed.

Death of a Brantford Nonagenarian.

BRANTFORD, Jan. 14.—Ex-Mayor Joseph D. Clement, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, died this afternoon. Although nearly 90 years of age he was as active as a young man and enjoyed excellent health.

Leading Features of the Grain and Produce Markets at Home and Abroad.

McKee; vice-president, James Calling; secretary-treasurer, Hal B. Donly. Council—Mr. Cowdry, Alex. McCall, D. B. Palmerton, A. D. Ellis, J. Lorne Campbell, W. B. Browse, J. E. THE CHALLENGE DECLINED

PREMIER FLOQUET REFUSES TO FIGHT A DEPUTY.

Nor Will He Retract an Objectionable Statement—Two Paris Editors Meet on the Field of Honor.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—M. Floquet, President of the Council of Ministers, met M. Lear, member of the Chamber of Deputies for the Department of Loire, in the lobby of the Chamber to-day and said him—the conversation turning on the application of the secret service fund during the recent elections—"you have calumniated and challenged him to justify them from the tribune of the chamber. M. Lear retorted that he would refer his accusations to a jury composed of members of the Chamber of Deputies and would send seconds to M. Floquet unless he retracted his remarks. M. Floquet replied that he would neither retract what he had said nor receive Lear's seconds, and repeated his challenge to that gentleman to justify his statements.

Paris Editors Fight a Duel.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—A duel was fought today between Henri Rochefort, editor of L'Intransigeant, and M. Lissagaray, editor of La Bataille. Swords were used and both combatants were wounded. Lissagaray's wounds are dangerous.

Hope for the Panama Canal Co.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—The senate to-day adopted 24 articles of the bankruptcy bill which, if it becomes a law, will enable the Panama Canal Company to judicially liquidate its obligation without declaring itself a bankruptcy.

Cheers for the Kaiser.

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—Prince Bismarck spoke at the Reichstag on Wednesday next. The Upper House of the Prussian Diet was opened to-day with patriotic addresses by the president and vice-presidents. Enthusiastic cheers were given for the Emperor. Count von Ratibor was re-elected president, Herr von Rachow first vice-president and Herr Miguel, second vice-president.

Firing at Soakim.

SOAKIM, Jan. 14.—A detachment of the enemy's cavalry to-day fired upon a vidette. They were repulsed by the guns of one of the forts.

The Police Used Their Clubs.

WATERFORD, Jan. 14.—Fourteen persons who were sentenced to a month's imprisonment for participating in a Manchester martyr demonstration were taken to prison to-day. They were escorted to the jail by many policemen, a crowd with a band of music following them. The police charged upon the crowd, using their clubs and quite a conflict ensued. Several persons were badly injured.

TOO WICKED FOR THE CHURCH.

The Pastor Thought it Time to Move When Gamblers Gathered in the Shadow.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Jan. 13.—A proposition was publicly discussed at a meeting here yesterday to organize a vigilance committee for the purpose of ridding Dakota County of the ruffians who have infested the little town of Covington, on the Nebraska bank of the Missouri, opposite Sioux City, since the organization of the prohibitory law drove the disorderly element from this city. Covington now contains fourteen liquor saloons and a dozen other dens. Before the saloons were driven across the river it was a sleepy little village whose humdrum methods of life were scarcely ever broken. Now it is one of the liveliest places in the country in its way. Fights and brawls are of almost daily occurrence, and already several men have met their death as a result of their carousals. Highway robberies are of common occurrence.

One a neat little church stood on the river bank, but a three-story sporting house was built close to it and on one Sunday last autumn when a party of gamblers sat in its shade and played cards during the hours of worship, the pastor thought it was time to move. The building was accordingly put on rollers and taken away. The local officers do not meet with any marked success in enforcing the laws, probably because the Mayor is proprietor of one of the principal saloons.

LOOKING FOR HIS WIFE.

A Toronto Woman, 40 Years Old, Elopes With a Barrie Shoemaker.

BUFFALO, Jan. 14.—William Winsor of Gerrard-street, Toronto, is in Buffalo looking for his wife, who eloped about eight weeks ago with John Bowen, a shoemaker of Barrie. Mr. Winsor, who thinks the pair are in this city, says: "Eighteen years ago I married her and now she has gone and left her four children, the youngest only 11 months. She sold all our stuff for a mere song while I was away and took my $19 overcoat for her man."

Mrs. Winsor met Bowen on certain occasions to Barrie. He is a member of the Salvation Army and tended the door at the barracks. On one occasion while Winsor was out of town employed at his trade of roofing, Bowen boarded with his wife for two weeks.

Winsor can care for his deserted children, but Mrs. Bowen will have a hard time. She has three children. She was married to Bowen 20 years ago. Mrs. Winsor is 42 years old.

A BOY'S SUICIDE.

Unable to Endure Cruel Treatment at Home, He Takes Rat Poison.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 14.—A sad case of suicide is reported from Allegheny City. A young lad, Joseph Kennedy, who was employed in the office of Woods, Herman & Co., came into the office yesterday and told those who were in the office that the cruelty of his father and mother, who beat him every night and morning, rendered his life intolerable, and that he intended to put an end to himself.

It was believed that the boy's story of cruel treatment at home was a true one, but his fellow employes thought that the little fellow was only in a despondent mood and would get over it by night, when the boy suddenly took a pos[illegible] from his pocket and swallowed it before [illegible] could be prevented. He died within [illegible]. The powder proved to be a dose of rat poison.

The Mystery of Stillwell's Murder.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Jan. 15.—Strange stories about the terrible murder of Amos J. Stillwell, the wealthy pork packer, are in circulation here. Three weeks ago his bedroom was entered and he was slain with an axe. The assassin, in his flight, dropped Mr. Stillwell's treasure and pocketbook in the yard. It is evident that the assassin desired to leave the impression that robbery was the motive of the murder. The authorities are now confident that the motive of the crime was not robbery. Mrs. Stillwell, who is a young woman, is much shocked by the tragedy. The indications are that the case will yet produce a great sensation.

HEALTHFULNESS OF PETERBOROUGH.

The EXAMINER seizes every available occasion of endeavoring to promote the prosperity of Peterborough by setting forth its railway appurtenances, manufacturing facilities, and general desirability as a place of business for capitalist or manufacturer, or a home for any person desiring to settle in a live town, with the accompanying educational and church advantages. And moreover desire to add to the force of the contention implied in the foregoing remarks, that Peterborough is one of the healthiest towns in Canada. The death-rate, always low, is in spite of the growth of population, steadily decreasing. In 1885 it was 15½ per thousand of the population, in 1886, 16 per thousand; in 1887, 17; and for the year 1888, the death rate was only a trifle over 15 per thousand. Now seventeen deaths per thousand is regarded as the superlative standard of healthfulness, by the best sanitarians. It is therefore a most important point in Peterborough's favor, that her death rate shows her to be one of the healthiest towns of her size to be found anywhere. This fact should be a source of pride and comfort to her citizens, and constitute an inducement to those desiring to select a healthful place of abode. The healthfulness of the town may be also shown in another way. Since 1882 the increase in the population of the town has been thirty-five per cent, whilst the increase in the interments in the Little Lake Cemetery has been only a trifle under 7 per cent. In 1882 the annual interments were 147, in 1888, 156, a gain of only nine in seven years, while the last figures were one less than those of last year. All these facts point to the healthfulness of the town, a circumstance emphasized by the fact, that there is not a single physician in the town not engaged in active practice—not one has made enough money out of the derangement of the public health to permit him to retire into private life. Not that our physicians are not capable and skilful, but the people have a settled prejudice against getting ill enough to require medical attention. As it is, Mrs. Gamp is instrumental in furnishing our physicians with their most lucrative source of revenue.

RAPPEARING to the vast armies of idle or worse than idle soldiers which the taxpayers of Europe are obliged to maintain, a magazine writer remarks that each German and Austrian workingman "goes to his daily labour with a soldier strapped on his shoulders." Each Canadian workingman, remarks the Ottawa Free Press, goes to his daily toil with a combineeter, a monopolist or an unnecessary government official strapped upon his back.

The Imperial Federation Campaign.

We have been requested to publish the following:—

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—My attention has been called to a report which appears in the Mail and other city journals of this morning of a meeting held yesterday in Peterborough in the interests of Imperial Federation, in which a Mr. J. E. Long, local president of the League, speaks of me as a "renegade Canadian," and an advocate of annexation to the United States. Pray permit me the use of your columns to say to Mr. Long, in plain brusque speech, that if what he has said of me is correctly reported, he is a reckless calumniator and shameless trifler with truth. All who know me and my quarter of a century's work in behalf of Canadian literature and Canadian nationality will, I am sure, excuse the bluntness of this indignant protest against a foul and wicked aspersion of my public and private character. I take it that Mr. Long, who I believe is a fellow-educationist, knows the meaning of the term "renegade" when he applies the offensive epithet to me; and I challenge him to justify, if he can, his ill-bred use of the term, or to withdraw it and apologize for his unwarranted insolence. I also challenge him to point to a single word or line I have ever written, in which I have advocated annexation or persistently expressed views or opinions having that or any other traitorous or so-called traitorous object in view.

It is true, I am what is known as a "Commercial Unionist"—one who, in the sole interest, and as I conceive for the best good, of our people seeks the removal of restrictions upon trade between this country and its most near and wealthy neighbor. But this surely makes me no more disloyal to Canada or to the country either of my birth or adoption that any worthy act or device on the part of an Imperial Federationist would make him disloyal, or open to the charge of being a "renegade Canadian." If any one deserves to be called by this epithet, it seems to me that it is not the Commercial Unionist but the Imperial Federationist—that is, if it be the duty of a Canadian to be true first and last, to Canada, and to seek at home, and not abroad, the honors as well as the prosperity which are of our own making, and which, as wise and practical people, we know to be within the best and easiest reach. As a British subject I am, however, as much encouraged, as is Mr. Long, or any member of the League, of the sentiment underlying Imperial Federation; but my enthusiasm for the cause, I trust, is within the bounds of sanity, and does not froth over in slander and wild traducing of character. Neither does it take that form of lunacy that without rhyme or reason, threatens to shoot down loyal Canadians in their tracks. or, with an infirmity of gasconade, stalks through the country with the unsightly lame of Don Quixote. I will do imperial Federationists the justice to credit them, alike with Commercial Unionists, with loyally seeking the good of Canada; but loyalty to Canada, I venture to think, is incompatible with frenzied platform harangues on the unity of interest between Canada and the Antipodes, to the disregard of commercial interests of far greater moment, which, as I have said, lie nearer at hand. Still more incompatible is such loyalty with indifference to the honest motives and fair repute of men who, if they are not active Imperial Federationists, are no less loyal and patriotic Canadian citizens.

Yours, etc.,
G. MERCER ADAM.

Springville.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Our village has been unusually quiet this winter, no doubt owing to the bad condition of the roads. With the exceptions of a few weddings south of village, and a new kind of dance that the boys of the village have been practising in Mr. Goodfellow's store to the destruction of the plate glass, and also the general seedy appearance of young men's faces, winter has passed off up to date very quietly.

Mr. Alf. Dinnin, who has been absent for the past fourteen in the North-west, has returned to visit friends in Cavan. Mr. Dinnin speaks in glowing terms of the west as a farming country.

Mr. William Storey, who was absent for a short time in Smithtown visiting old acquaintances, has returned. Mr. Storey prepared remaining in Smithtown during the winter but found that society had deteriorated so much that things were disagreeable; so he resolved to return to Monaghan where everything runs smoothly. Success to you, Willie.

We had a nomination but no election. At the nomination there were two candidates for reeve and seven for councillors nominated, but for some unknown reason the new aspirants withdrew their names within hurtful time, with the result that we had no election. An elector using prophetic language declares that the new aspirants were afraid to contest the field.

Dame nature presented Mr. and Mrs. James Dobbin with a fine fair haired baby boy as a Christmas box.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Sergisor Convicted—The Sixmith Inquest—A Forgery Case. Con. Case.

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—Richard Reddy and John Jennings, the two burglars whose struggle with William Dugdale, the 73-year-old grocer of Jarvis-street, was reported in this correspondence yesterday, were sentenced by Police Magistrate Denison to five years each in the Penitentiary.

In a fit of playfulness Charles Holmes of 127 York-street heated a hatpin until it was incandescent and laid it on the side of John Young while the latter was asleep in Mike's lodging house, Front-street, on Friday last. Yesterday the police arrested Holmes on a charge of aggravated assault.

The inquest into the death of George Sixsmith at the Ammonia works on Christmas Day was concluded last night, the jury rendering a verdict that the explosion was due to an error in the turning of a valve by deceased, who did not properly understand the order of the foreman, the latter not speaking English. The jury requested the Government to extend the provisions of the Boiler Inspection Act to all places and buildings where steam pressure is used.

Mr. S. W. McMichael, Financial Inspector of Customs Ports for Ontario, and I. F. Wolfe, Special Customs Agent, who were ordered some time ago to re-organize the Toronto Custom House, have been busily employed for the past three weeks, and their work is now said to be almost complete. The appointment of a collector will probably not be made at present.

Yesterday morning about 8 o'clock, Jas. Haslin, a bricklayer's attendant working on Markham-street, fell suddenly down, as his companions thought, in a fit. Dr. Clouse was summoned, but found the man already dead from heart disease. He was 43 years of age and leaves a widow.

The famous crim. con. case of Mackie v. Abell was postponed yesterday until next autumn.

The Gen. Thomas mentioned in the Vancouver despatch of yesterday as having been stricken with smallpox on board the ship Premier, while traveling with J. S. Murphy's dramatic company, is no less than the well-known son of Mr. G. A. Thomas, late proprietor of the English Chop House.

The Court House by-law will be submitted to the people in March next.

CHARITY ENDED IN DEATH.

Rev. Mr. Parker's Generosity Brought Trouble Which He Escaped by Suicide.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 15.—The mystery attending the sudden disappearance of Rev. W. L. Parker, rector of Christ Church, Oswego, on Nov. 30 last (St. Andrew's Day), was at last been dissolved. Not long after his disappearance a hat was found in the Oswego River which was positively identified as his. Yesterday the body of the dead rector was found at Baldwin's Bay, Lake Ontario, two miles east of Oswego, floating in the water. The authorities ordered the body removed to Oswego. The late storm and high wind washed the body up near the shore. Mr. Parker was last seen about an hour after he had finished holding services in the church, after which he walked down to the corner of Fifth and Bridge-streets, and turned down to the bridge over the river. He went down the stairway on to the river wall and pier, and was last seen going towards the end of the wall.

There seems to be no doubt that he deliberately jumped into the water with suicidal intent. He had been much depressed in mind for several weeks on account of being pressed by his creditors. Bishop Huntington, of this city, had sent him two letters it is said, asking for his resignation as rector of the church. Soon after his disappearance his uncle came on from Boston and paid his bills. Mr. Parker was about 40 years old and unmarried. He leaves a widowed mother who is nearly heartbroken over the event. He was a man of exceptional ability, and his generosity was so great that he gave away not only almost his whole salary, but also borrowed money. This brought him the distress which finally ended in death.

THE VANCOUVER SENSATION.

An Injunction Against the City—A Suit for $50,000 Damages.

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 14.—The Canadian Pacific Navigation Company have secured an injunction against the Corporation of Vancouver restraining them from interfering with docking the steamers Islander and Premier. The steamer leaves as usual in the morning for Vancouver. Captain Irving yesterday morning received a telegram from the corporation stating that the steamer will not be molested.

The company have entered an action for $50,000 damages against the city of Vancouver in consequence of delay and loss through the action of the mayor and authorities.

"Central" Will be Polite in Future.

WATERBURY, Conn., Jan. 15.—E. A. Saunders of Naugatuck wished a few days ago to call a doctor over the telephone. The operator at the central office here said, after trying, that the doctor would not answer. Later Mr. Saunders tried again and heard the operator say: "He is after the doctor. Let the —— fool ring." Once more he tried, remarking that he had been ringing for half an hour. The retort was: "You're a liar." Mr. Saunders then brought suit against the Southern New England Telephone Company for neglect of duty and abusive language. Operator Quinland denied having used such language, but Justice Gibbons yesterday found the company guilty and imposed a fine of $100 and costs. An appeal was taken. The company is wealthy, has a monopoly, and its hundreds of subscribers are watching the case with interest.

Badger and Blackmail in Poughkeepsie.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Jan. 15.—Saturday night about 8 o'clock George W. Lamb, a leading manufacturer of this place, was asked by Mrs. Henry Flynn, who rents apartments in one of his houses, to come to her room to talk about a matter. Mr. Lamb was on the sidewalk at the time, and thinking she wanted to tell him something about the house, accompanied her. He had scarcely entered the room when Mrs. Flynn's husband rushed into the room, and raising an axe over Lamb's head threatened to kill him. Just then Flynn's partner, John Flaherty, entered and seized the axe and Mr. Lamb made his exit. Flynn yesterday commenced a suit against Lamb for $10,000 charging him with alienating his wife's affections. Last night warrants were issued for the arrest of Flynn and Flaherty on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon and blackmail. There are witnesses who heard the Flynns concoting the scheme o blackmail.

A Home Rule Resolution.

ALBANY, Jan. 14.—In the Senate to-night Lieutenant-Governor Jones presented a resolution passed at a meeting of the Irish parliamentary party, Mr. Parnell presiding, thanking the Legislature of New York for the reception accorded Mr. Thomas Esmonde.

On the Verge of Starvation.

"For three months I could not eat a full meal or do a day's work. I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, began using it, and in three days my appetite returned, in a week I felt like a new man. It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Aldebin, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia. 2w1d

Presence of mind.

Presence of mind is good in a case of accidents and emergencies, and when coupled with Hagyard's Yellow Oil will often save life. Yellow Oil cures all painful injuries, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, rheumatic and neuralgic pains and is in fact a handy and reliable surgical aid. 8w1d

A Valuable Discovery.

F.P Tanner, of Neebing, Ont., says he has not only found B.B.B. a sure cure for Dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system that has ever been taken. B.B.B. is the great system regulator. 2w1d

LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.
HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,340 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,069 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assur'ces.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$160,482 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 67	195,183 29	1,167,326 14
1880 to 1884, four years	125,976 84	353,294 31	2,992,934 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 99	475,977 94	4,029,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 43	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1889.

Presbyterian Church Interests.

The Missionary Meeting in St. Andrews Church—Peterborough Presbytery in Session—Women's Missionary Society.

Last night the annual missionary meeting of St. Andrew's church congregation was held. There was a fair congregation present. Rev. A. Bell, pastor, presided, and conducted the opening exercises. The choir was also present and lent assistance in the singing.

The speakers were Rev. Mr. Hay, of Campbellford, and Rev. Mr. Duncan, of Colborne.

Rev. Mr. Hay dealt with foreign missions and French evangelisation, giving a short synopsis of the work on foreign fields, and pointing out that the whole mission work was a unit throughout, and demanded impartial support from the people. The estimated requirements for the present year was, for foreign missions $66,500, or about 60c per member of the whole Presbyterian church in Canada; and for French evangelisation $50,000, or about 40c per member. Mr. Hay referred to Acts 1, 8, as indicating the duty of Christians in regard to supporting mission work.

Rev. Mr. Duncan's address was upon Home Missions and Stipend Augmentation. For the former $46,000 was required and for the latter $38,000. It was pointed out that an average contribution of about $2 per member would furnish the amount required for ordinary schemes.

Both speakers congratulated the congregation of St. Andrew's upon their possession of such a fine place of worship, and upon their freedom from debt.

At the close of the meeting a collection was taken up for missionary purposes.

Presbytery Meeting.

The regular meeting of Peterborough Presbytery began at nine o'clock this morning in the St. Andrews church. Rev. A. Bell, moderator, presided. Rev. Wm. Bennett, secretary, was also in attendance. There were in attendance the following:—

MINISTERS.—R. F. Torrance, Peterborough; J. Hay, B. D., Campbellford; P. Duncan, Colborne; J. Cleland, Port Hope; John Fwing, Mt. Pleasant; F. Andrews, Keene; D. Sutherland, M.A., Wentworth; James Cameron, Millbrook; Wm. White, Peterborough; J. Carmichael, Norwood; R. Craigie, Bobcaygeon; D. A. Thompson, Hastings; J. W. Mitchell, Port Hope; Richard Hyde, Warsaw; J. McEwan, Lakefield; J. R. Gilchrist, Baltimore.

ELDERS.—W. E. Johnston, Grafton; Robt Byers, Bethany; John Clark, Campbellford; Robt. Tully, Peterborough; W. J. Miller, Keene; Robt. Graham, Lakefield; Thos. Wilson, Omemee; Jos. Morrison, Bobcaygeon.

After the reading of the minutes the Presbytery proceeded to business.

Mr. Ort Bennett, a student, was taken on trial for license.

Havelock Presbyterians were authorised to sell their old church, the money to be applied on the debt thereon.

Interesting reports were read in regard to missionary meetings and Sabbath School Institutes held within the bounds of the Presbytery.

The next meeting of the Presbytery was appointed to be held in the First Presbyterian church, Port Hope, on March 19th, at 3 p.m.

It was found from letters received that this Presbytery was expected to pay $1100, as its share towards the Augmentation Fund.

It was reported that Cobourg pulpit had been declared vacant, and they were authorised to moderate in a call to a minister when prepared.

Other business of a private nature was transacted, and at one o'clock the Presbytery adjourned for dinner. The delegates were entertained in the school room, where the ladies of the church had provided a substantial repast.

Womens' Mission Work.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Presbyterial Society of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society was began in St. Paul's church this afternoon. This evening a public meeting will be held in St. Andrew's church, when Rev. Mr. McWilliams, late of Prince Albert, N. W. T., and Rev. Mr. Lord, of Grafton, will deliver addresses.

Ennismore.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Once more the march of time has brought each and all of us another step on our homeward journey. Can we, individually, look back and exclaim, "I have done my duty to God and my fellow creatures"? But whether fulfilling those obligations is incumbant upon us or not, we assuredly feel that time is all powerful and deals out with unerring hand its universal coil. It is well we cannot foretell the many who have seen the commencement of 1889 who will never see its close. It is well we have not the power to do so. However, looking over the record of the last month, or, as some old folks called it, the risen month, we find it in general mild and pleasant. We only had it four mornings below zero—on the 13th and 14th at 5° below, on the 19th at 2° below, and on the 22nd at 10° below. But these were always followed by mild weather. Some mornings the thermometure stood at 40°, and often during the day it went up to 45°; which leaves our month averaging 25, 26 and 31 degrees. Rain fell on 7 days to the depth of 1 inch and 18-100 of an inch, and snow fell on 6 days to the depth of 5 inches—being both very light for December. We only had fog twice, on the 17th and 26th. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month respectively, namely, southeast 5 days, west 5 days, southwest 9 days, northwest 4 days, east 1 day, south 2 days, north 2 days, and northeast 1 day.

A Repentant Bride.

She Regrets Her Marriage Vows and Leaves Her Husband.

On the second day of the new year a marriage was solemnized between two young people at a residence in an adjoining township, a short distance from the town. The young lady had lived with the family from whose house she was married for fifteen years, was rather nice looking and generally a favorite among all her acquaintances. Her lover was a young, successful, and respected farmer. There was no reason to suspect that their marriage would not be an entirely happy one, and preparations for the approaching event went on steadily. The day and the hour arrived, the minister and guests were on hand, but the bride was unwilling. She burst into tears and declared she rued the day she had ever promised to marry the man who was even then waiting to be united to her for life. She protested she could not go on with the ceremony, but her friends gathered round and comforted her, and the clergyman gently remonstrated with her, and as their solicitation she finally consented to fulfil her betrothal. The wedding passed off without further interruption, and after the customary jollification, the young husband, accompanied by a few friends, drove his wife to their new home. Here her regrets returned with renewed force, and instead of being filled with happiness and contentment, as a young woman ought to be on her bridal day, this young wife was steeped in tears and evident grief. She refused to be consoled or have anything to say to him who should have been indeed the partner of her joys and sorrows. She coaxed her sister to stop over night with her, and actually sat in a chair all night long, while her husband slept calmly in an adjoining room. The next day she was no better, and the next night the repentant damsel spent the night on the sofa. In the morning matters came to a climax; she left the house and went back to the people with whom she had been living. There she yet remains, and no argument or urging can induce her to return to her liege lord and master, who is averse to using legal means to bring her to a sense of her duty. All the young lady's friends are puzzled to account for the strange revulsion of feeling which has taken possession of her, but they hope that time, the great healer of all things, will yet effect a reconciliation

Smith Elections.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—In Saturday's issue of the EXAMINER appears a letter from "Ratepayer" in which there are several inaccuracies. I did not, as he states, canvass for the Deputy Reeveship for eleven months. I did not ask anyone to vote for me until Mr. Fitzgerald had announced his intention to retire from the council, which was in September, and did not canvass until I received a requisition asking me to be a candidate nor until it was published, about the 27th of Sept. He is mistaken when he says that I expressed myself as being sure of a majority of 200. I did say that the old ring in the council would be broken, on the strength of assurances of support I had received. There is good ground for attributing my defeat largely to the almost frantic efforts of the old council and its officials. The five polling places each had a member of that council stationed at them on polling day to try to bring about my defeat, and they left nothing undone to secure their object.

Why does not "Ratepayer" come out in a manly way over his own signature? Why does he not want his name known? Or will he tell us at which of the polling places he was stationed on election day?

Allow me, while I am writing, to correct a somewhat malicious statement made by a speaker at Lakefield on the night of the election. He is reported to have said that I canvassed for eleven months, six days in the week and after church on Sunday. Now, I did not canvass for eleven months, and at no time did I profane the sanctity of the Sabbath by discussing election matters in any form. This gentleman also quoted me as having said that the members of the council lacked brains. Oh, no; he has brains enough. It is said that the weight of a properly developed brain is 51 ounces, but his is heavier, so heavy, in fact, that it has settled down in the base, where, phrenologists tell us, the animal propensities are located.

Yours truly,
T. E. BELL.

Land League Meeting.

A largely attended meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the Irish National League was held in the library of the Murray street school last evening. A number of subscription were received for the Parnell Defence Fund. It was decided to close the present list of subscriptions after the next regular meeting—the first Monday in February—and transmit the money to the treasurer of the Land League of America, and publish the names of all subscribers and resolutions passed, in the local and provincial papers. All who have not subscribed, and who desire to do, are requested to send in their names and money to the secretary of the League at once, so their names can be added to the list for publication. All lovers of Home Rule should make an effort to contribute something towards the laudable endeavors being made to give Ireland legislative equality similar to Canada's eminent political system.

The annual supper of the Fire Brigade Band will be held at the band hall Friday evening, Jan. 18th, and preparations are being made to celebrate the event on a grand scale. A number of invitations to outside parties have been issued by Mr. J. Fraser, secretary.

Genteel Delights.

Last night was, so to speak, a "field night" at the rink. All three rinks were filled with curlers, and the frosty air was resonant with the gleeful shouts of the curlers and the burr-r-r of the stones. The skating rink was covered with skaters and the youngsters enjoyed themselves immensely.

Lumbering Operations.

The Dickson Company have from one hundred and fifty to one hundred and seventy-five men and from forty to fifty teams employed in their timber limits. There seems to be some snow but there is not frost enough to permit of work being carried on to advantage.

Large Shipment.

Ask for samples and, after drawing, you will be convinced the Palace Grocery is the place to purchase teas. A large and well selected stock of fine Xmas fruits at lowest prices. dw

This gentleman, who sings "from the heart to the heart," will also delight his hearers with a number of choice selections upon that occasion. Do not forget the date. Admission, only 10 cts.; children, 5 cts.

Labor Notes.

To-night a public meeting of the artisan and mechanics of Peterborough will be held in the K. of L. hall on Water street to discuss the nine hour system of labor.

On Thursday, Jan 24th, the annual meeting of District Assembly No. 236, Knights of Labor, will be held in Peterborough. District Master R. R. Elliott, of Uxbridge, will preside, and delegates will be present from Oshawa, Cobourg, Port Hope, Lindsay, Orillia, Uxbridge, Port Perry, Gravenhurst, and other places.

The Ice Famine.

There threatens an ice famine this year. The continuous raising and lowering of the level of the water by the insertion or removal of stop logs to accommodate the works at Bobcaygeon, interferes with what little formation of ice the moderate degree of frost would produce. Such firms as Matthews' pork packing establishment, which uses immense quantities of ice, will be put to large extra expense if the ice does not form on the river thickly enough to be cut in the vicinity of their ice houses.

LeGros' Christmas Boxes.

Mr. Charles Legros is not neglecting the demands of Christmas in his barber shop and tobacco store business. He has now in stock a fine display of plain and fancy pipes, cigar cases and cigar holders, fancy match cases and all other fine goods required by smokers. A new line of choice imported cigars. The finest brands sold singly or by the box. The barber shop is conducted in first class style. Hot and cold baths ready at all hours. Remember the place, 32 George street. d

Curlers.

Lovers of the grand game in Peterborough have scarcely got into fettle yet this season, owing to the fitful uncertainty of the ice. They are just beginning to get "worked up," and from this out they will scoop 'er up with vigor. As yet no outside matches are arranged for, but it is expected next week will see the beginning of active hostilities. Bobcaygeon and Campbellford, Keene and Lakefield, are expected to play off their matches in the tankard series at the Peterborough rink next week. Last night the first match in the President and Vice President series were played off, Mr Davidson's rink succumbing to Judge Weller's by a minority of 3 shots.

Business Depression.

This is a terribly hard year. The failures in the Dominion were for 1888, the large number of 1,667 with liabilities of $13,974,000. The lack of snow is killing lumbering operations, but their is a perpetual boom in business at the boot and shoe store of gough bros.', for the prices are put down at the lowest notch and people must buy and do buy prime boots and shoes at less than half wholesale cost. Isn't this something to be proud of when money is so scarce. If you can scrape together a dollar, by taking it to gough bros.' boot and shoe store it will do the work of two dollars, spent anywhere else. Now is the time to take these bargains. Bargains every hour and all the year round. When you want to get double value for your money—boots and shoes at less than half their value, go to gough bros.', 375 george street.

The Endeavor Society.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the meeting last night. The meeting was in charge of the Devotional Committee and was sacred. Mr. A. Tubb read an able article on the subject, "Christian Perfection." The reading was of a high order and showed deep thought in preparation. Miss Campbell, of Hastings, gave a sacred song, entitled "Too Late," with remarkable sweetness and expression. A number of letters were read by Mr. T. Barrie from members of the Society upon the subject under discussion. Mr. Rouse and Sergt.-Major Rundle expressed their opinions, and the general opinion of the Society was that Christian prefection is something that is not obtainable but affords a goal to aim at for all who are living an upright Christian life, and even in the failure to reach that perfection a man may be strengthened spiritually by striving to win the prize. Miss Crosby sang "The Chorister" with her usual good taste and was loudly applauded. The meeting then closed. The union meeting that was set for next Monday night has been set forward one week later.

The Instalment Plan

An Act respecting conditional sales of chattels came into force on the 1st instant, and will materially affect the practice of selling musical instruments and also sewing machines by instalment, providing the latter be not classed as household furniture. Selling pianos and sewing machines on the instalment plans has occasioned a good deal of trouble to manufacturers and purchasers, more especially among the poorer classes. Heretofore, when a poor woman has purchased a machine, and after singing a cast-iron agreement and paying several instalments, she has been unable to meet her engagements, the manufacturer or vendor has had power to straightway enter her house and carry away the machine, thus doing her out of the money already paid; but the law that has just come in force is meant to prevent this until certain formalities are complied with, and these formalities will materially benefit the purchaser. Piano and sewing machine agents will do well to consult their legal advisers before seizing any more machines for instalments overdue.

Personal.

Owing to illness Mr. Carter will not be able to attend the vocal class this week. It is understood that there is to be one more rehearsal before the concert, particulars of which will appear hereafter.

The Ottawa Free Press says that the many friends of Dr.-George Baptie, of Ottawa, formerly of Cavan, will be pleased to learn of his success in the election for alderman in that city, he having headed the poll in Centre Ward. The Free Press speaks in high terms of Dr. Baptie, as a shrewd business man and does not doubt that he will use his ability for the benefit of the ward he so honorably represents. Dr. Baptie has held many important positions in this county and elsewhere, having been engaged at one time as teacher in the Collegiate Institute and also in Victoria University, and lecturer in Guelph Agricultural College. Dr. Baptie is a brother of Mr. James Baptie, of Springville, whose name as a successful poultry fancier is well known throughout Ontario.

We Like to Keep Old Friends,

But we don't like to keep Stock. We keep old friends by keeping a New Stock, and the Old Goods must go.

THE NEW YEAR MEANS NEW GOODS

and in order to properly take care of these, we must make room for them. We don't expect you to buy the Goods as a matter of accommodation to us—just to help us out. We know it is worth something to be accommodated and are willing to pay.

THIS MEANS BARGAINS

We are going to make it worth your while to Buy. The Goods we must want to get rid of are Goods that would have to be packed and stored for another season. These will be our main feature. But to make Variety we shall add from every Line we carry, whatever surplus there may be, and thus make a Complete Assortment for our Sale.

THE WRIT FOR HALDIMAND

NOMINATIONS FIXED FOR JAN. 23, POLLING JAN. 30.

Judgments Delivered by the Supreme Court Yesterday—The "Scott" Scandal—Hever and Secombe of the Address.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—The writ for Haldimand has been issued. Nominations will take place on Jan. 23 and polling on Jan. 30.

The Supreme Court met to-day and delivered the following judgments: The Exchequer Court appeals, Beaubien Estate v the Queen and Paradis v the Queen were dismissed with costs, Judge Fournier dissenting. These were both cases of expropriation of land for the St. Charles branch of the Intercolonial Railway. In the Beaubien case the Crown offered $56,575, but the arbitrators allowed $76,791, which was greatly reduced by the Exchequer Court. The estate claimed $144,000 and appealed to the Supreme Court. The court reversed the judgment of the Exchequer Court and gave judgment for the amount awarded by the arbitrators

Dansereau v. Bellemare—Appeal allowed with costs. This was a case for infringement by Bellemare of patent rights held by Dansereau, a Montreal carriage maker, and the effect of the judgment is to confirm Dansereau in his rights.

The Rimouski election case, Parrier v. Fiset, was dismissed on the ground of want of jurisdiction, the case not having been tried within the six months' limit. This confirms Dr. Fiset in his seat.

The hearing of the cases of Macdougal v. The Law Society of Upper Canada and Brown v. Lamontagne were postponed until the May term. In the former case Mr. Macdougal is appealing from a judgment ordering him to pay a fine for practising his profession without paying the annual fees of the Benchers' Society.

The Quebec list was then taken up. In Gilbert v. Gilman the appeal was dismissed with costs, the amount involved being under $2000.

The case of the Bank of Lower Canada v. the Hochelaga Bank was taken up, but the argument was not concluded when the court rose.

The Railway Committee of the Privy Council met this morning. The application of the Ontario and Quebec Railway for an overhead crossing of the London and Bruce divisions of the Grand Trunk and for a level crossing of the Sarnia division of the same road were postponed until larger plans showing more of the surrounding country were submitted. There was no serious opposition in either case. Permission was given the Ontario and Quebec Railway to make two overhead and three level crossings in the city of London without prejudice to any future application of the corporation of London for the railroad to erect gates at level crossings. The Ontario and Quebec Railway was also granted permission to cross certain roads in West London.

Sir Adolphe Caron, General Middleton, Colonel Powell and General Cameron will probably attend the Royal Military College club dinner at Montreal on Jan. 18.

Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, Chief Government Engineer, has reported that the interlocking switch at the crossing of the Canada Southern and Erie and Huron Railways is imperfectly constructed.

W. H. Plummer of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., who is here, says there is a great boom at the "Soo," which will shortly be lighted with electricity, a company having been formed to utilize the water power of the Ste. Marie River for that purpose. Over $250,000 worth of new buildings was put up last summer.

A deputation from Halifax is expected here shortly to urge the construction of the Harvey-Moncton link on the Short Line Railway.

It is understood that the Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department has reported favorably on the plans submitted of the Red River Valley Railway bridge across the Assiniboine River at Winnipeg.

The address in reply to the speech from the throne will probably be moved by Mr. R. S. White, the newly elected member for Cardwell, and seconded by Mr. H. R. Dickey, the new member for Cumberland.

NORFOLK REFORMERS.

Mass Meeting of the Liberals of South Middlesex at Simcoe.

SIMCOE, Jan. 15.—A union mass meeting of the Reformers of North and South Norfolk was held here to-day. A resolution was passed congratulating Hon. Oliver Mowat on his victory in the St. Catharines Milling Company case.

Killed by "Conjured" Pudding.

DANVILLE, Va., Jan. 16.—A remarkable case of poisoning has created some excitement here. On Sunday, Jack Coates, a colored inmate of the jail, received a slice of molasses pudding from his wife. He thought it was "tricked" and refused to eat it. Yesterday Squire Fawkes, another inmate of the jail, ate the pudding and was soon taken sick and to-day died in great agony with every symtom of acute poison. The woman who made the pudding has been arrested. There is much excitement among the negro population because of the superstition that the pudding was "conjured."

A Hooked Pipe Caused His Death.

TAUNTON, Mass., Jan. 16.—Milton Reed, an East Taunton woodchopper, met his death last night in a peculiar way. While at work his clothing became saturated with pitch. Returning from a carouse last night he lay down on his doorstep to sleep, leaving a lighted pipe in his pocket. The matches in the pocket were ignited, the woodchopper's pitch-saturated clothes caught fire, and very soon the heavy slumber was a mass of flames. Before help arrived he was burned to a crisp, of the body nothing remaining but the head and feet.

NEWS OF THE OLD WORLD

RUMORED GOVERNMENT SCHEMES CONCERNING IRELAND.

The Succession to the Dutch Crown—Bismarck Exhibits Amatory Zeal to Gilbert England—Chat by the Wires.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Rumors attributing to the government various schemes affecting Ireland are in active circulation and rapidly multiplying. A writer on The Star asserts that the Irish Office is preparing a bill for submission to Parliament at an early date to compel Lord Clanricarde to sell his Irish tenants the holding they now occupy, the bill fixing the price they shall pay. Another writer claiming to speak upon authority states that the ministry will introduce a measure to release Irish tenants from the payment of arrears. The latter statement finds few believers in its full purport, but the conviction is rapidly growing that the Government must bend to necessity, under pressure from within as well as without the Conservative party, to deal with the question of arrears, and will pass a measure which will afford tenants at least partial relief from the burdens imposed upon them by the arrearages which it is impossible for them to pay in full.

Bismarck Talks in the Reichstag.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Prince Bismarck was in the Reichstag to-day. He made a speech in which he disparaged the reports recently published in the newspapers concerning the British East Africa Company. Count Herbert Bismarck said the matter was being arranged between the English and German Governments. Herr Richter criticised the investigation which had been made by the Government with a view to the suppression of the slave trade in Africa. Prince Bismarck replied and took occasion to denounce the lack of patriotism displayed by the Liberal press, which, he said, was seeking to embarrass the policy of the Fatherland for the benefit of foreigners.

During the debate on the expenses of the German Consul at Zanzibar, Prince Bismarck said he would not now refer to the Government's colonial policy, but would speak on the subject during the debate on the East Africa Bill.

How the Branch Bank of Ville Marie at Hull Was Swindled Out of $7000—Death of "Joe Beef."

TORONTO, Jan. 16.—The case of Mackie v. Tyler, at the Assize Court yesterday, created no little interest from the fact that the plaintiff is the same as in the crim. con. case of Mackie v. Abel, settled the other day. In this the plaintiff sues the defendant, an auctioneer, to recover $1300 value of furniture sold by him at the instance of the plaintiff's wife, and which it is claimed was owned by the plaintiff. A number of amusing and racy letters were read, which exhibited the gulf that separated the husband and wife.

While the opinion affords some hope to the "tantis," when simmered down and divested of its verbiage it would seem on the whole to be adverse to their desires.

On Saturday night last Staff Inspector Archibald and Inspector Stephen visited the room of Mr. Herbert Bailey, in Wellington-street, where they supposed that gambling was or had been carried on. A PUT UP JOB.

The Branch Bank of Ville Marie at Hull Cleverly Robbed of $7262.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—The City of Hull, opposite Ottawa, enjoyed a first-class sensation to-day when a stranger entered the branch bank of Ville Marie and coolly walked off with $7262. Between 12 and 1 o'clock, while the teller was alone in the bank, a man entered and offered to make a deposit, at the same time throwing down an envelope which he said contained $40. The teller counted it and found only $38.

While he was speaking to the man a little girl came in and said a priest was outside and wanted to speak to someone in the bank. The teller went out at the front door but found no priest, and on coming back found that both the man and the girl had gone out at the back door and that all the funds in his desk, amounting to $7262, had disappeared.

THE NINE HOUR MOVEMENT.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1889.

The Workingmen of Peterborough a Unit for it.

They Consider Nine Hours a Day Long Enough Among Men to Work—Labor Opportunities will Exist About the Shorter Hour System.

A well attended meeting of the mechanics and laborers of Peterborough was held by the Knights of Labor hall on Water street Tuesday evening. The chair was occupied by Chr. D. McGregor.

Mr. McGREGOR stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of discussing the nine hour a day system of labor. The carpenters wished to let the public know that they were about to adopt the nine hour system, and the bricklayers and masons were at present under that rule, and they wanted all the other branches of labor to come under it. He invited discussion.

Mr. McFADDEN stated that the system worked well among the bricklayers, and they were all satisfied with it. Besides it gave employment for one extra man in ten.

Mr. Geo. ROSE expressed his entire approval of the nine hour system, and said the laboring men ought to be well satisfied with the progress of their agitation for shorter hours of labor. It was a well known fact that where long hours were in vogue the wages were small. He produced a copy of the Montreal Herald, giving a table of wages in 1800, when the workmen labored from sunrise to sunset. The average wages the land over was from $60 to $65 a year with board, and perhaps lodging. Mr. Rose went on to point out how vastly improved in this respect the present generation of workingmen was, but still there was depression. One way to relieve this was a shortening of the hours of labor. He thought the workingmen should stick to and help each other in this thing; it would be specially beneficial to the young men. He urged getting the hours down to 9 and even 8 hours a day. It was stated that if every able-bodied man in the world did his share, it would only require 2½ hours a day from each one to do all that was done now. He thought that would be a pretty nice world to live in.

Mr. Wm. HICKEY said he had heard the moulders were going to adopt the nine-hour system in the spring, and he did not see why all workingmen should not have it. Speaking of the labor question, he professed but urged rather that the workingmen give their employers a good day's work for a fair day's pay; to do his duty and then he would be an independent man.

Mr. P. MACNAMARA said he was proud to be a bricklayer and of belonging to such a plucky lot of men who were the first to carry out the nine-hour system. He chided the others for lack of back-bone in the other organizations for not coming out.

Mr. Wm. BALL, advocated pushing forward the nine-hour system, but thought they would have a hard time of it. Mr. Ball said that the carpenters had a different sort of men to work with than the other trades.

Mr. J. WHITEHEAD, for the moulders, said they were all going to vote for the nine-hour system to begin the first of April.

Mr. JOHN HICKEY said he had worked in the States under the nine-hour system. The carpenters got it first and then the bricklayers and masons, and it has been working well over there.

Mr. Geo. BALL, speaking for Knights of Labor, said the Order went them one better and advocated eight hours a day. Dealing with the subject of the cause that led up to this necessity, and the effect thereof, he said that to the capitalists it was not a question of justice to the workingman or the saving of a few cents. It was simply that they objected to be dictated to. This short hour movement was intended to give employment to the great mass of those who to-day were branded as tramps and drunkards, but who might be respectable and prosperous citizens could they find work. The cause of this was the invention of labor-saving machines that put men out of work. He held it was not intended that these machines should be the means of turning men out of employment; God had given the inventor brains to evolve the machinery in order to lighten the labor of those who were working hard at long hours. But capitalists used every means to grind out money. The speaker instanced the Joggins' raft as a trick by which the lumber capitalists of the maritime provinces threw out of employment 30 schooners with 5 men each. That paragraph from the Herald, he thought, was hardly a fair criterion of the condition of labor in 1800, because it did not tell the purchasing value of a dollar. He coincided with Mr. Rose that always travelled together. Mr. Ball said the platform of the Knights of Labor advocated short hours not only for bricklayers, or moulders, or carpenters but for all workingmen. The Mayor, he said, on election day had stated he could not see why it was that so many men were out of employment; but if he had gone and reduced the hours of labor among the men in his own employment he would have helped to relieve the difficulty. The labor unions, he contended, were more Christian in their principles than the "pillars" of the church, in that they sought to benefit the entire working class in a practical way.

Mr. McGREGOR took exception to Mr. Ball's intimation that the carpenters were selfish in their agitation, and pointed out that in the municipal elections they got pledges from their candidates that they would, if elected, use their best endeavors to have the hour of labor shortened for corporation laborers. He proposed that a committee be appointed to draft a resolution asking to have the corporation laborers' hours of labor shortened. As regarded the Knights of Labor's advocacy of the eight hour system, he said of course it would be still better, but they wanted the nine hours first, and he doubted if the eight hour agitation would succeed yet. It was said that the Knights of Labor were all theory and no practice.

Mr. ROSE urged an expression of opinion from those present that it might get in the papers and let the public into their views on the subject.

Mr. BALL proposed that all those who were opposed to the short hour movement be invited to a public discussion of the subject. Some of those who opposed it, he said, were mechanics who were so good but only managed to keep their positions by "standing in" with and toadying to the bosses.

Mr. BALL moved a resolution in accordance with his suggestion, which was seconded by Mr. Rose, the discussion to take place in the K. of L. Hall next Monday night.

Before the motion was put, Mr. H. HOLMES spoke and said there seemed to be a difference of opinion on this question among the working men themselves. It was stated at the picnic last September that there would be for any man that was any good could make up one hour in the nine. If that was the idea, what was the use of it? It would not lessen the labor any if he did ten hours work in nine.

The motion was then carried unanimously.

Mr. P. MACNAMARA said he believed the majority of the present council has promised to favor the reduction of hours for corporation employees, and proposed that a committee be appointed to draft a memorial and get it presented to the council to that effect.

The following gentlemen were appointed:—Messrs R. McGregor, P. Macnamara, John O'Brien and W. Biggs. They were instructed to report at the meeting next Monday night.

Mr. ROSE, referring to the question of immigration, said that the house of labor in the old country were not ten hours, as they were in Canada. He argued that the emigration of unemployed foreigners should be stopped as they were the means of throwing large numbers of our own mechanics out of employment. He urged organization among the workingmen as the only means to make the movement successful. He said that short hours, if desired by many workingmen once, and instantaneously, were not long ago a number of bankrupts on the Midland railway were discharged simply because they had been "spotted" for the others on the line, who considered that they were deserving of promotion—and told the railway capitalists so. The capitalists all stand well together and the workingmen should too. The other brakesmen should have stood by the ones that were discharged.

Mr. BALL said further that not long ago a minister in Toronto had been expelled from his church because he dared to say the big bugs by speaking a good word for the laboring men. No wonder the capitalists pitied the poor brakesman whose utterances were not safe.

Mr. McGREGOR said he thought the carpenters' union would have no difficulty in getting the nine hour system next summer. One contractor had already agreed to it. Of course though and he would like to see all those interested come in and stand shoulder to shoulder in this movement. Mr. McGregor said the eight hour movement was gaining ground in the States, and it was intended by all the labor organizations across the lines to make a united effort in 1890 to carry it out. He advocated federation among the different labor organizations as a step towards success. He thought the officers of these organizations should join mixed assemblies of the Knights of Labor also. He advocated forming a co-operative society in Peterborough to bring about the nine hour system.

Mr. STAPLES wanted to know if for the nine hours of labor the workingmen were to get pay for ten hours.

The CHAIRMAN replied yes.

Mr. STAPLES further objected to employers hiring boys to do men's work. If employers took these boys to teach them trades, they should be held responsible for them. He did not think the laborers of Peterborough would have any difficulty in getting the nine hours, only a great many of them are afraid to ask it.

Mr. Wm. ANTHONY while not prepared to make a speech expressed his hearty sympathy with the movement. He urged the necessity of organization among the workingmen.

Mr. Geo. BALL pointed out some of the objects of the Knights of Labor, and some things they had done—the exclusion of Chinese cheap labor, the abolition of prison labor and other legislative reforms. Their aim was not merely to shorten the hours of labor or better the wages of workingmen, but also to improve their condition and remove grievances by securing favorable legislation. He thought all union men should belong to the Knights of Labor.

Mr. MURPHY stated that members of the Typographical Union could not join the K. of L., because they had their own International Union. But he would like to see a council, composed of representatives from the different organizations and the Knights of Labor.

A motion of thanks to the press for reports of the meetings was carried by a standing vote, after which the meeting adjourned till next Monday night.

ESTEY BIGHT. I SCRATCHED

Until the Skin was Raw. Body Covered With Sores. Hips Sores of Mortar. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary cure that CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but they were so few of it until no time later on, when it began to look like specs of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggists, and obtained relief immediately. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babies with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

LONDON GOSSIP.

The Coming Session of Parliament—Mr. W. H. Smith to Become His Position.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The Prince of Wales and the Prime Minister have been corresponding regarding the position of the Eldest son of the heir-apparent. What negotiations have been made no one quite knows, but when Parliament meets it is expected that the announcement will be made that as soon as Prince Albert Victor decides to marry an application will be made to Parliament for an allowance for him.

The ministry has decided that the estimates shall be taken up as soon as parliament meets. Nothing could be easier than to come to such decision, but a good deal is going on now that may just a little intervene with its being carried out. It seems highly probable that before parliament meets Messrs. William O'Brien, Condon, Cox, Tanner, Leng, John O'Connor and Sheehy will be in jail, while Messrs. E. Harrington and Finucane are already there. It must be a very sanguine minister who supposes that Mr. Balfour will be able to make this wide sweep of the net without remonstrance. The debate on the address nowadays is generally good for three working weeks, even when nothing unusual has happened. It is scarcely likely to take much less this year, when the imprisonment of seven or eight members of parliament during recess will have to be gone into. If Mr. Harrington's moustache has been cut off every hair of it will be the cause of a speech some time or other during the session. Mr. Balfour can scarcely expect to have this new "rape of the lock" passed over in silence. Altogether the prospect before the government is not quite so serene as some official organs appear to think.

Mr. Smith will resume his position as leader of the House, and this will be in accordance with the general desire of his party. Naturally there are many Conservatives who would prefer to have one of their own number at the head rather than any man, however distinguished, borrowed from the opposite ranks. Mr. Smith is very much liked personally; if not particularly brilliant, he is always safe. He never makes enemies. A leader who tried to be smart and epigrammatic might not in the long run suit the temper of the house so well. I hear Mr. Smith's health is fully restored, and, although he would doubtless like to be released from the slavery of leading the house, there is scarcely any doubt that he will patiently bend his neck to the yoke for yet another session. In so doing he will show a loyal obedience to emphatic wishes in very high quarters.

The Mercier incident still continues to excite public interest generally, both here and abroad. It is evident how very much he has incensed Prince Bismarck, for the bitterness of the "reptile press" is unending. Many people may not know that Sir Robert has had many opportunities in his diplomatic posts to come across Prince Bismarck, but the real quarrel between them took place in 1866 at Frankfort. Mr. Morier, as he was then, was quite an masterful and resolute as Count Bismarck, and if the former was only a charge d'affaires at Darmstadt, the other was only a Prussian delegate there. Unwittingly, Prince Bismarck has done Sir Robert a great service, for he has marked him for a man of character and determination, and his future career is now assured.

A Scotch correspondent informs me that the salmon disease prevails extensively both in the Tay and the Tweed, and the spawning season has been by no means a good one.

The Italian government has ordered 280 new field pieces from Krupp, of Essen, and they are to be delivered at Milan in April.

EDMUND YATES.

A Desperado Killed.

St. Louis, Jan. 16.—Wesley Barnett, a half-breed Creek Indian, up to last Saturday evening was the most fearless desperado in the Indian territory. He was the leader of a desperate band of horse thieves and general outlaws and for years had run riot over the Creek Nation, slaying in cold blood nearly every one who had opposed him or tried to arrest him. A few months ago he deliberately murdered United States Marshal Phillips near Eufalia and later killed the noted Moss McIntosh of the Creek police and wounded two or three others while they were trying to arrest him. He openly defied all law and during the late session of the House of Warriors of the Creek Nation stood before that body and dared any one to take him. A large reward was offered for him, dead or alive, and last Saturday Wallace McNac, a Creek Indian, lay in ambush for him near Okmoulgee and when the outlaw appeared emptied both barrels of his shotgun loaded with buckshot into his body, killing him.

U. S. Naturalization Laws.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The House Judiciary Committee yesterday authorized the sub-committee on naturalization to draft a bill amendatory of the naturalization laws in lieu of many bills on the subject referred to the committee. Mr. Oates, chairman of the sub-committee, briefly sketched his ideas of the bill which should be prepared, proposing to dispense with the present declaration of intention on the part of the immigrant who desires to become a citizen, making five years' residence in this country a necessary condition for citizenship, and requiring the applicant to prove his good moral character and fitness for citizenship before the proper officer in the presence of some person representing the interests of the Government.

Underclothing Exposed by a Prophet.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan 16.—A fanatic on the South branch of the Potomac, near Romney, Hampshire County, has laid bare a great Indian cemetery. Hundreds of skeletons have been found in a good state of preservation. All were lying on the left side. With the skeletons were found beads, arrow, spear and tomahawk heads and what is believed to have been Indian money, made of bone and ivory. Some of the beads were of bone, others of small stones and all were beautifully colored. Among the trinkets were many bone fishhooks, and copper articles used by the Indians for some purpose unknown at this day. The trinkets were all perforated with very small holes. The bones of hundreds of squaws and pappooses were found buried with the braves.

The Whistler Not Allowed to Whistle.

WORCESTER, Jan. 16.—Ella Chamberlain, the whistling soloist, was prevented from appearing at a concert at the theatre Sunday night with the Boston Ideal Banjo, Mandolin, and Guitar Club and a local band. One of the local ministers objected, and the Mayor refused to allow the whistler to whistle anything but sacred music; consequently the whistler did not come, and the entire program had to be changed.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. On the Verge of Starvation.

"For three months I could not eat a full meal or do a day's work. I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, began using it, and in three days my appetite returned, in a week I felt like a new man. It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Ahlehia, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia. 2w1d

Presence of mind.

Presence of mind is good in a case of accidents and emergencies, and when coupled with Hagyard's Yellow Oil will often save life. Yellow Oil cures all painful injuries, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, rheumatic and neuralgic pains and is in fact a handy and reliable surgical aid. 2w1d

A Valuable Discovery.

F. P. Tanner, of Neebing, Ont., says he has not only found B.B.B. a sure cure for Dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system that has ever been taken. B.B.B. is the great system regulator. 2w1d

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.60, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,340 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,068 for $14,081,377.60.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,531.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in Income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in super tem.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,482 89	$1,142,743 99
1876 to 1880, four years	82,580 67	196,166 29	1,167,388 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 21	2,062,294 99
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 80	475,977 24	4,028,378 26
Total in 1887	$495,531 54	$1,750,004 43	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

The Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1889.

A TEMPEST IN A TEA-POT.

In Tuesday's edition of the Review appears an article making a personal attack on Mr. Stratton of the EXAMINER, in regard to his connection with the School Board. While such attacks cannot be regarded as agreeable, yet the one in question, contains an element which largely offsets any unpleasant aspect it was evidently intended to present. Such a lofty position of prompt and scrupulous regard for the public interest, exhibited at the first opportunity that occasion presented—such pure love of literal observance of school law—such an utter absence of unselfish interest, as that displayed by our contemporary,—is refreshing in this venal and none too virtuous age. It is not our role to defend any course of action that may prejudicially affect the public interests, and, while admitting that, technically speaking, there has not been literal compliance with the requirements of the law, we confidently assert that in no case has there been the slightest sacrifice of the public interests, through the connection of Mr. Stratton, as the proprietor of a printing establishment, with the school board, which the Review visits with such vehemence of denunciation. Our contemporary, in the anxiety, begotten of its new found zeal, to make out a case, over-steps the mark in the matter of detail. It is incorrect to state that in 1887 the amount of printing done by the EXAMINER was as stated by the Review. A very large proportion of that amount belonged to 1886. As to the insinuation that Mr. Stratton ordered work done at his own establishment, it is simply preposterous. He has never done so. In a printing business of the magnitude of the EXAMINER there is very much work done of which Mr. Stratton is not cognizant at the time. An order for work is left with the foreman and the job follows the usual routine, is printed, delivered, the amount charged and in due course presented for payment. In the case of the printing of last week, referred to by the Review, the facts are that the board ordered the chairman of the property committee to procure certain printed forms, and in due course the foreman of the EXAMINER was directed by a member of the Board to put a form in type and furnish a proof to be submitted to the Board. The consequence was the Board gave an order for the printing of a certain number and the foreman of the EXAMINER, receiving the order, of course executed the work. In all this there is nothing to show that any unfair advantage was taken or any corrupt dealing practiced. For the 8 years he has been connected with the board, Mr. Stratton's printing establishment has filled orders for printing from trustees and officials of the board, and in no case can it be shown that any overcharge or any improper charge was made, or that the public interest suffered one iota. The EXAMINER printing establishment is conducted on business principles, and when orders for work are presented, it would be a Quixotic exhibition of virtue, which we fear our contemporary even, would hardly be equal to, to turn them away from its doors. The EXAMINER has hardly a gold mine in its basement to draw on, nor has it the solid financial standing of its evening contemporary to make it independent of public patronage. Mr. Stratton has been a member of the board for eight years and has held the same relations for that time, that he did previously — if he received a little order for printing for the school Board, he has executed it in a business manner, done the work well, charged a moderate price and received his payment; and in no case has he used his personal efforts to advance his personal affairs at the expense of the public interests. Mr. Stratton remains a member at the solicitation of prominent members of the Board and of a large number of prominent ratepayers. When contemplating the purchase of a stationery store, he intimated to these gentlemen his desire to resign his position, but he was urged to remain a member, as he was assured the trifling financial relations he held or might hold, with the Board, were too insignificant to practically affect his status as a trustee. We are sure the public will duly appreciate the lofty position of solicitude for the public welfare exhibited by the Review over a $3.00 printing job—though it has taken it eight years to unearth the stupendous outrage.

Peterborough Presbytery.

Continuation of Yesterday's Report.

Upon resuming at 2.30 o'clock, delegates were appointed to visit the augmented congregations and report to the Presbytery, as follows:—Rev. Mr. Hay to Hastings, Rev. Mr. Carmichael to Warsaw and Dunsaver, Rev. Mr. Cameron to Springville and Rev. Mr. Bennett to Haliburton and Minden, the latter with a view to taking steps for their being enabled to support an ordained minister.

Mr. Wm. Moffatt, a catechist, was recommended to the Home Mission Committee for work.

An adjourned meeting of the presbytery was appointed to be held at St. Andrew's church on Tuesday, 29th inst., at 2.30 o'clock.

The Presbytery dealt with other private matters which occupied their attention till 6 o'clock, when they adjourned for the purpose of attending the evening meeting. Those who remained were entertained at supper by the ladies of the church.

AN EVENING SESSION.

In the evening a session of the Presbytery was held to receive the delegates from the auxiliaries of the presbyterial branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. After devotional exercises, Rev. Alex. Bell reading as the Scripture lesson the 42nd chapter of the book of Isaiah, and Rev. — — Brady leading in prayer, a summary of the report of the Peterborough Presbytery branch was read. The summary, which was over the signature of the secretary, J. H. Crisick, set forth that there were fifteen auxiliaries in the Presbytery, and seven mission bands. During the past year there had been an increase of one auxiliary, of four mission bands, of a hundred and seventy-two members and of three life members. The contributions for 1887 had amounted to $1,306.89, and those for 1888 to $1,440, showing an increase in contributions of $123.11. The annual supply of clothing for the destitute women and children of the Northwest had been forwarded in September. The supply was abundant and excellent. The new material sent out by request, unmade, was of the value of $150. The report expressed thankfulness for past mercies and success, and hopefulness for future progress.

Rev. Mr. Gilchrist, in moving the adoption of the report, referred to the encouraging nature of it.

Rev. Mr. McEwan, seconded the adoption of the report, which was unanimously agreed to.

Rev. Mr. C. S. LORD, B.D., Hamilton, Bermuda, moved a resolution thanking the ladies of the Peterborough Presbytery branch of the Women's Foreign Mission Society. He pointed out the wonderful material progress of the present age with which the moral progress had kept pace. The spirit of propagandism was characteristic of the present age also. The "mission" work of the Mahometans, the Buddhists and the Mormons showed activity, but Christianity was leading all the missionary efforts of the world. And it seemed superfluous to speak to a Christian audience to impress upon them a sense of the obligation of the divine command to spread the Gospel. Referring to Canon Taylor's claim of the failure of Christian missionary effort, the speaker stated that even if his contention were correct, it should only urge the church on to greater and more earnest action. Christians should never forget that they were co-workers in this great work with the Lord Himself. Foreign mission work should be encouraged on account of it reflex action on individuals and churches. The more people did for others the more benefit they themselves received. The church that failed in its foreign missionary work, would show an equal failure in its domestic and congregational interests. More than two-thirds of the world was still without the Gospel and its blessings, and this thought should urge on Christians to renewed missionary efforts. The speaker impressed upon his hearers the inestimable value of a human soul, whether his body were white or black. He referred to the great work, which in spite of the croaking of pessimists, like Canon Taylor, had been done in the mission field. The recent awakening of the women to an interest in this work was most encouraging, and encouragement was supplied by the fact that heathendom is becoming weary of its superstitions, and the best of all was the divine promise, "Lo I I am with ye alway."

REV. JOHN HAY, B.D., of Campbellford, in seconding the motion said he did so because it implied that a definite work had been given the women of the church. About a dozen years ago the Women's Foreign Mission Board had been established, and in 1887 this board had raised $1,006. Last year the amount raised was $25,000 and the amount would be larger this year—and all from giving Christian women definite work to do. The speaker cited the fact to show that energy in mission work developed new energy in domestic church work. The church was a unit in this great work—no effort so humble, but it was part of a great whole. Selfishness in the church was becoming buried under missionary zeal. The Women's Foreign Mission operations substantiated the fact of the expanding and elevating influence of this work upon the female character in its every aspect. The Bible contained the only system of ethics that recognized women as the co-equal and co-worker with man, and in missionary work they came very close to contripping the men. It was a grand work for women to rescue their Pagan sisters from the degradation and the seldom of beathendom.

Rev. Mr. BELL said he must indeed be cold and unresponsive who could have listened unmoved to the appeals which they had just heard, and he asked those present to express their sympathy in a practical manner, and a collection was taken. The resolution was put, unanimously carried and the meeting and session of the Presbytery closed with the singing of Bishop Heber's grand old hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains." Rev. Mr. Bell, moderator after declaring the presbytery adjourned to Tuesday Jan. 29th instant, pronounced the benediction and the meeting dispersed.

Mr. Stratton and the Board of Education.

The Morning Times says:—"The Review of last evening comes out with what seems to us an unjustifiable article against Mr. J. R. Stratton and his connection with the Board of Education. It is true that Mr. Stratton has for several years occupied a seat on the board but we are not aware that he has done so in violation of law. If this statement were true it seems exceeding strange that our esteem, has been so long in finding it out. Our neighbor says, 'According to the law of the Province no member of the board can have any pecuniary interest in a contract made with the board and cannot do any work for it for which he is to receive remuneration, yet Mr. Stratton has continued to act as a trustee while receiving hundreds of dollars from the treasury of the board.' We are not aware that Mr. Stratton has done anything more than any other person would have done occupying his situation, not even excepting a former editor of the Review placed under similar circumstances. It would be hard indeed if the readers of the EXAMINER should be excluded from; reading an important advertisement in that paper pertaining to their individual interests simply because Mr. Stratton occupies a seat on the Board. There is reason in everything. Mr. Stratton is one of our best citizens and he has made an exemplary member of the Board; and without admitting the charges as made by our contemporary we do not wish to insinuate that the article in question has anything to do with sour grapes."

Imperial Federation.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—Permit me to lay before your readers an extract from a speech delivered by the Premier of England at Scarboro a short time ago. Here it is:—

"The British House of Commons," said he, "is a machine too peculiar and too delicate to be managed by any but those who have been born within those isles."

Now, sir, I have no doubt that the above is the sentiment of every English statesman, and will be to the end of time. What a sweet pill for our lofty Canadian born Imperial Federationists to swallow. The writer, for one, will never swallow such a pill. Now, sir, if our Dominion Premier has got any spunk, the very next speech he makes he will just add the following:

"The Dominion House of Commons is a machine too peculiar and too delicate to be managed by any but those who have been born in this Dominion of Canada."

That will make us even.

Yours truly,
A CANADIAN.

Women's Mission Work.

Annual Meeting of the Presbyterial Society — An Interesting Report of Proceedings.

The seventh annual meeting of the Presbyterial Woman's Foreign Mission Society of Peterborough was held Tuesday in the Sunday school rooms of St. Paul's church.

At the meeting held in the forenoon for the transaction of business the official reports were presented, matters bearing upon the extension of the work in the Presbytery were discussed, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year:—

PRESIDENT.—Miss Roger, Peterborough.

1ST VICE-PRESIDENT.—Mrs. Hay, Campbellford.

2ND VICE-PRESIDENT.—Mrs. Lord, Grafton.

3RD VICE-PRESIDENT.—Mrs. Waddell, Centreville

4TH VICE-PRESIDENT.—Mrs. Craigie, Bobcaygeon.

TREASURER.—Mrs. Henderson, Cobourg.

SECRETARY.—Mrs. Craick, Port Hope

AFTERNOON MEETING.

Three hundred ladies were present. The president occupied the chair.

After the opening exercises conducted by the president, and the presentation of the annual reports by the secretary and treasurer, able and interesting papers were read by the president, Miss Corbett, of Port Hope, and Mrs. Hay, of Campbellford. Miss Roger, after a few words of welcome to the delegates, dwelt more especially on the power and importance of prayer. Miss Corbett took up the subject of mission bands as means of intellectual and moral training. Mrs. Hay sought to show the special claim that Foreign mission work has upon women. Mrs. Henderson, of Peterborough, led in the dedicatory prayer.

Miss Fraser, of Kingston, now under training for medical mission work, gave an address of some length to which her audience listened throughout with rapt attention. By a series of graphic word-pictures, each produced by a few masterly strokes, she presented the story of the sufferings and wrongs of women in India, of the vast numbers living and dying in heathen darkness and superstition, of the bitterness of death where there is no hope beyond the grave. And then, by a sudden transition, she carried her audience with her step by step through the last scenes of our Saviour's life, closing with the words of the great commission, "Go, preach the gospel to every creature," and an appeal to the women who sang "Crown Him Lord of all," to see that they contribute some of the jewels that must compose that Crown.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was the rendering of some kindergarten hymns by the juvenile mission band under the training of Miss Sophie Cameron. Miss Cameron presided at the organ throughout.

The meeting was closed with the doxology and prayer, in which Miss Fraser led.

The ladies then adjourned to St. Andrew's church where, in response to a very kind invitation from the ladies of that church, they joined the Presbytery at tea.

The above Society comprises 15 Auxiliaries and 7 Mission Bands, with 606 members. The contributions for 1888 were $1,440.

The officers and delegates who were present from a distance were:—Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. McNachtan, Miss Holmes, Cobourg; Mrs. W. K. Johnston, Mrs. J. Johnston, Miss Parkes, Grafton; Miss Broomfield, Miss J. Broomfield, Vernonville; Miss McDonald, Miss Mann, Baltimore; Miss Kennedy, Miss Workman, Miss Moore, Bobcaygeon, Mrs. Hay, Mrs. White, Campbellford; Mrs. Waddell, Miss Fair, Centreville; Miss Clark, Hastings; Mrs. Duff, Mrs. R. Graham, Mrs. W. M. Graham, Mrs. Hendren, Lakefield; Mrs. J. F. Clark, Mrs. Craick, Miss Corbett, Port Hope; Mrs. Porter, Otonabee.

A Fruitful Revival.

Crossley and Hunter, the evangelists, who will visit Peterborough after leaving Detroit, are meeting with success in the City of the Straits. The Detroit Evening News says:—Crossley and Hunter, the revivalists, are on their second week at the Central M. E. church. Over 2,000 people attended services last evening, and many of them stood during the entire time. The music is a leading feature of the worship, and Mr. Crossley's sermon of last evening dealt largely with the temperance question, urging the duty of abstinence upon all and closing with an appeal to husbands to love their wives and give them the benefit of a Christain example. Many present asked the prayers of their Christian brethren, and a fruitful revival seems assured. Meetings will be held every evening for several weeks to come.

In order to infuse new life into the society the executive meeting arranged some time ago to have a number of papers read on subjects bearing on temperance work. The first of these papers, one on temperance generally, was read at Tuesday night's meeting by Rev. G. Warren, curate in-charge. The other papers which have been arranged for:—"Drink and Health," "The Drinking Customs of the Georgian Era," "Drinking Customs of the Mohommedans," and "The Legal aspect of the Drink question in Canada."

News Nuggets.

—The social club held another successful assembly in Welsh's hall last night.

—Mr. D. Belleghem and a staff of his men went down on the noon train to Port Hope to fit up the interior of a new bank premises.

—Mansard roofs are a source of danger these days. The snow and ice become loosened by the heat of the sun and slide off into the streets, to the danger of pedestrians. A good plan might be for persons to walk close to the buildings and let the snow drop beyond them.

Clever Robbery at Hamilton—Money or Bond—Another Libel Suit.

HAMILTON, Jan. 16.—Two clever sneak thieves put up a daring job on Alex. Campbell, grocer, 54 York-street, last evening, and enriched themselves to the extent of $120. About 6 o'clock Mr. Campbell, who is an elderly gentleman, was in his store when a well dressed man came in and spoke to him about the handsome plants that were in the window facing on Merrick-street. While the conversation was going on Geo. Plato, a shoemaker who has a shop next door to Mr. Campbell's, came in to purchase a window shade. Mr. Campbell said he would hunt a shade and bring it into the shoemaker's, which he subsequently did, and was followed into the store by the admirer of the plants. They talked for some time, when Mr. Campbell remembered that there was no-body in his store and started to walk out, but the man tried to stop him and detain him as long as possible. Finally he got away, and as he entered the store he saw a man sneaking from behind the counter. The man said he wanted to get a plug of tobacco, and before Mr. Campbell could get it both of the men left the store. Mr. Campbell then suspected that something was wrong, and on searching discovered that the $120 which he had put aside to pay a local wholesale firm was gone.

Robert Harrison of Zimmerman has received the following rather startling letter, which was mailed at Palermo:

JANUARY, 1889.—Villain! Demon! Wretch! I have sworn to make your heart's blood pay the price of Mary Watson's fall if you do not place a sufficient sum in the hands of Richard Watson Palermo or George Watson Lowville to support your victim for two years, say two hundred dollars, within 3 months. Your money or your blood. You damned hypocrite.

Mr. Harrison is not at all alarmed at the fierce threats of the anonymous blackmailer; but thinks it just as well that the public should know about it.

The suit brought by Mr. M. Malone against The Spectator Printing Company, for libel, was taken up at the assizes yesterday and was proceeded with again to-day. Mr. Malone claims $10,000 damages, on the ground that The Spectator libelled him in a number of articles commenting upon the discharge of one Canary from the city's employ.

At the meeting of the Hamilton Presbytery yesterday a committee was appointed to prepare a petition for presentation to the Dominion Parliament and to secure the services of a competent member of the House of Commons to present the petition, asking that traffic on the Welland Canal be closed on the Lord's day.

The ninth annual grand reunion of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of the Valley of Hamilton, A. F. and A. [illegible] OF SETTING UP THE VOTERS' LISTS COMPLETED.

[illegible] Court Proceedings—No Further Development in the Mail Bank Robbery—Ottawa's Proposed New Industry.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—In the Supreme Court yesterday the case of Holmes v. Carter was argued and judgement reserved. The case of Thompson v. Molsons Bank was commenced but not concluded when the court rose. The question involved in this appeal is whether certain assets of an insolvent debtor should be distributed generally between creditors or whether the bank should retain a privilege on certain goods pledged to it.

The work of setting up the voters' lists for the whole Dominion has been completed at the Government printing office. It has taken the labor of sixty-five men for ten months. The lists make 6700 large folio pages and contain over 1,000,000 names. The type weighs over seventy-five tons. The matter will be kept standing so as to be always ready for revision.

There is no further development in the mail bank robbery case. A Montreal detective has been employed, but if he has found out anything he has known enough to keep it to himself.

There is some talk of the establishment here of a branch of the Kellogg Tubing Company of Findlay, O., which has a patent process for manufacturing seamless iron tubing. The idea is based partly on the probability of finding natural gas in the vicinity of the city, and the ore from the mines at Ironsides on the Gatineau would be used.

Archbishop Taché asked the Minister of the Interior yesterday for a continuance of the reserve of the Manitoba Colonization Society doing business in Southern Manitoba. A large number of Belgians settled on the land last year and a big influx is expected in the spring.

The Citizen last night gave its annual supper to the newsboys, about 150 of whom assembled in the second story of the office and had a good time.

CUT OFF HER FINGER.

Difficulty Between Two Sisters at Montreal—Fatal Accident.

MONTREAL, Jan. 16.—Two sisters, respectively known as Sarah Bird and Rebecca Parker, had a quarrel in their house, No. 2 St. Dominique-street, at 10.30 last evening, when Rebecca, it is alleged, with the aid of a large knife, went for her sister and attempted to stab her, but as she was somewhat under the influence of liquor did not succeed and cut her sister on the hand, completely severing one of her fingers. A policeman heard the cries of murder and at once proceeded to the scene, but unfortunately too late to effect any arrest, as the accused had run away through a back door. The victim says that her sister, who is addicted to liquor, last evening came home in the worst condition, when she attempted to remonstrate with her for her conduct, with the above results.

The Blenheim Orchards.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Duke and Duchess of Marlboro have been entertaining a large family party at Blenheim. The facts about the Blenheim orchards are as follows: The Duke has about 40,000 plants of one sort and another, but manages his hothouses on business principles, and whenever a rare flower turns up among the imported specimens, he sells it. He never gives 50 guineas or anything like that sum for a plant, as has been stated, but sold one the other day for 190 guineas to Mr. Sanders, the famous dealer. It need hardly be said that the value of the collection is a trifle under £2,000,000 sterling—the preposterous estimate put upon it by some addlepated scribblers.

The Hamilton Bishopric.

HAMILTON, Jan. 16.—With reference to the appointment of a successor to the late Bishop Carbery in this diocese, Vicar-General Heenan was seen this morning. The reverend gentleman states that no notification has been received from Rome of any appointment. He observed a statement in the newspapers that a consistory announced to take place some weeks ago had been postponed to Jan. 15, but whether the consistory was held he had not been advised. At that consistory, if held, it was very probable the appointment would have been made.

Whilst in the depot Coad was hustled by some well-dressed men and immediately afterwards missed his pocketbook in which was the check and railway ticket. It is supposed the job was done by a gang of Yankee crooks who are here for the carnival.

TEUTON AGAINST YANKEE.

INNER DIPLOMATIC HISTORY OF THE SAMOAN QUARREL.

A Citizen of the United States Alleged to Have Led the Native Forces Against the Germans in the Recent Battle.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Among the correspondence concerning affairs in Samoa, referred to in President Cleveland's message transmitted to Congress yesterday and presented to the Senate to-day, are these instructions to Admiral Kimberly from Secretary Whitney, contained in a cablegram dated June 11:

Commander Mullan of the Nipsic telegraphs by way of Auckland that a force was landed at Samoa from the German fleet, which resulted in an engagement between the troops of Mataafa and the German forces and the defeat of the latter. He reports that the Germans in retaliation bombarded towns, disregarding protests and neutral rights, and that the property and lives of American citizens are in danger. He strongly urges the sending of reinforcements. The German Government claims that the German forces were first attacked, and that war now exists between Germany and that portion of the natives of Samoa engaged in the attack upon the Germans. The German Government invites this Government, in the common interest, to join in establishing order in Samoa, giving assurance of careful respect for our treaty rights. The United States Government is willing to cooperate in restoring order in Samoa on the basis of the full preservation of American treaty rights and Samoan autonomy as recognized and agreed to by Germany, Great Britain and the United States and has so informed the German Government. You will at once proceed to Samoa and extend full protection and defence to American citizens and property. You will consult with the American Vice Consul, examine his archives and otherwise inform yourself as to the situation and all recent occurrences. Protest against the subjugation and displacement of the native Government of Samoa by Germany as in violation of positive agreement and understanding between the treaty powers, but inform the representatives of the German and British Governments of your readiness to cooperate in causing all treaty rights to be respected and in restoring peace and order on the basis of a recognition of Samoan rights to independence. Endeavor to prevent extreme measures against the Samoans and to bring about a peaceful settlement. If such arrangement can be made upon that basis you will report the same for approval and you will inform the Government as soon as possible after your arrival in Samoa of the condition of affairs and the prospect of a peaceful adjustment, and whether Germany was acting impartially between the opposing forces when the late conflict occurred.

WHITNEY.

On Jan. 5, Vice-Consul Blacklock telegraphed to Secretary Bayard via New Zealand:

The German warships have undertaken to disarm Mataafa. Landed at night force to prevent retreat. Mataafa's men fired on and forced to fight. Germans repulsed, 20 killed, 25 wounded. The Germans swear vengeance. Shelling and burning indiscriminately, regardless of American property. Protests unheeded. Natives exasperated. Foreigners' lives and property in greatest danger. Germans respect no neutral territory. Americans in boat flying American flag seized in Apia harbor by armed German boat, but released. Admiral with squadron necessary immediately.

In a communication under the same date, to Secretary Bayard, Mr. Coleman reports from Berlin that a prominent German Liberal newspaper, commenting on proceedings in the British House of Commons, construes them as indicating that England would offer no opposition to the establishment of a protectorate dominated German political influence in Samoa. Mr. Coleman adds that the conclusion reached is not unwarranted in view of the circumstances that the United States Government is notoriously not seeking to acquire colonial possessions.

On Jan. 12 Secretary Bayard addressed a communication to Count Arco Valley, the German minister to the United States, in reply to a statement giving the German version of the Samoan difficulty. The statement of Count Arco is substantially as follows:

The German forces were landed in Samoa after the German Commander had given notice of his intention to the commanders of the American and British men-of-war, the reason for landing being that some German plantations were in danger. Upon landing, the Germans were attacked by the Samoans under command of Klein, an American citizen, and lost 24 killed and wounded. A state of war is therefore announced by Germany and as an American is alleged to have been in command of the attacking Samoan force Count Arco is instructed to make complaint to the United States. The treaty rights of the United States and all the rights of the treaty powers shall be preserved under all circumstances. The German Government begs the United States to join them in an active way to restore calm and quiet.

In response, Secretary Bayard says, he at once communicated to the Count, on becoming aware of the allegation that the Samoan forces were led by an American named Klein, that he had no knowledge whatever nor reason to believe that Klein was a citizen of the United States. The Secretary continues:

I was certain that he was not and never had been in any way connected with its public service, nor acting under color or pretence of its authority. The instructions given to officials of this Government at Samoa have never deviated from those made public, and which were well known to Germany and Great Britain, to maintain neutrality in Samoan affairs and confine their action to good offices in the maintenance of peace and order in those regions, and securing protection for American citizens and their interests.

MILLBROOK, Jan. 17.—Yesterday morning about 2o'clock a disastrous fire broke out in the premises occupied by C. W. Byers as a tin shop, J. H. Byers above as a photograph gallery, and Wm. Lang as a grocery and dry goods store. The building, together with stocks owned by the several parties, was totally consumed. An adjoining building, the residence of Rev. D. The Queen's Itinerary.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Queen will leave England for the continent, according to the present arrangements, on Tuesday, March 5, for Biarrits, where she intends to reside for a month. It is highly probable that Empress Frederick, who [illegible] changed her plans last week, may go to Biarritz next month, in which case she will stay there until the end of the Queen's sojourn. The Empress is a most accomplished player both of the violin and the guitar, and not a day passes but she amuses herself for an hour or two with one of those instruments, which accompany her everywhere.

The Flour Output.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 17.—The Northwestern Miller says: The flour output received another boost last week, being about 10,000 bbls. heavier than the week before. The aggregate production for the week was 98,050 bbls. against 108,400 bbls. last year. The flour market is quiet with no specially new feature [illegible]

A BIG JACK POT.

HOW A TORONTO YOUTH "FILLED" HIS HAND AND THEN QUIT.

The Detectives Looking for John Johnston—A Criminal Lawyer's Narrow Escape—The Sabbath School Conference.

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—John Johnston of the firm of Thomas Johnston & Co., produce commission merchants, 70 Colborne-street, has been quite a gay youth around town. In the hours of business he acted as assistant manager of the firm, and when darkness threw her mantle over the city he delighted in the innocent amusement which accompanies a quiet game of poker. Just now, however, John Johnston has disappeared from public gaze and the police have been called in to assist in discovering his place of hiding. All the information the police have amounts to this, that Thomas Johnston reported to them yesterday that his son John had disappeared after cashing a check for $780, which he had given him to deposit in the Bank of Toronto. It is further alleged that young Johnston, who is 27 years old, succeeded in cashing in the same institution a forged check for $350. He furthermore went round among the business firms with whom he was acquainted and raised in borrowed money about $300 more. In a work, his harvest when totalled up balances at about $1500. But the funniest part of the story is to come. Johnston was an ardent poker player, so much so that he developed all the instincts of a professional. The tale goes that he made arrangements with two local gamblers to open a poker-room in Hamilton, where he and they would hold the bank against all comers. He was to provide the money, and Tuesday night was the time appointed when the trio would proceed to the Ambitious City. Johnston went so far in his role as to secure the money, but he preferred playing a lone hand in the States to getting a cold deck in Hamilton.
